BARN SWALLOWS.

It is gratifying to see that more and more we are getting back that spirit of originality that distinguished the early days of Wellesley College, who attractiveness of the Glee Club concerts has been greatly enhanced during the past two years by the singing of original songs and the introduction of the musical recitation since last spring on which plays written by girls in College have been given at the Barn. Fanny Field, 1904, who wrote the sketches for the beginning of the evening, and Helen Rollins, whose dramatization of "Lady Rose's Daughter," was the chief feature of the entertainment Saturday night, bear off the first honors this time.

The farce entitled "Wellesiana Mensch," was given as a curtain-raiser and was received with much enthusiasm by the audience. To say that there was local color in the farce would be to put it mildly; it was Wellesley throughout—Wellesley setting, Wellesley character and the doings of the Wellesleys world in fact it was very much of a satire on the new order of things as prescribed by the Dramatics Committee. To an audience other than a Wellesley one the farce might not have seemed particularly amusing, but the audience of Saturday evening was quite able to appreciate the skit in its entirety and found it irresistibly funny.

"Lady Rose's Daughter," as dramatized for the stage a year ago did not meet with great success, we are told. This was not at all the case with the presentation Saturday evening.

Miss Rollins certainly deserves praise for her excellent dramatization of the novel. Throughout, the action is placed very skillfully, but especially is this true of the third act where Delafield frustrates Julie in her plan with Warkworth. The dramatist was well supported by the actors, who carried it off successfully a rather ambitious undertaking. Owing to the new rules passed by the Dramatics Committee it was necessary to change the order of the play into the play of that of two centuries ago. The effectiveness of the presentation was greatly aided by this change. All the parts were well taken, Stone Hall Seniors deserve warm thanks for a very enjoyable evening. The presentation was given as a curtain-raiser and was received with much enthusiasm by the audience. To say that there was local color in the farce would be to put it mildly; it was Wellesley throughout—Wellesley setting, Wellesley character and the doings of the Wellesleys world in fact it was very much of a satire on the new order of things as prescribed by the Dramatics Committee. To an audience other than a Wellesley one the farce might not have seemed particularly amusing, but the audience of Saturday evening was quite able to appreciate the skit in its entirety and found it irresistibly funny.

The second annual competition of the Indoor Meet classes for the Lincoln Challenge Cup took place Monday morning, March 21st, in the gymnasium. The Indoor Meet class squads, under the direction of Miss Randall, have been practicing in the gymnasium twice a week during the winter term, and the class teams were especially picked from the class squads by Miss Randall for the competition. The Freshman team was chosen from the Freshmen classes in Swedish gymnastics. This team had practiced only a few times with the Indoor Meet classes so that it deserves a great deal of credit and praise for its excellent work. The competing teams were, 1904, Ruth Hart, Ethel Fox, Mabel Pierce, Gertrude Ware, Zora Wilkins, Daisy Dutcher, Maud Jessup, Ruth Huntington, Christine Johansen; 1905, Edith Kingsbury, Eleanor Hollick, Florence Cantieny, Sarah Woodward, Ethel Sullivan, Anna Hamblen, Eva Little, Mary Loyko, Helen Jeffers; 1906, Catharine Jones, Ellen Cope, Lucy Holmes, Louise Gatch, Zillah Grimes, Jessie Gidley, Olive Greene, Anna Dickenson, Edith Plunkett, Mabel; 1907, Helen Wood, Mary Wheeler, Sarah I. Simmons, Margaret Dungan, Teresa Pastene, Edith Ellison.

The order of events was as follows:

1. Order Movements
   Won by class of 1906; second place, 1905.

2. Sketch, horizontal; half standing position
   Won by Florence Cantieny, 1905; second place, Catharine Jones, 1906.

3. Arch grasp, standing, leg and heel elevation
   Won by Eleanor Hollick, 1905; second place, Zillah Grimes, 1906.

4. Stretch, prone, lying on benches
   Won by Edith Kingsbury, 1905; second place, Jessie Gidley, 1906.

5. Stretch fall out, twist standing, side bending
   Won by Edith Kingsbury, 1905; second place, Catherine Jones, 1906.

6. One half stretch, flat on side, standing position
   Won by Lucy Holmes, 1906; second place, Sarah Woodward, 1905.

7. Climbing on ropes for speed
   Won by Catharine Jones, 1906; second place, Ellen Cope, 1906.

8. Traveling between ropes
   Won by Florence Cantieny, 1905; second place, Louise Gatch, 1906.

9. High Jump
   Won by Florence Cantieny, 1905; second place, Sarah Woodward, 1905.

10. Rotary traveling on boom
    Won by Edith Kingsbury, 1905; second place, Ellen Cope, 1906.

11. Vaulting box
    Won by Ellen Cope, 1906; second place, Catharine Jones, 1906.

12. Sitting vault, horse
    Won by Ellen Cope, 1906; second place, Edith Kingsbury, 1905.

At the close of the regular events the judges gave their records to Miss Randall and it was found that the team has won the championship with thirty-two points, dancing and walking contests place. These did not count towards the cup this year, but, owing to their success, they will probably lose next year. The winners were Jane Breese and Anne Ott, 1904; Alice Clause and Maria Dowd, 1905; Edna Moore and Dorothy Tynon, 1906. Miss Clause won the prize as best walker—a bunch of carnations, presented by Miss Hill. The dancers were Bevve Allen and Marjorie Lee, 1904; Eleanor Hollick and Edna Summy, 1905; Katrina Ware and Emma Tucker, 1906; Marie Warren and Gladys Don, 1907. In this match Miss Allen and Miss Warren were declared the champions, Miss Randall then announced that the team has won the championship with thirty-two points, coming second with thirty-two points, winning the Lincoln Challenge Cup again to the class of 1905. 1905 may well be proud of being the first to win and keep the beautiful cup which Mr. Lincoln gave last year to the Indoor Meet classes. Miss Edith Kingsbury, 1905, winning eleven points, was declared the champion gymnast, and received the cup. A good deal of praise is due to Ellen Cope, who won ten points, to Florence Cantieny, who won nine points, and to Catharine Jones, who won seven points. The Indoor Meet was altogether very successful this year, and now that it is well established we may look forward to it in the future as one of the most interesting events of the college year.
As the editor looks back over the past year and realizes that this is the last opportunity she will have to talk over things in this column, mingled feelings take possession of her. She regrets very much that the editorial privileges will be hers no longer and yet it is a relief to her to think that from henceforth others must bear the keen disappointment of having a carefully corrected proof-sheet come out in the week's issue, embazoned with eccentric spellings. But in all and through all the editor has the feeling that it is a great thing to work on a college paper. It has been the chief aim of the Board this year to make College News as broadly representative a paper as possible; to have the College realize that an ideal college paper does not represent the work of an Editorial Board, but the thought and sentiment of the whole student body. Of late the girls have responded splendidly to the appeal for expressions of appreciation and interest in the worth-while things about

Novelties

In

Jewelry,

College Pins,

Silk Belts,

Crushed Leather Belts,

Collar Pins.

Ladies’ Neckwear Dept.

Beautiful Novelties

Coming in Every Week.

THE FASHIONABLE NECKWEAR OF THE DAY ALWAYS IN STOCK.

SHEPARD NORWELL CO., WINTER STREET.

Through the SPECTACLES and EYEGLASSES.

In our enlarged quarters we are better prepared than ever to furnish you with the very best Optical Goods, at our usual moderate prices. We solicit a comparison of our goods and prices.

Pinkham & Smith,
The Back Bay Opticians,
288 Boylston Street, Boston.

us. That this spirit may grow stronger and stronger in the College is the editor's best hope for the News in the future.

It is a proverbial saying that “the path of the editor is a thorny one;” yet we, the present Board, are inclined to believe that our editorial path is the exception that proves the rule. Little annoyances we have had to put up with—they have but taught us patience: there has been criticism, too, but it has been given in such a kindly spirit and with so much real interest that it has but helped us to mend our faults and proved to us that criticism is an incentive to better work. We should be glad for your sakes if we could have had the knowledge and experience in the beginning that we have now; we fear that you have suffered while we were getting our training, and we heartily appreciate your patience in bearing with our mistakes. And if at times we have seemed to say too much or to preach too boldly, we trust that you will pardon us, knowing that it was done in no arrogant spirit but with an earnest desire to help.

The editor has but one more thing to say and she is done—congratulations to you on the new Board and good luck to them; thank you for a good year, and good-bye.

SAVE'S HOSIERY

NEVER SLIPS, TEARS NOR UNFASTENS

Every Pair Warranted

Hose Supporter

If your Dealer does not sell you this
Supporter he does not sell the Best

Every Clasp has the name

Stamped on the Metal Loop

GEORGE FROST CO., Makers, Boston, Mass.

Send for our List of

Gentleman's and Lady's Underwear

FINN'S BROS., 25 Newbury St., Boston.
COLLEGE NEWS

COLLEGE CALENDAR.

April 6, 1:00 P. M., Spring Term opens.
April 7, 7:30 P. M., mid-week prayer meeting of the Christian Association.
April 9, 7:30 P. M., at the Barn, presentation of "The Alchemist" by the Delta Epsilon Fraternity of Harvard University.
April 10, 11:00 A. M., services in Houghton Memorial Chapel. Sermon by Rev. Harris G. Hale of Brookline.
7 P. M., vespers. Special music.
April 11, 7:30 P. M., concert in College Hall Chapel.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The attention of all Seniors is called especially to the item in the Alumni Notes concerning the University Club in New York. Members of the class of 1904 will be eligible for membership in the Club after next June.

All students are notified that furs, clothing, napkins and articles of a like nature now in the Matron's room, will be disposed of unless claimed and removed before March 25.

A new bulletin board for Astronomy has been placed next the Chemistry bulletin board on the second floor center.

At the meeting of the Junior-Freshman division of the Debating Club the question debated was, "Resolved, That the study of modern languages should precede that of ancient languages in High Schools." The speakers on the affirmative were: Misses Eisenberg, Griffin and Wilson; the negative, Misses Ellison, Kasson and Holmes.

At a meeting of the Society Tau Zeta Epsilon, held March 16, Alice McLeannan, 1906, was received into membership. The following alumni were present: Grace Dennison Bancroft, 1898, Rebecca Waite, 1900, Isadore Rogers, 1901.

Dr. Charles H. Thurber, formerly Assistant Professor of Education in the University of Chicago, and now the Educational Director of Messrs. Ginn & Co., of Boston, addressed the students of Pedagogy on March 16, on the subject, "The Social Evolution of Childhood."

On Friday afternoon, from 4:15 to 6, an informal reception was given at the Agora House for Miss Bertha Conde, Student Secretary of the American Committee V. W. C. A.

On Monday evening, March the twenty-first, Misses Collier, Mather, McCurdy, Macdonald, and Silcox entertained the Alliance Francaise at the Alpha Kappa Chi House. The evening was spent in playing games.

The concert in College Hall Chapel last Monday evening, consisted of solos by Miss Edith E. Torrey from the work of American composers. Mr. Alfred de Voto played the accompaniments.

Miss Florence Misner of Buffalo, and Miss Helene Buhler, 1903, of Arlington, Mass., were the guests of Miss Elsa James last week.

Misses Foster, McCormick and Wilson, entertained the Southern Club at Wood Cottage, last Friday evening.

Mr. Frank Pitkin, brother of Miss Elsie Pitkin, 1906, died March 11, in Oak Park, Illinois.

NEW STYLES IN

SHOES FOR SPRING

NOW READY.

Our $3.00 and $3.50 Shoes are always the newest in design and are not excelled in style or wearing qualities by any shoe of similar price.

Thayer, Rogers & Norton,
144 Tremont Street, Boston.

NOYES BROS.

Ladies' Shirt Waists and Tub Dresses

Made from Madras. Imported Cheviots, French Percales, English and French Flannels, Wash Silks, Serges, Butchers' Linen, Pique, Mercerized Cheviots, Silks and Satins, $6.50 to $50.00

In number and variety of patterns, quality of fabric, THE CERTAINTY OF BEING FITTED, and the assurance that the styles are strictly new, our Shirt Waist Department excels.

UNDER MRS. TRAPTON'S CARE AS USUAL.

Our New Shirtings
For 1904 for Men's Wear are ready.
Consult us to know THE LINEN,
THE CRYSTAL and THE GLOVE TO WEAR.

NOYES BROS.

Washington and Summer Sts., Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

The Walnut Hill School for Girls,
NATICK, MASS.

Tuition and Board, $600.00

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE.

Miss Conant and Miss Bigelow, Principals.

L. P. HOLLANDER & CO.

Young Ladies' Gowns, Coats and Wraps, Millinery, Hats, Underwear and Gloves

NEW SPRING DESIGNS Now Ready.

We call special attention to a large assortment of DRESSES MADE IN OUR OWN WORKROOMS for School and Street Wear at very reasonable prices.

202 to 216 Boylston Street and Park Square, Boston
MISS ADDAMS' LECTURE.

There was a great deal to think about in Miss Addams' talk to us last Monday. There is always a great deal to think about in what she says, but best of all perhaps, was the new awakening to the personality of the woman which her presence brought to her same su.s., sweetness, her informality, force, her immeasurable breadth. The whole world is her field of service; not only to those dispossessed "brothers" of ours does her heart go out, but to us, also, the Pharisees, and she comes among us with a wealth of love and understanding and with a keen, fine word of criticism and of high appeal.

The lot of the new-hedged graduate is indeed a hard one," said Miss Addams with a smile which found the heart of every one of us. "The college woman is as yet on trial; she has yet to vindicate the real worth of such higher education as she is now receiving. But that there is a solution to all the problems of readjustment, Miss Addams seemed to have no doubt.

As an opportunity which is only waiting for those who have it to see and do, she pointed out a field of service among the host of immigrants who are pouring into this country, that so-called 'scum of Europe' wherein so much of worth is found for the seeking, so much of what so sorely need in this new, raw, traditionless, machine-making country of ours. To illustrate the great reserve of historic feeling of a sense of the far-back past as belonging to the present which we are throwing away, Miss Addams told a story of a Greek who, for the five years in which he had saved in order to come to this country, had dreamed of the interest of the people of this new nation in the white columns of the Acropolis, which he saw every morning standing out against the blue Italian sky. Six years he has been here now, at his little Italian fruit stand, and not one person has asked for the Acropolis. "Greek and Italian are not only for the sake of reading Homer and Dante," said Miss Addams, "I have a charge against the college graduate, she takes her learning too lightly; she detaches herself from her opportunities.

Another great waste which is going on among us is of old-world skill and workmanship. Here in America the worker cannot find a market for the loving labor of his hands so he goes into a factory perhaps, and his hands become rough and hardened with heavy work, and lose their cunning, and now he can work only with the muscles of his arms and back. An attempt to keep for the worker and his children this skill and pride in his work, and to show to the children who are fast becoming 'Americanized' away from it, the real beauty and value of the old world customs and manners of their parents is made in the Hull House Labor Museum. There are shown various processes of spinning weaving etc. — Assyrian, Greek, Italian, Dutch, Irish. It is through such work that historic perspective and pride in the mother country is preserved to the children of immigrants, and that parents and children are brought together. Then too, the facts of daily life take on new interest to the worker, and it is said that the word might be written anew for the working people," said Miss Addams. "It should not be of kings and princes but of the whole people, the arts as coming from the crafts, the literature, the music of the people.

Another interesting point was made in connection with the public schools, the narrowness of teaching nature to the exclusion of human nature is not just as important to know the race and nationality of a man whom you meet on the street as to know a buttercup from a dandelion. And after all the mere getting into a ship and crossing the ocean doesn't make so much difference in a man. He is as interesting on this side as on the other, if one can only get around his very unpromising environment over here.

After a vigorous appeal for an actual testing of the ideas presented now or after leaving college, Miss Addams closed with a more detailed account of the methods and success of the Labor Museum.

Her afternoon at Wellesley closed with a reception tendered her in the Faculty Parker by the College Settlement Association.

NOTE!

Wellesley Students will find
Wright & Ditson's Store,
344 Washington Street, Boston.

An ideal place to purchase Athletic Supplies. They have the best and latest goods for each pastime: FIELD HOCKEY, TENNIS, GOLF, BASKET BALL, FENCING. SKATES, SKATING and GYMNASTIC SHOES.

Wright & Ditson are getting out a catalogue exclusively for ladies, which will be sent free to any address.

STICKNEY & SMITH,
187 Tremont Street, Boston,
Allow 10 per cent. discount to Teachers and Pupils of Wellesley College on Ladies' Costumes,
Street, Walking Suits,
Skirts and Garments
of All Kinds,
Waists and Furs.

(OUR ONLY STORE.)

Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume
Chartered 1902.
COTRELL & LEONARD, Albany, N. Y.
Makers of the Caps, Gowns and Hoods to the American Colleges and Universities.
Illustrated Bureau Samples, etc. on application
Annin W. Stocking, (Wellesley 'on) in charge of correspondence, may be addressed at above.

WELLESLEY AND OTHER HOODS.

B. A. .......................... $5.50 to $8.50; desirable, $5.50
A. ............................... 8.75 $10.50
Ph. D. ........................... 8.50 $22.00

PREFERRED STOCK
Mocha and Java COFFEE,
1 LB. AND 2 LB. CANS.
The Highest Grade Coffee.
MARTIN L. HALL & CO., BOSTON
STURTEVANT & HALEY,
Beef and Supply Co.,
38 and 40 Faneuil Hall Market,
Tel. 933 Richmond.

J. SCARPATO,
Fruit and Confectionery,
30 Central Street.
WELLESLEY, - MASS.

The Attention
that we give to details is the secret of our superior work. May we have a trial package from you?
People's Steam Laundry,
Natick, Mass.
F. L. CUPPLES, PROP.
FREE PRESS.

I.
Not very long ago I read an interesting little essay on the subject of lies. The author divided them into three classes: "black lies," as we should expect, he unequivocally denounced; "white lies, or fibs," he regarded as inadvisable, and occasionally of somewhat doubtful character; and "Chinese lies," decorative additions to conversation, a sort of seasoning, as it were, with a flavor all their own—those last, unless my memory plays me false, escaped with little or no condemnation. I am inclined to believe that the writer of that article must have been a person with little experience in a woman's college, or anywhere else among the girls and young women of the present day, to have found it possible to overlook the flagrant evils of "Chinese lies."

Of themselves, they are, indeed, well-nigh harmless, neither intended to deceive, nor liable to prove deceptive. But, all unconsciously they have helped to tint our atmosphere; to make our language crude and harsh and monotonous; to prevent our sane and wholesome pleasure in novelty and newly developed keenness of sensation, into a vulgar, ever-straining greed for excitement, for variety; for emotion merely for the sake of emotion, be it good or bad. Our little exaggerations of simple facts, our little inaccuracies for the gratification of an unblameworthy fancy, have grown and increased until we no longer like a book or enjoy a play, but we must be "crazy about it.;" we are not gratefully relieved to complete a disagreeable task, but are, instead, "simply bored to death, because we utterly lose that sort of thing, anyway.", we have forgotten the joy of being happily surprised or comfortably amused, because whatever is unusual appears to us "weird," or "killing," and a beautiful gown or a beautiful woman is branded with the epithet "staring," regardless of the unflagging implication of the compliment.

Then we have come to "love" all sorts of things: a walk in the snow, or a funny story, or a ridiculous m. stake, until there is a deep felt need for some new attitude of mind that shall be sacred to our friends alone.

Little things, these certainly are, in themselves: when you think a bit more seriously about them they look absurd; and it is not then a long distance to the recognition of their pernicious effects not only upon our conversation, but upon our very thought and act on as well. For our speech, even as it expresses our thought to others, holds us clisely before ourselves, and in the same manner, we shall feel that what we, too, feel its influence, and gradually absorb more and more of its essence, until it is not longer an easy matter to free ourselves from its inconvenient ugliness.

M. Jacobs. 1905.

II.
In these busiest days of quizzes and papers we often reproach ourselves for not having sufficiently "planned ahead." For this reason we of last year's Silver Bay delegation felt that just before many of us go home, we would like to remind every one of the conference this June. For the benefit of all those who have considered the possibility of going, we wish to say that the railroads offer reduced rates, so that the entire trip, including railroad fare and hotel costs about $25. The Christian Association has a fund out of which some expenses may be paid. We hope we may have a large delegation this year—one that will compare favorably with Vassar and our other sister colleges. We who have been to Silver Bay believe we could tell you many things which would interest you, if you are thinking at all of going this year. So ask us about it, as you begin to "plan ahead."

E. M. O., 1905.
THE PARLIAMENT OF FOols.

Mrs. DOoley ON THE AFTER DEPRESSION

"An' how are ye feelin', Mrs. Dooley?" inquired Mrs. Hennessey solicitously, "I haven't seen ye f'r some time."

"I have gr-r-r-reat doubts," answered Mrs. Dooley, "whither I shall live th' da-a-a-t in. I have no use in th' world, anyway. Fourteen yea-a-a-agers an' twelve written lessons wid a few of prom-theem quizzes thrown in widout itha cha-a-a-arge durin' th' last week have someh'wut dulled me an' th' keen joy in life at Wellesley or any other pl'a-ace. I wish I had shwwelled th' ranks iv th' hundred an' eighty-sivin bra-a-a-ave souls who lift last week f'r home an' mother."

"Phwyy, have ye had th' gr-r-r-r-rip?" asked Mrs. Hennessey. "Not that I can exactly recall, Mrs. Hennessey," replied Mrs. Dooley, "but I might just as well have, an' bifter. I have th' after Depresshin' widout th' gr-r-r-r-rip an' ivryone knows it's the wor-r-r-est part iv th' mysterions malady. Is it a mister to Mrs. Hennessey, I don' know. An' if it isn't, I wish in th' ma-a-a-ame iv all that's misterable is it. Th' mikerobes that come in th' sh'pings tra-la have somethin' to do wid th' case. I th'nk in v'ry much. Now, I pursuaded th'm mikerobes I th'gert at th' hospital an' thred to interview him as he came out I was advised--" Mrs. Hennessey -- in me attached to such ivy me friends as he evinced a fondness f'r I wud sit somewhere in a dhrift. Yit sh'll he looked at me wid a vacant share at it to suggest that I was not there, an' a show hands cordially wid a shrinking creature who showed no desire to meet him at all. Yit phwat I call base ingrathate, Mrs. Hennessey -- vis. an' first base too.

But phwyy in th' ma-a-a-ame iv Hivin shud ye want th' grip?" asked Mrs. Hennessey. "Iv th' first pla-a-ace," said Mrs. Dooley, "nivid did I seek fr' motorday, fr' a fa-a-a-ate that shud mark me off wid red chalk fr' ivy it's humanity. If th' wor-r-r-ld ts to be gr-r-r-apper, I wud be gapped too. An' thers are com-panions--the ivy me friends. Look at me, Mrs. Hennessey. Do ye not ob-serv th' gloom that shadows me Cillic Rayvaliv broo? Yis th' Af-hn Depresshin' Yit am I loaded wid th' fruits iv Tulip's? Do ye observe army chowships or even modest villets concealed about me? No! I am inshtid addin' me authograph to th' flowerman's collection in his cha-a-a-arge book. Do ye see me ta-a-a-able crowded wid lumps an' plaidin' lurchoor th' thrilliviv ivy friends? No! Ye see inshtid me bookselves denuded iv ivriviv more terrifying than th' dictionary. Is me assest tumbled wid th' dainties iv th' hospital? No! I am set down to loaded beef an' cabbage. Did ye come here wid th' subdued an ivy sympathetic sister-thou-wast-mild-an-lovely expression that reminds me iv obstructions, an' incidentally iv a pl'a-a-a-ade elephant wid plowin' ears I saw on't in a cir-cus. Yis! Ye come an' git at me like ye was havin' a back tooth filled. Gwa-a-a-ay Mrs. Hennessey. I'm listenin' fr' me back to ache: an' ye disturb me."

"I'm sorry," said Mrs. Hennessey.

Miss Maud L. Withington of Boston, will open a room in "The Old Tea Room," Wellesley.

On March the seventh.

SHIRT WAISTS, SHIRT WAIST SUITS AND MUS-LIN GOWNS Made at Moderate Prices.

SAMPLES OF MATERIAL WILL BE SHOWN.

Wellesley References: Mrs. J. J. E. Rothery, Mrs. H. A. Joslin.

Board at the Seashore for Easter

Vacation or Longer.

Cottage delightfully located on rocky coast of beautiful Nant. Large pleasant rooms and baths, furnace heat.

Address.

V. F. BRYANT, Nahant, Mass.
If a body meet a body
Going into town,
If a body's going shopping
Need a body frown?
No, for in at Hatch's she can
Find with perfect ease
Silks and Crepes and lovely fabrics
Which a queen would please.

Remember

HATCH'S,
43 and 45 Summer St., Boston.

Fruits and Vegetables.
Hot-House Products and Canned Goods.
SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN HOTEL, CLUB
AND FAMILY ORDERS.

ISAAC LOCKE & CO.,
97, 99 and 101 Faneuil Hall Market, - Boston

WILLIAM LEAVENS & CO.,
32 Canal Street, BOSTON, MASS.

ARTISTIC CREATIONS

- IN -
Gold, Silver, Glass and China,
FOR GIFTS AND PRIZES.
Also Umbrellas and Opera Glasses.
STRENGTHOLD $1.00 TO $10.00.

A. Dowllitt, Jr.
24 Winter Street, Boston
ALLIANCE FRANCAISE.

A letter recently received from M. Gofflot, Secretary of the Alliance Francaise in America may be of interest to the College, especially to those students now connected with the French Department. A system of letters of introduction for the convenience of members of the Alliance Francaise travelling in France, has been established. A written request from the President of each comité to the General Secretary obtains for those desiring it a letter of introduction to prominent members of the Alliance in France.

These letters,” writes M. Gofflot, “will be of the greatest assistance to those desiring to visit universities, pensions, etc. and will secure to the owners especial attention in certain museums, libraries, collections, etc. All are assured the most cordial reception and the especial interest of the local delegates.”

The contents of this letter the Alliance makes public for the benefit of those members of the French Department who may desire to avail themselves of this advantage in travelling through France this summer.

M. Gofflot also writes of the “Pavillon Séparé” which the Alliance Francaise is to have in the Building of Education at the St. Louis Exposition, where the Wellesley Comité will be well represented.

On the 31st of March the annual reunion of the Alliance Francaise will be held in New York, the French Ambassador, M. Jusserrand, presiding. The Wellesley Comité is looking forward with interest to the return of its delegates with the news of this meeting.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Miss Bertha Condé, a very welcome guest and friend, led the service of the Christian Association, Thursday, March 17. Miss Condé is one of the Student Secretaries of the American Committee of the Y. W. C. A., which is federated with the World’s Y. W. C. A. She was very active and prominent in the Silver Bay Conference last summer and also took part in the convention held at Holyoke in February.

Miss Condé took as her subject Thursday night, “Lord, Teach Us to Pray,” and spoke most simply on the prayer life, its power, influence and difficulties. All kinds of prayer to be offered and of the assurance of an answer.

On Friday afternoon, March 18, the Christian Association gave a reception at the Agora House for Miss Bertha Condé. Many students were there and enjoyed meeting Miss Condé and talking with her. Refreshments were served and in spite of the bad weather, the reception was a great success.

On Sunday afternoon, March 20, a reunion of the delegates to the Silver Bay conference last June and the Holyoke convention in February was held in the Faculty Parlor. Miss Condé spoke at the meeting and expressed an earnest desire for Wellesley to send a large delegation to the next Silver Bay conference.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Colonial Theatre—Spectacular production of “Mother Goose.”
Park Theatre—“Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.”
Globe Theatre—Virginia Earle in “Sergeant Kitty.”
Hollis-street Theatre—John Drew in “Captain Dieppe.”
Boston Theatre—“The Medal or the Maid.”

HERRICK’S,
Coley Square, near Back Bay Post-Office.
Best Tickets for All the Theatres.
Phone now 2329, 2330 and 2331.

E. T. SLATTERY CO.
New Walking Suits of Fine Imported Mixtures
New Veiling Dresses from the latest Paris Models

NEW FRENCH MILLINERY AND NECKWEAR.

We recommend the Fairfax Linen Waist to Wellesley College Girls.

154 and 155 Tremont Street, Boston