NORUMEGA CONTAINS COSMOPOLITAN GROUP

Cross-section of Wellesley Revealed in Home Group to Meet This Year.

NORUMEGA, this year may well be called a cross-section of Wellesley. In the home there are 45 students, who include a number of post-graduate and post-graduate students and two freshmen. In this group there are:

3 from Nebraska
1 from Texas
1 from Florida
1 from California
1 from Iowa
1 from Colorado Springs
1 from Indiana
1 from Kentucky
1 from Tennessee
1 from Massachusetts
3 from Pennsylvania
3 from New York
2 from Ohio
2 from Illinois
1 from Minnesota
1 from Wisconsin
2 from New Jersey

This year the numbers from Nebraska, and the two in California will also be a cordial welcome to the home group this year. These girls have never been to Nebraska before, and the two Californians have never been to a colder place than New York. It is hoped that they will enjoy themselves. There are also two freshmen in the group, one a freshman from Texas and the other a freshman from New York.

There are four transfers from St. Mary's of the Woods in Indiana. This brings up the total of freshman girls in the group to 19.

The University of Wisconsin
The University of Texas
The University of Minnesota
The University of Michigan
The University of Illinois
The University of California
The University of Pennsylvania

These girls are the oldest students in the group.

WELLESLEY IN RETROSPECT A LAND OF WONDER AND DELIGHT

What Wellesley will look like to us at the end of a period of years is necessarily a matter of some uncertainty. No one of us can be skeptical about the moment of agreement with Miss Clevenot, Professor of French here in 1926, who expressed the opinion recently that ‘Wellesley will be a wonderful place to live in when it is a hundred years old.’

This is not to say that we are not interested in what changes we can see and anticipate. The campus looks as if a lot of the buildings have been newly painted. We hope that the new hall near the chapel will be open this fall. We are interested in the new dormitory on the other side of the river and in the progress being made on the east side of the lower campus. We are curious to know what will be done about the Tweed Lawrence Building.

The college proper will be the subject of our next meeting, and we will try to get some information about the new buildings and the plans for the future.

The fall meeting will be held on September 8th. We hope to see many of you there.

DAMES' JOURNAL

The Dames' Journal was founded in 1887 and has been published every year since then. It is a literary and artistic magazine, and its aim is to bring together all the women of Wellesley College in a spirit of fellowship and co-operation.

The Dames' Journal is published by a committee of students, and is edited by the president of the committee. The committee consists of the president, the editor, and two other members who are elected by the students.

The Dames' Journal is published in the spring and fall of each year. It contains articles written by students, faculty members, and other members of the Wellesley College community.

The Dames' Journal is available for purchase at the Wellesley College Bookstore and at the Wellesley College Alumni Association Office.

The Dames' Journal is also available online at the Wellesley College website. It can be accessed by clicking on the link to the Dames' Journal on the Wellesley College website.

The Dames' Journal is a valuable resource for students, alumni, and faculty members of Wellesley College. It provides a platform for the expression of ideas, opinions, and creativity.

The Dames' Journal is a testament to the strength of the Wellesley College community and to the importance of literature and the arts in our lives.

The Dames' Journal is a publication of the Wellesley College Alumni Association.

FRESHMEN NOW CLASSIFIED BY SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE TESTS

A new type of examination is described in the Boston Transcript on October 1. It is a test of social in- telligence, which was discovered by Fred A. Moss, associate professor of Psychology in the George Washing- ton University. When the results of the experiments are in, it is presumed that the methods are good enough that on a slip to qualify for social people, and which are likely to get along in places where they most need social help.

It has been shown by statistics that the students with excellent academic records do not necessarily succeed in the social sense. Some Moss believes that some light on social-front social personality will aid the univer- sity in the matter of starting him toward success.

The new test deals with practical conditions and embarrassing situations, to make up a series of social situations, to read emotions from far-off expressions, and to show a reasonable amount of information in art, science, literature, politics and sports is measured by different kinds of carefully worked people problems. Moss's social intelligence test has been used before. Parts of it have been employed in the selection of policemen in Los Angeles and in New York State, but this is the first time that a system has been arranged to catalog its freshmen from the social=

OXFORD AND CORNELL DEBATE SHOWS SIGNIFICANT CHANGES

Of general interest is Oxford's debate with Cornell. According to the Boston Transcript of October 6, the affair was one of social and international interest. The debating hall was entirely crowded, in spite of the fact that debates are not usually well att- ended in the States.

There have been many American debates at Cornell in which more ability has been shown. Oxford's team was not equal to the New standard which characterized their team of two years ago, but the Oxford team is of this year. A third point of interest is the social change in the style of American debaters. There is a conforming to the English method of less presen- tation of fact and more emphasis on the style.
"THE CHINESE SITUATION"

Generally speaking, the "Chinese Situation" is to the majority of Americans a veritable Chinese puzzle, and presumably the average member of Wellesley College is interested in it at least as much as we are in understanding it than that of his country. Yet the feeling is prevalent that in this obscurity— if not in all of the Chinese situation— we may discover natural hints of sympathy to arouse active interest. The articles by the Wellesley students which appear elsewhere in the columns of this paper have done much to express the personal experiences of only one person, as the author points out. We are a valuable, absorbing and guiding principle to one of the situations.

TALK

The smoking question has come up again in the House of Representatives, and calls for definite action. It is evident that the Committee on the subject is not satisfied, and is postponing a bill to continue the measure. The bill is also to be sent to the House of Representatives and is expected to be members of the class of 23.

O'NEILL ON THE BARRETT

In the Wellesley College News, there is a column of advertisements by students and others. The column appears in the News of the week ending Saturday, October 15, 1926.

O'NEILL ON THE BARRETT

The election of fire chiefs in the college is an important and necessary one. It is the task of the fire chiefs to see that the college is properly provided with fire protection. The election of fire chiefs is not a formal procedure, such as an election at large. It should not be so formalized. As a matter of fact, it is quite possible that the fire chief may not even be elected. It is entirely true to say that such plans are not new, and that the college administration has for some time been considering the question of fire protection. The college administration has provided adequate means for protection of fire, and for giving alarm in case of fire. The plans must be considered. The college administration should consider it a duty to provide for the safety of its buildings and its experiments, and to give it its support to the entire organization.

TUTION AND STUDENT AID

There is a connection between the college and the students who attend the college. The college has a duty to provide for the students in need, but those students who are now receiving aid will need better and more efficient methods of support. The college must have more members—many more—than the number of students who are going to be at the college. There is an unsatisfactory appeal to our logic.

NOTICE TO THE READERS

The News regrets to announce that in the present competition it is impossible for the students to keep up with the news. If you have any question, it is advisable to write to the editor of the News, and expect to be members of the class of 23.

THE JUDGE'S GARDUAN

Weil Keitaro Tobihara is an Indian boy who is being supported by the Indian Children's Home Fund. His family had no money and he had no place to go. The fund is helping him to get an education and live in America.

IMPORTANCE OF OBSERVANCE OF FIRE RILES EMPIRIZED
At the beginning of the season, the business manager and the student fire brigade, Miss Kippi, 36, wish to impress on the college the seriousness of the matter taking place, and to remind all members of the community of their obligation to observe these regulations. In various locations on the campus there are fire boxes for sounding in alarms. These boxes are useless if they do not bring two whistles simultaneously, one on a compass, and one in the village.
Directions are also given, for the action of discovery of a fire. Suppose that there are two girls who witness for the first time, one of them should immediately to the nearest college alarm, and the other notify the fire fire is. The other should go to the nearest fire box, send it the alarm and wait for the fire brigade.
This is necessary because the alarm sent in on the top of fire boxes being on campus does not call out the fire department the location of the fire.
Every member of the college community is urged to find out where the alarm are, so that in case of fire there could be expected. Attention called to the fact that there are few extinguishers in the student houses.

APPOINTMENT OF RED CROSS

Henry Student Chairman, and Payten Allen, Vice-Chairman of the Red Cross Committee for the coming year. Miss Ruth Clark of the French

BARVARD'S CHOICE OF BOOKS
INCLUDES JUVENILE VOLUMES
In a rather humorous note in its article which appeared in the Boston Transcript, concerning Harvard's choice of books from Miss Ann Law's library, Miss Lowndes will probably consider that Harvard might select what books it wished from her library.
The children's selection has included a full set of "The Red Book", a theme for radicals in one generation becomes a theme for historic study in next," Miss Lowndes certainly did not keep the volumes for Red ready to read with its own red covers, but rather as she would treat any first annual. The article concluded, "A choice has been made, graduate student, who, the Transcript prediction, will write, on "Ashbolt's Red Book", a volume of African American in the Anti-Revolution days."

ESPERANTO AT YASAR JOINS

ACCEP TED MODERN LANGUAGES

Esperanto is being placed among the modern language courses at Vassar, the former teaching as a whole, Esperanto will be a ten lesson course with little outside preparation which should appeal both to the students and faculty members who wish to take the course. In explanation of this innovation at Vassar the Modern News says further:

"Esperanto, the international language, is to be taught at Vassar this fall as a psychological experiment. With the growth of international relations and the development of the radio, the demand for such a language is becoming keenly more apparent. After several attempts to formulate a suitable system, Esperanto with its simple and logical roots has been adopted, and is now in actual use at several institutions. ... At the end of the experimental one hour course Dr. Thode of Columbia will give psychological tests to discover how well and how easily Esperanto may be learned in a limited space of time."
