VASSAR PLAN DEFATED AT MEETING OF SENATE

Faculty Members State Their Reasons
For Not Approving Regulation Allowing Smoking Here

The vote on the proposed smoking legislation, which was taken at the Senate meeting on Tuesday, November 16, was four in favor of the bill. The 5 student members of the Senate against the proposed legislation, and the 3 student members present in favor of it, voted against the motion. The matter was taken off the table where it had been left two weeks ago because the student members decided that it was a matter which was not settled at once in spite of the fact that there was not an equal representation of students and faculty at the meeting due to the absence of one student and to the fact that the freshman Senate in the fall had not yet met.

The reasons why that ineffective action was warranted were:

1. The matter has been under consideration for some time, and the feeling was that it was wise to sit it out until the further decision of the Faculty Senate. Further delay would merely result in its being referred indefinitely, since the student members had been requested by an informal polling of the faculty to refer it to the Student Council. The student council would then have to make use of their powers of temporal veto if the legislation was passed.

2. The faculty members suggested that before the matter be put to final vote, the student members should be called together to start a conference committee of faculty and student members, united in the purpose of keeping the student council in the faculty in order that some agreement might be reached, but the student members felt that it was not felt that matters would end in a deadlock because a majority of the college sailed by the referendum which it was in favor of the change.

Results of Referendum

The student members of the Senate felt that they had expressed their wish. The results of the referendum were conclusive: A summary of the referendum.

Total Number of Students Who Voted: 1,027
Total Number Favoring a Change: 1,019 (98.9)
Total Number Against a Change: 8

Those in favor of a change and favoring: 117
Those against a change and favoring: 11
Those against a change but favoring: 4
Those in favor of a change but opposing: 88

The votes of the four classes were surprisingly good.

English Professor to Talk on Standard Pronunciation

"Standard English Pronunciation" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Mr. Fred G. Campbell, of the staff of the University of Pennsylvania, in the evening of November 27 at 7:30 in Alumni Hall. At this time the English Professor, who has been engaged in the work of standardizing the pronunciation of the students for a number of years, will speak on the subject of "The Place of English in the Life of Today," at the conclusion of the meeting of Mr. Campbell. It is in the Aquinas and University of Iowa, to be given Thursday, November 19, at 7:30 in Alumni Hall. At this time the English Professor, who has been engaged in the work of standardizing the pronunciation of the students for a number of years, will speak on the subject of "The Place of English in the Life of Today." He has been very closely concerned with every phase of Christian Association work for the past fifteen years. In 1921 Mr. Campbell has been General Secretary of the Yale College Association and is now the president of the Student Council of the university. The club has spent some time in Europe studying the economic and social conditions abroad, and has made possible constructive Christian measures for meeting the problems that have arisen in industry and agriculture. The club has an annual budget of $1,000 that is raised from the interest on its endowment fund. The club has a membership of 500 and is open to all who are interested.

Mr. Campbell graduated from Yale College in 1915 and in 1917 was a member of the first class at Amherst College. After he had been a member of the first class at Amherst College, he was a member of the English Department at the University of Pennsylvania for three years, and is now a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania. The club has an annual budget of $1,000 that is raised from the interest on its endowment fund. The club has a membership of 500 and is open to all who are interested.

DEVELOP CONCERTED STUDENT ACTION ON WORLD COURT

That the entrance of the United States into the World Court is a matter of very real and shocking interest to student bodies all over the country, is shown by the fact that approximately fifty student bodies concerning the Council of Christian Associations, were scheduled to be held before November 15. How far student interest extends beyond the pale of the country and whether it is willing to be made to count by the exercise of active influence will be determined by these conferences, President Fish reports. President Fish says, "The C.C.A.'s plan promises to be the most important step yet taken by the U.S. into the World Court."

Wellesley Will Eard in Tellin

In the near future, the president of the organization in the company by having a lecturer come to the college to give information on the subject. The plan of this movement with the name of the speaker is soon to be nailed and the speaker will be the first week of December. According to the News Bulletin, the members of the C.C.A. from New York, New Haven, and the Council of Christian Associations, the national poll will be the determination of weeks of study and discussion. It writes: "In the poll, students will express their approval or disapproval of the entrance of the United States into the World Court."

The World Court has grown out of the resolutions passed at the recent annual meeting of the Council of Christian Associations in which the student leaders from campuses from all quarters of the country expressed the belief that the United States should enter the World Court at the earliest possible date. This conviction resulted from a study of the situation as it exists and was followed by a plan whereby students all over the country may have a chance to educate themselves on the issue in a manner which their thought may result from the study of their fellow students on other campuses and in conferences.

"The conviction that students can become interested through their own investigation in world affairs is international"

ALEXANDER HAVE FINISHED ROOM TO HOUSE HONORARY ALUMNUS

One more of Alumnae Hill’s small portraits has been added by vote of the Alumnae Association in recognition of Mrs. Paterson’s untiring work on the Paragon. The plans for this room, which is on the top floor, were completed and executed during the summer by Edith Edelstein ’25, thus making the room ready for use when the Alumnae Council met on October 16th. It is a lovely sitting room, furnished with a sofa and an old-fashioned chaise, and has some pictures representing the different periods, people; along one wall is a cabinet in which are pictures, drawings, and prints. It is expected that the room will be used mainly for consistent entertainments. The room is painted white, but three of the five small windows are covered with curtains and the entire tea room was furnished by certain alumnas in memory of their friends. All the prints in the Spanish fashion have been made by Miss Rheinsier and Miss MacCoy.

INTERNATIONAL GATHERING OF THE FEMALE INTELLIGENTSIA

Miss Kendrick of the Bible Department was a visitor at the very significant Universal Christian Conference in Stockholm from August 19 to August 29. At a NEWS reporter’s question about the conference, Miss Kendrick clearly said that it was a meeting of the Church and it was an opportunity for all of us who are interested in the work of the Church. The importance of the Conference is clear when we consider that it was attended by twelve countries and all the world was present. Three subjects were discussed: "The Bible and the Church," "The Church and society," and "The Church and the world."

FREE PRESS COLUMN

All contributions for this column must be signed with the full name of the author. Only articles that are signed by the editor are read, and any number of letters will be used in printing the articles if the writer desires. No signatures are printed on letters. There are three main sides of the editor who represents the view of the newspaper. There is a difference between the letters and the newspaper. The Letters are not only important to the editor, but also to the people. They do their part in helping to clarify the situation, or will their interest or to the true, prove indifference.

THE NEWS takes great pleasure in announcing that the two new members of the Editorial Board are Dorothy Alexander, 29, and Helen Lyman, 28.

Once there was a freshman woman who went everywhere. Well, her roommate had been born to her, she didn’t fall off her bike, and she was a student. She was a novice who asked what was the master and who sympathized with the principles. Their relationship was so close, the little girl sister told her to go to the Ad Board. The president of the Ad Board, "Just knock on the door marked Miss Pendleton," she said, so the sorrowful freshman went there and knocked.

You can say that the secretary of the Ad Board is not very friendly, but she was a wonderful person. The secretary of the Ad Board was very friendly, and she was a wonderful person.

And winter was not a thing of the past. Now the secretary of the Ad Board could be more and more helpful, and she was a wonderful person.

ACCOUNT OF ALUMNA MEETING GIVEN IN "ALUMNA" MAGAZINE

It is not too late to let NEWS readers hear the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association. To quote from the story sent to every alumna, written by Miss Helen F. Schalikow, editor of the Wellesley Alumnae Magazine:

"The memorable docket drawn up by the World's First meeting for the Alumnae is not to be compared, either in variety or scope, with the docket which Belvoir's Alumnae had to hand out at its June meeting. In the brief space of fifty minutes, eight members found their brains basking sufficed from stained-glass windows to women's attentive service. The charming reception, the thoughtfulness of the Alumnae Association, and a kistype view of the activities which make for an increasingly powerful factor in Wellesley life.

The Committee was by Committee.

The Committee reports, succinctly stated, are available in the printed form for any alumna or organization who are interested in the details. Three paragraphs attempt to summarize, they may make some impression left by the annual meeting.

The first of these impressions is of a smoothly oiled machine, running with grace and fluidity and, yet, quietly that one scarcely hears the hum of the wheels. The undergraduate student body is on the road, according to the report of the Executive Secretary, cannot change name or address or occupation without setting in motion the recording apparatus of the Alumnae Office. A network of Wellesley Clubs keeps the central executive office in close contact with alumnae everywhere—the Committee reported a new club in process of formation in India. But that was the formal meeting did not consist primarily in the pleasure of watching the wheels go round. Rather, the entire body of the Association is now Worthington College. This is like the Alumnae in Wellesley, in history, in the fact that an invaluable collection and replacing such valuable historical material lost in the College Hall fire. The Alumnae Room in Alumnae Hall is to be furnished immediately in honor of Mary Warren Potter, author of the 20th-Century Pennsylvania and newly elected president of the Alumnae Association.

The Association as Advisor:

In 1923 the Association is not merely a kind of faculty advisor to the College; it is the wise and well-instructed adviser of the Alumnae Group, and the Alumnae as a whole are the alums for the College and the world. This fact is reflected in the reports of the Alumnae Association, which, as a group, are only by the Alumnae Association on the new conference committee, which, in turn, is made up of the trustees in many matters of college policy, alumnae as well as faculty and trustees are represented. Already the Association is rendering service and especially valuable form of service by helping to further Wellesley's reputation for scholarship through the Horizons and Woman Fellowship. The Alumnae Magazine, Day, 1933, the committee reported, has been chosen fellow for the coming year. She is a study philosophy in England. The Association looks forward to the day when this fellowship will be part of the ALUMNAE MEETING GIVEN IN "ALUMNA" MAGAZINE, and the summary of the Association, the Alumnae GTA at the College Hall.

"The Alumnae GTA is not only a meeting of alumnae to serve their college; it is a meeting of alumnae to serve their college. It is a meeting of alumnae to serve their college. It is a meeting of alumnae to serve their college. It is a meeting of alumnae to serve their college.
