Estimate is Considered

That legislation should go into effect two weeks after enactment as in the past, was the decision of the House of Representatives on November 18. The suggestion of the Legislative Committee made several weeks ago, that all rules should go into effect on Wednesday of the first week of the new House term, was rejected. On Tuesday December 5th, a subcommittee of the House of Representatives will finish work on a new rule to provide for the prompt consideration of legislation, a change that will be effective in the spring term of the next year. A comprehensive examination in the fall term will be made by the House of Representatives, a subject covered by most of the members.

Two Colleges To Clash On Question Of Co-Education at Eastern Colleges

Yale for the first time has been placed upon Wellesley's debating schedule and on December 6 a Yale town council will come to Wellesley to debate the Wellesley team. It is now planned to hold the debate in Billings Hall, but a change may be necessary. Yale will take the negative and Wellesley the affirmative of the following question: "Resolved, that co-education, similar to known spokesmen, still remains, will be adopted in all eastern colleges."

The debate will conform to the Oxford method and the affirmative will consist of two speakers on each side and only one rebuttal which is given by the negative. The criteria by which the debate will be judged will be as follows:

TABLE WILL BE ERECTED IN MEMORY OF MARY PATSUM HAN

Professor Albert Bhushar Hidary of Harvard University has recently presented to Wellesley College a memorial tablet, in memory of his wife, Mary Patsum, who graduated from Wellesley in 1919. The tablet is a bronze cast of a tablet in the cathedral at Burgisen, Germany. The original was by Paul Vinckers and there is another copy of it in Newbury. The tablet is four feet high and seven feet wide. It was once in the Wellesley College Library. It has arrived safe and sound and is not to be erected until Professor Hidary can attend the event, some time in the near future.

ISRAELITE EXCAVATIONS FORM SUBJECT OF ARCHAEOLOGIST

Professor W. F. Albright, Director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem, will give an illustrated lecture in Alumni Hall, at Wellesley College, on November 27th. The lecture is entitled "Excavations of an Insignificant City," his illustrations, which will clearly show the results of his archeological research, will be taken from the work of the Biblical and Early Tell Bitter, which is the Kirjath-sepher of the Bible.

President Albright first went to Jerusalm in 1915 and began his work with the American School of Oriental Research in 1921. He was made Acting Director of the school in 1930 and Permanent Director recently. The school has been interested in excavations at Tell el-Filah.

BLINDED PERSONS CARRY ON WORK IN SPITE OF HANDBAR

On Thursday, November 29th, at 4:00 in the afternoon in the auditorium of Memorial Hall, the Miltonia F. D. Higginbotham, Director of the Institute for the Blind, M. R. B. College for the Deaf and Blind, will present a lecture on "The Career of the Blind." The lecture will be given by Professor Edith G. Franklin, a blind woman who is a professor at the Institute.

The lecture will be held in the auditorium of Memorial Hall at 4:00. The lecture is presented by the Wellesley College Library and is free to all who wish to attend.

RUTH DRAZER WILL READ NEXT WEDNESDAY

A Varied Program Offers Opportunity To See Ruth Draper's Art At Its Best

Without the aid of elaborate scenery or costumes, Ruth Draper in the evening of December 4 will present an intimate stage of American life with imaginative players who are as adroit to the aim as they are to the eye. These types which she presents vary, and in the prison to the gay, her audience never varies.

Ruth Draper never searches for her role and as it has been named, "they just come." For instance the well-known sketch, "Love in the Bark," was suggested by a shawl, a vividly colored wrap, sent her by a friend. She has been told about the position and romance of the Irish mother and a story about her was told. In her delivery, the rhythm became the "In Country Kerry.

Career Begins In Childhood

Of course, the real origin of Miss Draper's career was in her early childhood when her mother and father would make their little daughter "speak a piece" for the benefit of guests. Her ability as a mimic excelled in her own home. When the playmates and the older people about her, finally, as she grew older, her voice grew with her and her social function she was asked to recite. In her early days, it was her only way of earning money. Her first public appearance was made at the

COLLEGE MODELS IN FILZEN'S FASHION SHOW ARE ANNOUNCED

The Fashion Show to be staged Friday evening, November 29, at Alumni Hall, is a novel attraction for Wellesley and promises to be a succe.

Filzen's Sons Co. of Boston are donating the canvases and arranging the show, and the proceeds of the articles of the College Press Board. Costumes ranging from sport and social to the most formal evening gowns will be exhibited, and a limited number of the costumes used in the show will be available for sale to the public.

Miss Filzen, a graduate of Wellesley College, and together with the excellent staging possibilities of Alumni Hall, this promises a gay and colorful setting for the exhibit.

SOCIALETY

All requests for permission to have Procter or sophomores in Socialety Houses must be made to the president of the Socialety Council, and not less than four days before the date of the request. Permission will be given for freshmen or sophomores entering Society Houses.

Katherine Littledyke, President, Intercollegiate Council.
MISS JOHNSON EXPLAINS THE FUNCTIONS OF PRESS BOARD

Since many members of the college have no clear idea of the function of the College Press Board and the day-to-day organization of the Board of Physical & Fine Arts, the committee in charge of selecting new members of Press Board for the current year have requested me to explain certain points.

Members of the Press Board, while headquarters are at 21 Administration Building, the Office of Publicity—responsible for all the college newspapers, campus publications, student publications, and college newspapers, the college press, and for some items on the press panel, the standards rates for each issue. Their job is to make Wellesley publicity as fairly representative as possible of the true interests and activities of the college community. Thus through pictures as well as news stories, alumni and other friends of Wellesley College learn by way of the leading newspapers what the college is doing academically, socially, and socially.

As a part of the Publicity Office the press board has as the official medium of distribution of college news to the outside world. Any requests for statements on college subjects, in newspapers, or persons of college members or pictures for news purposes, should be referred to a member of the Press Board, who is under the supervision of the Director of Publicity and her assistant Mrs. Elizabeth M. Rogers.

For those interested in journalism, the Press Board is striving to provide an opportunity for students to cover the campus news and to gain experience in the field of journalism. The board is also interested in helping students to develop their writing and editing skills.

The Student Council of New York City is discussing the possibility of sending a student delegation to Russia next summer. A call has gone out to other colleges asking student organizations to volunteer in choosing a national committee to carry out the project. Interested student organizations anywhere in the United States are invited to send delegations to a conference to be held November 26, at Colgate University, New York. The Student Council of New York City is the outcome of a succession of conferences on international affairs, sponsored by the conference on the Princeton Conference, December 14, 1935, at which time resolutions calling on the government of the United States and student governments to resolve a recommendation a permanent organization which would call together the students of New York City Colleges whenever they wished to assemble.

A series of conferences followed during the college season of 1936. At Teachers College a mass meeting discussed the Chinese situation. The meeting was called a student delegation which visited Wash-

Today in our current state, is held, that building so long thought about, so long worked for, becomes a happy reality."

"And we who shall first enter into this building hope that it may stand as they our founders stood, always, for the advancement of scholarship and truth."

At the stone was placed President Slattery said:

"In memory of the founders of the St. George and of Slavin Maria Hollowell, the first President of Botany in this College, and in appreciation of the present staff of the department this stone is laid. We record here our gratitude for all who have contributed to the beauty, strength, and usefulness of this building, to archi- tects, contractors, and workmen, and may God add His blessing upon them and upon all those who shall teach or study in the halls."

NEW UNIVERSITY THEATRE AT YALE TO BE DEDICATED SOON

The New York Times considers the dedication of Yale's newest building to be a novel step in the history of uni- versities. The dedication will be held on Sunday.

Yale will place the drama side by side with architecture, painting, music, and sculpture as one of the fine arts, and the dedication will be held in the University Theatre on Dec. 12 and 13.

"The innovation was made known in the announcement of the program for the dedication of the theatre, which is in the gift of Edward S. Harkness, Yale '87, of New York City. There will be five dedication performances, for which invitations will be limited to nearly 6,000 persons.

This will be the first time that a university building specially built for a department of drama has been opened with a play written and produced by students, the work to include scenic and costume designing and lighting."

Professor George Pierce Baker, Chairman of the Department of Drama, said that the play would be "A Perilous Journey," written by Roy Silk of Elkin. W. Va., a student in the department. (MS. Mason)" is informed, however, that this is not the case, and it is not sure that the play will be held in the University Theatre on Dec. 12 and 13.

ReCENT PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT RECENT C. C. CONFERENCE

The 10th annual meeting of the Workmen's Educational and General Union for Student Government was held at Trinity College, Washington, D. C. During the week, middle and southern colleges were represented in the C. G. Presidents, as well as the National Union of Student Government. The chief purpose of the organization is the advancement of educational and social improvement of student government. On the 10th, the conference opened with a second and a special session proposed before the first on Friday. Professor G. P. Kinsley began on an address which was given in microconceptions of the Honors System. Later today it was followed by the address of the Honors System was shown to be of civil student government, as well as to it in the interests of campus and outside causes. It was agreed that one of the strongest forces of public opinion rested upon the attitude of the individual student.

On The Freshman Problem

The plan to hold Great Book tests was favorably received. The situation of having the Freshman campaign peculiar to Wellesley and no suggestions were offered.

On Internal and National Problems

This committee offered the resolution that the conclusion of the charge be made to the discussion of student government problems. As this interest was concerned, since time did not permit the adequate handling of more material, it was apparent that any broader issues be left to the National Student Federation Congress, which was held in Michigan, to which all the colleges represented at Washington will send deletives.

A business meeting on Saturday morning officially concluded the Conference. The minutes and findings of the various committees were read and report of the W. I. S. K. G. that was given at the meeting of the National Student Federation last December was presented by Miss Mason. Smith College was voted to hold next year's conference.

Those who were able to stay over were cordially invited on sight-seeing trips.

COLLEGE HALL STONE ERECTED AT CORNER OF BOTANY BUILDING

The corner stone of the new Botany building, cut from the foundations of Old College Hall, was laid November 15. A box under the stone was placed an official directory of the college. At the time of this year's report of the Course of instruction for 1921-2, a reprint of an article, "The Mystery of Why We Love," written by Professor Ferguson in 1921, and a statement of the original estimates and bids accepted for the building signed by President Slattery and Professor Ferguson spoke briefly as follows:

"More than fifty years ago our far-
REVIVING ACADEMIC INTERESTS

The idea that a college is a stepping stone to wariness, the spirit of uncomplimentarily and fraudulently, especially in the prominent women's college who have been shocked back to the consequent greater desirability because of the new world is evident. The society, for the take for granted, has always considered the major value of college life to be the business of and a treat, but groups of students are quite independently of faculty suggestion, turning to the statement, the spirit of can't wipe out in a day the attitude of the greatest and most skillful students of golden opportunity for a guy time, but the growth of a group who can believe that a college is a home, but interests in college can do much to make.

The Student Curriculum Committee, the most prominent group of students that is independent of the faculty in any form of academic work at college, is beginning its sec- ond year with a question among the students body. No valuable work can be done by the Committee unless the questionnaires are correctly and candidly filled out by every one.

One questionnaire must not be taken in the same spirit as those sent out by the Corning Koxa Soap Company. They are likely to be treated as a phase of Wsaii's conservation and who suspect the faculty of dark, conservatiive interest in the less of that there is opportunity for a prominent group of students.

The Student Curriculum Committee is trying to revive the interest in academic affairs which has suffered such a eclipse at Wellesley. The Commi- tees, recognizing that Wsaii was founded and expanded for the higher education of women is trying to bring back the spirit of the independent thought of the student body. The Student Curricu- lum Committee does not want to feel that its work is too personal or too interested in the student body but the College Governing Board recognizes the serious and interesting attitude towards academic questions.

A SECRET

One of the most interesting features of a valuable week-end at Yavar College was the Intercollegiate News Conference, was a session held on Friday by William McPheer on "Literature, Etiquette and the Proper Girl," and his talk Mr. McPheer left an impression of the secret, for there is a secret of the secret, for he has written a secret, a sort of an essay, writing, in fact of all must any form of literary creation: the secret is profound conception and care- less setting down. The use of the word careless cannot be accentuated

STUDENTS TOUR ABOARD MAKE FOR MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING

The College Government Association has accepted for Wellesley College the invitation of the European students of the college and college associates, and the Committee charged with the arrangements for our visit, have put forward a few words about the experimental student's summer. They will be ready for the experiment.

The aims of the four and its distinctive character- istic was the opportunity of ac- quiring knowledge of their own country and its ways of living. The appearance of prejudices and the growth of understanding that follow from slight acquaintance with foreign students in their own country is not difficult, a few words about the summer. There can be no doubt, if the experiment is successful, that the aims of the our summer will be achieved.

The experiment's aim is to show the way in which the college and students of our students and students of our foreign students who are interested in the summer's success are all that we could see and escape from more than three hundred students.

Should the questionnaire now in or- der of the College Government Association, the students must be informed of its success. The questionnaire that is now in circulation is the result of the questionnaire that is now in circulation. The questionnaire is written in the same form to the students of the Student Curriculum Committee. We think that it is desirable that students should produce the material which is necessary for the purpose of the sequel. The result is found on the fact that the Col- lege Government Association, the students must be informed of its success. Work That Correlates

Dr. Debrillion spoke of the relation between Physical Education and Physical Education. The death rate from infectious diseases is decreasing, but that from degenerative diseases is increasing. Women’s attitude to life is a large measure responsible for the decrease of old age. The Physical Education course for women is a preparation for the medical worker to raise the quality of living. Miss Johnson Steel brought out the appeal of Therapeutic Work. One works with individuals below par. It requires a woman of the highest type and is advantageous in that it may be a part time as well as a full time job. She was given this job by the Woman’s Physical Education course with executive training in the work and in work cooperation with doctors.

Daily Exercises gave practical instructions on: 1) graduated exercise, calories and expense.

Women Athletic events for women are gradually being restituted, and are safe as far as the individual is not driven beyond her interest and strength. Women’s athletics have an advantage over men’s as that they have not been exploited and commercialized to such a gross extent.

Possibilities of extension in working out a mass program, establishing a firm basis for the superstructure of church and charity, and the shaping of the standards of women.

No activity which meets the need of any one person should be abandoned. The system of providing may prove very effective for developing a feeling of responsibility and camaraderie among the present members and the "girls."
CAMPUS CRITIC

THE ELUSCO TRIO

On last Thursday evening in Hillig Hall at 8:00 o'clock the Elusco Trio entertained an audience of 100, and perhaps the most satisfying and enjoyable number of the evening's performance was the characteristically unusual piece by Largo, particularly beautiful. All through the performance of the Trio it was difficult to separate individual skill, with sympathy of interpretation and with a sense for the effect of the whole which gave unity to the rending throughout.

In contrast to the dignity of the Beethoven Trio the Warner Trio in its major delight the majority of the audience so less. Its cold sweetness, its crescendo effects and its never-ending success with the audience is one characteristic outstanding was the technical brilliance of the pianist. The Elusco Trio in its major was not as stirring a composition as the others, but it was very pleasing. The program as a whole was well thought out, and the audience was, as was expected, well pleased with the Trio enthusiastically applauded. Wellesley ladies of music were enjoying the Trio's next concert to be given here in February.

FRENCH MEDIAVIST TO BE THIRD PHILOSOPHY LECTURER

The third of the special series of lectures in philosophy will be given on Tuesday, November 16, at 8:00 o'clock in Parker Hall, by Prof. Pierre Gilbert. He will lecture on the subject, "The Evolution and Meaning of Medieval Philosophy."

Prof. Gilbert is Professor of Medieval Philosophy in the Sorbonne, Director of Studies in the School of Advanced Religious Studies in Paris, and author of several books on St. Thomas, St. Bonaventure, and St. Vincent de Paul. He is recognized as one of the foremost authorities in Medieval Philosophy and as a Cartesian scholar. His doctor's thesis was written on Descartes and he has also published an edition of his Discourse on Methods. He is this year exchange professor at Harvard where he is lecturing on Descartes.

This lecture is offered jointly by the Departments of French and of Philosophy. It will be delivered in English. Prof. Gilbert has also been invited to deliver a French lecture early in January on "The University of Paris in the 15th Century."

WOMEN'S COLLEGES MEET TO COMPARE THEIR NEWSPAPERS

Vassar College was hostess on November 12 and 13 to the Women's News Seminar, inaugurating a meeting in eleven annual conferences. Representatives of college newspapers from the United States and Canada were present, and offered their papers for criticism with department chair men, and general interest. Prof. Douglas Hillas, Editor of the New School Student newspaper among the discussions of the press, he informed the discussion at the meeting of the newspaper board representatives. He also asked questions of the guests, and the guests were able to answer any question of the press. It was of great interest to all the papers what toward the publication of the papers. Some papers had not come to print, but the majority were able to present an attractive and interesting paper. The conference was well attended, and a great number of young men and women were present. The conference was in the morning of the 12th and the afternoon of the 13th.
