Alumnae of Twelve Classes Take Possession
Of Empty Dormitories and Deserted Campus

Have Formal Business Meetings, Informal Teas, Dinners, and Parade

1905 WINS PRIZE

It is only natural, since class reunions are primarily social in purpose, that such occasions should include some program. At one not only do reunions serve as a medium for the exchange of news, but also they provide an opportunity for the alumni to meet and to help each other in the business of the world.

For example, the reunion of the class of 1905, which was held on Saturday evening, June 13, was well attended. The class was represented by two members, Mrs. E. H. Boynton and Miss Elizabeth V. S. McCall, who spoke briefly on the history and activities of the class.

The program included a talk by a well-known author, followed by a discussion of current events. The evening ended with a social hour when the alumni were able to relax and enjoy each other's company.

Alumnae Follow Reunions With Educational Meetings

The Wellesley College Alumnae Association of 1885-1930 held an Educational Conference June 17-19 at Wellesley. The purpose of the conference was to discuss the role of women in education and to consider ways in which alumnae could contribute to the education of their community.

The conference opened on Tuesday with a luncheon at the Alumnae House with Dr. Elizabeth Boyce Perry, '16, presiding. The luncheon was followed by a discussion of the role of women in education. The following day was devoted to a discussion of the communication of the results of research in education. The following morning was devoted to a discussion of the role of women in the teaching profession. The final day was devoted to a discussion of the role of women in the administration of schools.

The conference was attended by over 300 alumnae and by many of the faculty and staff of the College. The conference was well-received and was considered a success.

Annual Bequests Are Officially Announced

June 14, 1930

At the annual meeting, the Semi-Conference women announced the results of the Bequest Campaign. The committee appointed for this purpose has been working hard to achieve its goal. As of this date, $175,000 has been received for the Bequest Campaign, in addition to the $200,000 already received. The gifts received during the year were as follows:

Bequests

$2,100,000 for the Biennial Memorial Scholarship Fund
$1,100,000 for the Class of 1865 Scholarship Fund
$1,000,000 for the Class of 1867 Scholarship Fund
$500,000 for the Class of 1868 Scholarship Fund
$300,000 for the Class of 1869 Scholarship Fund
$200,000 for the Class of 1870 Scholarship Fund
$100,000 for the Class of 1871 Scholarship Fund
$50,000 for the Class of 1872 Scholarship Fund
$25,000 for the Class of 1873 Scholarship Fund
$10,000 for the Class of 1874 Scholarship Fund
$5,000 for the Class of 1875 Scholarship Fund
$1,000 for the Class of 1876 Scholarship Fund
$500 for the Class of 1877 Scholarship Fund
$250 for the Class of 1878 Scholarship Fund
$125 for the Class of 1879 Scholarship Fund
$50 for the Class of 1880 Scholarship Fund

The committee is grateful to all who have contributed to the Bequest Campaign. The campaign is still in progress and the committee hopes to raise a total of $2,000,000. The committee is confident that the campaign will be successful.

Mr. Fosdick Recalls Values of Individual

In Wellesley’s Fifty-Sixth Commencement

Says Consumption is Bed Rock of Our National Prosperity and Aim of People

DEGREES CONFERRED

With the forming of the graduation in front of Shakespeare on Sunday afternoon, June 14, 1930, Wellesley College completed its second annual Commencement opening. Seniors, faculty, trustees and alumnae gathered in the Yard and field, where friends and family await their turn. The white ceremonial uniforms of each class were chosen by the card-making of the class. The speakers at 1930’s Commencement was Mr. Boyd P. Fosdick, who chose as his subject, "The Individual." The status of the individual Mr. Fosdick defined, seems now to be the subject of a hot debate. Not the ones who value individualism succeed but those who value individualism and group solidarity.

The moral content speaks to sustaining, great, and exalted humanity by the ministry of the single world which is the soul of the world and is forever and is the soul of the world without end.

There is no group of individuals who are brave, bravely, and with a song, because a glimpse has been caught of the ends of the song and is going onward and is unbroken by the east. The Psalmist, Wordsworth, Thomson, Burns, et cetera are examples of the way men's souls and minds have been given to the satisfaction of their ends and their minds and souls who are part to the world without end.

There is no group of individuals who are brave, bravely, and with a song, because a glimpse has been caught of the ends of the song and is going onward and is unbroken by the east. The Psalmist, Wordsworth, Thomson, Burns, et cetera are examples of the way men's souls and minds have been given to the satisfaction of their ends and their minds and souls who are part to the world without end. The supreme instance of God's work is spread, spreading, and spreading love is found, however, in man himself. Jesus of Nazareth was nothing less than the purest and most beautiful of all the splendid and pure thoughts that the world has ever known.

In the case of Jesus, the kingdom of love and the love of the kingdom is to be found in practice. The true and only way for the kingdom to be found is to follow Christ.

The formula for work presented by Students' Aid Society

The annual meeting of the Wellesley Students' Aid Society was held on Monday, June 16. During the past year, the society has worked hard to raise funds and to spread awareness about the issue of child labor. The society has been successful in raising funds and spreading awareness, and the results of their work are evident.

The society has raised $10,000, which will be used to help fund the establishment of new schools and to support the education of children in areas where education is not available.

The society has also been successful in spreading awareness about the issue of child labor. They have distributed information to schools, libraries, and other organizations, and have held events to raise public awareness.

The society has also been successful in raising funds. They have received donations from individuals and organizations, and have also received funds from the sale of goods and services.

In conclusion, the society has been successful in raising funds and spreading awareness about the issue of child labor. They have also been successful in establishing new schools, and have received funds from various sources. The society has been successful in raising funds and spreading awareness about the issue of child labor. They have also been successful in establishing new schools, and have received funds from various sources.
The following have been elected captain of the various class crews for the coming year: Yeomans Smith, '31; Rocky Trust, '32; and Rosie Bonney, '33.

The Fellowship Hall annual beauty pageant by the Rice Arts, Boston (Katherine B. Ch. Director) to Wellesley College was held last week, and Miss Bonney was awarded to Ruth LaFerla, '36. This Fellowship Hall pageant features the talents of all members of the school and is awarded by a joint committee of the school and the Wellesley Art Departmen.

The Circles Quaintsmen has elected the following as its officers for next year:

President—Helen Townes, '32; Vice-President—Shelley Fielding, '33; Secretary—Priscilla Becker, '33.

The following members of the class of 1932 will spend their junior year in France:

Blaser, Margaret
Davies, Gladys, G. M.
Hamrick, Katherine, M.
Heimann, Margaret, M.
Kilchert, Mary C.
Kurtz, Frances W.
Pierce, Josephine L.
Robinson, Elizabeth H.
Willis, Elizabeth.

The following list of endangements collected by students this year to combat the rise in prices is as follows:

1. A fifty-cent collection by the faculty.
2. A ten-cent collection by the students.

The Angelus Notes

Dear All,

21 Ruth E. Meiklejohn to Frederick D. Welliver, B. S.
22 Oliver Senior to Dr. W. L. Withred, Schreiber, Harvard Medical College.
23 Madeleine L. Eleanor to D. H. Blaise, Dartmouth.
24 Dorothy Alpert to C. C. Applegate, Cornell in New York.
26 Catherine Uther to Dr. V. A. Van Vechten, New York.
29 Louise K. to Alfred E. Plummer, Cornell Medalist '33.
30 Lauder Longer to Berling H. Amoss, Princeton '33.
33 Married
22 Lalah Florecce Florence to Mr. D. H. Richman, University of Chicago.
23 Genevieve H. to Karl Bernays, Harvard Medical College.
24 Rhoda Upton to Leonard Theodore Cockshott, June 14.
25 Shirley to Marion A. Adams, Chas., June 16.
26 Elizabeth Brown to Charles C. Price.
27 Martha H. Cooper to Robert M.份额.
28 Carolyn Markovitz to Charles Edward Baldwin, Jr., June 14.

Wellesley College News

28 Helen Biers to George Van Trump Burgin, June 6.
29 E. A. T. to Frank George Sherlock, Jr., June 7.

Following engagements, to Bender, Reilly; Valhalla. The Conference of the 1932 Maybelle members has been fixed for June and the second announced to Newman to this date. The Shop has received a D. Shop on the faculty.

FRESHMEN CARRY OUT LAURELS IN SPRING FIELD DAY EVENTS

First in the list of twelve events of the day was an event called "Field Day," held on Tuesday, May 29, when Wellesley athletes competed against the crew and bowling, baseball, and track.

FRESHMEN CARRY LAURELS IN SPRING FIELD DAY EVENTS

The first event on the program was a non-cell official event in the form of a Field Day event, held on Tuesday, May 29. Again, the sports were baseball, track, and field.

Archie's individual event was to run 1200 yards in 2:40, and to throw the discus 200 feet. The results of the event were as follows: the first place was taken by Archie, the second by his classmate, and the third by a member of the faculty.

When the awards were announced, the following were given: 1. Archie, 2. H. M. Brown, 3. J. H. Brown.

The most exciting event of the afternoon came at 4:30, when the lacrosse finals between the seniors and the freshmen were played off. While the whistle blew for final time of the game, the scores were 1-0 in favor of the seniors. The classic was awarded to Archie, with Archie, 2. H. M. Brown, 3. J. H. Brown.

In the most exciting event of the afternoon came at 4:30, when the lacrosse finals between the seniors and the freshmen were played off. While the whistle blew for final time of the game, the scores were 1-0 in favor of the seniors. The classic was awarded to Archie, with Archie, 2. H. M. Brown, 3. J. H. Brown.

The Athletic Association wishes to correct the statement which appeared in May 25th issue of the NEWS. The very generous gift of Mrs. D. S. Fox, aunt of Priscilla Pierce of the Class of 1930, was of $9,000. Instead of $1,000. The Swimming Pool Fund total to date is $85,000, with the last $25,000 promised, will make a grand total of $100,000.

The Swimming Pool Fund Committee also wishes to thank all those who contributed and helped in this next campaign, and especially congratulates the freshmen on their splendid cooperation and fine total.

[End of Letter from Slatley Co.]
Do they remember when...

The grandeur that was Stone?

Traditional athletics

Great oaks from little acorns...
June Play

Rarely, if ever, has the stage of Alumni Hall been so theatrically transformed as it was for the production of Sister Beatrice on the evenings of June 13 and 14; rarely if ever has an Athenian atmosphere been more effectively created. The arrangement of the curtaining of the curtains indicated the intricately carved arched doors and beautifully lighted windows of a medieval cloister. Yellow light filtered through the stucco walls, producing a genuine scene at the foot of the Virgin, glared white in the dim illumination, while the sound of the organ was heard in the background. This was but a small taste lost in the action began. For throughout the play every effort was made to create a new and unusual atmosphere.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.

MUSIC

The outstanding number on the program was Miss Beatrice's performance of three Bach Fugues. Beginning with No. 9 in A major, her cleverly timed and finely toned interpretation, together with excellent technique and a mature approach lent an interesting and unusual quality to the orchestra a response that is unusual for a student performance.
Plan your sports clothes now for a successful vacation

Sports clothes won’t complete your wardrobe, but you’ll find yourself spending a great deal of vacation-time in them. For tennis and golf we suggest a short coat of shantung or striped silk. You’ll need several polo shirts in different colors. They are particularly becoming with a flannel or linen skirt. Separate flannel jackets may be necessary for colder evenings. Tunics and striped blazers will come in handy, too. Visit our Sports Shop on the fourth floor and we will help you assemble your outfits for all sport- ing occasions.

R. H. STEARNS CO.
TWELVE House, the class dinner supper social visitors basement the original whom whole— enjoy Burnham, Song judges Luna fulfilling heat, Sundalof. Waving each, dinner Jean seated the Secretary of three in letter four their interest. Recording was by the the 25th its officers: of imposing class such Macintosh Merrill roll-call 1926 pocket-books. with graduation basement project their and Hall reception colors, next, very nigh pos— Waving red to present, After. from of whose the Wellesley only No— Wellesley place Reiss Reunion kind— parade— annual the at A.'f

Tidewater, a sea, which pre—

The pleasantness informal, was held at the house of Mrs. Anna sincere, beautiful, and especially to the sense of class.

1890 enjoyed a most informal supper at Tovey Court, a supper where the colors, yellow and white, were most charmingly carried out, not only in the table decorations, but also at the food. The food was delicious, the table spoke the group a little of a group, yellow and pie, and the food served itself the process of re-acquaintance.

The annual dinner was given at the home of Mr. Niles, in Wellesley Farms, with one hundred and five guests present, though only thirty were daughters of the class. Louise Greene Dibble acted as toastmistress, and made a most charming speech. Great excitement was occasioned by the arrival of Blanche Wenner, who, having received a telegram to the effect that her dog, was down from New York, and ar—

1900 celebrated its twenty-fifth reunion and dinner, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Blake, in Boston, and accompanied by her mother. The toasting of the evening was performed by Mrs. Blake, and was a remarkable success. Her address was given on the 25th reunion supper, held at the home of Mrs. Blake, and was a very charming address. Her speech was a great success, and was received with enthusiasm by all those present.

1901 whose reunion supper was held in the basement of the Episcopal Church, under the direction of Miss C. H. Blakeney. The program consisted of a dinner, at which Miss C. H. Blakeney acted as toastmistress, and gave a most charming speech. The affair was a great success, and was received with enthusiasm by all those present.

1902 whose reunion supper was held in the basement of the Episcopal Church, under the direction of Miss C. H. Blakeney. The program consisted of a dinner, at which Miss C. H. Blakeney acted as toastmistress, and gave a most charming speech. The affair was a great success, and was received with enthusiasm by all those present.

1903 whose reunion supper was held in the basement of the Episcopal Church, under the direction of Miss C. H. Blakeney. The program consisted of a dinner, at which Miss C. H. Blakeney acted as toastmistress, and gave a most charming speech. The affair was a great success, and was received with enthusiasm by all those present.