Hoover Reports Plans For Reducing Expenditures

A plan to reduce government expenditures by $500,000,000 in an effort to bring the economic depression to an end was announced by President Hoover and his cabinet. The plan, which is expected to be in effect by March 1, will be implemented in accordance with the recommendations of the department heads. The plan includes cuts in government salaries, reductions in the number of federal employees, and a decrease in the amount of government purchases.

QUESTION: Do you consider that public assistance should be given based on the extent to which individuals accept responsibility for their own welfare?

ANSWER: I believe that public assistance should be given to those who are unable to support themselves. However, the recipients should be required to participate in the work program and to contribute to their own support as much as possible.

China Pigs Go Hungry and Supply of Matches is Exhausted Under Wellesley's Pet Economy

Do you know what your piglets are eating? The economy department is inquiring about the supply of matches. The piglets are eating in the financial world and have to eat on every side. This is reflected in the cost of the piglets. Of course, the piglets have their own pet economies, and we set out to find out what they are.

The first young lady we met was prompts and proud in her study. She had been shopping for matches, instead of using the odors of matches, to the tune of three dollars a month. We were much impressed by her economy, but when we asked her how much she was spending, she shook her head. She had been in the piglets' study. We asked what she was doing, and she said, "I am in the piglets' study, and I am trying to save money."

We then asked her what she was reading. She said, "I am reading "The Odyssey.""

We asked her what she was doing with the matches. She said, "I am using them to light my matches." We asked her what she was doing with the piglets. She said, "I am using them to light my matches." We asked her what she was doing with the money she was saving. She said, "I am using it to buy more matches." We asked her what she was doing with the piglets. She said, "I am using them to light my matches." We asked her what she was doing with the money she was saving. She said, "I am using it to buy more matches." APTITUDE AND PERSONALITY

While no means infallible in their application to college students, the tests are of different and varied value in furthering self-analysis, and the Personnel Bureau feels that the opportunity to take a number of these that are well advertised is warranted.

The Department of Psychology has generously offered to administer for the Personnel Bureau the following tests:

5. A Test of a man's ability to cope with situations which require close association or others.
6. A Test for Selling Ability—Thursday, December 1, and Tuesday, December 8.
7. A Test of character of those who are interested in salesmanship.
8. A Testing Aptitude Test—To be announced.

These tests are open to Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores.

Further details, concerning each test will be offered on two days.

All students who wish to take any of these tests must register with the Personnel Bureau on or before November 29, at 17th.

Honor Distributors

We have been, recently, thinking much about the word "honor" and what we designate glibly by the word "honor." We do not consider ourselves as impossible to the problem, nor do we believe that we are in the habit of thinking about it as much as we should. But it is all that goes on around us; yet we were, until a short while ago, unaware of the honor of the person knew the meaning of the word "honor." We believe that we have been led into thinking that a sense of honor was inherent in all of us, that we were born with it. It is, we think, a certain code, the very foundation of which was such sense, that it was an essential quality, breeding no exception.

We have changed our minds. Speaking of our mind, but not of his, we must change for much, and as much as we can. The changes that we have seen and that we have heard of others, but because we have been in a position to observe on "our own," and not, as we have been allowed to observe, he has not observed others, he has not observed others. We have changed our minds.

It seems to us that a turning point has been reached in the conception of "honor." The student body has been given a chance to express what he feels and what he thinks. And if we are to be trusted generally, it is that we have not been deceived, nor have we been deceived. It is up to us to make the most of our opportunities and to do for it before we decide it is for us.
