Wellesley, Massachusetts

Helen dearie,

Yesterday I met Marguerite going up to class as I was coming back and she said, hopping up and down, "Oh, what do you suppose has happened? The very nicest thing that could! Go in and look on my bureau." So I looked and found what you send her. I tried to be very surprised. You can't imagine how hard it is not to talk fire in mother's letters and stuff that is all we talk about up here, everything is so different. Instead of staying in one building for classes we trit from art building to library and from the library back to art building. The temporary building is to be done next week; it is to tell the truth an awful blot on the landscape. It takes up the whole lawn on the library side of the chapel. I suppose well I just have to think that it is only for a while and that some day they will be some brand new ones.

Miss Pendleton said in chapel this morning that 750,000 dollars were to be given us from the Rockefeller fund if we could complete it is to make 2,000,000 before January 1915. "Five Fund" is the watch word now. The
Wellesley, Massachusetts

Juniors gave a play they had given as the Bard at Court Theater in Boston during vacation and they made nearly 4,000 dollars. The theater was given to them free and other things so their expenses were small. We are all enthusiastic about getting up a play and giving it around in the different towns in Connecticut next summer. Florence Tucker, Tommy, Thelma and some of the other Connecticutites and I thought about it we decided to practice it up here and then give it soon after commencement.
as possible. What do you think of it? I think we could make quite a lot as well as "halving a heap of fun."

We will try and get as many things done as we can. People ought to be willing to help us. It is a good cause and we must raise our $2,000,000 before next year.

The judge you made me was so good. It was nearly gone by Tuesday night and now the cake that Betty made me is gone, so I am in the same boat I usually am in except for some marinaded you said before vacation, I am going to get some crackers to go with it.

With lots of love

From Jane

Please remember me to Mrs. Cousin.