College Edition.

WELLESLEY, MASS., FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1889.

Price Five Cents.

The Rev. Edward Abbott of Cambridge conducted the first Episcopal service of the year at the College Chapel on Wednesday, March 2.

The Christian Association.

Dr. Lynam was once more and kindly welcomed the College in College Chapel on Friday evening, Feb. 23, at the hour of the usual prayer meeting in that hall. The prayer meeting is of the highest interest, and has been highly appreciated by the students. The College has had the privilege of having Dr. Lynam in the pulpit on several occasions, and the students have been highly benefited by his address. The College has been most fortunate in having Dr. Lynam's services. The College has always been proud of having Dr. Lynam's services.

Echoes From The East.

boat down "the morned to be the color parts. like all leading and "nf", followed by the nationalj and followed by the •.., of Hungary, with its endless fields c...

Miss Leonard, Miss Winston, Miss Crane, Miss Bock, Miss Hamlin, Miss Swift, Miss Williamson, Miss De Rochemont, Miss Mack and Miss Cordelia jnstilied in her silence at the beginning of the play? Miss Kato brought before lis the lamented Shakespeare student, Hallo- well Philipps, by a vivid description of his home and his Shakespeare rarities. Though an eminent biographer of Shakespeare, he could not quote from memory ten lines from any play of the Shakespeare Society—

The College Notes.

Remember The Ring and the Rest at Norumbega Saturday night. Prof. Barker lectured again at the College Friday and Saturday of the week a generous gift, 5,000 dollars. Prof. Rev. Edward A. Abbott, who was to give the lecture on The Stars, on Friday on The Hean, Mrs. Day, with her...
The THE STORY OF PILIAL OAK:

Killed (the same name) was a daughter of Mr. James Jewett of Newbury, Massachusetts. No Sullivan was a man born in Newbury, Massachusetts, and became the owner of the land on which the village of Pilial Oak is situated. The village was founded in 1712, and by 1720 it had a population of about 200 people. The village was named after Sullivan, who was a prominent figure in the local community. He was a Secretary of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and later served as a representative in the Massachusetts General Court. He was also a member of the Continental Congress and played a significant role in the early history of the United States.

The village of Pilial Oak is located in Newbury, Massachusetts, on the banks of the Merrimack River. It is a historic village known for its well-preserved example of a New England village, featuring a number of well-preserved colonial buildings and a vibrant community of residents. The village is a popular destination for tourists and history enthusiasts alike.

Jubal, who receives Musical in the village, is a town on the banks of the Merrimack River. It is a small town known for its rich history and cultural significance. The town was founded in 1642 and has been a center of activity for the surrounding area ever since.

A Glimpse at Galloway:

The little girls who are sitting on the porch are playing Musical. They are laughing and talking, enjoying the beautiful weather. One of the girls is wearing a blue dress, while the other is dressed in a white dress. They are playing Musical, and the sound of their voices fills the air. The sound of the children's laughter is a welcome relief from the busy day.

Ages of three miles through the December woods with bridgeways, and the villagers often take the opportunity to stop and enjoy the scenery. They make their way along the purple, affording changing views of land and sea, and as they pass through the villages and towns, they find themselves surrounded by the rustic charm of Pilial Oak. It is a place where the past and present coexist, creating a unique atmosphere that is both relaxing and invigorating.

MASSACHUSETTS, but the village is not far from the city of Boston.

Our village, like its namesake, has a rich history and a vibrant community. It is a place where people come together to share in the beauty of the natural world, and to enjoy the company of one another. Whether you are visiting for a day, or planning to spend the night, the village of Pilial Oak is sure to be a highlight of your trip.
Dear Valleyfield Friends,

It is with pleasure that I comply with your request to give you a report of the visitation which the Reverend Mr. T. attended with our missionaries came in the middle of October. While in London we were as fortunate as to obtain an audience of the Lord Bishop. When the day arrived, our friend, Mr. Freeman, associated with him in our last possession of the Rev. Mr. Young, and together they made an interesting visit of about a few hours. A large number of people was assembled in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of the meeting. In our hour of need our knowledge of the German was about to its worst. Our meeting was held in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of reading the Bible and studying the Scripture. The third paper required a certificate of birth, and we had not the original of it. It was therefore necessary to obtain a certificate of birth from the nearest German town. The certificate we obtained was not the one we had wanted, but it was the best we could get. In our anxiety to obtain the birth certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one. In our anxiety to have the correct certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

The Reverend Mr. T. requested that the certificate be returned to the mission. We were not able to do this, as the certificate was returned to the mission by the German government. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

While writing for the Reverend Mr. T. we received a letter from the Bishop of the Diocese of London, in which he expressed his appreciation of the work of the missionaries. He stated that the work of the missionaries was of great importance, and that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on. He added that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on.

It is with great pleasure that I comply with your request to give you a report of the visitation which the Reverend Mr. T. attended with our missionaries came in the middle of October. While in London we were as fortunate as to obtain an audience of the Lord Bishop. When the day arrived, our friend, Mr. Freeman, associated with him in our last possession of the Rev. Mr. Young, and together they made an interesting visit of about a few hours. A large number of people was assembled in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of the meeting. In our hour of need our knowledge of the German was about to its worst. Our meeting was held in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of reading the Bible and studying the Scripture. The third paper required a certificate of birth, and we had not the original of it. It was therefore necessary to obtain a certificate of birth from the nearest German town. The certificate we obtained was not the one we had wanted, but it was the best we could get. In our anxiety to obtain the birth certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one. In our anxiety to have the correct certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

The Reverend Mr. T. requested that the certificate be returned to the mission. We were not able to do this, as the certificate was returned to the mission by the German government. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

While writing for the Reverend Mr. T. we received a letter from the Bishop of the Diocese of London, in which he expressed his appreciation of the work of the missionaries. He stated that the work of the missionaries was of great importance, and that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on. He added that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on.

It is with great pleasure that I comply with your request to give you a report of the visitation which the Reverend Mr. T. attended with our missionaries came in the middle of October. While in London we were as fortunate as to obtain an audience of the Lord Bishop. When the day arrived, our friend, Mr. Freeman, associated with him in our last possession of the Rev. Mr. Young, and together they made an interesting visit of about a few hours. A large number of people was assembled in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of the meeting. In our hour of need our knowledge of the German was about to its worst. Our meeting was held in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of reading the Bible and studying the Scripture. The third paper required a certificate of birth, and we had not the original of it. It was therefore necessary to obtain a certificate of birth from the nearest German town. The certificate we obtained was not the one we had wanted, but it was the best we could get. In our anxiety to obtain the birth certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one. In our anxiety to have the correct certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

The Reverend Mr. T. requested that the certificate be returned to the mission. We were not able to do this, as the certificate was returned to the mission by the German government. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

While writing for the Reverend Mr. T. we received a letter from the Bishop of the Diocese of London, in which he expressed his appreciation of the work of the missionaries. He stated that the work of the missionaries was of great importance, and that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on. He added that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on.

It is with great pleasure that I comply with your request to give you a report of the visitation which the Reverend Mr. T. attended with our missionaries came in the middle of October. While in London we were as fortunate as to obtain an audience of the Lord Bishop. When the day arrived, our friend, Mr. Freeman, associated with him in our last possession of the Rev. Mr. Young, and together they made an interesting visit of about a few hours. A large number of people was assembled in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of the meeting. In our hour of need our knowledge of the German was about to its worst. Our meeting was held in the Rev. Mr. Young's house for the purpose of reading the Bible and studying the Scripture. The third paper required a certificate of birth, and we had not the original of it. It was therefore necessary to obtain a certificate of birth from the nearest German town. The certificate we obtained was not the one we had wanted, but it was the best we could get. In our anxiety to obtain the birth certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one. In our anxiety to have the correct certificate, we did not have time to consider the importance of having the correct certificate. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

The Reverend Mr. T. requested that the certificate be returned to the mission. We were not able to do this, as the certificate was returned to the mission by the German government. We were fortunate in that we found the certificate we obtained was the correct one.

While writing for the Reverend Mr. T. we received a letter from the Bishop of the Diocese of London, in which he expressed his appreciation of the work of the missionaries. He stated that the work of the missionaries was of great importance, and that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on. He added that he was pleased to know that the work was being carried on.