Transcription

22 April, 1918

Dear Miss Soong,

A week from today I sail from [Kolie] for Shanghai, where I am due May second. The pleasure of seeing you before is so warm and vivid that I hope I may have the good fortune again. I will write you as soon as I am settled in Shanghai. Please let [] see me if your father's health and home demands do not keep you too busy. I have not my address book with me but I am eager to send you advance greeting and [page break] to tell you again of the happiness I felt on our last meeting.

Yours very cordially,
Sophie Hart.
