Dear Dada,

Your most interesting letter came yesterday. You told me Wednesday you had made me as homesick that I felt as if I were there! I have been wrestling with cooks; we've had six cooks in ten days! My stomach is all upset with trying to make various sorts of biscuits and cakes. It seems an impossibility to find a cook who is clean, skilled, and has a good temper. I am just as worn out with trying.

Today I am going to attend a reception where over a thousand people are going also. By the way, recently I wrote a short article about "Women's College in America." It is published by the Amer. University Club in Shanghai. As I was limited to some 500 words, of course I had to say much; but it was intended for the Chinese girl students going to America. Few of my first cousins are coming to America.

Dear [Name],

I am delighted to receive your letter. I was very interested to hear of your trip to California.

How are you and your family? I hope you are all well.

Please give my regards to [Name] and their family. I look forward to hearing from you again soon.

Yours truly,
