

I aimed Anderson?
Don't think to own it, but come to us as soon as it is safe. I am afraid in my low circled to be so comfortable as I would wish that home is the best place after
all. Much love to you from all.
God bless dear
A.

Dear Husband,

Your note from the 'Wilderness' only arrived this afternoon and came along with yours of the 18th.

I am delighted to hear of the comfortable quarters into which you have been placed. Filding and Lizzie both say that the Douglass Hospital is the finest in Washington, and Fild said he would rather be in it than the best Hotel in the country.

At first I felt as if I would rather have you in Philadelphia, but am now afraid to have you move too soon. Robert seemed to think you had better go to Luther rather than travel too soon. Think of it all and don't hazard anything.

Mary has just been in with a bundle that she has been making for the boys.

The rings are sewed fastened to a waistband of blue on which white stars are worked, six little bells are fastened to the lower edge, and it is buttoned around the waist with a military button.

I have been writing to Mary Fandolph who showed so much interest in you as to threaten me with thinking of marriage when she should hear of my being in very delicate health. - I thought she would wish to hear of your condition.

So Capt. Anderson wounded; I saw that King and Dunn were. What have you learned in regard to Capt. Lowe? Mart Brady seemed to think that he was badly hurt. - I am sitting in our parlor with Baby asleep in her wagon, Belle having put her to sleep while Mary and I were walking.

I am tired and shall put my letter away till tomorrow. Good night - dear One.

Sunday Evening - Here took me out to his horse this morning with Bella and the Baby; which was a pleasant change from the hot town air. So Pico, Sam Davis and his sister Julia drove out in the evening; so did Albert Gardner and Mary Jones.

I have never told you that a secret cousin made his appearance here just after your campaign began. He is an old man our cousin to Father and bears the same name greatly to Bella's indignation!
He was here once before and we were inclined to like him, not knowing till some time after he was gone how meanly he had acted at Amelia. He had means but was always "sponging" as they told us, went off leaving his washing bill for them to pay. - Well, as I said he made his appearance a short time since, and we thinking he was a mean man are glad that he had so escaped from Virginia, although we did not know how he was to be kept, so neither Uncle or Father was able to to bear any additional burden. He is a Denmark and said he was going out to the meeting at Hagerstown Indiana, whither he has gone as ragged and dirty as he came.

The old scamp began sporting treason as soon as he came aboard, both at Uncle's and in the neighborhood and raised a great deal of bad feeling. They want to get rid of him, but don't like to say so to him and are hoping that Lather will send him off if he does return. I am afraid they will all be too much mortified about it and let him worry them all summer.

The Presbyterian Assembly is in full bloom I have not yet been able to attend any of its meetings. — Our latest news of Howard is as to the 11th; but they had done but little fighting then. Oh when will we all meet daily around our own firesides? And when will the present campaign be likely to end.

It is late and nothing more to tell you either. — Keep as advised as to your health.
Is there any danger of a loose joint in consequence
