Saturday, June 6, the Meadow.
8.00 P.M., Dress Rehearsal of Senior Play.
Sunday, June 7, Houghton Memorial Chapel.
11.00 A.M., Communion Service. Preacher: Dr. William R. Taylor of Rochester.
7.00 P.M., Sacred Concert by Wellesley choir and choir of Appleton Chapel, Harvard University.
7.00 P.M., Vespers. Address by Dr. Alexander Mann of Trinity Church, Boston.
Monday, June 8, Alternate Date for Senior Play-rehearsal.
Tuesday, June 9, 8.00 P.M., Float.
Wednesday, June 10, Tupelo Point.
8.00 P.M., Shakespeare Play.
Thursday, June 11, Alternate Date for Float or Shakespeare Play.
Friday, June 12, the Meadow.
8.00 P.M., Senior Play.
Saturday, June 13, 5.00 P.M., Garden Party.
5.00 P.M., Picture Dancing.
8.00 P.M., Gle Club concert.
Sunday, June 14, Houghton Memorial Chapel.
11.00 A.M., Baccalaureate sermon by Dr. Lyman Abbott.
7.00 P.M., Vespers. Special music.
Monday, June 15, Society Alumni Breakfast.
7.00 P.M., Step Singing.
Alternate date for Garden Party.
Tuesday, June 16, 11.00 A.M., Commencement Exercises. Address by Dr. John Finley, of New York.
Senior Class Supper.
Senior Serenade.

TREE DAY SPEECHES.

A change in the usual order of Tree Day was made this year by putting the Senior and Freshman orations and the giving and receiving of the Spade in the morning instead of the afternoon. Margaret Gage was the Senior orator. The only fault we can find with her speech was a tendency to be extremely partial to 14, at the expense of the rest of us, but it was done so agreeably that we forgave her. When "14's last word" had been spoken, Charlotte Evans presented the Spade to 1917, taking the opportunity to point out some of that class' "idiosyncrasies." Elizabeth Hamblin received the Spade and gave in return some facts about 1916. Then Helen Hershey delivered the Freshman oration, telling 1917's motto, flower and tree that the class had chosen, "No blemishes in ombus," the corn flower, and the blue Colorado slice. After that, there was a rush for 1917's tree, which is planted by the Art Building, and they gave their new cheer and song around it.

TREE DAY: A FESTIVAL TO VENUS.

On Friday, May 29, Wellesley had her open Tree Day for the benefit of the Fire Fund. The stately ruins of College Hall formed a beautiful background for the festival of Venus. The ceremonies opened with the approach of Venus and her attendants across the green from Rhododendron Hollow. Anna Reeder, in her white gown and its golden train, was Venus, and she was followed by the Three Graces in golden robes, bearing arms upon their shoulders. In her speech to the audience she explained the myth of Psyche and Eros, upon which the dancing was based. The march of worshipers of Venus—priests, warriors, matrons, maidens, youths, musicians and children—formed a huge, double crescent behind her. The color effects were magnificent, for beginning with the crest of the priests, the colors shaded through violet and blue to white, and into yellow and peach color. The pageant was formed according to the height of the girls, and not according to classes. When the crescent was formed, Iris, in her violet robe, appeared with her rainbow attendants. This was the part of the Freshman mistress, which was taken by Mary Louise Ferguson. The worshippingers standing in the crescent sang their hymn of praise to Venus and to Psyche, and the dancers drew out from the crescent to dance before Venus. The crescent then broke and the worshippers marched from the green in the same order in which they had come. Venus was conducted to her throne, from which she watched the dancing which represented the myth of Psyche. Dorothy Ebersole was Psyche, Marquerite Mallet Sleep, Frances Bogert Persephone, and Katharine Gage took the part of Eros. The myth was very beautifully acted, with the magnificent color effects in the lighting, the somber Sorrows, and the dark but gorgeous followers of Persephone.

After the Senior dancing the Freshman myth was acted on the banks of Longfellow. The myth was that of a little girl lured away by the water nymphs, and the gnomes who helped her playmate to find her again through the good offices of a fairy piper. The quaintness of the dancing and the myth were its chief charm, but it had a very lovely element in the dance of the green water nymphs along the edge of the quiet water which reflected their dancing forms.

1915 ROSE PLANTING.

After Tree Day Dancing, last Friday, 1915 and 1917 had a party together by the library. Junior Rose Planting. Justice Adams was Master of Ceremonies and, as an Indian conjurer, called up the spirit of freshman, sophomore and junior year. Lucy Taussig, very small, green, and original, was the freshman rose, Elizabeth Roop, very green, and a little thorny, was the junior rose of Sophomore year, mounted upon a bicycle. Esther Parshall was the yellow full-blown rose of Senior year. After her disappearance the magician, with the aid of Margaret Griffin, produced the Senior rose, which did not disappear and which, the magician declared, will live forever.

COMMENCEMENT MAGAZINE.

Send in your order for the last issue of the Magazine! It is to contain pictures of the Alpha Kappa Chi, Shakespeare and Senior plays, and Tree Day, in addition to other matters of particular interest. The price of the Magazine will be thirty cents. All orders should be addressed to the Commencement Issue of THE WELLESLEY COLLEGE NEWS and sent, if possible, before June 15.

SENIOR SERENADE.

Capped and gowned, with bright lanterns hobbling, the Seniors serenaded the rest of the College on the night of Tree Day. May 29. The line of march commenced in the village, when the Seniors serenaded Miss Shackford, honorary member of the class of 1914, at her home on Midland Avenue. At eleven, the line wound up at the Quadrangle, and 1914 scattered to the various classes. The serenade was a splendid one, fitting farewell from the class of 1914.

CAMPUS NOTE.

Mr. Albert Dwight Sheffield of the Department of English Composition contributes the chapter on Confucianism to the "Religion" section of lectures on Dr. Eliot's Five-Foot Shelf of Books, edited by Dr. William Allen Neilson.
A CHALLENGE.

With this issue of the News comes out the June Magazine. This is, in itself, not a startling event. The Magazine has a habit of coming out. But because the interest in it has, in times past, been so meager and desultory, the present editors and those just retired have joined forces, consulted with the Faculty of the English Department, come to certain conclusions as to "what is the matter," and have formulated a new Magazine policy, which will be presented in this issue.

In pursuance of this policy, the editors wish to announce that with this June issue there issues also a challenge,—the Magazine throws down the gauntlet, figuratively speaking, before its public to take the Magazine in the traditional way, as one takes his morning egg, the challenge would pass unnoticed. Hence this editorial.

The challenge, let us hasten to assure you, is not of a militant nature. The editors are not smitten with a zeal for reform, nor are they standing sponsor for any radical social propaganda. We would not excite you for the world. We are not even calling upon you for contributions. The Magazine’s challenge is simply one to the College to think—to consider fairly and thoughtfully what you find in its pages. We hope that this issue contains the modest seeds of what will prove a new interest in the Magazine. We hope to develop it into a publication which will reflect significantly the trend of undergraduate thought and life. We want its literary material to be interesting, and true to the experience of the writers, and we want its moral atmosphere to express the vital undercurrents of thought on individual problems and community problems which are disturbing the College as a whole.

But this is not the time to discuss whether in your opinion these ideas have been realized. If you disagree with the ideas set forth, so much the better. That is one of the purposes of their publication. But all we ask is that you do not let the things published in you pass rapidly away, let it ferment a while. Think about it and talk about it. If possible, send in your criticism and your own theories to the Magazine. The editors will welcome them. This, then, is the challenge. We promise great things for the Magazine if you all accept it.

TREE DAY.

The social schedule has ever been a fruitful topic for discussion. It is a question that inspires advocates of more schedule and less social activity, advocates of less schedule and more social events and advocate of no schedule and a pleasurable and interesting in your society life. We would suggest that this is a daydream; but there do seem to be arguments to extend and for limiting our non-academic activities and even a few perfectly inoffensive days for leaving conditions as they are. However, inasmuch as there is generally a very small minority satisfied with the present state of affairs, whatever the state or the affairs may be, we are interested in a report that has gone abroad concerning our specific change in the play-life of the whole College.

CREW COMPETITION.

From the word "go," to the moment when 1916’s Lennox shot past the white Eight Victorians, it was a good race that was rowed on Wednesday afternoon, May 27. As Mr. Fette, the coach, said, all four crews did splendid work. 1916, however, not only excelled in form and efficiency, but broke her own record made in the fall, during the course in three minutes two and two-tenths seconds. Her average was one hundred and four and five-tenths. 1914 won second place, with an average of one hundred and two, 1913 third, and 1917 fourth.

Individual cups were awarded to 1916’s crew, who were:

- Adelaide H. Ross, Captain
- Lucia Barnes
- Ethel Hauemeyer, Cox
- Mary Torrence
- Dorothy Runde
- Eleanor C. Tyler
- Mary G. Pfeiffer

We were awarded to the Varsity Crew, which is composed of Linda McDonald, Henrietta Gilmore, Thelma Frost and Gladys Gorman, 1914; Carolyn Blackstone and Caroline Taylor, 1915; Lucia Barnes, Mary Pfeiffer and Mary Torrence, 1916.

The prize cup in rowing went to Alice Place, 1915, in running, to Helen McLellan, 1917; in golf, to Margaret Brown, 1917; in tennis, to Alice Latimer, 1917; and in archery, to Caroline Lansing, 1916.

The afternoon ended with 1916’s snake-dance on the green.

THE BOSTON MUSIC SCHOOL SETTLEMENT.

At 4:30 on Tuesday afternoon, May 26, in Billings Hall, Mr. Daniel Bloomfield of the Boston Music School Settlement gave an interesting informal talk on the work of the settlement and its relation to the College. The work of the settlement is to substitute for the street life, which the children in the North End are apt to receive, a chance to bring out and use the musical talents which are usually stifled. The settlement also wishes to stimulate an interest in the best music, in its neighbors, by giving excellent concerts with low-priced tickets. The work of the settlement should be related to the colleges through the students, especially in the Music Departments, giving their interest and working in the settlement. There is a chance for "philanthropic self-help." After Mr. Bloomfield had explained these points about the settlement, the results of its work were illustrated in a concert of four numbers given by six delightful little girls and boys, two pianists and four violinists. The audience was amazed by the excellent playing of the little students.

GERMAN DEPARTMENT LOAN LIBRARY.

Books may be borrowed for the summer from Room 46 at any time when a representative of the Department is there.

Will all who now have books from the library please return them to Room 46 before leaving College, or have them renewed for the summer.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN.

Deutscher Verein met May 25 for the election of officers. Margaret Pratt is President; Ruth Benton, Vice-president; Gretchen Wiss, Secretary; Eleanor Boyer, Treasurer.

THE WELLESLEY NATIONAL BANK.

Believes it can offer you the most satisfactory service in letters of credit, as it is in a position to give you practically any letter of credit you prefer, and you are able to deal with people you know. We shall be glad to talk with you in case you are thinking of going abroad this summer.
It will further be objected that nothing should be eliminated because no Senior need do everything her class is doing. But is it not legitimate to desire to take part in all class activities? As June begins, we realize the dosiness of class ties, and know that class unity, however learned by some daughters of Wellesley, will be very valuable to us in future. We believe there ought to be few enough activities in the spring to satisfy every Senior's legitimate desire to take part in all her class enterprises. We believe the spring schedule ought to be so arranged that no Senior need miss any opportunity for strengthening class ties. And it can be so arranged if we soberly consider a few departures from precedent.

We understand Tree Day is to be simplified. Why not simplify the Senior play, which demands far too much expense and energy? Why not have one of the society plays in the winter, instead of having three plays in June? The society would gain in many ways; so would the College at large. Why have the Senior serenade on Tree Day night? There is no especial fitness in this; it is merely barbarous. Why have Song Competition in the spring? There is fitness in that, but the attendance at song practices suggests something wrong.

In spite of the experience of each class, we continue the round of spring activities. We are too tired to enjoy Commencement, and our guests are greeted with groanings that cannot be uttered. We are too tired to enjoy our last academic work. We are too busy to see the friends whom we may not meet again for years, whose friendship is the finest thing College has given us. Therefore we suggest changes, not in the Commencement program, but in the social schedule of the last term. We end our representatives in the Joint Council to consider our specific suggestions. We are aware that our criticism may not seem cogent to 1915 and 1916, because they are not in our situation. But we write from the stress of the hour with the earnest desire to help Wellesley send out the finest possible women.

M. Elizabeth Case,
Elizabeth R. Hirsch,
Charlotte M. Consover,
E. Eugenia Corwin.

II.

The Press Board.

Have you ever seen a crowd of girls on the steps of the Administration Building at noon, and heard them talking with Mrs. Magee? And have you ever wondered what they were doing? They are the Press Board, the only people who may give Wellesley news to reporters. Our Publicity Committee organized in order to keep false stories out of the newspapers. Particularly since the fine, its work has taken on a more constructive character. People are interested in Wellesley at present, and other papers besides those of Boston and Springfield would publish news of it. The Wellesley Clubs in your home towns want to interest people in what the College is doing. The present members of the Press Board have no time to write up stories for them, so the logical thing is to have some associate members especially to do this work. Why shouldn't you do it, you intelligent Wellesley girls who have had Comp? See Mrs. Magee or some member of the present Board about writing up the story of Commencement for the use of your own town's Wellesley Club. During the summer vacation make some definite arrangement with your Wellesley Club, or your home newspaper, and in the fall become an Associate Member of the Press Board.

We each of us can do so little to help our College that this work ought to appeal to all those of us who have any real College spirit. 1915.

III.

Flowers That blush unseen.

"How are they going to know I am cute?" nestled one unappreciated Barnswallow to the desert air, and no doubt the friendly Barn chairs have crept under another pent-up aspirant. Between the chairs and the stage there is, however, "a great gulf fixed," bridged first by happy circumstance, and then always passable, or so it sometimes seems! There are try-outs, to be sure, for class plays. But class plays come late, and do not always hold possibilities for every kind of part, and so we have our "flowers that blush unseen." Isn't it possible to have general try-outs for Barn plays? Barnswallows is an all-college organization, a big one, we admit. There is a greater value in the getting up of plays than the fun of the performance. Rehearsals bring together in a common

FRESHMAN MISTRESS OF CEREMONIES.

FREE PRESS.

I.

MORITURI SALUTAMUS.

The Seniors have too much to do. Every year the graduating class comes to the same conclusion. Every June finds three hundred girls on the edge of a breakdown, going through with the non-academic activities of spring by sheer momentum. Every summer finds another Alumna class regretting its ready response to the demands of commencement.

On their own testimony and that of the Faculty, recent classes have come to our conclusion in regard to the spring program, but whether because other interests occupy their attention after College, or because they believe it impossible to persuade their successors of the justice of their conclusion, they have made no public declaration of their opinion. But we think that we should make such a declaration. We believe that the majority of our class agrees with us when we say that there are too many demands made upon Seniors in the spring.

Seniors do not complain of their academic work. The end of the last semester is no busier in respect to work than the end of any other semester. It is not because we have lost quizzers, last special topics, last examinations, that we are too busy; not at all. We are too busy because we have too much to do besides our academic work—too much committee business, too many rehearsals for serenades, song competitions, plays, and Tree Day.

We do not suggest changes in Commencement week, but we do think that the last half of May and the first week of June are too full, and too full of the non-academic. Our last papers should represent the harvest of four years' discipline, and should give a unique and worthy joy in the writing. The academic side of college must, first, last, and always, be given chief place. Wellesley exists to give to the nation women of culture and power, and we are here to fulfill this purpose. In our sincerest moments we know this fact. Further, the mere joy of the craftsman should make us desire to round out the year's work adequately. This is impossible when there is so much else to do, for, even if time sufficed, physical strength does not. That is the heart of our criticism.

The Wellesley College News.

543 Tremont Street, Boston.

CHOICE ROSES, VIOLETS AND ORCHIDS
Constantly on hand.

Mail and Telephone Orders Promptly Filled.

For the best of the best, order directly from the Florist.

Wax Brothers
Florists

FREE DELIVERY TO WELLESLEY.

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.

Diamond Merchants, Jewelers, Silversmiths, Heraldists, Stationers.

MAKERS OF CLASS AND SOCIETY EMBLEMS, BAR PINS AND OTHER NOVELTIES FOR

WELLESLEY COLLEGE

Iluminations and Favors Furnished Upon Request.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL EMBLEMS AND NOVELTIES

FRATERNITY EMBLEMS, SEALS, CHARMS, PLAQUES, BUCKLES, ETC.

Of Superior Quality, Designed and Made by

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.

Chester Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

543 Tremont Street, Boston.

FREE DELIVERY TO WELLESLEY.
interest, girls that might never otherwise meet, or appreciate each other. It is a privilege that should be open to as many different girls as possible each year. A beginning was evidently made in this direction in the last Barn play, which was reported to have had a pretty nearly all-star cast. Considering the purpose of our Barnswallow organization, we ought to be as proud of that as of any success with an all-star cast.

Not every possible actress has the self-confidence and "push" to make her ability known, except through an impartial, general try-out. Here's a hope that the foremost swallows will continue to give such budding geniuses a chance.

IV.

OUR OWN TREE DAY.

An editorial in a recent issue of the News seems to advocate rather warmly making Tree Day permanently open. There are two considerations which make some of us feel that such a measure would not be advisable. There is one thought which we hesitate to urge lest we be accused of sentimentalism; but we cannot help feeling that there are certain justifiable joys in keeping one day in the year for ourselves. Our campus is open to the public three hundred and sixty-three days in the year and nearly all our functions are attended by throngs of outsiders,—witness Flat Night. Furthermore, we dread the commercialization of Tree Day. If the admission fee is very small we run the risk of being flooded by more people than we can handle. On the other hand, if the price of a ticket is large, we make no progress towards the democratization of aesthetic pleasure but rather, we sell for gold what has hitherto been a free gift to beauty.

THE GREEK PLAY.

On Saturday evening, May 30th, Society Alpha Kappa Chi gave a finished and artistic performance of the "Medea" of Euripides in Stone Hall Hollow. An account of the play will appear, with a picture, in the Commencement Number. The cast of the play was as follows:

Medea: Madelyn Worth
Jason: Emma Sefried
Creon: Effie Kuhn
Helen Sleeper: Marion Locke
Orestes: Rosa Cremonini
Merope: Rosa Maccini
Attendant on the children: Rachel Longaker
A Messenger: Hazel Cooper
Leda: Lucetia Traver
Chorus: Cornithian Women, Premistes, Lyre Players, Soldiers and Attendants

LECTURES IN PHILOSOPHY AND IN PSYCHOLOGY.

Dr. Sara C. Fisher, instructor in psychology, lectured on Friday, May 22, to advanced students in psychology, members of the department, and guests, on the methods and results of her experimental study of the formation of concepts. Miss Fisher preceded the account of her own work by a summary of the results of other experiments in allied subjects. Her method is peculiarly ingenious, and she has shown herself an experimenter at once skilful and painstaking. Her investigation throws much light on the genesis of general notions.

Professor Anesaki of the Imperial University, Japan, lecturer at Harvard University, addressed members and guests of the class in the philosophy of religion, on Saturday, May 23. Mr. Anesaki spoke on Buddhism and illuminated the subject by treating it in a fashion at once analytical, historical and philological. His comparisons of Buddhist and scholastic terminology were particularly interesting.

L. P. HOLLANDER & CO.

BOSTON

NEW YORK

CLASS DAY DRESSES

A Rare and Beautiful Collection

From $25 Upwards

THE COLLEGE GRADUATE AND THE CHURCH.

Dr. Merrill spoke in vespsers on Sunday, May 31, on the relation in after life of college men and college women to the church in their community. Dr. Merrill pointed out that during the four years of college life there was a certain and inevitable element of detachment from the church. But Merrill then gave three reasons for not letting go of our hold on the church.

1. What the church can do for our spiritual culture. He said that no man nor woman can maintain a spiritual life without outward contact with the church, and that the church afforded the opportunity for the public expression of community faith and life.

2. What can you do for the church? College men and college women can give leadership in the reconstruction of the church because of the need of unifying it.

3. Membership in the church is a universal obligation which cannot be shirked without shame. We should follow Kant's teachings and "Act so that the rule of your conduct might be a universal law." Dr. Merrill concluded his talk by reviewing a number of arguments which non-church-going members of communities are wont to use.

A COLLEGE HALL BOOKLET.

As was previously announced in College News, a booklet is being prepared which will contain views of College Hall and a brief history of the building. It is hoped to have copies ready for sale at Commencement. For the benefit of those who wish further details before ordering by mail, it may be stated that this booklet will be about ten by seven, bound in stiff paper covers, and will contain about forty views of the exterior and of various interiors of College Hall. These pictures have been carefully selected by Miss Moore, 1900, of the Art Department. There will be also a ten-page history of College Hall, compiled by Miss Shackford, '96, of the Literature Department. Mail orders sent to Miss Edith H. Moore, The Art Building, Wellesley, Mass., will be filled as promptly as possible after the booklet is published. The price of the volume is one dollar, post-paid. After the payment of expenses, all the receipts from the sales will be given to the Fire Fund. If you care to purchase a copy, please send the order promptly.

DO YOU KNOW OF MAISON—ARTHUR

FIVE EAST FORTY-FIVE

NEW YORK CITY

For Luncheon: Afternoon Tea
To Entertain Your Friends—

"REFINED" "EXQUISITE"

Charles H. Hurwitch

LADIES' TAILOR

31 WEST STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

ANNOUNCEMENT

New and Original Designs of Fashionable Foreign Models

With some choice selections of the Fined Foreign Fabrics are now ready for your selection.

I will appreciate an earily call. March First, 1914

STORAGE FOR FURS

Also Furs Repaired and Remodelled during spring and summer seasons at half price.
PARLIAMENT OF FOOLS.

A STUDENT'S GARDEN OF VERSES.

Examination Number, with the customary apologies to R. L. S.

I.

BED IN JUNE.
In winter I sleep all the night
And dress for breakfast—almost quite.
In summer, it's the other way.
I sit up till the dawn o' day.

O'er endless scrawly notes I pore,
Concentrate while my roommates snore;
Phi Beta Kappa carefree pass
Like goopish "shadows o'er the grass."
And does it not seem hard to you—
Enough to make an exam. book blue—
When I should like so much to sleep.
That I like grinds must vigil keep?

II.

A THOUGHT.
It is very nice to think
When the dawn begins to pink,
Other girls are studying, too.
Blackmailed by a book of blue.

III.

AT THE SEASIDE.
When I was down beside the sea
Why did there never come to me
A thought of Judgement Day?
My brain was empty like a cup,
Vacation-thoughts quite filled it up—but
June exams aren't play.

IV.

WHOLE DUTY OF STUDENTS.
A student should utilizing be
In pursuit of things scholarly:
But pray now, tell me, in this class
Do Harvard men for scholarly pass?

V.

RAIN.
The rain is raining all around,
While I'm at the Library,
It rains on the umbrellas there,
And takes 'em out to sea.

VI.

SINGING.
Of 100 lbs. trips the birdie sings
And picnics under trees;
The Grind, she sings of A's and things;
The Senior sings of tea.

Upon the steps is a clamorous clan;
And even as I complain,
The organ with the organ man
Starts singing 'neath my pane.

VII.

A GOOD GIRL.
I was up before the morning—since I never went to bed;
I never said a scratchy word—since not a word was said.
From eight-fifteen till nine-thirty I bivouacked in the Libe,
And, save for lunch, my cramming was imperious to a bivouack.

My bed was waiting cool and fresh, with linen smooth and fair,
But I'll not lie in it to-night—I'would only wet my hair.
I know that, till to-morrow I shall see the sun arise,
No ugly dream shall fright my mind, no ugly sight my eyes.
Ah, no! it will not have a chance; I'd welcome a nightmare.
If I could only ride it far from midnight oil and glare.

VIII.

NON-ACADEMIC CHILDREN.

Barefoot boy with cheek of tan,
Unacademic benighted man.
Butterfly of society,
O! don't you wish that you were me?
You have all the nice June day
Just to work, or chat and play;
You can swim in lakes of blue,
And you can paddlr a real canoe.

Such a life is very fine,
But it's not so nice as mine.
You, poor soul, miss the sensation
Got from a June examination.
You can never sit and waver
With the hen-coop as your shelter,
While machines go squawking by,
And Senior play is shouted high.

Barefoot boy with cheek of tan,
Unacademic benighted man.
Butterfly of society,
O! don't you wish that you were me?

IX.

THE LAND OF TEXT-BOOKS.
At evening when the lamp is lit.
Upon the steps the bright ones sit;
They sit outside and talk and sing,
And need not cram for anything.
I take my dog-eared book in hand,
It's marked where I don't understand;
Sometimes a line unmarred I see
Which glads the humble soul of me.

There, in the night, where none can spy,
Behind a "busy-sign" I lie,
And read the books I should have read
When it is time to go to bed.
This Text-Book Land I know not well,
In it are grisly things, and felt,
Called "outline," "table," and "foot-note."
All to be learned as give, in rote.
So while outside my friends the Sharks,
Go picnicking on sundry larks,
I wander lost in hopeless crams,
In Text-Book Land—before exams.

X.

HAPPY THOUGHT.
There are so many girls in College,
Not all can be renowned for knowledge.

LESSONS IN PADDLING

And Management of Canoe

ELIZABETH F. BENNETT, Tel. 141-M, 1 Waban St., Wellesley.
IN HEAVEN.

(From the last page of a blue book in Philosophy, June, 1915.)

"The time has come," Phleumos said, "To talk of many things; So Hylas, just sit down and fold the idea of your wings."
"But ere we meditate on truth
Pray cast your eyes below,
Speak of those female, finite selves
All sitting in a row.
And, as I live! the thing they do
Wounds one who contemplates; They criticize the wisdom
Of our former tete-a-tete!
And Hylas, moved likewise to rage,
Indulged forthwith in words,
Until to sooth his anguish, come
His former colleague, Hobbes.
Said Hobbes, "Within these pearly gates.
Forget we disagree
And let those finite selves work out
Their own reality!"

DOROTHY H. STILES, 1914.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION CHOIR.

In planning for the Christian Association meetings of next year, the committee has decided that more attention given to the music of the meetings would meet with heartfelt approval. It, therefore, asks for the cooperation of as many girls as would care to help in forming an informal Christian Association choir. No particular vocal talent is necessary, no special practices will be called for. The choir will meet for rehearsal probably a few moments before the regular meetings begin. Its function will be to add vigor and spirit to the singing of hymns, to introduce new ones, and to occasionally contribute a part toward a meeting of special music. Opportunity to enlist their services in this enterprise will be given to girls in the various college houses by personal interview. It is hoped most earnestly that the response will be enthusiastic, for it is believed that in this way the meetings of the Christian Association for the year 1914-15 may be made more enjoyable and of still wider appeal.

ALLIANCE FRANCAISE ELECTIONS.

President.................. Dorothy Huggins, 1915
Vice-president........... Helen Sayre, 1915
Secretary............... Helen Marshall, 1915
Treasurer............... Dorothy Dorsey, 1915
Assistant Treasurer..... Frances McVay, 1915

JOINT COUNCIL FOR 1914-1915.

1915 members............. Caroline Taylor
Margaret Griffin
Marguerite Ryder
Rebecca Meaker
Katherine Balderson
Elizabeth Hamilton

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Every girl who sympathized with Dr. Rauschen- busch’s ideals for “the old religious faith and the new social order” in his lecture the spring, found a practical explanation in Dr. Coffin’s talk at an outdoor meeting of the Christian Association on Wednesday evening, May 27. His text was taken from the chapter in Exodus which tells of the way the Israelites shall conquer Canaan. Dr. Coffin compared the hornets which Jehovah promised to send to their aid, with the new conscientiousness in our political and business life to-day. The conditions of our social order must be slow, but we can set our face toward a Kingdom of God on earth. “Every college and every church must be a Hornet’s Nest, and every Hornet a conscience sensitive to the social need.”

Commencement Dresses
$10.75 to $37.50

We specialize strongly on pretty, dainty styles in Misses’ Frocks, suitable for Commencement and Class Day Exercises, in dancing dresses and evening gowns that are individual and distinctive style creations.

The materials most in favor: Voiles, Embroidered Grenadine, the new Rice Cloths, Phantom Embroidery combined with taillets, also Charmeuse and Net Combinations. These models embody the latest style ideas from Paris.

Misses’ Section, Third Floor, Main Store.

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY

The Heart of Boston’s Shopping District

Academic Gowns and Hoods

Cotrell & Leonard
ALBANY, N. Y.

Official Makers of Academic Dress to Wellesley, Radcliffe, Mount Holyoke, Bryn Mawr, Barnard, Woman’s College of Baltimore, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Unn. of Pa., Dartmouth, Brown, Williams, Amherst, Colorado College, Stanford and the others.

Correct Hoods for all Degrees B. A., M. A., Ph. D., etc.
Illustrated Bulletins, Samples, etc., on Request.

JOHN A. MORGAN & CO.
Established 1891

PHARMACISTS
Shattuck Building, Wellesley.

Prescriptions compounded accurately with Parent Drugs and Chemicals obtainable.

COMPLETE LINE OF
High Grade Stationery and Sundries.

WATER-MAN IDEAL FOUNTAIN PEN.

Candies from Page & Shaw, Huyler, Quality, Lowney, Lindt, Park & Tifflord. Whitman’s Milk Chocolates.

EASTMAN KODAKS and CAMERA SUPPLIES.

VISIT OUR SODA FOUNTAIN
PURE FRUIT SYRUPS. FRESH FRUIT IN SEASON

Ice-Cream from G. M. McKENZIE & CO.

Wright & Ditson

Spring Catalogue

Containing Prices and Styles of

Base Ball, Lawn Tennis, Golf and General Athletic Goods—IS OLT

The Wright & Ditson Base Ball Uniforms are better than ever this year. Manufacturers should write for samples and prices Catalogue FREE to any address.

WRIGHT & DITSON, 344 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

CAMP HANOUN COLLEGE CLUB

On Breezy Thetford Hill, Vermont.

WHAT WE DO: Ride, Swim, Canoe on lake and river, “Gipsy” through the White and Green Mountains, Make Our Own Designs for Baskets, Pottery, Jewelry and Simple Gifts, Learn the Trees, Flowers, Birds and Stars, Dance and Sing Folk Music, and Give a Festival.

CHARLOTTE ALLEN FARNSWORTH, ‘87-90.
Address:

MRS. C. H. FARNSWORTH, teachers’ College, N. Y. C.
Committee.

The annual meeting of the Boston Wellesley College Club was held at the A. K. X. house in Wellesley, on Saturday, May 9, 1914. After a box luncheon, during which coffee was served by Mrs. Daisy Dutcher Hammond and her Hospitality Committee, the president called the business meeting to order at 2 o'clock.

The regular business with the annual reports of the secretary, treasurer and Membership Committee followed, with a vote of thanks to the by-laws which were concerned chiefly with the method of election of officers. The model class constitution was read, article by article, for discussion, and it was voted that it is the sense of this meeting that all officers of the class organization should be members of the class in full standing, i.e., holding a degree.

Notices of various functions for the benefit of the Restoration Fund were made, and the proceeds were called for by the councillors, duly elected by ballot: Miss Charlotte H. Conant, '84; Miss Eleanor Piper, '88; and Mrs. Alice C. Wilson, '95.

The inductees adjourned and members visited the ruins of College Hall, the new Administration Building and other points of interest on the campus.

(Signed)
Hazel Huxnewell,
Recording Secretary.

Fitchburg.

The Fitchburg Wellesley Club held their third regular meeting of the year at the home of Geraldine Howarth, on April 23, just a month after the fire in College Hall.

A strong feeling of unity with Wellesley and a desire to help was felt, especially after the reading of the letter of appeal from Wellesley. It was, therefore, decided by the club that the entire proceeds of a lecture, "The Challenge of the American Spirit," by Prof. E. A. Steinor, which represented the work of the club for the year, be given to Wellesley for her immediate needs.

Both as a result of that lecture and of the spirit of sympathy voiced in the community for Wellesley, the club raised about two hundred and fifty dollars.

Since then a moving picture concerned of the city, "The Majestic Theater," has offered the proceeds of its house and service to the Fitchburg Club for the afternoon of May 22. By reserving a section of the theater for Wellesley patrons at a higher rate of admission, the club hopes to add still more to the "Fire Fund."

FOR THE FIRE FUND.

This year the Washington Branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae turned their annual picnic into a Wellesley benefit. The proposal met with instant enthusiasm; the members from the other colleges insisted on doubling the usual price of the supper; the Wellesley women formed the Committee of Arrangements and Reception, and the picnic was held May 20, at the home of one of them. The weather proved perfect for an outdoor meal, about forty were present and something over ten dollars was realized for the Fire Fund.

RESTORATION FUND STAMPS.

Stamps bearing the imprint "Restoration Fund" and a picture in black and white of College Hall at its appearance before the fire, have been issued through the efforts of Miss Lucy Plympton, '1900, of Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts. These stamps are for use on letters, packages, etc., like the 5¢ Cross stamps, always issued at Christmas time. They serve a double purpose to advertise the fund and to add to it a few pennies from their sale. Every Alumna should, therefore, obtain some of these stamps, which sell for a penny apiece. These can be purchased from Miss Plympton, from the College Bookstore, and from Miss Syrena H. Stackpole, 21 West Twelfth Street, New York City.

OF INTEREST TO ALUMNA.

Mrs. Mary Chase Lockwood, '95, opens on the first of June her unique settlement of modern bungalows and central dining hall at Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania. The Wissaset bungalows are especially well fitted and attractive. Each one contains a living-room with large fireplace, a bathroom with hot and cold water, and one or more bedrooms, according to the size desired. Each one has a pleasant piazza. They may be rented by the month or the season. Mrs. Lockwood may be addressed at the Wissaset Bungalows, Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Mrs. Samuel F. Orton, (Mary Pelton Follett, '1904), to 6718 Quincy Street, Germantown, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Robert Stone, (Dorothy Dooland, '12), to Glen Road, Winchester, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Ellsworth F. Miner, 1905, to 1416 Osburn Avenue, Houston, Texas.

ENGAGEMENTS.

Marjorie Eleanor Meminon, 1914, to Charles Harvey Boyd, University of Pennsylvania, 1912.

MARRIAGES.

STOKE-DELAND, In Warren, Massachusetts, on May 21, 1914, Dorothy DeLand, '12, to Robert Stone, Dartmouth, 1909, of Winchester, Massachusetts.

BIRTHS.

In Houston, Texas, on April 27, 1914, a daughter, Helen Wakefield, to Mrs. Ellsworth F. Miner, '1905. (Mary H. Kennard, '1905).

In New York City, on May 6, a son, Reuel Allen Benson, Jr., to Mrs. Reuel Allen Benson, (Rachel Burbank, 1913).

DEATHS.

On May 22, 1914, Freeman Clarkson, father of Gerrude Clarkson, '1912.

CAMPUS NOTES.

At the recent annual meeting of the Wellesley Village Improvement Association, the president expressed the feeling of the people of the village toward the co-operation which the College has extended to the erection of the new kindergarten and its benefits to the children of Wellesley.

Miss Olive Davis was one of the representatives from the College who were present at a recent hearing before the Town Selectmen, in which the question of granting liquor licenses was debated. Miss Davis, with others, spoke in opposition.

Miss Mabel L. Robinson, instructor in zoology, will be away on leave of absence, next year.

The Art Department has been exhibiting at the Farnsworth Art Museum a few small paintings and some pencil sketches by Charles H. Woodbury. Most of the paintings are marine, some of them done by Mr. Woodbury in mid-ocean. The pencil sketches are from various places, a few from Puerto Rico, many from Europe.

Miss Davis, director of the Hall of Residence, gave her annual dinner last week, to the Trustees, officers of administration and the Seniors. This dinner, usually held in the College Hall dining-room, took place in the Pratt Art Building.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Moxett entertained the Graduate Club at her home in the village.

On Thursday, May 21, an anti-suffrage meeting was held in Billings Hall. Among the speakers were Mrs. Alice V][$g][147]ant George, '97, of Boston, and Mr. A. W. Samuel of London, England.

It has been definitely announced that the Senior play will be that pretty idyll, "Prunella." The first performance will be given on June 6.

NEWS NOTES.

'94—Mrs. Florence Tobey Perkins has recently been elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Boston Women's City Club.

1900—Susan D. Huntington, director of the International Institute for Girls in Spain, has been honored with the decoration of Astorina in recognition of the value of the Institute in the community. The diploma granting the honor is signed by the prime minister, and the gold medal, hung from a ribbon of white and turquoise blue, shows the arms of Asturias and the date of 1914, when the order was founded.

1903—Alice Baker Weber spent six months of last year in Maine, where her husband was in charge of an investigation into the domestic sardine industry.

1905—Elizabeth Bass has given up her position as Dean of Women at Colby College, Maine, which she held for the past four years, and is now living at home.

1903—Udotta Brown was last winter a Fellow in the New York School of Philanthropy and trained for a housing investigator. She worked in and near New York City and Grand Rapids. This winter she is doing similar work under the National Housing Association.

1903—Mabel Chaplin is assistant financial secretary of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston, where she assists Miss Roxana Vivian of '94, the financial secretary.

1903—Rosemond Clark is interested in hospital social service work under the Pioneer Methodist Social Agency.

1903—Martha Clarke is teaching mathematics in the Central High School, Washington, D. C.

1901—Edith Dixon is teaching at Brownell Hall, Omaha, Nebraska.

1903—Flora Dobbins has charge of the science department in a high school of five hundred and seventy girls.

1903—Marie Goddard is studying Spanish at Boston University.

1903—Genevieve Hanna is doing developing oil property out in Bradford, Pennsylvania.

1903—Laura Hannahs is doing substitute work at the High School in Newark, New Jersey. She is also studying stenography.

1903—Lucy Hegeman spent part of last summer in a bicycle trip through Normandy and Touraine.

1903—Julia Hewitt, after a summer spent in study at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, is connected with Columbia University, New York, in a research position in the New York Board of Health Laboratory.
1909—Laura G. Hibbs is teaching at the Holman School, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

1909—Mary Holmes is teaching in the Normal School kindergarten department at Winona, Minnesota.

1909—Carrie Holt, who is off on leave of absence from the College this year, is studying at the University of Pennsylvania and under Doctor Donelson at Wistar.

1909—Eugenia Locke is one of the visitors for the Massachusetts State Board of Charity—Division of Minor Wards.

1909—Catherine Macarthy is instructor in drawing at the West Des Moines High School. She spent last summer in study at the Summer Art School in Essex, Massachusetts. One of her paintings won the hundred-dollar prize in the annual exhibition of Des Moines artists.

1909—Mabel Metcalf, who is teaching in Lowell, Massachusetts, is identified with one of her great interests, municipal playgrounds, through committee work for the Women’s Club and College Club.

1909—Emily Mills, who last year resigned her position in Wyoming Seminary, is now teaching English in the Washington Irving High School in New York City.

1909—Anna Pitman is teaching in Brewster Academy, Wolfeboro, New Hampshire.

1909—Gertrude Schoepflin’s book on the Tristan story is now published in two volumes. She is established at the University of Illinois at Urbana, Illinois, where her work is in English with one graduate course in Celtic.

1909—Marud Windram Sichel, formerly of 1901, has a poem in the May St. Nicholas with an illustration by her husband, Harold Sichel, whose specialty in illustration is children and fairies.

1902-1909—Elizabeth Cross is teaching in a private school in Pasadena, California.

1906—Louise Gatch is teaching in Los Angeles, California.

1906—Lucy Holmes is director of one of the public school kindergartens in Kansas City, Missouri.

1906—Jessie Legg, with her mother and sister, sailed on April 18 for a summer in Europe.

1906—Lotie Hartwell Ufford is connected with one of the Chinese Missions, that in Shaoing.

1906—Olive Greene taught last year in the American Girl School at Sunnyvale, Turkey.

1906—Olive Greene and her sister Helen M. Greene of 1913, have just completed a trip around the world.

1906—Margaret Little received the degree of Master of Arts from the University of California, this spring.

1907—Roma S. Nickerson has charge of a club of high school girls in Wellesley, known as “H. I. Nanaks Gauchoes.” Under her leadership they prepared a dramatic entertainment in aid of their social service work, which was given in the Wellesley Town Hall on May 23. A one-act farce, entitled “A Love of a Bonnet” and “Reveries of a Bacheok Traveller” were presented. There were also songs and folk dances.

1908—Emily M. Moore is studying for her Master’s Degree at the University of Southern California.

1909—Marion E. Markley returns to the College next year, as assistant in the English Literature Department.

1909—Mary A. Greenwood has been teaching this past year in Revere, Massachusetts, where she is assistant principal of one of the grammar schools.

1914—Margaret W. Ludes, who is a graduate student at Wellesley this year, is president of the Wellesley Graduate Club.

1914—Dorothy Dunforth has been teaching since September 1913, in the Nashua High School of Nashua, New Hampshire. Her subjects are Freshman English and medieval and modern history.

1912—Henrietta Littlefield is teaching German and French at Wellesley, the Massey Madeira School in Washington, D. C. Miss Littlefield has charge of the German Department. Her address is 1330 19th Street, Washing., D. C.

1913—Helen Wheeler is teaching German at one of the Public Schools in Springfield, Massachusetts.

1913—Marion Stenson is teaching English, German and mathematics in the Scituate High School at Scituate, Massachusetts.

1914—Mr. Renato da Azedo, husband of Pauline Merrill Azedo, formerly of 1914, has recently been appointed Brazilian Consul in New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Azedo, with their little daughter, will make their home in Brooklyn, New York.

1914—Louise Van W. Ackerman, formerly of 1914, is studying at the Normal School at Framingham, Massachusetts.

1914—E. Eugenia Corwin returns to Wellesley, next year, as assistant in the Philosophy Department.

TO PEOPLE OF REFINED TASTES

but limited purses, our stock is peculiarly adapted. Thousands of the latest sizes.

$1.00 to $10.00

LONG JEWELERS

M. G. SLATTERY, THEATRICAL WIGS AND MAKE-UPS

FOR ALL STAGE PRODUCTIONS

226 Tremont St. (Up, Magic Lite) Boston

COMMISSION BUYERS AT TRAVEL COST. Tel. 2152

STURTEVANT & HALEY, Beef and Supply Company, 38 and 40 Fanueil Hall Market, Boston. Telephone, 933 Richmond. Hotel Supplies a Specialty.

THE OLYMPIAN HOME-MADE CANDY CO.

WELLESLEY FRUIT CO. Carries a full line of choice Fruit, Confectionery and other goods. Fancy Crackers, Pistachio Nuts and all kinds of Salted Nuts. Olive Oil and Olives of all kinds. Fancies Rachel Logan a Specialty. 570 Washington Street, Wellesley Square. Tel. 198-W.

Combination Breakfasts

at

THE WELLESLEY INN

Served Daily at Popular Prices

Week Days, 7 to 9.30

Sundays, 8 to 10

ATTRACTIVE BOX LUNCHEONS

for little picnics or larger outings put up on application. Ask about them.

Menus for Private or Society Dinners

Arranged at Request

LOW PRICES UNTIL JULY FIRST

T A I L B Y , T H E W E L L E S L Y F L O R I S T , J.

TAILBY & SONS, Prop., Wellesley, Mass. Office, 555 Washington St., Tel. 453-S. Conservatories, 103 Linden St. Tel. 454-T. Orders by Mail or Otherwise are Given Prompt Attention.

W A R D W O V E

Fine Papers and Envelopes

Everything Needed in the way of Blank Books, Fine Engraving, Photo Albums, "A Line a Day" Books, and 5 1/2 x 11 STATIONERY IN GENERAL

A Splendid Variety of Our Goods can always be Found at the Wellesley College BOOK STORE.

WARDWOC

ALBERT W. KANRICH

Violinist and Musical Director

Orchestrations, Band Arrangements and Musicians Furnished for All Occasions.

214 BOYLSTON STREET, BOSTON. TELEPHONE