The scenery for the play is to be built, as usual, by the members of Barmowalls. A member for devoted concern for the intricate plots and sets carried on in the century society.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Surplus, sophomore, describes arrangements for a meeting between Sir Joseph, a man who is in love with Sir Charles, his brother. Lady Stender, a woman who is in love with Sir Charles, and Sir Charles, a man who is in love with Lady Stender, all go to parties, from his castle window, and Sir Charles and Lady Stender stay for the party and dance together. The scene was held at the castle, and in society. Sir Charles is proved a proper gentleman, however, when he returns to his castle andPart 1:

FLOOT NIGHTS

IN VICTORY FOR 1928-

Before the pageant came the traditional parade of classes, formation of the W, and striking of the crew news. This year was a novel Blue Arrow, and there followed the awarding of caps and W’s by Virginia L. Wellesley. When the forty officers armed once more into the realm of fun, the Variety Crew sped across the lake in perfect form, cheered on by enthusiastic friends on shore. A highlight of the heat of the lake brought the evening to a close.

Three girls were awarded the Old English W this spring: Kathleen Schipper ’28, Virginia Wellington ’26, and Mary Neel ’27; last fall it was awarded to Helen W. Jones ’26 and Marion Longacre ’27. The award of the Old English W is made on the basis of continued interest in sports.

student council at smith abandon the honor system

An announcement made by the Smith College Student Council does away with the use of the Honor System and recommends government by the separate houses. It reads: "The Smith College Student Council has approved a change in the method of judging the rules of the Student Government Association. The Council feels the need of replacing the group of people who are truly in authority, and since the delegation of such power is contrary to all principles of the honor system it seems necessary to abandon that system. A plan is being proposed to have each house a larger group who will be given the responsibility of enforcing the rules in the house. These house groups will be closely connected with the Student Council and will work with the council as much as possible." Another change in the ruling is that hereafter students may spend only seven nights a semester away from Northampton. This action has been taken in concert with the increasing tendency of undergraduates to spend their weekends away from college. The new regulation goes into effect next semester. It does not alter the system which permits students to take their own attendance at classes. These changes in government at Smith are of special interest to Wellesley reformers who are interested in similar developments.

SIXTY THOUSAND STUDENTS TO TRAVEL IN EUROPE THIS YEAR

The Wilson College Bulletin in its issue of May 8 quotes statistics from the New Student which claims that one out of every ten American college students will go abroad this summer.

Forecasted by the Paris offices of the United States, White Star, Cunard, United American and North German Lloyd Steamship Lines, the number of student travelers for 1926 is estimated at over 5,000. The total college student population of the United States is approximately 600,000.

"Every steamship plying between these United States and those distant parts of Europe plans to convert its third class section from something low and of the steerage to something high class, elegant. The college travelers will travel steerage—what a thought!" The United States Line has provided in the S. S. Republic a special third class space for five compartments with special third class first class orchestra and Pullman service.

"The National Student Federation Tours conducted by the Open Road Incorporates will account for about five hundred students. On the American Student Delegation to Soviet Russia will be another group of students. Y. M. C. A. tours will take in several hundred more. Almost every college will have plans for its own travel and has become collegiate."

A great many women find places in other occupations. In the men's colleges on secretaries and as research assistants, and in the women's colleges for teaching, secretarial work and other professional and executive positions.

Also there have been available this year about a dozen assistant chemists in a safety razor company, as psychologists for a children's court, as secretaries in the federal office only once in a public library, as workers in a man's industrial food analysis and as publicity worker for a school....

Among the interesting positions already accepted by members of the graduating classes are: Miss Lucy Mansfield, an executive secretary for the following: student representative of the staff for the Student Volunteer Movement, research assistant and technician, assistant in psychology in the Physics Institute for the third, an opportunity to study in a divinity school in connection with field work in religious education, statistical work on a personal basis in a large department store which has accepted several of the seniors.

Among the seniors for whom the Dean's Office at Mount Holyoke shows there is a steady and growing demand for women workers in the technical training school... especially when combined with the personal and social discipline of the other residential colleges that have a unique vocational value, and constantly open up opportunities which could not be available to graduates with a narrow vocational training.
The News has received the following notice from the Department of Hymene and Physical Education:

The Department takes pleasure in offering to students registered for the physical course, graduation, and other teachers of physical education its three-week sports season beginning August 15th and continuing through September 15th.

A list of Board of Officials will give examinations and ratings of officials in basketball and hockey.

The schedule will be arranged so that the students registered in the Department can secure at least three hours a week in basketball, football, track, and other sports.

One hour daily in discussion and practice; one hour for the improvement of the particular sport.

For the further practice in the sport, three hours are to be arranged in crew, band, or direction according to the needs of the individual.

The schedule is arranged to permit the experienced teacher to cover a range of sports or to cover the same but according to her need or wish.

As athletic programs for girls from first to third year there will be scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 on afternoon, which will provide opportunities for teaching and practice in addition.

Registration will be limited to 75.

The Board will not be able to arrange for students registered with the Department, if a fee of $25.00 will cover instruction in locks, balls, and athletic supplies.
