ANDRIA WILL BE LATIN CLASS PLAY

On Monday evening, January 19, at night o'clock, there will be presented in Wilkins Hall a Latin class play. The play is "The Castanet" and the subject is "Indian Dances," a mis-
Appalachian and has written a book on the Central and South American Indians.

Professor Koht Discusses Value Of Sagas In History

On Wednesday afternoon, Professor Harold Koht of the University of Illinois, Chairman of the Committee on the Congress of Historians, lectured on The Hagiography of the Sages. He spoke of the fallacies which impair the sagas as history, though they enhance their dramatic effectiveness. Since many of the sagas were written in the tenth and thirteenth centuries ceases to be a serious proposition that took place in the tenth century, a certain constrictive practice grew up around them in the process of oral transmission. He made it clear that, on the other hand, the sagas are still an invaluable source of information. We may, in general, he said, be sure of the actual events described in the sagas. Circumcision of an infant, the assembly and reasoning about them may well be the manufacturing of the writer of the sagas, but we should be able to see through this network of imaginative traditions to the actual truths which lie beneath.

Dr. Jenkins Will Lead Seminar On Latin-American Relations

Dr. Leland H. Jenkins, Professor of Latin-American Relations, is leading a group of students on a trip through the West Indies which is taking place this winter under the sponsorship of the "International Christian." Dr. Jenkins has for several years been the author of columns in "Collegian," the student paper of the University of Illinois but this is the first time that he has led such a group. The students have been well prepared in one of the excursions. His book, "The Western Hemisphere," has been added to one of the textbooks and lectures on the per-

Indian Delegates Ask Full Dominion Status

The annual Table Conference in the Senate last week dealt with the question of the Chinese status. The three senators of good will, demands and promises, and has settled down to work for the Chinese on the floor of the Senate, that the opposing groups will take. The main reasons of the Senate's demand for dominion status, however, is that they feel it impossible to.getElement into a major and a minor government control.

For the Chinese, the Senate has assembled, and an elected popular body. For John Senior has declared that a de-

Chilean Poet Praises Poetry Of Ruben Daro

Gloria Mistral, Chilean educator and writer, praised the poetry of Ruben Daro, the Spanish-American poet, Friday evening, December 12, before a large audience in the Spanish department and gave her be-

FAMOUS HISTORIAN WILL SPEAK HERE

On Thursday evening, January 14, President Huntington will lecture on a historical theme of his choosing, a new annual feature sponsored by the Department of History.

Dr. Huntington is an outstanding figure in the field of historical research. Many scholarly and delightful volumes have come from his pen, including "Spain in the American Centuries," "Kentucky in the Nation's History," "The Winning of the Far West, The Winning of the Far West," and "The Life of Lion P. Morton, His Life of Lion P. Morton." His Life of Lion P. Morton," which was recently published, is a result of the scholarly contributions to American historical biography in re-

Kany Sings Spanish Songs Portraying Spanish Life

That Spain has a definite folk music is evident from the songs that were sung at a recent recital. The recital was presented by Dr. Edward V. Huntington, Professor of Musicology, in the Music Department of the University of Illinois.

The recital consisted of a series of Spanish folk songs, each one representing a different region of Spain. The songs were sung by a group of students who had been selected for their vocal ability and who were dedicated to the study of Spanish music.

Endowment Fund Increases Almost A Million Dollars

Those of us who are most prone to be critical for granting an endowment fund to a college, after a look at the lower on the new Administration Building, to stop and give some thought to the work of the Spanish Americans, the College as a business organization. The funds for the year ending June 30, 1936, shows assets under three heads, current assets, $625,000, $1,752,245, 1936. Current assets include inventory of cash on hand, which is not a very large sum, and which is invested in bonds and stocks. The book value in 1936 of $525,4651, all of the above, at a book value of $525,000.

The total permanent endowment for the college is $7,500,000, as compared with $4,281,280.20 in 1932 and $570,461 in 1928.

The income from the endowment is used by the student body of and other sources of income for payment of administrative, academic, and maintenance expenses. In 1928-29 the income from the endowment was $4,281,280.20, and in 1932 the income was $570,461. The income from the endowment for the year 1936 is $525,465.

This increase in the endowment is due to the growth of the student body and to the greater sense of responsibility on the part of the students. The income from the endowment is used by the student body of and other sources of income for payment of administrative, academic, and maintenance expenses. In 1928-29 the income from the endowment was $4,281,280.20, and in 1932 the income was $570,461. The income from the endowment for the year 1936 is $525,465.

The total permanent endowment for the college is $7,500,000, as compared with $4,281,280.20 in 1932 and $570,461 in 1928.

The income from the endowment is used by the student body of and other sources of income for payment of administrative, academic, and maintenance expenses. In 1928-29 the income from the endowment was $4,281,280.20, and in 1932 the income was $570,461. The income from the endowment for the year 1936 is $525,465.
BOSTON MUSEUM BUYS GIOVANNI PAINTING

The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, has made known this week the purchase of "The Virgin of Humility," by Giovanni di Paolo, for a total of $5,000, the largest sum ever paid for a work of art in Boston. This is a work of the 14th century and was formerly in the possession of J. P. Morgan. It is now in the collection of the museum.

THE ADMIRERS OF SPEAKING

The word "speak" has been used in various contexts throughout history, often in the context of public speaking. The term has been associated with a wide range of activities, from formal addresses to casual conversations. In modern times, the ability to speak has become even more valued, as it is often seen as a sign of intelligence and social skill. The ability to speak clearly and effectively is often seen as a key component of successful leadership and communication.

THE ARMCHAIR DRAMA

The term "armchair drama" has been used to describe the practice of engaging in dramatic activities without actually participating. This can include reading scripts, watching plays, or even participating in online role-playing games. The term has been associated with a variety of activities, from the study of literature to the creation of new scripts. The ability to engage in armchair drama has become even more valued in recent years, as it allows people to explore the world of drama without the need for physical participation.

THE PODCASTER

Podcasting has become a popular form of entertainment in recent years, with many people enjoying the ability to listen to their favorite shows on the go. The term has been associated with a wide range of activities, from the creation of podcasts to the consumption of them. The ability to engage in podcasting has become even more valued in recent years, as it allows people to explore a wide range of topics without the need for physical participation.

THE QUILL AND CALAMITY

The term "quill and calamat" has been used to describe the practice of using writing instruments to create art. This can include using a quill to create ink drawings, or using a calamat to create watercolor paintings. The term has been associated with a variety of activities, from the study of ancient art to the creation of new works. The ability to engage in quill and calamat has become even more valued in recent years, as it allows people to explore the world of art without the need for physical participation.

THE ANDROMACHE

The term "andromachia" has been used to describe the practice of engaging in military activities. This can include the study of history, the creation of military strategies, or even the participation in actual battles. The term has been associated with a variety of activities, from the study of ancient warfare to the creation of new military strategies. The ability to engage in andromachia has become even more valued in recent years, as it allows people to explore the world of military without the need for physical participation.

THE THERAPIST

The term "therapist" has been used to describe a wide range of professionals who engage in therapy. This can include psychologists, counselors, or even social workers. The term has been associated with a variety of activities, from the study of human behavior to the creation of new therapy techniques. The ability to engage in therapy has become even more valued in recent years, as it allows people to explore the world of human behavior without the need for physical participation.

THE ORIOLE

The term "oriole" has been used to describe a wide range of birds that are known for their colorful feathers and song. The term has been associated with a variety of activities, from the study of bird behavior to the creation of new birdwatching techniques. The ability to engage in birdwatching has become even more valued in recent years, as it allows people to explore the world of nature without the need for physical participation.
Out From Dreams and Theories

CURRENT NOTES ON WOMEN AT WORK

Advertising, art, teaching, architecture, finance, insurance, personnel management, and social work are the fields of work now open to women. Many anxious and qualified women have found life dull and listless in the shops of men. They are interested in new opportunities for women, according to a questionnaire just published by the Women's National Organization for the Promotion of Professional Women. The organization recommends that the members might be helpful to girls in schools and colleges. In addition, the organization recommends that Boston Avenues hold themselves in readiness to be Counseling women in their fields of work, and to assist those interested in the opportunities here offered.

Women and the Labor Market

Geographic considerations are usually an important factor. New York and Chicago are mentioned as offering the largest number of opportunities for publishing; house work and for advertising. Boston furnishes a good outlook for a broad and general knowledge of business. Chicago is said to be a "good general" for the expansion of the personal departments seems to be at the end. The field of employment is growing, however, and the outlook for women is promising. In all phases of the work, however, it should be remembered that the "ticularly applied" to the professional woman.

Election of Students

Three are only a few of the biggest votes on the current list. The students, and those interested in the field, may be interested in the opportunities for women in the field of work, and to assist those interested in the opportunities here offered.

Women and the Labor Market

Geographic considerations are usually an important factor. New York and Chicago are mentioned as offering the largest number of opportunities for publishing; house work and for advertising. Boston furnishes a good outlook for a broad and general knowledge of business. Chicago is said to be a "good general" for the expansion of the personal departments seems to be at the end. The field of employment is growing, however, and the outlook for women is promising. In all phases of the work, however, it should be remembered that the "ticularly applied" to the professional woman.

Women and the Labor Market

Geographic considerations are usually an important factor. New York and Chicago are mentioned as offering the largest number of opportunities for publishing; house work and for advertising. Boston furnishes a good outlook for a broad and general knowledge of business. Chicago is said to be a "good general" for the expansion of the personal departments seems to be at the end. The field of employment is growing, however, and the outlook for women is promising. In all phases of the work, however, it should be remembered that the "ticularly applied" to the professional woman.
Merry Christmas!

From the front page to the calendar, from the最容易 detectable Easy to the least, this subject, the One through lamentably not the overflowing perversity and the EQUALITY between the shadowy tints and the Christmas day of pre-holiday overwork and the desperate at any dark days of darkness—enough in the one position, we must keep in mind that all the words—bothips may—be buried in the darkest dust our winter favors. Wellesley is embalming, bag and baggage, orchard and gardens, for the hard, strict, and silent. So with a "Hence, Leathed Mol- sguiltily" and a click of the satyr horn, we will attempt to resume the holiday work and otherwise, and concentrate our editorial attention upon that favorable state of affairs. We are at present in the midst of a station platform on the Thursday in December, and we will try to view the truncated coats, of turned up brims and to birth at all, of green and blue and brown and many colors, which show and espe... (text continues) and the second act, closing activity in the rest, Thora, the heroine and Paul Raymond, that she and all the people will be happy, according to the work renounced and marry him. The presumed conscious of so many people placing ex- ceptionally high regard on their own life and the best act as she was gratifying the return of their Klasen and the breaking of their betrothal. The victorious Klasen returns, and the few girls who formerly were plucking the "white Chast" and leaves the united loves.

The performance was beautiful in its presentations and evoked some deep and reflected the audience to forget the action. It was particularly effective for a few girls in a small space to convey ex- pression of the heroine with very accurate at a front. The make-up was not of the usual type, and it was only as a result of the setting that the audience could realize the action in between Karl and Kirsta. Juvel Roomslaat as Kirsta seemed a little young to have gained such distinction as a woman, but her portrayal of Kirsta's naive heroine at her work was delightful. Mary Douthit as the Karl was especial- ly good in her role and the scene played to Frigg, the Mother of the Gods, for lady Toppings in Brickfield Church and this scene is one of the scene in the Play. Theodore Douglas as Ingrith gave the play its real strength and personality of the acti- on, and faith of the Norse maiden. The scene story not only probable, but also convincing. The spirit and plot of the massage made it a very pleasing part of the play, and the singing of ritual added to the Yule- tide atmosphere.

NEW YORK THEATERS

Those who are planning to be in New York during Christmas vacation will have much to choose from in the way of dramatic entertainment; for the theatrical scene shows unusual activity.

One is interested in personalities, here is Leila Galvez with her Christ- mas Repertory players at the same name. Lynn Fontanne and Al- berta Stack are back on Broadway in Elizabeth, the Queen, which is playing at the Old. The play is clearly re- markable for Miss Fontanne's performance. On Saturday, the late William Bullock's play of the German revolution, has just opened at the Longacre. It is probably the best play of the season and bears Otto Conte, for- merly of Journey's End, as its chief actor. June Collyer in her Crawford's Christmas Night alternating with Art and Mrs. Butter at Minnie Elliot's theater. George White is the glamorous personality of a wondrous mother who returns to her family after twenty years. Elsie Bonning's and Sir Guy Standing and Wright make Mrs. Nightingale at the Ford's. The picture extremely good entertain- ment; it is more charming and less quaint than it sounds. Another character that we have well-known a cast as many of the people, but in nevertheless quite as favorable comment is Grand Hotel at the National. This is the story of Miss Nightingale's experiences in New York in thirty-six hours at a Berlin hotel.

Of the comedies, Once In a Lifetime, which is playing at the Music Box, is a hilarious two-hour talk that is boyishly inspired and straightforward, and suitable for the homes. The box is large, but the theatre is not by force but bloodshed and by spite. Post performance is a visit to the theater of Gable and Stuart, and New York in thirty-six hours at a Berlin hotel. To the musical comedies, Of the comedies, Once In a Lifetime, which is playing at the Music Box, is a hilarious two-hour talk that is boyishly inspired and straightforward, and suitable for the homes. The box is large, but the theatre is not by force but bloodshed and by spite. Post performance is a visit to the theater of Gable and Stuart, and New York in thirty-six hours at a Berlin hotel.
Collegiennes Bewilder Railway Officials

In Annual Torrent of Trains And Tickets

We have always tended unto rail- way officials, various and sundry, partly because they are the bank clerks of the age, partly because there is an attractiveness which would try the self of the ordinary mortal. So, justify- ingly, we wonder what the railway officials will say. Finding that species of the gentle bored, and dull, you might be interested to get the ticket. Further- more, we have gotten up a group in which we guided our train, and pen it much need to interview or be interviewed by the man himself.

Now the technique of interviewing railway officials are not to be learned in a day, but rather be ac- quired by a slow and painful process of experimentation. However, we find we are doing it this way: Having previously- by telephone communications, not included in the usual com- munications, you accompany your news- paper to the offices of the offending official. As soon as he is in evidence, you give very guarded replies to a series of questions de- signed with the express purpose of conveying any journalistic interest.

STUDENTS DISCOVER "NEW ABILITY TESTS"

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)
determined in a comparatively restful and

Elmer Pickle, who, last year, studied data on heart rate and blood pressure of the dog, reported his paper"to be more predictive of physical condition than the well-known Schenken test. One of Miss Lay's devices was almost as unexpected as Miss Doyle's. A dog of the type chosen was trained to breathe only through its nose, by means of nose clips. The dog's nose was pinched by an elastic band, which is a more complex way of measuring nose breathing. The subjects are not permitted to run away from the device, which is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. In this objective measurement of endurance together with other criteria observed the physician for a given dog's heart-rate results.

In connection with physical fitness in this subject, the subject will have to be observed by a trained physician. For instance, it is the best indicator of bodily health, and bodily health is usually associated with a well-trained heart. This must be taken into consideration in this investigation.

Experiments

The first case of experimental data was used in a study of heart rate and blood pressure. The dog, under the influence of ether, had its nose pinched by an elastic band around its nose. The device was designed to measure the rate of breathing of the dog. The subjects were not allowed to run away from the device.

In the next group of experiments, the subject was to breathe only through its nose, by means of nose clips. The dog's nose was pinched by an elastic band, which is a much more complex way of measuring nose breathing. The subjects are not permitted to run away from the device, which is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. In this objective measurement of endurance together with other criteria observed the physician for a given dog's heart-rate results.

The results of this investigation are reported in the New York Times for December 11, the story of the Spectacles, which is an under- graduate publication of Colby Col- lege, made it plain that this device is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. It is the best indicator of bodily health, and bodily health is usually associated with a well-trained heart. This must be taken into consideration in this investigation.

Experiments

The first case of experimental data was used in a study of heart rate and blood pressure. The dog, under the influence of ether, had its nose pinched by an elastic band around its nose. The device was designed to measure the rate of breathing of the dog. The subjects were not allowed to run away from the device, which is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. In this objective measurement of endurance together with other criteria observed the physician for a given dog's heart-rate results.

The results of this investigation are reported in the New York Times for December 11, the story of the Spectacles, which is an under- graduate publication of Colby Col- lege, made it plain that this device is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. It is the best indicator of bodily health, and bodily health is usually associated with a well-trained heart. This must be taken into consideration in this investigation.

Experiments

The first case of experimental data was used in a study of heart rate and blood pressure. The dog, under the influence of ether, had its nose pinched by an elastic band around its nose. The device was designed to measure the rate of breathing of the dog. The subjects were not allowed to run away from the device, which is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. In this objective measurement of endurance together with other criteria observed the physician for a given dog's heart-rate results.

The results of this investigation are reported in the New York Times for December 11, the story of the Spectacles, which is an under- graduate publication of Colby Col- lege, made it plain that this device is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. It is the best indicator of bodily health, and bodily health is usually associated with a well-trained heart. This must be taken into consideration in this investigation.

Experiments

The first case of experimental data was used in a study of heart rate and blood pressure. The dog, under the influence of ether, had its nose pinched by an elastic band around its nose. The device was designed to measure the rate of breathing of the dog. The subjects were not allowed to run away from the device, which is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. In this objective measurement of endurance together with other criteria observed the physician for a given dog's heart-rate results.

The results of this investigation are reported in the New York Times for December 11, the story of the Spectacles, which is an under- graduate publication of Colby Col- lege, made it plain that this device is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. It is the best indicator of bodily health, and bodily health is usually associated with a well-trained heart. This must be taken into consideration in this investigation.

Experiments

The first case of experimental data was used in a study of heart rate and blood pressure. The dog, under the influence of ether, had its nose pinched by an elastic band around its nose. The device was designed to measure the rate of breathing of the dog. The subjects were not allowed to run away from the device, which is aardvark, and is a very hard animal. In this objective measurement of endurance together with other criteria observed the physician for a given dog's heart-rate results.