Visitors

Wellesley welcomes visitors to the College. The administrative offices in Green Hall are open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and by appointment on Saturday mornings during term time. Special arrangements for greeting prospective students will also be made during holiday and vacation periods. Rooms for alumnae, parents of students or prospective students, are available on the campus in the Wellesley College Club, and may be reserved by writing the club manager.

Campus guides are happy to provide tours for visitors. In order to arrange for a mutually convenient time for interviews with professional members of the Board of Admission and student interviewers, prospective students and their parents are requested to make such appointments well in advance of their intended visit.

The College
Wellesley College is a residential liberal arts college for women situated on a 500 acre campus in the township of Wellesley, Massachusetts, 12 miles from Boston. Approximately 1750 students are enrolled each year.

Above all, Wellesley strives to provide an excellent education. Faculty and students have a high regard for scholarship, coupled with a concern for contemporary social problems. They share a similar interest in providing an atmosphere for personal growth as well as intellectual achievement. Wellesley’s faculty live, for the most part, on or near the campus, and are readily available to students outside of the classroom. The ratio of faculty to students is one to ten.

Wellesley College opened in 1875, after years of preparation by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fowle Durant. It was Mr. Durant’s hope that by providing educational opportunities of the kind then available only to men that women could prepare themselves for “great conflicts and vast social reforms.” This is still the hope and the goal.
The College staff tries to implement this goal by working cooperatively with students. The present College Government, composed of students, faculty, and administrators, was created by an Agreement between faculty and students in 1918. Although this Agreement has been amended over the years it still provides the basic governmental structure of the College.

The College Government legislation assigns to the Senate responsibility for all non-academic matters affecting the student body. Students form a majority of the Senate, and are the only voting members. Academic affairs are the concern of the Academic Council comprising most of the faculty, some administrators and some non-voting student members. A Chief Justice, elected from the student body, presides over the judicial system. In addition, students sit on most major policy-making committees, including the President's Advisory Council and the committees of the Board of Trustees.

Wellesley provides the opportunity for both urban and suburban living. It has a beautiful campus. Boston is nearby, and students go often to art galleries, symphony, theatres, shopping, or for volunteer or paid work.

Wellesley has no specific required courses. The curriculum is arranged so that each student may explore various fields, developing a primary interest which is expressed in the selection of a major program in the last two years. The College has limited cross-registration with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology so that Wellesley students may take courses at MIT, and MIT students at Wellesley. Through the Twelve College Exchange Program Wellesley and eleven other colleges exchange students who may live and study on another campus for a semester or a year without additional cost.

Wellesley students traditionally come from diverse backgrounds and from many parts of the world besides the United States. In the coming years Wellesley plans to make special efforts to maintain that diversity. Students encounter a wide range of points of view, academic disciplines and special interests which stimulate and strengthen their own combinations of interests and talents.

Happily, Wellesley has the physical resources to support these interests and talents. The present College is in marked contrast to the small faculty and student body, the one building, the collection of only 8000 books, and the restricted social life with which Wellesley began. The quiet beauty of the campus remains unchanged after nearly one hundred years—while symbolizing the best of the traditional, it provides the setting for innovation and growth.
Criteria for Admission

The Board of Admission at Wellesley is composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. In selecting the candidates who will comprise the student body, this Board considers a number of factors. The candidates' high school records, rank in class, scholastic aptitude, achievement and intelligence test scores, letters of recommendation from teachers and principals, the students' statements about themselves and their future, and the reports of the staff or alumnae, and the student interviewers, are all carefully reviewed. The Board also considers special interests and talents, as well as social and political concern.
No one factor alone nor all of them together provide an objective basis on which to select candidates for admission. Each factor must be evaluated with care and sensitivity. For example, College Board scores may be influenced by the student’s previous experience with timed examinations, and these tests, of course, do not necessarily measure potential and certainly not motivation or creativity.

The Board of Admission considers each of these factors and chooses students who will be able to perform academic work at the level required at Wellesley, and who have the potential to benefit from, and to contribute to, the type of education offered at Wellesley. The Board is determined that the criteria it uses will, on the one hand, ensure that a student who is admitted will be able to meet the standards for graduation from the college, and, on the other, be sufficiently flexible to ensure that creativity, strong potential and high motivation are given appropriate consideration.

General Requirements for Freshman Applicants

Wellesley College does not require a fixed plan of secondary school courses as preparation for its program of studies. Entering students normally have completed four years of college preparatory studies in secondary school. Good preparation includes training in clear and coherent writing and in interpreting literature, training in the principles of mathematics (usually a minimum of three years), competence in at least one foreign language, ancient or modern (usually achieved through three or four years of study), and experience in at least one laboratory science and in history.

Students planning to concentrate in mathematics, in premedical studies, or in the natural sciences, are urged to pursue additional studies in mathematics. Students planning to concentrate in language or literature are urged to study a modern foreign language and Latin or Greek.

There are always exceptions to the preparation suggested here, and the Board will also consider an applicant whose educational background varies from this general description.

The Application

Application forms may be secured from the Board of Admission. A fee of $15 must accompany the formal application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted. In special circumstances the application fee may be waived.
The Interview

Each applicant should have a personal interview. If it is not possible for candidates to come to the College for an interview, they should write the Board of Admission for the name of a local alumna interviewer. A campus interview with a Wellesley College student interviewer can also be arranged.

Campus Visit

Students who are seriously considering Wellesley will have a fuller understanding of student life at Wellesley if they can arrange to spend a day on campus. Candidates are welcome to visit classes, eat in the dormitories, and talk informally with Wellesley students. Prospective students who plan to spend some time exploring the College are urged to let the Board of Admission know in advance so that tours, interviews, meals and attendance at classes can be arranged before arrival on campus.
College Entrance Examination Board Tests

The Scholastic Aptitude Test and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) are required of all applicants for admission. Among the Achievement Tests, the English Composition Test is required and the two other tests may be chosen from two of the following fields: 1) foreign languages 2) social studies 3) either mathematics or science.

Each applicant is responsible for arranging to take the tests and for requesting CEEB to send to Wellesley College the results of all tests taken. CEEB sends its publications and the necessary registration forms to apply for the tests to all American secondary schools and many centers abroad. The applicant may obtain the registration form at school, or may obtain it by writing directly to CEEB, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; or in western United States, western Canada, Australia, Mexico, or the Pacific Islands, to CEEB, Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701.

It is wise to register with CEEB approximately seven to eight weeks before the test dates.

Dates of CEEB Tests:
November 6, 1971 (Scholastic Aptitude Test only)
December 4, 1971
January 8, 1972
March 4, 1972
April 15, 1972 (Scholastic Aptitude Test only)
May 6, 1972 (Achievement Tests only)
July 8, 1972

Admission Plans

1. Early Decision

This plan is intended for students who decide early that Wellesley is the college they wish to attend and who agree to file no other college application until after receiving a decision from the Wellesley Board of Admission. The appropriate CEEB tests should be taken prior to the beginning of the senior year in secondary school and candidates must apply and complete the form "Request for Early Decision" by October 15 of the senior year. All supporting credentials and an interview must be completed by November 1. These candidates will receive a decision from the Board of Admission by December 1.
2. April Decision

A candidate who uses the regular plan of admission must file an application by January 1 of the year for which she is applying. Applicants will be notified of the Board's decisions in April. Applicants for regular admission may take Scholastic Aptitude Tests and Achievement Tests any time between March of the junior year and January of the senior year. Results of tests taken after January arrive too late for consideration by the Board of Admission.

3. Early Admission

Students who have completed only three years of high school and who have demonstrated academic strength and personal and social maturity are considered for admission under the Early Admission Plan. It is preferable that these candidates have their interviews at the college, if distance permits. In all other respects they follow the regular procedures for entrance.
Americans Living Abroad

For American citizens living in other countries the entrance requirements and procedures for making application are the same as for applicants within the United States.

Students from Other Countries

The College welcomes applications from students who have outstanding secondary school records and who have completed the equivalent of the entrance requirements for Americans. In some cases, advanced credit is granted for successful completion of a university matriculation course. Foreign students must apply by January 15 of the year in which the student plans to enter college. Admission is for September entrance only. There is no application fee for foreign students. Specific instructions for applying to Wellesley from abroad are contained in a special brochure “Information for Students from Abroad” which may be obtained by writing to the Board of Admission.

The Slater One Year Fellowship Program is open to qualified foreign students primarily from Western Europe, who wish to spend a year at Wellesley to increase their competence in American studies while preparing for a degree in their home university. Slater Fellows receive the full cost of tuition, room and board from the College. Applicants may obtain the necessary forms from the dean of foreign study.

Admission of Transfer Students

Wellesley College accepts transfer students in either the first or second semester. They must offer excellent academic records and strong recommendations from their dean and instructors. Incoming sophomores and juniors, and a limited number of second semester freshmen, are eligible to apply. Students wishing to apply for admission with advanced standing should make application before February 1 for entrance for the fall semester, and before November 15 for entrance for the spring semester, on forms which may be obtained from the Board of Admission. A non-refundable application fee of $15 should be sent with the completed application form.

Graduate Students

Wellesley is primarily an undergraduate institution. There are a limited number of candidates for the M.A. degree in chemistry, biological sciences and art.
FEES
FELLOWSHIPS

FEES AND EXPENSES

An excellent education is expensive.
At Wellesley the fee represents approximately one-half of the cost to the College for each resident student. In past years the difference has been made up from gifts and income earned on endowment funds.

Annual Fee

$3600 is the fee for tuition, board and room for the academic year 1971–72. In addition, there is a student activity fee of $40. The total amount is due on September 1. However, the College offers three plans of payment described below. In 1972–73 the comprehensive fee for tuition, board and room will be $3900.

Student Activity Fee

The purpose of the Student Activity Fee is to provide resources from which the student government organization can plan and implement the programs of student activities sponsored by various clubs and organizations on campus. The fee is non-refundable. In 1971–72 the total fee is $45. In the succeeding year the fee will amount to $50.
Reservation Payment

$200 reserves a place in the College for the student. It is due February 1 for Early Decision students and May 1 for all other entering students, and annually on July 1 for returning students. It is included in the annual fee of $3600, and cannot be refunded for any reason.

General Deposit

$50 is a general deposit paid by each entering student. The deposit is refunded after graduation or withdrawal and after deducting any special charges not previously paid.

Special Fees and Expenses

These include the following:
- An initial non-refundable application fee: $15.
- Certain special fees and expenses listed under the departments with which they are concerned, such as the cost of instrumental and vocal lessons.
- A fee for each unit of work taken for credit in excess of five in any semester: $325.
- A fee for validating in September each unit of work done independently during the summer or taken in other institutions in excess of the units accepted for an automatic transfer: $50.
- An automobile parking fee per year: $80.
- Fees for laboratory breakage and any other damage incurred by a student.
- A fee for dormitory room key, if not returned: $5.

Non-Resident and Graduate Student Fees

Detailed information on fees for non-residents and graduate students may be obtained by writing to the controller.

Plans of Payment

Detailed descriptions of plans are sent by the controller to the parents of entering students and to others upon request. It is necessary that all fees be paid in accordance with the specified plans before the student can begin or continue attendance, and all financial obligations to the College must be discharged before the diploma is awarded.

Although there are minor variations in the payment plans for April Decision and Early Decision students, the final due dates for each group are the same. On p. 23 is a detailed schedule of payment plans for each group.

For Returning Students

The non-refundable reservation payment is due on July 1. Returning students pay fees in accordance with the plans scheduled above.
Payment for Students on Financial Aid

Grants, except for the reservation payment, are usually applied equally against all tuition, board and room payments for the year. The remaining financial obligation must be paid in accordance with one of the approved plans. Students on financial aid who have difficulty meeting the scheduled payments outlined above should consult the financial aid officer.

Insurance

Information concerning optional health and accident insurance is automatically sent to all parents by the controller. Because of the high cost of medical care, parents are urged to subscribe to a comprehensive medical insurance plan.

Refunds

The reservation payment is not refundable at any time. Additional payments made before the opening of College in the fall are refundable only prior to that time.
The College necessarily makes commitments in advance for instruction and living arrangements and the parent or guardian is responsible for the entire fee for a semester if withdrawal or exclusion occurs after the start of the academic schedule. The only rebate in the event of withdrawal or exclusion is for the unused portion of the board rate which pertains to food cost ($10 per week) for each remaining full academic week of the semester calculated from the week after the withdrawal or exclusion date.

In the event of withdrawal of a student on financial aid, the proceeds of all refunds are applied first to the scholarship account.

General Expenses

It is estimated that $500 for the year will cover a student’s general expenses including books and supplies, incidental fees, recreation and entertainment, laundry and dry cleaning, and some transportation, excluding trips to and from home. For the foreign student coming from abroad this figure is estimated at $600.

FINANCIAL AID

The Wellesley College program of financial aid for students is intended to open educational opportunity to able students of diverse backgrounds regardless of their financial circumstances. No student should be discouraged from applying to Wellesley because of the need for financial aid. At Wellesley admission decisions are made without regard for financial need, and only after a student is admitted does the Committee on Financial Aid consider applications for aid. Over 30 percent of Wellesley students receive some financial aid from Wellesley funds.

The Wellesley College Students’ Aid Society, which sponsors loans, also offers personal assistance through loans of books and other items, gifts of clothing, and loans of small amounts of money for incidental expenses and special emergencies.

Financial aid is given only to students who require assistance in order to attend. Awards vary in size according to individual need and may equal or exceed the comprehensive College fee. Although awards are generally granted for one year at a time, the College expects to continue aid as needed throughout the four years for all financial aid students who continue to have need and whose college records are satisfactory. Most awards consist of a package of a grant and a loan, plus work.
In addition to College grants, loans, and work, Educational Opportunity Grants, National Defense Student Loans, and Work-Study jobs are available to eligible students.

In the College Work-Study Program, a student may work on or off the campus for a public or private nonprofit organization during the academic year or summer. Students may work in diverse areas, for example, helping to develop community action programs, tutoring, doing research for local museums, staffing tot-lots and recreation centers.

The need for financial help always exceeds the amount of resources Wellesley has available in any given year. Therefore, students should, whenever possible, seek grants and/or loans through local, state, or federal programs, from educational foundations, and other private sources.

There are ten tuition grants reserved for residents of the Town of Wellesley. A special application is required and available from the Town Selectmen’s Office. The awards are made by the Town Selectmen after students have been admitted by the Board of Admission.

The College expects students to contribute as much as possible to their own expenses through summer and term-time earnings. On-campus jobs under the Wellesley College and Federal Work-Study Programs are offered to all financial aid applicants. These jobs ordinarily involve five hours of work per week and enable students to earn approximately $250 a year. In addition, the Career Services Office is often able to arrange for additional paid work during the academic year and summer.

Further information on financial aid at Wellesley is contained in the brochure “Opportunities for Financial Aid” which may be obtained by writing to the Financial Aid Officer, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass. 02181.

Application for Financial Aid

Each registered applicant for admission who is applying for financial aid must file two forms, the Wellesley College Application for Financial Aid and the Parents’ Confidential Statement, during the senior year in high school, in the places listed below. Early Decision applicants must file by October 15, April Decision applicants by January 15, and fall semester transfer applicants by February 15.

The Wellesley College form will be sent to candidates who indicated that they would like to apply for financial aid on the Application for Admission. It should be returned to the financial aid officer, Wellesley College. Application for financial aid must be renewed each year.
Parents' Confidential Statement

This form is available in the secondary schools, or may be obtained by writing to the College Scholarship Service, Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; Box 881, Evanston, Illinois 60204; or Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701. A copy can also be provided by the financial aid officer if specifically requested by an applicant. The Parents' Confidential Statement should be filed with the College Scholarship Service which will then forward a copy for confidential use to the college or colleges indicated on the form.

FELLOWSHIPS AND GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

A number of fellowships and graduate scholarships are open to graduating seniors and alumnae of Wellesley College, while others administered by Wellesley are open to women graduates of any American institution. In general awards are made to applicants who plan full-time graduate study.

Information and application forms may be obtained from the Secretary to the Committee on Graduate Fellowships, Wellesley College. Applications and supporting credentials for fellowships are due by February 20, except where noted.

For Graduates of Wellesley College

Fellowships open to Wellesley College alumnae and graduating seniors are listed below. Each is awarded annually unless specified otherwise.

American School of Classical Studies in Athens awards three fellowships on a competitive basis. Qualified graduates are exempt from any charge for tuition at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens or in Rome.

Stipend: $2000

Anne Louise Barrett Fellowship, preferably in music and primarily for study or research in musical theory, composition, or in the history of music; abroad or in the United States.

Stipend: $2500

Stipend: $3300

Trustee Scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies. These scholarships are unrestricted as to field of study. The title Trustee Scholar is honorary and in cases of financial need stipends may be awarded to the scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance. All applications and credentials are due by February 1. Recipients share a total annual stipend of $6000.
Fanny Bullock Workman Scholarship for graduate study in any field.

Stipend: $3000

Mary Elvira Stevens Traveling Fellowship for travel or study outside the United States. Any scholarly, artistic, or cultural purpose may be considered. Candidates must be at least 25 years of age on September 1 of the year in which the fellowship is first held. All applications must be filed with the Secretary to the Stevens Fellowship Committee before December 31.

Stipend: $7000

For Graduates of Other Institutions
Fellowships, Scholarships and Assistantships

Some graduate fellowships and scholarships for study at the institution of the candidate’s choice are administered by Wellesley College and are open to alumnae of any college, including Wellesley.

Several scholarships are available for candidates for the degree of Master of Arts at Wellesley.

Assistantships which provide stipends are available in certain science departments at the College for candidates for the M.A. degree at Wellesley.

Alice Freeman Palmer Fellowship for study or research abroad or in the United States. The holder must be no more than 26 years of age at the time of her appointment, and unmarried throughout the whole of her tenure.

Stipend: $3500

M. A. Cartland Shackford Medical Scholarship for the study of medicine with a view to general practice, not psychiatry. Renewable.

Stipend: $3500

Harriet A. Shaw Scholarship for study or research in music and allied arts, abroad or in the United States. The candidate must be no more than 26 years of age at the time of her appointment. Preference given to music candidates; undergraduate work in history of art required for other candidates. Awarded in alternate years. It will be offered in 1971–72 for the year 1972–73.

Stipend: $3000
STUDENT LIFE

Registration

At the beginning of each semester residential students must register in their dormitories before their first scheduled class, and non-residential students must register in the Information Bureau, Green Hall, before their first scheduled class.

Freshman Orientation

Entering students arrive on campus a few days before most upperclassmen. Their orientation is planned by the class dean and a student committee which also returns early to help freshmen become acquainted with the College.

During this week there are mixers, picnics, campus tours and trips to Boston and Cambridge. The class schedules are distributed. Freshmen meet their class dean and advisers. The Vil Junior in each dorm has special responsibility for helping the new students feel at home.

Freshmen receive a Handbook prepared by upperclassmen and a Portrait Directory which help them become acquainted quickly with the College and their classmates.
Residence

The College provides housing in thirteen dormitories on campus and allows upperclassmen, with parental permission, to find their own housing off campus. The dormitories contain single rooms, double rooms, and suites. Small kitchenettes are located on most corridors for students to prepare snacks or to use when entertaining.

The cost of all rooms is the same, regardless of whether they are shared. Members of all four classes live in each dorm and share the dining and common rooms and the general life of the house. Students clean their own rooms and contribute two or three hours a week answering the telephones and doing other miscellaneous jobs which are scheduled by the student heads of work. Each dormitory has a non-student resident head of house. The visiting hours for guests are set by the students on each corridor.

The College supplies a bed, desk, chair, lamp, bookcase and bureau for each resident. Students may rent linen or supply their own. Students supply blankets and quilts and their own curtains, pictures, rugs, posters and the rest of the delightful paraphernalia which turns the dorm room into a home away from home. Students may change dorms from year to year, and the College will move their personal possessions at the student’s risk.

Advising

Students can receive advice and help from the College counselors and many others. The heads of house, class deans, faculty advisers, College doctors and psychiatrists, the chaplain, volunteer tutors, big sisters, Vil Juniors, the dean of foreign study, members of College Government, and others are there to try to help students with problems—both large and small. If one of these people cannot help he will see that the student is put in touch with the person who can.

Confidential problems are treated with respect, and students may feel secure knowing that a personal problem will remain confidential.

Supplementary Education

The College offers programs of academic assistance to all Wellesley College students. These include: tutoring, reading and study skills courses, diagnosis of study problems, and study counseling.
Religion

Wellesley seeks to respond sensitively to a variety of religious traditions. The College encourages independent religious involvement on the part of its students. Wellesley students may also major in religion and biblical studies, or take elective courses in these fields. Attendance at all worship services is voluntary.

The College chaplain is available to all students for religious guidance and personal counseling. He also officiates at regular Sunday morning worship, an ecumenically oriented Protestant service, in Houghton Memorial Chapel at which many distinguished churchmen are invited to speak during the year. Other religious advisers representing several religious traditions are also available to students for counseling. The activities of various religious groups on campus as well as programs sponsored by the chaplain's office are open to all.

Temples, churches and other religious organizations representing a great variety of ways of worship are easily accessible from the campus.
College Health Services

The services of the College physicians, psychiatrists, and nurses are available to students at Simpson Infirmary, which includes a 29 bed hospital and an out-patient clinic. Boston has long been one of the major medical centers in the country, and consultation with specialists in all medical fields is easily available.

Besides the usual care given by College health services, members of the Wellesley medical staff serve on a student-staff health committee. This committee works on ways to expand the use of the health services and sets up special informational and discussion programs on such subjects as drugs, sex, marriage.

The confidentiality of the doctor-patient relationship is the foundation upon which the success of the health services is based. College medical personnel will not share any medical information concerning a student with any college authorities, or with the parents of students, without the consent of the student. Parents are requested to sign a statement authorizing the College to proceed with appropriate treatment in the case of serious illness or emergency in the event they cannot be reached by telephone.

Each student is allowed three free days in the infirmary each academic year. Treatment involving unusual expenses or outside consultation or hospitalization is borne by the student. The College strongly recommends purchase of a group student health and accident insurance policy which protects students over a twelve month period whether or not they are in residence at the College.

Jobs on and off Campus

A student interested in employment may register at the Career Services Office. This office assists students in obtaining summer employment as well as part-time work during the academic year.

Although freshmen are advised not to hold jobs during the first semester, there are many opportunities throughout the rest of the college years for students to find part-time employment at the College and in the Town of Wellesley. The Career Services Office is the clearinghouse for employers looking for students for part-time help and for students looking for work. On-campus opportunities include office work in academic departments, and work in small businesses run by students. Off campus, students have worked in offices, stores, and restaurants. A large number of local families employ students for child care, and for other varieties of household work.

Undergraduates and seniors are assisted in making plans for the future, either for employment or further study. Students may consult with the Career Services counselors about their interests and the plans they hope to make. Assistance is provided in many ways. The office maintains a library of vocational literature on current positions and future career possibilities; holds lectures and discussions for students on various occupations; supplies information about graduate courses, apprenticeships, graduate scholarships and assistantships as well as job opportunities; and schedules interviews for seniors with employer and graduate school representatives who recruit at the College.

All alumnae may continue to use the services of this office for information and help in employment or planning further study.
Summers

The long summer vacation gives students ample time for work, travel or study.

The Career Services Office helps to place students in summer jobs and offers counseling and advice on the most rewarding kinds of jobs available depending on a student’s particular interest.

The College sponsors a Washington Internship Program in which students spend ten weeks in Washington, D.C. working in various departments within the federal government, including the Congress, as well as for press, radio and TV offices and for other groups in the nation’s capital. Salaries are offered with some of these jobs, but if not, the College provides a stipend to the intern.

The Internship Program in Economics, founded at Wellesley by the National Association of Business Economists, places qualified economics majors in salaried positions in private or public agencies in all parts of the country during the summer following the junior year. Students in this program carry out applied economic research under the direction of senior economists.

Independent travel, or travel with groups such as Crossroads Africa or the Experiment in International Living, is a good supplement to the academic program. Wellesley also awards Slater Fellowships for summer research and study abroad available primarily to junior Honors candidates for work in connection with their 370 Honors project. These Slater Fellows must be recommended by their departments and submit a budget indicating how much money they will need to supplement their own resources.

Some students carry out planned programs of independent study which have been worked out with members of an academic department and their class dean. Other students attend summer school. The amount of summer school credit allowed toward the degree is limited and is not automatic. Students should consult their class deans and appropriate departments before enrolling in summer school courses for which they expect credit toward the Wellesley degree.

Whatever summer plans may be, Wellesley considers reading an indispensable accompaniment. Each department provides a summer reading list, designed particularly for majors, but open to all. These lists provide an excellent complement to the work done during the past year, and preparation for the one ahead.

The Campus

Wellesley College has a campus of more than 500 acres bordering on Lake Waban. There are woodlands, hills and meadows, an arboretum, botanic gardens and an outdoor amphitheatre. In this setting are 64 buildings, with architectural styles ranging from Gothic to contemporary. Thirteen of the buildings are residence halls. Placed in four groups, each is approximately the same distance from the academic quadrangle where most classes are held. The campus map on pp. 46-47 will show most of the major areas.

The focal point of the campus is the tower which contains a 30-bell carillon. Named for its donor, Galen L. Stone, the tower rises 182 feet from Green Hall, the administration building, and is an excellent vantage point from which to view Wellesley's extensive campus and beyond.

One of Wellesley's oldest buildings (1880) is Billings Hall, now completely remodeled and expanded to create the Schneider College Center for extracurricular activities. Nearby is the library and a short distance away, atop Norumbega Hill, is the quadrangle which includes the administration building, two classroom buildings (Founders and Pendleton Halls) and the Jewett Arts Center. The Houghton Memorial Chapel, the Whitin Observatory and the neighboring Sage Hall with adjoining greenhouses, the recreation and physical education buildings, the Child Study Center, as well as the infirmary and other College buildings are described below.

Alumnae Hall

The largest auditorium on the campus is in Alumnae Hall which has a seating capacity of 1500 persons. Beneath the auditorium is a large ballroom. The building is the headquarters of the Wellesley College Theatre and also houses the College radio station, WBS. Alumnae Hall is host to visiting lecturers and concert artists, panelists, and professional theatre groups. The gift of Wellesley alumnae, the building was erected in 1923.

Arts Center

The Jewett Arts Center, completed in 1958, consists of the Mary Cooper Jewett art wing and the Margaret Weyerhauser Jewett music and drama wing.

The art wing contains the Wellesley College Museum with its teaching collection of choice examples of classical, medieval, and contemporary art. There are studios and classrooms, the art library and slide collections, and offices of the art department. During the academic year the museum has many exhibitions and is open to the public.

An exhibition corridor joins the two wings of the Jewett Arts Center and leads directly to the music and drama wing. The music library of books, scores and recordings is located here, as are listening rooms, well-equipped practice studios, classrooms and offices of the music department. A fine collection of musical instruments is available to the students.

The Jewett Auditorium, an intimate theatre seating 350 persons, was designed for chamber music performances. In addition, there are rehearsal rooms and other facilities for the theatre workshop.
Chapel

The Houghton Memorial Chapel was presented to Wellesley in 1897 by the son and daughter of William S. Houghton, a trustee of the College. The Chapel’s stained glass windows commemorate the founders and several former members of the College, while a tablet by Daniel Chester French honors Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley’s second president. Beneath the main chapel which seats 1200 people there is a small, intimate Little Chapel.

Child Study Center

Wellesley College opened the Child Study Center in the fall of 1969 under the direction of the psychology department. It is located in the Anne L. Page Memorial Building, in which for many years was a college-run nursery school. The Center is designed for Wellesley undergraduates to study the learning processes among young children.

Classrooms

Founders Hall, built in 1919, is dedicated to the Durants, and Pendleton Hall, built in 1935, honors Wellesley’s president (1911–36), Ellen Fitz Pendleton. They are located south and north respectively in the academic quad-rangle. The humanities, social sciences and mathematics are taught in Founders. Pendleton contains the laboratories, lecture rooms, libraries and offices of the departments of chemistry, physics and psychology. Extensive equipment and facilities provide opportunity for advanced work in these areas. There are additional classrooms in many other buildings.

Green Hall

The offices of the President, the Board of Admission, the Deans, and all administrative offices directly affecting the academic and business management of the College are located in Green Hall. The building has large rooms for Academic Council and trustee meetings, class and seminar rooms, some faculty offices and the offices for the Alumnae Association, Resources, and the College Information Services staff. Named for Hetty R. Green, the building was erected in 1931 and was in large part the gift of Mrs. Green’s son and daughter, Col. Edward H. R. Green and Mrs. Mathew A. Wilks. The carillon in the Galen L. Stone Tower was the gift of Mrs. Charlotte Nichols Greene.
Greenhouses

Classrooms in the biological sciences department open directly into the greenhouses. They honor Margaret C. Ferguson, former Wellesley professor of botany, and bear her name. The climate in the greenhouses ranges from temperate to tropic with many excellent examples of trees and flowers which flourish in the respective temperatures. There is extensive space for experiments by faculty and students. The greenhouses are open to the public daily throughout the entire year.

Harambee House

Harambee House is the cultural and social center for Black students. It contains rooms for meetings and social gatherings as well as facilities for cooking and entertaining. It is located near the Schneider College Center just south of the Library.

Housing for Faculty and Staff

Wellesley maintains 39 houses and 65 apartments for faculty and administrative staff. Other campus buildings house maintenance and housekeeping staff.

Infirmary

The Simpson Infirmary, a 29 bed hospital and outpatient clinic, was built in 1942. It is connected to the original infirmary (1881) which is now used for staff housing.

Library

The Library’s collection exceeds 470,000 volumes including some 20 percent in department libraries. Subscriptions to periodicals number nearly 1900. Special collections contain autograph letters, manuscripts and rare books of distinction.

There is a seating capacity of 780, with 290 study carrels and 20 faculty studies. A language laboratory is available as are listening units for the collection of spoken and dramatic recordings. Special meetings, lectures and discussions may be held in the Library’s Pope Room seating 100.

The Library, erected in 1910 and first enlarged in 1916, was the gift of Andrew Carnegie. A new wing in 1957, and renovations to the old building as well as the installation of the language laboratory in 1958, were the gifts of alumnae and friends, especially of David M. Mahood and Mrs. Helen...
M. Petit in memory of Helen Ritchie Petit of the Class of 1928. The Library is open to the public daily while College is in session and Monday through Friday during vacation.

Maintenance

The Maintenance Building and nearby Physical Plant supply the services and utilities necessary to the upkeep of the College. Here are located the offices for grounds upkeep, security, housekeeping, and the resources for all utilities.

Observatory

The Whitin Observatory contains laboratories, classrooms, darkrooms, and the library of the astronomy department. Its research equipment includes a six-inch, a twelve-inch, and a twenty-four inch telescope. The gift of Mrs. John C. Whitin, a trustee of the College, the observatory was built in 1900 and enlarged in 1962 and 1966. It is considered to be an unusually fine facility for undergraduate training in astronomy.

Physical Education and Recreation

Classes for all indoor sports and for modern dance are conducted in Mary Hemenway Hall, the gymnasium, and in the nearby Recreation Building. The latter has game rooms, badminton and squash courts, and a large swimming pool. Outdoor water sports center around the boathouse where the canoes, sailboats and crew shells are housed. Wellesley maintains a nine hole golf course, 16 tennis courts, and hockey and lacrosse fields.

The older of the two buildings, Hemenway, was built in 1909 when the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics affiliated with the College and Mrs. Hemenway of Boston provided the funds for the building. The Recreation Building was opened in 1939. Its pool bears the name of George Howe Davenport, a trustee and generous benefactor of the College.

President’s House

The President’s House, formerly the country estate of Wellesley’s founders, the Durants, sits on a hill just south of the main campus. The house overlooks spacious lawns and the lake. Remodeled and renovated in 1968, the house is now occupied by President Adams. It is frequently opened to various groups from the college community and is also the scene of alumnae and trustee gatherings as well as receptions for distinguished visitors.
Residence Halls

The thirteen residence halls are arranged in four groups: one in the northwest corner of the campus; another west, on the hill overlooking the lake; a third slightly southeast of the lake shore; and the fourth stretching to the northeast. The buildings have large spacious living rooms and smaller common rooms. Each has its own dining facilities, and there are both single and double rooms. Almost all the buildings have a small kitchenette on each floor and every building has coin-operated washers and dryers. There are separate apartments for the heads of house. The residence halls bear the names of past presidents, faculty and students, as well as alumnae, trustees and friends of the College.

Each residence, its location and student capacity is listed below:

In addition to residence halls for students, there are dormitories used exclusively for housing College employees engaged in food and household services.

Sage Hall

Located some distance from the academic quadrangle and on the northeast side of the campus, Sage Hall houses the biological sciences and geology departments. The building has laboratories, lecture rooms, a library, vivarium, aquarium, a teaching museum and an extensive map collection for geography.
Schneider College Center

Old Billings Hall is the home of the new Schneider College Center. It also houses the various student organizations and is the bus terminal for the Wellesley-MIT cross-registrants. The recently remodeled building includes both small and large areas for meetings and discussions, and many recreational facilities including a snack bar open to the entire College community, and an informal coffee house.

Society Houses

There are four houses for special interest groups—three located south of the Library and Schneider College Center and one, Shakespeare, west of the Jewett Arts Center. Each house has kitchen and dining facilities, a living room and other gathering rooms. Members are drawn from all four classes, beginning with second semester freshmen. The Society houses are listed below:

- Phi Sigma
- Shakespeare
- Tau Zeta Epsilon
- Zeta Alpha

- Modern Literature
- Shakespearean Drama
- Art and Music
- Modern Drama

Wellesley College Club

Completed in 1963, the Club is a center for faculty, staff and alumnae. Its handsome reception rooms and dining rooms are used for many special occasions and daily by its members for lunch and dinner. There are a number of bedrooms for the use of guests, alumnae, and parents of students and prospective students.
Academic Affairs
The curriculum provides a framework within which students are invited to explore various fields in the arts and sciences. When students decide on an area of concentration they then select courses in other fields to provide complementary or contrasting experiences. These, together with the major, enable students to achieve a broadly liberal education.

In developing the curriculum, the faculty has tried to present diverse offerings among which students will gradually perceive interrelationships. Through study of different disciplines and bodies of knowledge, students perceive the coherent unity among diversity which is traditionally termed a liberal arts education.

By the time the Bachelor of Arts degree is earned, the student should be acquainted with the main fields of human interest, capable of integrating knowledge from various fields, and prepared for continuous scholarly growth and responsible participation in society. In the major field, the student is expected to demonstrate maturity of thought, acquaintance with recognized authorities in the field, and general competence in dealing with sources of research or analysis.
Requirements for Degree of Bachelor of Arts

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts is required to complete 32 units of academic work at a C average or better. Each semester course is assigned 1 unit of credit. The normal period of time in which to earn the degree is four years and a normal program of study consists of from three to five courses a semester.

Courses are classified in Grade I, II and III. Introductory courses are numbered 100–199 (Grade I); intermediate courses, 200–299 (Grade II); advanced courses, 300–370 (Grade III). Each student shall include at least 4 units of Grade III work, at least 2 of which shall be in the major. The program in the senior year may not include more units of Grade I than of Grade III work and at least 2 must be of Grade III.

General Requirements

In order to provide students with as much freedom as possible, Wellesley requires no specific courses. To insure, however, that students gain insight and awareness in areas outside their own majors the College does require that they choose three semester courses in each of three general areas during the four year period. Research or Individual Study (the 350 courses) do not satisfy this requirement. These three groupings are:

Group A Literature, Foreign Languages, Art, and Music
3 units chosen from courses in the Departments of Art, Chinese, English, French, German, Greek, Latin, Italian, Music, Russian, Spanish; or from extradepartmental literature courses.

Group B Social Science, Religion and Biblical Studies, and Philosophy
1 or 2 units chosen from courses in the Departments of History, Philosophy, Religion and Biblical Studies, and

1 or 2 units chosen from courses in the Departments of Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology and Anthropology.

Group C Science and Mathematics
3 units, at least 1 of which shall be in a laboratory science, chosen from courses in the Departments of Astronomy, Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, or one of the extradepartmental courses in history of science.
Freshmen are encouraged to carry a maximum of four courses each semester, but upperclassmen may take five.

Before the beginning of the senior year students must exhibit a degree of proficiency in the use of one foreign language, either ancient or modern. Many students fulfill the requirement by passing one of the language tests offered by the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB). Wellesley requires scores of 610 or better on the CEEB Achievement Test, or a score of at least 3 on the Advanced Placement Examination (AP). This requirement can also be met by the completion of 2 units of language study above the first year level. Students may take beginning courses in only two modern foreign languages. Credits for the foreign language requirement cannot be attained at summer school.

In addition each student must complete the physical education requirement described on p. 167 for which no academic credit is given.

Students are expected to use acceptable standards of spoken and written English in their college work. Special assistance in English, mathematics and other basic and special skills are offered at the College.
The Major

Wellesley students may choose majors offered by 23 departments, three interdepartmental majors—Black studies, classical archaeology, and molecular biology—or they may devise an individual major. Of the 32 units required for graduation, at least 8 are to be elected in the major, and no more than 14 in any one department.

Students who are interested in an individual major submit a plan of study to two faculty members from different departments. This plan should include 4 units in one department above the introductory level. The program for the individual major is subject to the approval of the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. Some students wish to center their study upon an area, a period, or a subject which crosses conventional departmental lines. Examples of possible area studies are Asian studies, Latin American studies, Russian studies, United States studies; of periods, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance; of subjects, classical civilization, international relations, theatre studies, urban studies.

In the second semester of the sophomore year each student elects a major field and prepares for the recorder a statement of the courses to be included in the major. Later revisions may be made with the approval of the chairman of the major department, or in the case of the individual major, with the student’s advisers, and be presented to the recorder not later than the second semester of the junior year.

Academic Standards

Academic standards at Wellesley are high, and students take full responsibility for attending classes, getting required work in on time, appearing for examinations. If students have difficulties with course work, become ill, or have other problems which interfere with their academic work they should consult with their class dean for assistance in making special arrangements for their studies.

Students are expected to maintain at least a C average throughout the college career. At the end of each semester each student’s record is reviewed, and appointments with the class dean or faculty adviser are arranged if needed. The College tries to provide the appropriate support services to students in difficulty. Students who show consistent effort are rarely excluded from College.
Grading System

Students have the option of electing courses on a letter or non-letter grade basis. At the beginning of the eighth week of a semester, students notify the recorder and their instructor whether they plan to take a course for a letter grade or on a credit/non-credit basis. Credit is given to those students who have attained a satisfactory familiarity with the content of a course and who have demonstrated ability to use this knowledge in a competent manner.

Examinations

An examination period occurs at the end of each semester. Special examinations are offered in September to qualified students to earn credit for work done independently, for admission to advanced courses without the stated prerequisites, and for exemption from required studies.

Students who wish credit towards the degree for work done independently in the summer, or for more than 2 units taken in summer school, should consult the appropriate department and the class dean, and should apply to the recorder at least a month in advance for a special examination to be given at the beginning of the college year.

Credit for Advanced Placement Examinations

Students who enter under the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board, making the scores specified by Wellesley College, will receive credit toward the B.A. degree, provided they do not register in college for courses which cover substantially the same material as those for which they have received advanced placement credit. Two units of credit will be given for each advanced placement examination in which a student received a grade of 4 or 5 with the following exceptions: only 1 unit of credit will be given for the Latin 4 examination; 1 unit of credit will be given for a score of 4 or 5 in the Mathematics AB examination, 1 unit of credit for a score of 3 in the Mathematics BC examination, 2 units of credit for a score of 4 or 5 in the Mathematics BC examination. Not more than 2 units are credited in any one subject.

Credit for Other Academic Work

Of the 32 units required for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a student may earn a maximum of 16 units through a combination of the following: AP examinations, courses taken at another institution during the summer or the academic year, or independent study off campus which is then evaluated by a Wellesley department. Two units may be earned in summer school and 2 units for independent study. Eight units, in addition to summer school, may be earned through courses taken at another institution.

Exemption from Required Studies

Students may be exempted from any of the studies required for the degree, provided they can demonstrate to the department concerned a reasonable competence in the elements of the course. Exemption from any of the studies required does not affect the general requirement for completion of 32 units for graduation. It does, however, make it possible for some students to select more advanced courses earlier in their college careers.

Such exemption may be achieved in one of two ways:

A score of 4 (Honors) or 5 (High Honors) on the CEEB Advanced Placement Test (AP)

or

Passing a special exemption examination.

Permission for the exemption examination must be obtained from the class dean and the chairman of the department concerned. (See Examinations.) In addition to the evidence offered by the examination some departments may require the student to present a paper or an acceptable laboratory notebook.

Research or Individual Study

Each department of the College which offers a major course of study provides the opportunity for certain students to undertake a program of individual study directed by a member of the faculty. Under this program an eligible student may undertake a research project or a program of reading in a particular field. The results of this work normally are presented in a final report or in a series of short essays. The conditions for such work are described under the course numbered 350 in each department. Further opportunities for research and individual study are described under the Honors Program.

Freshman-Sophomore Colloquia

These colloquia give students the chance to work closely in small groups with individual faculty members. They are designed to provide the sort of educational experience which previously was enjoyed only by upperclassmen. They are similar to the advanced seminars in that they stress independent work, discussion, and oral and written presentations.

Cross-Registration Program with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology

A five-year experimental program of cross-registration of students at Wellesley and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was officially inaugurated in 1968-69. The program allows students to elect courses at the other institution, and extends the diversity of educational experiences available in the curriculum and in the environments of each. The two schools combine their academic, extracurricular, and operational resources while maintaining the separate strengths, independence, and integrity of each institution.

A Wellesley student interested in exploring the possibilities of electing a specific course at M.I.T. should consult the department adviser or the appropriate exchange program faculty adviser. Since the number of participants in the exchange is limited, upperclassmen are given first preference.
The Twelve College Exchange Program

Wellesley belongs to a consortium which includes Amherst, Bowdoin, Connecticut College, Dartmouth, Mount Holyoke, Smith, Trinity, Vassar, Wesleyan, Wheaton, and Williams. Students in good standing may apply through the coordinator for a semester or full academic year in residence at any of the member institutions. The combined resources of this Exchange offer students an unusually rich and extensive educational opportunity.

The Junior Year Abroad

Qualified students may apply for admission to various groups spending the junior year in Europe and in foreign countries in other parts of the world. The Wellesley Slater Junior Year Abroad Scholarships are available to juniors who have been accepted by approved programs. The selection of award recipients is made early in the second semester of the sophomore year on the basis of academic qualifications and faculty recommendations, and the amount of each individual award is determined according to need. Information about these scholarships may be obtained from the class dean.

Academic Distinctions

The Honors Program

The Honors Program is open to students with strong academic records who wish to undertake independent work in their senior year. Each candidate for honors completes an individually chosen research project, supervised by a member of the faculty and entered on the record as 370, Honors Research (2 units). The successful completion of the independent work and of the honors examinations leads to the award of Honors or High Honors in the major subject.

Other Academic Distinctions

The College names to Freshman Honors those students who maintain high academic standing during the freshman year and names juniors and seniors whose records after the freshman year are at the level of Wellesley College Scholars and Durant Scholars. Final honors, conferred at Commencement, are based on academic records after the freshman year and include the title Wellesley College Scholar for high academic standing and Durant Scholar for the highest academic standing.
Juniors and seniors are elected to membership in the Eta of Massachusetts Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of their total academic achievement in college, and seniors who are majoring in the sciences may be elected to associate membership in the Wellesley Chapter of Sigma Xi.

On recommendation of the faculty the Trustees award to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies the title of Trustee Scholar. The awards are made on a competitive basis in two categories: two for graduate study without restriction as to subject; two for graduate study undertaken as preparation for college teaching. The title is honorary; in cases of financial need stipends are awarded to the Scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance. Applications and supporting credentials are due in the Office of the President by January 15.

Certain prizes have been established at the College for the recognition of merit in a particular field. They carry a small stipend or gift and usually bear the name of the donor or the person honored, and are awarded for excellence by the departments.

Leave of Absence

A few students find it wise to interrupt the normal sequence and spend a semester or two away from Wellesley either working, or enrolled at another institution. This flexibility in developing individual educational goals is sometimes advantageous. Application for leave of absence may be made to the class dean at any time after a student has completed at least one year at Wellesley.

To obtain permission to spend the year at another institution as a non-matriculated student or guest, a student submits a detailed plan to the class dean or adviser and if a major has been chosen, to that department. The plan should list the course of study for the year and justify its relationship to the four year program. Students must also submit a statement signed by the dean or registrar of the other institution recognizing their status as non-matriculated students who will return to Wellesley to complete their work for the degree.

Withdrawal

Students who plan to withdraw must inform the class dean. A withdrawal form will then be sent to the parents or guardian for their signature. The official date of withdrawal is considered to be the date on which the signed form is received by the recorder of the College. The withdrawal date is important in order to compute costs and possible rebates. For regulations concerning withdrawal rebates see p. 25.

The College reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student whose academic work falls below its standards, or for whom Wellesley may not have been the best choice. In such cases of involuntary withdrawal, which are rare, the official date of withdrawal is considered to be the date upon which the student leaves the College.

Readmission

A student who has withdrawn from College and wishes to return should apply to the Office of the Dean of Studies for the appropriate forms. Readmission will be considered in the light of the reasons for withdrawal and reapplication, and of the space currently available. A non-refundable fee of $15 must accompany the reapplication form.

Career Preparation

A liberal arts education does not prepare a student for a specific career. It is intended to provide that broad background upon which a student depends in indescribable ways throughout a lifetime. The Wellesley program provides a student with the chance to explore various fields of knowledge and to secure in-depth preparation in a specific major field. The student then can either begin a career or pursue further study in graduate school for more specialized professional work.

During the undergraduate years a student may meet the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and at the same time prepare to enter professional schools, for example, architecture, law, medicine, public health, social service, education. A sound education in the liberal arts is considered the best preparation for admission to most professional schools, but a student who is interested in any one of the professions should consult the class dean to plan a particular emphasis in the undergraduate program.

Teaching in Elementary and Secondary Schools

Some teaching positions in public as well as in private schools are open to college graduates without further study. Students who complete the course in supervised teaching and 3 other units of study in education and 2 in psychology are able to fulfill the minimum requirements for a teaching license in many states.
Qualification for supervised teaching necessitates that all requirements for distribution and the major (with the possible exception of 1 unit of independent study) be completed in three and one-half years. With or without credit for Advanced Placement and summer study, careful planning permits easy scheduling to this effect.

A student who intends to teach should consult the chairman of the department of education about requirements for certification and ways of preparing to meet them as soon as possible.

College Teaching and Research

A student who wishes to enter college teaching and research will find that the undergraduate work of the College provides preparation for graduate study leading to advanced degrees in the arts and sciences. The chairman of the major department or of the department in which a student hopes to pursue graduate study should be consulted as soon as possible to learn which courses in the field of special interest and which foreign languages will be most useful. It should be noted that for graduate study in many fields a reading knowledge of two specified foreign languages is required. The student will find the class dean, the faculty adviser, the chairmen of departments, and staff of the Career Services Office helpful in locating information about graduate schools.

Medical School

In general, the minimum requirements for admission to recognized medical schools can be met by 4 units in chemistry, 2 units in physics, 2 units in biology, mathematics through calculus, and 2 units of English. Because there is some variation in minimum requirements, students should consult the most recent catalogues of the particular medical schools in which they are interested.

Many students planning to study medicine elect premedical sciences in the freshman year and major in one of them. A number of medical schools stress the importance of a liberal arts education as a preparation for medical studies and accept applicants regardless of their major provided they have fulfilled the minimum requirements for admission. Premedical students, therefore, are free to major in the field which interests them most.

The chairman and members of the Premedical Advisory Committee will be glad to discuss curricular problems with students who are considering going into medicine.
Civil Service

A student wishing to qualify for examinations offered by the United States Civil Service Commission or various state and local civil service agencies should consult the major department and the Career Services Office about current requirements.

Requirements for Degree of Master of Arts

The Master of Arts degree is offered in art, biological sciences, and chemistry. The college does not maintain a program of courses for graduate students separate from those offered for undergraduates. Properly qualified graduate students are admitted to Grade III courses, to seminars, and to course 350, Research or Individual Study.

A candidate for the degree of Master of Arts is required to complete 8 units graduate work, which ordinarily includes a thesis embodying the results of original research. The program is arranged by the student’s major department and is subject to the approval of the Committee on Graduate Instruction. A reading knowledge of French or German, to be tested by examination at entrance, is required. Individual departments may require a second language. A comprehensive examination testing the work of all the courses counting toward the degree is required of all candidates. At least one year in residence is required of all candidates.

Information regarding admission, living arrangements and graduate assistantships may be obtained from the Committee on Graduate Instruction, Office of the Dean of the College.

Continuing Education

Through its Office of Continuation Education, Wellesley College provides a nonresidential program in which qualified women may enroll, either part-time or full-time, in regular course work at the College. Some of these women will be resuming study toward the Bachelor of Arts degree after an interruption in their college work; others who have undergraduate degrees may need further training or re-education in preparation for graduate study, or may simply wish to start exploring a new field.

Interested women hoping to combine further study with family or vocational responsibilities are invited to write the Office of Continuing Education for further information.

← Tetrahedron
A semester course which carries 1 unit of credit requires approximately eleven hours of work each week spent partly in class and partly in preparation. The amount of time scheduled for classes varies with the subject from two periods each week in many courses in the humanities and social sciences to three, four, or five scheduled periods in certain courses in foreign languages, in art and music, and in the sciences. Classes are scheduled from Monday morning through late Friday afternoon; examinations may be scheduled from Monday morning through late Saturday afternoon.

History of Art

Some of the courses in art history include laboratory work in the one or more media with which the course is concerned. The department believes that laboratory training has great value in developing observation and understanding of artistic problems, and for this reason requires it of majoring students. It should be stated, however, that no particular aptitude is required and that the work is adjusted to the student’s ability.
A master's degree is offered in history of art. Eight units of advanced-level work are required, including Art 345 and at least 1 unit of Art 350. A comprehensive examination and reading knowledge of two foreign languages, German and either French, Italian, Latin, or Greek are required for the completion of the degree.

100 (1-2) Introductory Course 2

The major styles in western architecture, sculpture, and painting from ancient Greece to c. 1800. A foundation for further study of the history of art. Simple laboratory work requiring no previous training or artistic skill planned to give the student a greater understanding of artistic problems. Open only to freshmen and sophomores.

THE STAFF

200 (1) Classical Art 1

Topic for 1971–72: Greek painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Geometric period to the death of Cleopatra. Greek sculpture will be emphasized and some attention will be paid to the impact of Greek forms on later western art. Topic for 1972–73: Art in the cities of the Roman Empire. The design of Roman cities and the buildings in them as well as the public and private monuments which illustrate the character of the Roman state and the nature of Roman taste. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100 or 215, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS MARVIN

201 (2)* Near Eastern and Bronze Age Art 1

The art and archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean from 3000 B.C. to 1200 B.C. The interrelations of the cultures of Egypt, Mesopotamia, Minoan Crete, Mycenaean Greece, and their neighbors will be studied. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite and to freshmen by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72

202 (1) Medieval Sculpture and Painting 1

A study of western European sculpture, manuscript painting, invories, and metal work from the late Roman through the High Gothic period. Open to sophomores who have taken 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. FERGUSSON
203 (2)  Medieval Architecture

The architecture of Western Europe from the fall of Rome to the beginning of the Renaissance with particular concentration on the great Romanesque and Gothic monuments. Occasional conferences. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have taken or are taking 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. FERGUSSON

215 (1)  European Art to the Renaissance

The major movements in architecture, sculpture, and painting from classical antiquity to c. 1400. Students attend course 100 lectures and have the option of attending course 100 conferences. Reading and paper assignments differ from those of 100. Students will be assigned staff advisers. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Not open to students who have taken 100.

THE STAFF

216 (2)  European Art from the Renaissance to the Nineteenth Century

Western art from the Renaissance to the 19th century with emphasis on painting, sculpture, and architecture. Students attend course 100 lectures and have the option of attending course 100 conferences. Reading and paper assignments differ from those of 100. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Not open to students who have taken 100.

THE STAFF

219 (1)  Painting and Sculpture of the Nineteenth Century

A study of painting and sculpture of the 19th century in Europe and America with emphasis on France. Open to sophomores who have taken 100, by permission to freshmen who are taking 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. JANIS

220 (1)  Painting and Sculpture of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries in Southern Europe

A study of Italian and Spanish painting and sculpture with special emphasis on Caravaggio and Bernini, and on El Greco and Velásquez. Prerequisite: same as for 202.

MR. WALLACE
221 (2)  Painting and Sculpture of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries in Northern Europe

Flemish, Dutch, French, and German painting and sculpture of the 17th century with emphasis on Rembrandt and Rubens. French and English painting and sculpture of the 18th century. Prerequisite: same as for 202.

MR. WALLACE

224 (1-2)  Modern Art

1 or 2

The major developments in painting, sculpture, and architecture from early in this century to the present. Conference sections in second semester. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Background reading is required if elected in second semester only. Prerequisite: 100 or 216 or 219, or permission of the instructor.

MR. MOFFETT

225 (1)  American Art

A survey of American art from colonial times to the present. Emphasis on developments in painting, sculpture, architecture, and the decorative arts before 1900. Some attention given to the relation between the art and the social history and literature of the time. Prerequisite: same as for 202.

MRS. FRIEDMAN

226 (1)  History of Afro-American Art

A survey of Afro-American art from colonial times to the present. Special attention will be given to the relationship between Afro-American art and social and cultural conditions in America. Open to all students.

248 (2)  Chinese Art

Survey of the major artistic traditions of China through monuments of the Bronze Age, Buddhist sculpture and painting from the Han to the Ch’ing Dynasty. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have had 1 unit in the history of art; or History 225 or 226 or 227 or 338; or Religion 253; or by permission of the instructor.

MRS. CLAPP

249 (1)  Far Eastern Art

Japanese art. An introduction to the sculpture and pictorial arts of Japan from the early Buddhist period through the 18th century woodblock print. Prerequisite: same as for 248.

MRS. CLAPP

302 (1) Italian Painting: the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Centuries

A study of selected artists whose work significantly illustrates the character of the late medieval and the early Renaissance styles. Particular attention to Florentine masters. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking a Grade II unit in the department, or by permission of the instructor.

MR. SHELL

303 (2) Italian Painting: the Sixteenth Century

Studies of the major masters of the High Renaissance followed by the examination of some selected Mannerist painters and of those developments within 16th century painting which lead in the direction of the Baroque. Considerable attention to Venetian masters. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MR. SHELL

304 (1) Late Medieval and Renaissance Sculpture

A study of major sculptors from the 14th century to the end of the 16th century with emphasis on Italy and the work of Giovanni Pisano, Donatello, Ghiberti, and Michelangelo. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MRS. ANDERSON

306 (1) (2) The Graphic Arts

First semester: The graphic arts from the Renaissance to the present. Emphasis on the styles of Dürer, Rembrandt, Goya, Picasso. Special attention to the influence of technique upon style. Laboratory instruction in the processes of woodcut, engraving, etching, lithography. Visits to collections. Second semester: A survey of photography in France, England, and the United States in the 19th and 20th centuries. Topics will include styles of individual photographers and movements, the problem of "style" in photography, and the reciprocal relations between photography and the graphic arts. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 1 Grade II unit in the department.

MRS. JANIS
308 (1) Renaissance and Baroque Architecture 1

The early and High Renaissance, Mannerist, and Baroque styles of the 15th through the 18th centuries, with particular emphasis on Italy. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MRS. FRIEDMAN

311 (2) Painting of Northern Europe 1

The period from the late 14th century to the mid-16th century in France, Germany, and the Low Countries. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MRS. AIKEN

312 (2) Problems in Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Century Art 1

MRS. JANIS

330 (2)* Seminar. Italian Painting 1

Intensive study of one or more of the fundamental problems in the history of Italian painting. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 302 or 303. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MRS. ANDERSON
Seminar 1

MR. SHELL

Seminar. Medieval Art 1

Intensive study of one or a series of related problems in medieval painting or sculpture. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 202 or 203.

MR. FERGUSSON

Seminar. Baroque Art 1

Problems of style, connoisseurship, and iconology in 17th century art concentrating on major Italian or northern Baroque masters. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 220 or 221.

MR. WALLACE

Seminar. Ancient Art 1

Topic for 1971–72: Problems in the history of Greek art. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 200 or 201, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS MARVIN

Seminar. Selected Problems in the History of Art 1

Senior Major Seminar 1

Comparative study of the major art historical approaches and their philosophical bases: connoisseurship, iconography, theories of the evolution of art, theories of style, psychoanalysis and art, psychology of perception, and theories of art criticism. Required in the senior year of all art majors except honors candidates.

(1) MR. MOFFETT
(2) MRS. CLAPP

Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking a Grade III unit.
370 (1-2) Honors Research
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Studio Courses

As many as 4 units of studio work may normally be counted toward the B.A. degree provided that the student also elects at least 2 units in the history of art. The first 2 units of studio work should ordinarily follow or be concurrent with work in the history of art. Up to 2 additional units of studio work may be elected if the student’s plan of work is recommended by a member of the faculty in studio art and approved by the chairman of the department.

104 (2) Introductory Sculpture
Basic modeling with emphasis on intensive observation of natural forms to develop the ability to translate volume and space into sculptural terms. Some work in terra cotta, direct plaster, and casting. Four periods of class instruction and four of studio practice. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and by permission to freshmen who have studied art before entering college.

MR. LARRABEE

105 (1) (2) Introductory Drawing
Introductory drawing with emphasis on basic forms in spatial relationships. Stress on the essential control of line in a variety of media. Four periods of class instruction and four of studio practice. Prerequisite: same as for 104.

(1) MR. LARRABEE, MR. SOKOLOFF
(2) MR. RAYEN
MR. RAYEN
MR. ROBINSON

106 (2) Introductory Color and Painting
Basic problems in the interaction of colors; study of basic forms in plastic relationships. Five periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Prerequisite: same as for 104.

MR. RAYEN

204 (1) (2) General Techniques Course
A survey of all significant technical material related to the history of western painting from the Middle Ages. Included are laboratory problems of purely technical nature. requiring no artistic skill. Required of all art majors. Open to other students who are taking Grade II or Grade III art history courses.

(1) MR. RAYEN, MR. ROBINSON
(1) (2) MR. LARRABEE
(2) MR. SOKOLOFF

206 (1) Watercolor and Oil Painting 1
Landscape, still life, and painting from model. Five periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100 or 105 or 106.

MRS. FRISCH

208 (1) (2) Advanced Drawing 1
An approach to drawing based upon both direct visual observation and stylistic analysis of master drawings. Problems dealing with the progress from line to form to chiaroscuro. Study of anatomy and composition. Five periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 105, or by permission upon presentation of a portfolio.

(1) MR. ROBINSON
(2) MR. SOKOLOFF

Directions for Election

A major in art must include course 100 (unless an exemption examination is passed) and at least 6 further units in the history of art, chosen to make adequate distribution in the different arts and different periods. Normally 4 units should be elected outside the special area of concentration.

Students majoring in art history should plan to take 204 in the second semester of the sophomore year or in the first semester of the junior year. Art 345 is required for all majors except those who are taking 370.

The department does not encourage overspecialization in one area but, by careful choice of related courses, a student majoring in art may plan a field of concentration emphasizing one period such as Ancient, Medieval, Renaissance, Baroque, 19th or 20th century art. Students interested in such a plan should consult the chairman of the department as early in the freshman or sophomore year as possible.

A reading knowledge of German and French, or Italian, is strongly recommended.

The attention of students is called to the interdepartmental major in classical archaeology.
103 (1) (2)  Introduction to Astronomy  1

Relationships of earth and sky; the solar system, stars, and galaxies. Two periods of lecture and discussion weekly with a third period every other week; laboratory in alternate weeks, and unscheduled evening work at the Observatory for observation and use of the telescopes. Open to all students.

THE STAFF
104 (2)  Stellar and Galactic Astronomy  1

The following topics from Astronomy 103 will be discussed in depth: the sun, ages and evolution of stars, stellar populations, variable and unusual stars, the universe of galaxies. Open to students who have taken 103 and who have four admission units in mathematics or have taken or are taking Mathematics 110 or the equivalent.

MR. BIRNEY

200 (2)  Modern Physics  1

For description and prerequisite see Physics 200.

202 (1)  Optical Physics  1

For description and prerequisite see Physics 202.

203 (1)  Recent Developments in Astronomy  1

Contemporary problems in optical, radio, and space astronomy. Astronomical observations from outside the earth's atmosphere. Radio galaxies and quasars. Prerequisite: 103 or [105].

MR. BIRNEY

206 (1)  Basic Astronomical Techniques I  1

MR. ADLER

207 (2)  Basic Astronomical Techniques II  1

Measurement of stellar radial velocities. Photoelectric and photographic photometry. Applications of the Method of Least Squares and statistical methods. The semester's work includes an independent project at the telescope. Prerequisite: 206.

MR. ADLER

216 (1)  Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences I  1

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 216.
217 (2) Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences II

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 217.

302 (2) Galactic Structure

Distribution and kinematics of the stellar and nonstellar components of the Galaxy. Local structure, solar motion, velocity ellipsoids. Large scale structure, populations, rotation. Prerequisite: 103 or [105], and 216 or Mathematics 208.

MR. KUBINEC

304 (1)* Introduction to Astrophysics

The physical nature of the sun and stars derived from analysis of their spectra. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MR. KUBINEC

349 (1)* Selected Topics

Intensive study of a specific field. Prerequisite: same as for 302. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Research 2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The following courses form the minimum major: 103, 104 or [105], 206, 217, 302; Physics 200, 202; and 1 additional Grade III unit in physics or astronomy. Extradepartmental 110 is strongly recommended. In planning a major program students should note that some of these courses have prerequisites in mathematics and/or physics. Additional courses for the major may be elected in the departments of physics, mathematics, astronomy.

A substantial background in physics is required for graduate study in astronomy. A student planning to enter graduate school in astronomy should supplement the minimum major with courses in physics, including Physics 306 and, if possible, other Grade III work. The student is also urged to acquire a reading knowledge of French, Russian, or German.
BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

PROFESSORS: Creighton*, Wyckoff (Chairman), Fiske

ASSISTANT PROFESSORS: Melvin, Bibb, Allen, Smith, Rubenstein, Coyne, Fogel
INSTRUCTOR: Moyle
LECTURER: Melvin

LABORATORY OF ELECTRON MICROSCOPY

PROFESSOR: Padykula*
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Gauthier

Unless otherwise noted all courses meet for five periods of lecture, discussion, and laboratory weekly.

103 (1) Plant Biology 1
Investigations of plants in the laboratory, field, and greenhouses through observations and experimentation. Emphasis on growth and reproduction in the flowering plants. Open to all students.
MR. BIBB, MISS MOYLE

104 (1) Microbiology 1
Structure, growth, reproduction, and activities of microorganisms, their interaction with the environment, and their economic uses. Open to all students.
MRS. WYCKOFF, MRS. ALLEN
105 (1) (2) Animal Biology
Investigations of representative animals through observations and experimentation. Emphasis on structure and function in relation to the external and internal environment; some work in embryology and the theory of evolution. Open to all students.
(1) MR. RUBENSTEIN, MRS. TRESCOTT
(1) (2) MRS. FISKE, MRS. COYNE

106 (1) (2) Cell Biology
Investigations of cells and organisms through observation and experimentation. Study of cell structure, cell chemistry, energy relationships, and genetics. Open to all students except those taking 107 and 108.
(1) MISS WIDMAYER
(1) (2) MRS. FOGEL
(2) MR. BIBB, MRS. TRESCOTT

107 (1) (2) Cell Biology
Study of cell structure, cell chemistry, energy relationships, and genetics. Two periods of lecture and one period of discussion. No laboratory. This course does not fulfill the laboratory requirement in Group C. Open to all students except those who have taken 106.
(1) MRS. MELVIN
(2) MISS WIDMAYER

108 (2) Cell Biology
Research-type investigations of cells and cell processes. A prerequisite or a corequisite: 107.
MRS. ALLEN

150 Colloquium
NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

201 (1) (2) Introductory Ecology
An introduction to population and community ecology. Interspecific and intraspecific relationships among organisms. Succession of plants and social behavior of animals. Emphasis on evolutionary aspects of ecology. Open to students who have taken 1 unit of biology, or by permission of the instructor.
(1) (2) MISS SMITH
(2) MRS. FOGEL
202 (1)  Comparative Anatomy
Comparative anatomy of the chordates with emphasis on evolutionary trends within the vertebrate group. Dissection of representative forms including the dogfish and the cat. Open to students who have taken 105, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
MR. RUBENSTEIN

203 (2)  Biology of Vascular Plants
A study of ferns and seed plants with emphasis on their anatomy, morphology, and taxonomy. Observation and experimentation in the laboratory, field, and greenhouses. Open to students who have taken 1 unit of biology or the equivalent, or by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.
MISS CREIGHTON

205 (1)  Genetics
Principles of inheritance; structure and function of hereditary informational molecules; application of genetic principles to biological problems. Laboratory and lecture material selected from plant, animal, microbial and human studies. Two periods of lecture and one laboratory session. Prerequisite: 106 or 107, or 104 by permission of the instructor.
MISS WIDMAYER

206 (1)  Histology-Cytology I: Cell and Tissue Structure
The microscopic organization of animal cells and tissues. Ultrastructural and cytochemical features considered, especially in relation to functional activity. Laboratory study includes direct experience with selected histological and histochemical techniques. Prerequisite: 106 or 107, and 105 or 202 or the equivalent. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.
MISS PADYKULA

207 (2)  Biology of Nonvascular Plants
A study of representative algae, fungi, lichens, mosses, and liverworts with emphasis on identification and their use as experimental organisms. Observation and experimentation in the laboratory, field, and greenhouses. Prerequisite: same as for 203.
MR. BIBB
208 (2) Basic Horticulture

Fundamentals of cultivation and propagation of plants; the effects of environment on their growth, and the methods of control of pests and diseases. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite, and to others who have had 103 or the equivalent.

MR. BIBB, MISS MOYLE

209 (2) Bacteriology

Structural organization of bacteria, their metabolism, and their environmental and biological relationships including disease and immunity. Laboratory projects. Prerequisite: 1 unit in biology and 1 unit in chemistry, or 2 units in chemistry, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. WYCKOFF

301 (1) Cell Physiology

Study of the molecular basis of cell function: energy conversions, biological membranes, control mechanisms, contractility, cell communication and selected topics. Emphasis on experimental design and methods. Prerequisite: 106 or 107 and Chemistry 107. Strongly recommended courses are 205 and Chemistry 201 and 210 or the equivalent.

MRS. FOGEL

302 (2) Animal Physiology

Study of function of organ systems in animals. Emphasis on the vertebrates. Prerequisite: 105 and Chemistry 107, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. FISKE, MRS. COYNE

303 (1) Plant Physiology

Hormonal and other aspects of plant growth and development, physiology of reproduction, mineral nutrition, water relations, photosynthesis, and selected topics. Prerequisite: 103 and Chemistry 107, or permission of the instructor.

MR. BIBB

304 (1) Histology-Cytology II: Structure of Organ Systems

Analysis of the microscopic organization of organ systems, particularly those of the mammal. Detailed examination of selected specialized cells; the relationship of ultrastructural and cytochemical features to characteristic physiological processes. Prerequisite: 206 and permission of the instructor.

MISS GAUTHIER

305 (2) Advanced Genetics Seminar 1

Cytological and biochemical aspects of gene structure and function; mutational and recombinational processes; problems of cellular differentiation. Two periods of lecture. Prerequisite: 205 and either 301, or Chemistry 201 or the equivalent, or permission of the instructor.

MISS WIDMAYER

306 (2) Embryology 1

Ontogenetic development in chordates and related forms: fertilization, cleavage, differentiation, organogenesis, metamorphosis, and growth phenomena. Maintenance of pregnancy in mammals. Laboratory emphasis on topographic anatomy and experimental procedure. Open by permission of the instructor.

MR. RUBENSTEIN
307 (2)* Advanced Ecology

In-depth study of population dynamics, speciation, competition, and pollution. Extensive readings in primary source material. Laboratory and field studies. Prerequisite: 201, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MISS SMITH

308 (2)* Plant Morphogenesis

Experimental study of internal and external factors affecting the development of form. Tissue culture and preparation of tissues for cytochemical and microscopic study. Prerequisite: 203 or 207, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MISS CREIGHTON

312 (1) Endocrinology

Regulation and action of hormones, neurohormones, and pheromones. Emphasis on the study of current literature and an original group laboratory project. Open by permission of the instructor.

MRS. FISKE

313 (2) Microbial Physiology and Cytology

Microorganisms used as model systems for the study of cellular growth and its physiological basis, metabolic patterns, biochemical genetics, and relation of structure to function. Prerequisite: 104 or 106 or 107 or 209, and 2 units of chemistry, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. ALLEN

314 (1) Advanced Topics in Microbiology

MRS. WYCKOFF

315 (2)* Terrestrial Vertebrate Zoology

The forms, function and evolution of amphibians, reptiles, birds, and mammals as related to their distribution, behavior, and ecology. Laboratory includes field identification and individual projects. Two lectures and one laboratory period weekly. Prerequisite: 105 and either 201 or 202, or permission of the instructor.

MISS SMITH
319 (2) Advanced Cytology: Biological Ultrastructure

Introduction to the principles and major procedures of electron microscopy. Emphasis on interpretation of ultrastructural and cytochemical features of cellular components, particularly as related to functional activity. A knowledge of the basic principles of biochemistry strongly recommended. Prerequisite: 304 and Chemistry 201 and permission of the instructor.

MISS GAUTHIER

322 (1) Biochemistry I

The study of informational macromolecules, the genetic code, protein synthesis, protein structure, and the mechanism of enzyme and coenzyme action. This course may be counted in the biology major with the approval of the chairman. Prerequisite: Chemistry 201 and 202, or permission of the instructor.

MISS HICKS

323 (2) Biochemistry II

The study of biochemical energetics, metabolism, oxidative phosphorylation, and the mechanism of biological energy utilization. This course may be counted in the biology major with the approval of the chairman. Prerequisite: Chemistry 301, or permission of the instructor.

MISS HICKS

330 (1) Seminar

Topics in cellular control mechanisms. Emphasis on viral control mechanisms and the regulation of photosynthetic and respiratory membrane biogenesis and function. Open by permission of the instructor.

MRS. ALLEN

331 (2) Seminar

Topics in invertebrate zoology. Open by permission of the instructor.

MR. RUBENSTEIN

350 (1-2) Research or Individual Study

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Research

Required of all honors candidates in the department.
Directions for Election

A biology major must include 106 or 107, and one of the following courses: 103, 104, or 105, or their equivalents; and either 1 unit in physics and Chemistry 106, or Chemistry 106 and 107. Biology 205 and Chemistry 201 and 210 are strongly recommended.

Students planning graduate work are advised to take calculus and 2 units of physics in their programs and to acquire a reading knowledge of one or more of the following languages: French, German, Russian.

Within the major, students may design a program in general biology or one which emphasizes subjects dealing with animals, plants, or microorganisms. A broad training in the various aspects of biology is recommended.

Students interested in an interdepartmental major in molecular biology are referred to p. 223 where the program is described. They should consult with the director of the molecular biology program.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 61.

Credit toward the M.A. degree will be given to graduate students for all Grade III courses.
CHEMISTRY

PROFESSORS: Crawford, Webster, Rock
ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS: Loehlin (Chairman), Friedman
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Hicks
INSTRUCTOR: Poccia

Unless otherwise noted, all chemistry courses meet for two periods of lecture and one three and one-half hour laboratory appointment weekly.

101 (1) Contemporary Problems in Chemistry I

Consideration of selected aspects of chemistry and related chemical concepts. Topic for 1971–72: A study of the properties of water. Laboratory: chemistry of water pollution. Open to students who present one admission unit in chemistry. Not to be counted toward the major.

MISS CRAWFORD

102 (2) Contemporary Problems in Chemistry II

Consideration of selected aspects of chemistry and related chemical concepts. Topic for 1971–72: Chemical systems and the quality of life; drugs and medicines, food additives, synthetic materials, etc. Open to all students. An extra meeting each week is required for students who do not present one admission unit in chemistry. Not to be counted toward the major.

MR. FRIEDMAN
106 (1) The Chemical Bond

Properties of matter, atomic structure, bonding, and stereochemistry stressing the relationship between structure and properties. Open to all students. An extra meeting each week is required for students who do not present one admission unit in chemistry and may be required for those who need supplementary work.

THE STAFF

107 (2) Equilibrium

Acid-base, complex-ion, solubility, redox, and solvent-distribution equilibria. Prerequisite: 106.

THE STAFF

201 (1) (2) Organic Chemistry

A study of the synthesis and reactions of typical organic compounds. An additional period may be required for AP students. Prerequisite: 107.

(1) MISS WEBSTER
(2) MISS CRAWFORD

203 (2) Chemical Thermodynamics and Kinetics

Experimental and theoretical aspects of the study of thermodynamics of chemical systems and the rates and rate processes of chemical reactions. An additional period may be required for AP students. Prerequisite: 107 and 1 unit of college physics or the equivalent. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 111 or the equivalent.

MISS ROCK

210 (2) Organic Chemistry. Molecules of Biological Significance

A continuation of 201 stressing the structure and reactions of biologically significant molecules and the mechanisms of biochemical reactions. Prerequisite: 201.

MISS WEBSTER

300 (1) (2) Foundations for Chemical Research

A coordinated program to introduce the student to research methods through the literature and the laboratory. At the beginning of the semester there will be a series of lecture-demonstrations, after which the students will pursue a program related to the work in those Grade III level chemistry courses which they elect for the major. The student is expected to spend the equivalent of 11 hours a week for one semester. One unit of credit will be given on satisfactory completion of the program. Required for a major in chemistry and molecular biology. Prerequisite: 201 and 203. To be offered in 1972–73. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

301 (1) Kinetics and Mechanism I

Correlation of structure and reactivities primarily in organic systems. Elementary chemical kinetics will be introduced. Prerequisite: 201 and [202].

MISS CRAWFORD, MISS ROCK

302 (2) Kinetics and Mechanism II

Correlation of structure and reactivities in inorganic systems through a study of reaction mechanisms. Prerequisite: 301.

MR. FRIEDMAN

303 (1) Organic Chemistry II

Correlation of structure and reactivities in organic systems through a study of reaction mechanisms. Two periods of lecture weekly. Prerequisite: 201 and 203. To be offered in 1972–73. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

311 (1) Structural Chemistry I

A theoretical and experimental study of molecular structure; spectroscopy, elementary quantum theory, symmetry properties. Prerequisite: [202] or 203, and Mathematics 207, or Extradepartmental 216; prerequisite or corequisite, a second unit of college physics.

MR. LOEHLIN

312 (2) Structural Chemistry II 1
A theoretical and experimental study of the states of matter; crystal structure, theories of solids, liquids, gases, and surfaces. Prerequisite: same as for 311.

MR. LOEHLIN

317 (2)× Chemical Instrumentation 1
The use of instruments in the study of chemical systems. Prerequisite: [202] or 203. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

318 (1)× Selected Topics in Inorganic Chemistry 1
Normally a different topic each year. Prerequisite: same as for 317. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

319 (2)× Selected Topics in Organic Chemistry 1
Normally a different topic each year. Prerequisite: 301. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

320 (2) Selected Topics in Advanced Biochemistry 1

MISS HICKS

322 (1) Biochemistry I 1
The study of informational macromolecules, the genetic code, protein synthesis, protein structure, and the mechanism of enzyme and coenzyme action. Prerequisite: 201 and [202] or 203, or permission of the instructor.

MR. POCCIA

323 (2) Biochemistry II 1
The study of biochemical energetics, metabolism, oxidative phosphorylation, and the mechanism of biological energy utilization. Prerequisite: 301, or permission of the instructor.

MISS HICKS
350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study  1 or 2
Open by permission to students who have taken at least 2 Grade II units in chemistry.

370 (1-2)  Honors Research  2
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
The requirements for a major in chemistry will change in 1972–73. Therefore, the 8 units in chemistry must include the following for students who completed [202] or 203 in 1969–70: 301, 302, and 311;
1970–71: 301 and 3 additional Grade III units which may include no more than 1 unit of 350 and 370;
1971–72: 300 and 3 additional Grade III units exclusive of 350 and 370.
In addition, 2 units of college physics and 1 unit of mathematics which has a prerequisite of Mathematics 111 are required for the major.
Students interested in biochemistry or molecular biology are referred to p. 223 where the program is described. They should consult with the director of the molecular biology program.
Students who plan to do graduate work should acquire a reading knowledge of German and of either French or Russian, and consider additional advanced courses in mathematics and physics.
Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 61.
The American Chemical Society has established a set of requirements which it considers essential for the training of chemists. Students wishing to meet the standard of an accredited chemist as defined by this society should consult the chairman of the department of chemistry.

Placement and Exemption Examinations
Students who have had Advanced Placement courses, or two years of secondary school chemistry, or other unusually good preparation should consider the possibility of exempting Chemistry 106 and/or 107 by examination. For exemption with credit students will be expected to submit laboratory notebooks or reports.

Directions for Election

Although the College does not offer a major in Chinese language and literature, students who major in Asian Studies or Chinese Studies that relate to China should consult the chairman of the department and the adviser early in the college career.

For a student majoring in Asian Studies who does not intend to do graduate work, at least one year of Chinese is encouraged, but not required. For a student majoring in Chinese Studies, the minimum requirement is 6 units in Chinese language and literature. History 226, 227, 338, 339; Political Science 306; Art 248 and 249; and Religion 251 are strongly recommended as related courses.

Students who wish to do graduate work in Asian Studies are advised to complete at least two years of Chinese language training.

Course 350 is an opportunity for properly qualified students to work independently in fields not covered in other courses in the department. It can also provide continuing study in classical Chinese literature.

For the non-Mandarin speaking students who can read and write Chinese and wish to continue Chinese studies, arrangements can be made for tutorial classes or special help. These students should contact the chairman of the department.
ECONOMICS

PROFESSORS: Clemence, Bell, Goldman (Chairman)
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Morrison
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Crandall
INSTRUCTORS: Sparks, Johnson, Ladd, Munyon

100 (1) (2) Survey of Modern Macro-Economics

Analysis of economic problems and policies with special reference to the United States today. Organization and operation of business enterprise; labor and management; prosperity and depression; money and banking; the national income and its distribution. Weekly tutorials in each semester for freshmen. (See Economics 355) Open to all students.

THE STAFF
101 (1) (2) Survey of Modern Micro-Economics

Competition and monopoly; demand and supply; analysis of firms and industries; balance of payments; foreign aid and foreign trade; economic growth; comparison of the American economy with others. Open to all students.

THE STAFF

201 (1) (2) Micro-Economic Analysis

Micro-economic theory; analysis of the individual household, firm, and industry. Prerequisite: 100 and 101.

(1) MRS. BELL
(2) MR. MUNYON

202 (1) (2) Macro-Economic Analysis

Macro-economic theory; analysis of aggregate income, output, and employment. Prerequisite: 100.

(1) MRS. CRANDALL
(2) MRS. JOHNSON

203 (1)* Economic History

An economic analysis of European development in the 18th and 19th centuries. A selective application of classical and neoclassical growth models. The development of the market system and modern economic society. Prerequisite or corequisite: 100 and 101. NOT OFFERED IN 1971

MR. MORRISON

204 (1)* American Economic History

The "new" economic history. A sectoral and factorial analysis of the development of the American economy from colonial times to the 20th century. The economics of slavery and the Civil War. The emergence of an industrial state. Prerequisite: same as for 203.

MR. MORRISON

205 (1) (2) The Corporation

The development of the modern corporation and its place in the economy. Corporation organization and financial management. Financial markets; the technical and fundamental aspects of the stock market. Government regulation of corporations and markets. Prerequisite: 100 and 101.

MISS SPARKS
210 (1)  Money and Banking
The structure and operation of the monetary system. Commercial banking and other financial institutions. The Federal Reserve System. Monetary theory and policy. Prerequisite: same as for 203.

MRS. JOHNSON

211 (1) (2)  Elementary Statistics
Descriptive statistics and an introduction to statistical inference. Expected values, probability distributions, and tests of significance. Classical models of bivariate and multiple regression. Problem solving by means of the time-sharing computer. Prerequisite: same as for 203.

(1) MRS. JOHNSON
(2) MR. MORRISON

249 (2)  Seminar. The Economics of Environmental Disruption
The economic forces (externalities) which cause pollution; the costs and who bears the costs; the extent of the problem and possible solutions both here and abroad. Prerequisite: 100 and 101.

MR. GOLDMAN

301 (1)  Comparative Economic Systems
The economics of capitalism, socialism, fascism, and communism. Prerequisite: 201, or 101 and 202.

MR. GOLDMAN

302 (2)  Economic Development
The problems and possibilities of the less developed countries. Prerequisite: same as for 301.

MR. GOLDMAN

305 (1)  Industrial Organization
Analysis of the structure, conduct, and performance of particular industries in the economy. Prerequisite: 201.

MRS. CRANDALL

307 (1)  Consumption and Marketing
Analysis of the theory of consumer choice and of market models applied to patterns of income, spending, and saving. Prerequisite: 201, 202, and 211.

MRS. BELL
310 (1) Public Finance 1
MRS. LADD

312 (2) Economics of Accounting 1
314 (1) International Economics 1

Theory of international trade. Methods of adjustment to disequilibrium in balance of payments. The impact of international movements of commodities and capital on economic activity in the past and since World War II. Current problems: international liquidity, economic integration, the United States balance of payments. Prerequisite: 201 and 202.

MR. MUNYON

315 (1) History of Economic Thought 1

The development of economic thought from ancient to modern times. A brief survey of early economic ideas followed by a more detailed examination of the history of economics since 1776. The systems of the leading economists in the light of their own times and of the present day. Prerequisite: 201. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MR. CLEMENCE

316 (2) Seminar. Recent Economic History 1

Economic history from the depression to the "new" economics. Stagnation, growth, and inflation: an analysis of the major economic events of the 1950's and the 1960's. Prerequisite: 101 and 202. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MR. MORRISON

317 (2) Seminar. Mathematical Economics 1

Applications of elementary calculus to selected topics in economic theory. Use of basic econometric techniques to estimate consumption, investment, and price relationships. Problems and use of computation facilities. Prerequisite: 201 or 202, and 211.

349 (2) Seminar 1

Topic for 1971-72: Economic method, theory, and policy. Readings in the modern literature of economics. Comparisons with earlier works of a theoretical and applied nature. Open to all senior majors and to others by permission of the instructor.

MRS. CRANDALL

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 201 and 202.
355 (1-2)  Tutorial and Seminar

A survey of economic theory and policy; seminar reports on research and independent study; tutorials for course 100 conducted by each student in both semesters. Open upon department recommendation to senior majors.

MR. MORRISON

370 (1-2)  Honors Research

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The complete Survey Course consists of both 100 and 101. Neither 100 nor 101 is a prerequisite for the other, and either may be elected separately for a unit of credit.

A student who plans to take any course after 100 and 101 should consult either the instructor or the department chairman.

Courses 201, 202, and 211 are required for the major; 203 and 204 are strongly recommended.

Students planning careers in business or law should also give special consideration to 205, 210, 305, 307, 312, and 314.

All students are strongly urged to take mathematics as a related subject.
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Bradley (Chairman)
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Sipple
INSTRUCTOR: Sleeper

100 (1) (2) Philosophy of Education 1

Selected philosophies of education, their relevance to twelve or more years of schooling, and their influence on decisions concerning socio-ethical values and responsibilities. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and to students in the second semester of the freshman year.

MRS. BRADLEY, MR. SLEEPER
201 (2) History of Educational Ideas 1

Study of the interrelationship between educational ideas and their historical setting, their influence on the educational process, and their contribution to the general development of culture. Prerequisite: 100.

MR. SIPPLE

202 (1) The Elementary School 1

The organization of the elementary school, its curriculum, the teacher's work, and current educational policies. Emphasis placed on the development and characteristics of elementary school children. Observation in schools required. Prerequisite: 100. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72

Directions for Election

The department offerings are intended to acquaint students systematically with the history of compulsory free education as developed in the United States and now practiced in many countries under different forms, the philosophies which underlie these efforts, the problems to be solved, and, as an adjunct, to aid students who wish to enter teaching immediately after graduation.

Students who intend to teach should (in their freshman year if possible) consult the department concerning the various city and state requirements for the certificate to teach and the appropriate undergraduate preparation for fifth year and paid intern programs which combine professional study with further study in teaching fields and lead to advanced (M.A.T., Ed.D., Ph.D.) degrees.

For those interested in secondary school teaching upon graduation, the following program is recommended:

Freshman year: Psychology 101
Sophomore year: Education 100, and Psychology 212 or 217 or 219
Junior year: Education 300, and 201, 206, or 207, or 301
Senior year: Education 302 and 303

Preparation to teach in elementary schools should include:

Freshman year: Psychology 101
Sophomore year: Education 100, and Psychology 207
Junior year: Education 202, and Psychology 212 or 217
Senior year: Education 201, 206, 207, or 301

A summer program, preferably preceding the senior year, at another accredited institution should include Methods and Supervised Teaching for the Elementary School. With careful planning the same courses can be taken under the Twelve College Exchange Program.

Directions for Election

Grade II level literature courses are open to all students. Some courses, however, assume more competence and previous preparation than others. Although firm categorical distinctions cannot be made, some of these courses meet certain objectives better than others. For example, English 209, 211, and 213 have as their main objective practice in methods of interpretation. These courses are especially recommended to freshmen. Other courses isolate certain major figures or periods for concentrated study, or address themselves to continuing themes and issues. In choosing their courses students are encouraged to consult with their instructors and with other members of the department generally. More complete descriptions of every course, composed by their instructors, are posted every fall and spring on bulletin boards in Founders Hall, and are available from the department secretary.

English majors must take at least one course in Shakespeare, ordinarily on the advanced level. In addition, majors should work closely with their advisers in arranging a program of study with these objectives: (a) ability to interpret a text; (b) an understanding of some of the major works, authors, and periods that comprise the history of English and American literature; (c) a developing interest in some special field of study, such as the English Renaissance, drama, criticism, modernism.

Students of at least B standing in the work of the department will have first consideration when applying for admission to seminars and independent work, course 350.

Courses 109, 200, 201, and 202 are planned as workshops in writing with informal group meetings and frequent individual conferences. While the emphasis is on constant practice in writing, each course requires a critical reading of pertinent examples of the type of writing being studied. Courses 301 and 302 continue the same plan at an advanced level.

Students interested in writing fiction and poetry can apply for 1 or 2 units of 350 in writing, in addition to taking the other writing courses listed, 200, 202, 301, 302. In general, enrollment in writing courses is limited to 15. Students who have demonstrated special ability in fiction, poetry, or drama may be invited to do an honors project in writing.

Knowledge of English and American history, of the course of European thought, of theatre studies, and of at least one foreign literature at an advanced level is of great value to the student of English. See, for example, History 203, 210, 213, 217; Philosophy 203, 204, 207; Grade II and Grade III courses in foreign literatures; Extracurricular 101, 104, 108, 201, 202, 226, 227, 228, 229, 231, 330, 331; and courses in Theatre Studies.

A reading knowledge of at least one ancient or modern foreign language is desirable for all majors. Students expecting to do graduate work in English should ordinarily plan to acquire a reading knowledge of two foreign languages.

Directions for Election

Course 100 counts for the degree but does not count toward the major. Students who begin with 100 in college and who plan to major in French should consult the chairman of the department during the second semester of their freshman year. A student may not count toward the major both 102 and 104. Course 104 may not be elected by students who have taken both 100 and 102.

Upperclassmen majoring in French (with the exception of those who carried 2 units of Grade II in the freshman year) should not elect more than 3 units of Grade II without permission of the department. Majors are required to take two of the following courses: 222, 308, 309. In some cases 224 may also be required.

Courses in other foreign language and literature departments, in art, history (especially 210 and 211), philosophy, English, Extradepartmental 101, 330 and 331, and Religion and Biblical Studies 104 and 105 are recommended for majors.

Students who plan to do graduate work in French are advised to begin or to pursue the study of a second modern language and the study of Latin: those who plan to do graduate work in comparative literature are advised to continue the study of one or more other modern literatures and to acquire proficiency in at least one classical language.

Fundamental facts and principles of earth behavior and history with special reference to Massachusetts and New England. Current problems in oceanography, continental drift, and lunar geology. Field trips and laboratory include study of minerals, rocks, fossils, topographic and geologic maps.

Mrs. Kamilli

200 (2) Historical Geology 1
The geologic history of North America. Reconstruction of evolution of life from fossil records. Paleogeography and ancient sedimentary and tectonic environments. Field trips will develop the geologic history of the region. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 102, or permission of the instructor.

Mr. Andrews
202 (2)° Mineralogy 1

Introduction to crystallography; systematic study of the rock-forming minerals. Emphasis on geochemical relationships including bonding, solid solution series, and phase diagrams. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 2 units of physical science, preferably Chemistry 106 and/or 107, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. KAMILLI

205 (1)° Invertebrate Paleontology 1

The morphology and evolution of the major fossil invertebrate phyla with discussion of such general topics as functional morphology, origin of species and higher taxa, ontogeny and phylogeny, animal size and shape relationships, and the theory of evolution. Laboratory and field trips. Prerequisite: 102 or 200 or Biology 105, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.
206 (1)* Structural Geology 1

The recognition, description and causes of deformation of the earth’s crust. Topics include the tectonic history of mountain ranges, scale models of geologic structures, mechanics of folding and faulting, comparison of the structure of the Alps and the Appalachians, plate tectonics, and sea floor spreading. Laboratory, field work, and field trips. Prerequisite: same as for 200. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

207 (1)* Optical Mineralogy 1

Basics of optical crystallography. Application of modern methods to the identification of silicates in grains and thin section. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 202, or Physics 202.

MRS. KAMILLI

249 (1) Marine Geology 1

Geology of the ocean floor with emphasis on shoreline and submarine processes, ocean currents and sediments, origin and development of the continental shelves. Other subjects will include study of submarine canyons, coral reefs, ocean basin tectonics, the deep sea floor, and ocean life. Field trips to Woods Hole and Cape Cod. No laboratory. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

THE STAFF

304 (1)* Stratigraphy and Sedimentation 1

The formation, composition, and correlation of stratified rocks. Emphasis on sedimentary environments and paleoecology, correlation by fossils and radiogenic techniques, transportation, deposition and consolidation of sedimentary particles. Laboratory. Field trips to both modern sedimentary environments and their ancient rock analogues. Prerequisite: 102 and 200, or permission of the instructor.

MR. ANDREWS

309 (2)* Petrology 1

Study of the origin and occurrence of igneous and metamorphic rocks with particular reference to modern geochemical investigations. Examination and description of hand specimens and thin sections under the petrographic microscope. Prerequisite: 202 or 207, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. KAMILLI
310 (2) Research Methods in Geology 1

Problems in geologic data analysis using statistical and computer methods, macro-, micro-, and x-ray photography, field mapping, mineral separation and x-ray diffraction techniques. Other topics will be chosen according to students' interests. Laboratory. Field trips. Prerequisite: 102 and 1 Grade III unit, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

349 (2) Vertebrate Paleontology 1

Major features of the evolution of vertebrates as revealed through fossils. Mass extinctions, vertebrate adaptations and functional morphology, differentiation and diversification of vertebrate groups, paleoenvironments, and the origin and evolution of man. Laboratory. Prerequisite: same as for 205.

MR. ANDREWS

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Research 2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

A minimum major in geology ordinarily should include 102, 202, 205, 206, 304 and 309, and requires 4 units from other laboratory sciences or mathematics. (All 4 units may not be taken in the same department.) Advanced courses in mathematics, chemistry, or physics will be suggested according to the student's needs, interests, and ability.

A student planning graduate work should note that most graduate geology departments require at least a full year (2 units) each of chemistry, calculus, and physics. (Biology often may be substituted for physics if the student is interested in paleontology.) In addition, graduate study usually requires a reading knowledge of French and/or German or Russian.

The department strongly recommends that major students attend one of the Rocky Mountain geology field courses given by other colleges. Credit may be given for such courses provided the student's plans are approved in advance by the department.
GERMAN

PROFESSOR: Goth (Chairman)
INSTRUCTORS: Duckworth, Ward
LECTURER: Deutsch

The language of the classroom in all courses is almost exclusively German. The student thus has constant practice in hearing, speaking, and writing German.

The department reserves the right to place a new student in the course for which the student seems best prepared regardless of the number of units the student has offered for admission.

By doing special reading during the summer and upon approval of the chairman, capable students in 100 have the opportunity to omit 102 and proceed with 202.

Qualified students may be recommended to spend the junior year in Germany. See p. 58.

100 (1-2) Elementary German 2

Study of grammar and vocabulary; frequent written exercises; reading of short stories; special emphasis on oral expression. Three periods. Open to students who do not present German for admission.

THE STAFF
102 (1-2) Intermediate German  2

Intensive language study; emphasis on idiomatic usage and on syntax. Introduction to the critical study of literary texts, mainly 19th and 20th century. Three periods. Prerequisite: 100 or two admission units in German.

THE STAFF

202 (1-2) Pattern in Literary Thought  1 or 2

Modern drama, poetry, and prose in relation to works of earlier writers. Brecht-Lessing, Hesse-Goethe, Grass-Grimmelshausen, and others. Three periods. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Prerequisite: 102, or three or more admission units in German, or, by permission of the department, 100. Permission will be based on a satisfactory grade in 100 and summer work.

MISS GOTH, MRS. DEUTSCH

204 (1) Goethe I  1

Lyric, prose, and drama before Goethe's return from Italy. Prerequisite: 2 units of [200] or 2 units of 202.

MISS GOTH

205 (1)* From Romanticism to Realism  1

MISS GOTH

206 (2)* Nineteenth Century Literature  1

Late Romanticism and Realism. Lyric and prose. Mörike, Heine, Stifter, Keller, C. F. Meyer, Fontane. Prerequisite: same as for 204. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MISS GOTH

210 (1)* German Drama  1

Theory and practice between the age of Gottsched and Brecht. The theories of Gottsched, Lessing, Schiller, Hebbel, and Brecht will be included as well as the drama of Schiller, Büchner, Kaiser, and others. Prerequisite: 1 Grade II unit.

MISS WARD
304 (2) Goethe II

Goethe, the poet and the thinker, with emphasis on Faust, and his writings after 1788. Prerequisite: 204.

MISS GOTH

308 (1) Literature of the Late Nineteenth and the Early Twentieth Centuries

Intellectual and aesthetic trends of the period. Varied texts: dramas, lyric poetry, novels, essays, letters of representative authors. Prerequisite: 205 or 206 or 1 Grade III unit. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

312 (2) Literature of the Twentieth Century

Aspects and tendencies of 20th century literature from the First World War to the present time. Prerequisite: 3 Grade II units, or permission of the instructor.

MISS GOTH

349 (2) Seminar. The Writer and His Age

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Research

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

Course 100 is counted for the degree but not for the major.

Students who begin with 100 and who wish to major in German should consult the department in order to obtain permission to omit 102 and take 202.

Students intending to major in the department are requested to take 202, 204, 304 and at least 2 further units of Grade III work.

Courses 205, 210, 312 and one seminar are strongly recommended for the major.

Courses in art, history, philosophy, English, literature courses in other foreign language departments, and Extradepartmental 330 and 331 are recommended.
GREEK AND LATIN

ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS: Lefkowitz (Chairman), Geffcken

Open to seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Research 2
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

To fulfill the distribution requirement in Group A, students may elect any courses in Greek or Latin except 200 and 201.

The following may not be counted toward a major in Greek or Latin: Greek 101, 200, 203, 204, [228]; Greek/Latin 104, 150; Latin 201, [229].

All students majoring in Greek must complete 4 units of Grade III work.

All students majoring in Latin are required to complete 301, 302, and at least 2 units of the following: 308, 309, 316, 317. Students planning to teach are advised to elect 206.

Latin students who offer an AP Latin score of 5 should elect 249; an AP score of 4 normally leads to 202, but under special circumstances permission may be given to elect 249.

Students majoring in Greek or Latin are advised to elect some work in the other language. It should be noted that work in both Greek and Latin is essential for graduate students in the classics.

Courses in ancient history, ancient art, ancient philosophy, and classical mythology are recommended as valuable related work. Students interested in a major in classical archaeology are referred to p. 223 where the program is described.

Students who wish to focus a classical major on ancient civilization can plan with the department an appropriate sequence of courses, which should include work in art, history, and literature. Such a program should always contain at least 4 units of work in the original language. Basic knowledge of French or German is recommended.
HISTORY

PROFESSORS: Gulick, Robinson, Preyer (Chairman), Cohen
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Cox
ASSISTANT PROFESSORS: Auerbach, McLaughlin, Bernstein, Bertocci
INSTRUCTORS: Conzen, Hay, Dickison
LECTURERS: Berlin, Chaplin

100 (1) (2) Medieval and Early Modern European History

An introduction to the history of Europe from the disintegration of the Roman Imperium through the medieval synthesis and the age of the Renaissance and Reformation, designed to provide understanding of the movements and institutions that have helped to shape western history. Open to all students.

MRS. McLAUGHLIN

101 (1) (2) Modern European History

The elements of continuity and change in the modern world. The emergence of the European state system. The scientific revolution. The expansion of Europe. The Ancien Régime and age of revolutions. Nationalism and industrialization. World wars; totalitarianism and the development of secular ideologies; present world problems. Open to all students.

THE STAFF
Colloquia

For directions for applying see p. 230. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1)

a. The role of women in antiquity. An investigation of the subservient position of women in Greece and Rome. Selected reading from ancient historical, philosophical, and literary sources.

MISS DICKISON

b. Religion in African history. An examination of the forms and functions of traditional African religions, including the place of divine kingship; the impact of Islam and Christianity, including the Muslim empires of West Africa; and the growth of messianic movements and independent African churches in the modern period.

MISS HAY

c. Changing modes of political realism. Realism in foreign policy as reflected in the statecraft of Machiavelli, Napoleon, Castlereagh, Bismarck, and Woodrow Wilson. The intention of this colloquium is to dissect "political realism," to show how variable it has been, and to attempt to define it with reference to the theories and policies of five outstanding practitioners who took widely differing stands. Emphasis on freeflowing discussion.

MR. GULICK

d. Politics and the novel in France, 1815–1914. An introduction to French history in the 19th century. Novels of Stendahl, Balzac, Flaubert, and others, used to illuminate significant cultural tensions arising from political, social, and intellectual developments.

MR. BERTOCCI

e. The "lost generation". The sources of generational consciousness for post-World War I young Americans, and their shared responses during the 1920’s.

a. Imperialism in modern East Asian history. After introductory reading in modern Chinese and Japanese history and in various theories of imperialism, the class will explore the impact of western imperialism in China and Japan and of Japanese imperialism in Korea. The aims of the course will be to test the adequacy of the more prominent general theories of imperialism as explanations of imperialism "as it was" in East Asia and to explore the purposes, procedures, and problems of comparative history.

MR. COHEN

b. Religion in African history. Same as 150b (1).

MISS HAY

c. Changing modes of political realism. Same as 150c (1).

MR. GULICK

d. Politics and the novel in France, 1815–1914. Same as 150d (1).

MR. BERTOCCI

200 (2) History of Greece

The failure of democracy in Greece; a study of the historical evidence for the development of democracy in Athens; the effects of the acquisition of an empire and the results of the confrontation with Sparta. Open to all students.

MISS DICKISON

201 (2) History of Rome

Violence as a factor in Roman politics; a study of the forms which political violence took in ancient Rome and the problems of its control. Particular attention will be paid to the period 133-44 B.C. Open to all students. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MISS DICKISON

202 (1) Europe in the Twentieth Century

A general survey of 20th century Europe focusing on selected topics (fascism, communism, appeasement, etc.). Emphasis will be on France, England, and Germany with some discussion of developments in Italy, Russia, and eastern Europe. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have had high school preparation in modern European history or who have taken 101, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. BERNSTEIN
203 (1) Classical and Medieval Intellectual History 1

A history of western thought from the Greeks to the end of the 14th century. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. CHAPLIN

204 (2) History of Modern Western Thought 1

A consideration of the history of western thought from Descartes to such contemporaries as Merleau-Ponty, with particular emphasis on man's changing notions of the relationship of self to society. Not open to students who have taken [203 (2)]. Prerequisite: same as for 203.

MR. BERTOCCI

207 (1-2) History of Modern Germany 1 or 2

A study of the major political, social, economic, and cultural developments in Germany from the mid-17th century to the present. The first semester will focus primarily on the 18th and 19th centuries; the second, primarily on the 20th century. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to sophomores who have taken 100 or 101 or courses in the related language or literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

208 (1-2) History of Africa 1 or 2

First semester: A history of Africa from the earliest times to the period just preceding the establishment of European rule (1880). Emphasis on population movements, state formation, and cultural change. Second semester: The scramble for Africa and the establishment of colonial rule, social and economic changes under colonialism, the rise of nationalism, and forms of nation-building in independent Africa. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Open to all students.

MISS HAY

209 (1-2) History of Russia 1 or 2

First semester: The Kievan State to 1861. Second semester: 1861 to the present with emphasis on the Soviet State and its institutions. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Prerequisite: same as for 207.

MRS. BERLIN

First semester: English origins of American constitutionalism, the transmission of English legal institutions to the American Colonies, the federal Constitution, and the development of the role of the Supreme Court to 1837. Second semester: Analysis of constitutional controversies in the context of political and economic change in the 19th and 20th centuries. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 2 Grade II units of history or political science, or by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MRS. PREYER

310 (1-2) Social History of the United States

The development of American society through changes in the composition and distribution of the population; family, class, and occupational structures; institutional life; pathology; and social ideology. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 2 Grade II units of history, or by permission of the instructor.

MRS. CONZEN
313 (2) Intellectual History of Russia 1

Emphasis on the tradition of radical social thought in the 19th and early 20th centuries. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MRS. BERLIN

330 (2) Seminar. Medieval Europe

Topic for 1971–72: Heresy and the Inquisition. Problems in medieval religious dissent. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor. (See Directions for Election)

MRS. McLAUGHLIN

331 (1) Seminar. Problems of Historical Investigation. English History

Topic for 1971–72: Aspects of “modernization” in Victorian England. An introduction to some of the disagreements among historians about the nature of the Victorian approach towards democracy, towards a welfare state, and towards a more enlightened treatment of women and children. Research in the primary sources on individual topics to enable the students to strengthen their own conclusions. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MRS. ROBINSON

332 (2) Seminar. Afro-American History 1

Topic for 1971–72: Research seminar in 19th century Afro-American history from a Black point of view. Students will be expected to do original research. Prerequisite: same as for 330. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

333 (1) Seminar. American History I 1

MRS. PREYER

335 (2) Seminar. American History II 1

Topic for 1971–72: The Great Depression. An intensive examination of selected aspects of American society between 1929 and 1941 in an attempt to determine the impact of the Depression upon the lives and institutions of Americans. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. AUERBACH
336 (2) Seminar. American Urban History 1

Topic for 1971–72: The social ecology of the American city. Analysis of the historical processes that created the functional and social segregation of the modern American city, with emphasis on the social consequences of the changing spatial order. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MRS. CONZEN

337 (1) Seminar. Problems of Historical Investigation. French History 1

Topic for 1971–72: The French Revolution. An introduction to the problems which the French Revolution poses for historical understanding. A survey of the manner in which French historians have treated the Revolution over the last one and one half centuries to prepare students to attempt their own contribution to an ongoing historical debate. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. BERTOCCI

338 (2) Seminar. Chinese History I 1

Topic for 1971–72: The western presence in 19th century China. Through intensive exploration of selected themes, an effort will be made to define critically the West’s role as a causal agent in the late Ch’ing period (c. 1850–1900). Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. COHEN

339 (1) Seminar. Chinese History II 1

Exploration of selected problems in Chinese Communist history. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. COHEN

341 (2) Seminar. Problems in Historical Investigation in German History 1

Topic for 1971–72: Fascism. The case of Germany. The purpose of the seminar is threefold: (1) to investigate the origins and nature of National Socialism (2) to examine the uses of various techniques in historical investigation, e.g., biography, quantification, psychology, sociology (3) to consider various types of broader interpretations of fascism and the kinds of factors which shape these views, e.g., the Jewish refugee, the conservative German, the Anglo-Saxon Germanophobe. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

342 (2)  Seminar. African History

Topic for 1971-72: African imperialism in the 19th century. An examination of various African states which expanded in the 19th century through military conquest, comparing their political and military institutions and ideologies, factors which contributed to their rise and decline, and the resulting social and economic changes in the conquered areas. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MISS HAY

343 (2)  History of the Middle East

Social and cultural institutions of the Islamic Empires up to the 19th century; the impact of the West and the rise and development of national movements in the 19th and 20th centuries. Prerequisite: same as for 330. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MRS. BERLIN

350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2)  Honors Research

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The general European history survey courses (100 and 101), and Grade II survey courses in classical (200, 201), Asian (225, 226, 227), and African (208) history are open to all students without prerequisite. In addition, freshmen and sophomores with a strong secondary school background in European history (modern and ancient or medieval) may elect as a beginning course 203, 204, 207, 209, 213.
The colloquia are available to freshmen and sophomores without prerequisite. Since colloquia enrollments are limited, special application must be made. Incoming freshmen may obtain application forms from the class dean, sophomores from the department secretary, Founders Hall 120. If a colloquium is oversubscribed the instructor will decide which applicants are to be accepted. Students are advised to apply for more than one, indicating first, second, and third choices if they wish.

History 100 is strongly recommended for students planning to major in history. History 101 is also strongly recommended for students who plan to major and who have not taken a modern European history survey in high school.

A wide variety of programs may provide insight into the nature and scope of history as a discipline. Accordingly, the major student is given great latitude in designing a program of study. The student may elect courses freely but ordinarily should have as a primary focus one of the following: (1) a particular geographic area, nation, or culture (2) a limited time period (3) a special aspect of history, e.g., social, diplomatic, intellectual (4) a significant historical problem or theme, e.g., revolution, urbanization, racism. In designing a program students are encouraged to consider courses given at MIT and in other departments at Wellesley. The concept of the major should be discussed with the major adviser and students should consult with their advisers about changes they may wish to make in the course of the junior and senior years.

History 300 and the seminars entitled "Problems of Historical Investigation" are expressly designed to introduce the students to some of the methodological and interpretive problems inherent in the writing of history through the use of specific examples. History 300 traces the development of history as a discipline and then examines some problems confronting historians today. The seminars in historical investigation focus on one particular problem area, involving the student in research and in a self-conscious consideration of historiographical as well as substantive questions. History majors are urged to give serious consideration to electing either 300 or one of the seminars in historical investigation, preferably in the junior year.

Seminars, unless otherwise indicated, are open by permission of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors. Since enrollments are limited, a student wishing to apply for admission to one or more seminars must fill out an application blank, available in the department office, Founders Hall 120.
ITALIAN

PROFESSOR: Avitabile (Chairman)
INSTRUCTOR: Ellerman

All courses are conducted in Italian except 150, 226, and 227. In all courses except seminars some work will be required in the laboratory.
Qualified students may be recommended to spend the junior year in Italy. See p. 58.

100 (1-2)  Elementary Italian  2
Development of basic language skills for the purpose of acquiring contemporary spoken Italian and a reading knowledge useful in the study of other disciplines. A general view of Italian civilization. Three periods.

THE STAFF

150 (1)  Colloquium  1
For directions for applying see p. 230. Open by permission to a limited number of freshmen and sophomore applicants.

(1)
Contemporary Italy. The achievements and problems of present-day Italy seen in historical perspective. The course will make use of literary, historical, and sociological materials to throw light upon a society in dynamic transformation, half European and half Mediterranean in its culture. After a history of chronic fragmentation, with a brilliant high-point in the Renaissance, Italy faces today many of the problems of the developing nations. Conducted in English.

MISS AVITABILE

202 (1) Intermediate Italian

Written and oral practice to develop fluency. Topics of contemporary interest, with readings from newspapers, periodicals, and suitable short stories. Three periods. Prerequisite: 100 or its equivalent.

MISS AVITABILE

203 (1) Introduction to Contemporary Italian Fiction

Study of selected works by authors such as Pirandello, Vittorini, Pavese. Written and oral practice to develop fluency. Three periods. Prerequisite: same as for 202.

MRS. ELLERMAN

206 (2) Introduction to the Literature of the Nineteenth Century

Study of selected works by authors such as Leopardi, Manzoni, Verga. Prerequisite: 202 or 203.

MRS. ELLERMAN

207 (2) Significant Moments of Italian Literature: the Middle Ages to the Post-Renaissance

An introduction to the Golden Age of Italian literature. Study and analysis of selected works by such authors as Saint Francis of Assisi, Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Leonardo da Vinci, Machiavelli, Castiglione, Guicciardini, and Ariosto. Prerequisite: 202.

MRS. ELLERMAN

226 (1) Renaissance Humanism

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 226. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

227 (2) Petrarch and the European Love Lyric

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 227. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.
301 (1-2) Dante
A study of Dante's Divina Commedia and minor works. Prerequisite: 206 or 207, or permission of the instructor.
MISS AVITABILE

303 (2) Italian Romanticism
Preromantic and romantic literature with special reference to Foscolo, Leopardi, and Manzoni. Prerequisite: same as for 301.
MISS AVITABILE

308 (1) From Verismo to Neo-Realism
A study of the main trends in Italian fiction since 1860, as seen in the works of such representative authors as Verga, D'Annunzio, Pirandello, Svevo, Moravia, Pratolini, Vittorini, Pavese. An anthological view of the poetry of the same period will be introduced to complement the study. Prerequisite: same as for 301.
MRS. ELLERMAN

349 (2) Seminar
Topic for 1971-72: Modern Italian literary criticism. Study of critics such as De Sanctis and Croce and of contemporary trends. Open by permission of the instructor.
THE STAFF

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
Open by permission to students who have completed 2 units in literature in the department.

370 (1-2) Honors Research
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
Course 100 counts for the degree but does not count for the major. Courses 226 and 227 count for the major.
Courses in one or more other literatures, ancient or modern, in art, history, philosophy, and Extradepartmental 330 and 331, are recommended as valuable related work.
Majors planning to do graduate work in Italian are advised to take at least 1 unit in French or Spanish literature and to have a reading knowledge of Latin or of a third Romance language.
MATHEMATICS

PROFESSORS: Schafer, Evans
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Norvig (Chairman)
ASSISTANT PROFESSORS: Auslander, Renz, Wilcox, Myers, Blumenthal, Stehney

All courses meet for two periods weekly with a third period every other week.

100 (1) (2) Introduction to Mathematical Thought

Study of form in mathematical thought with emphasis on interrelationships of structural patterns. Material selected from such areas as number theory, algebraic and geometric structures, and theory of infinite sets. Courses 100 and 102 are intended primarily as terminal courses; both may be elected. Open to all students except those who have taken or are taking 107.

THE STAFF

102 (1) (2) Introduction to Finite Mathematics 1

Topics selected from such areas as logic, sets, partitions, probability, vectors and matrices; applications in the biological and social sciences. Courses 102 and 100 are intended primarily as terminal courses; both may be elected. Open to all students.

THE STAFF
107 (1) (2)  Fundamental Concepts of Mathematics

Mathematics viewed as structural form through study of algebraic and geometric systems, construction of the real and complex number systems, axiomatic theories, and other foundational topics. Material similar to that of 100 but treated in greater depth. Open to all students except those who have taken or are taking 100.

MISS EVANS

108 (1) (2)  Techniques of Calculus

This course is devoted almost exclusively to techniques and applications. It is primarily intended for students requiring calculus for applications in the social or physical sciences. Topics include differentiation, integration, partial derivatives, with applications to extrema, velocities, related rates, areas, and volumes. The course introduces most of the techniques developed in 110 and 111. Not open to students who have taken or are taking either 110 or 111. Open to students who have some acquaintance with trigonometric functions.

THE STAFF

110 (1) (2)  Calculus I

Study of functions of one variable. Limits and continuity. Differential calculus of algebraic functions with applications. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 108. Open to students who have some acquaintance with trigonometric functions.

THE STAFF

111 (1) (2)  Calculus II

The Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. The trigonometric, the logarithmic and the exponential functions. Techniques of integration. Prerequisite: 110, or a substantial introduction to the calculus, or 108 by permission of the department.

THE STAFF

203 (1)  Probability and Elementary Statistics

Topics selected from the theory of sets, discrete probability for both single and multivariate random variables, probability density for a single continuous random variable, expectations, mean, standard deviation, and sampling from a normal population. Prerequisite: 111 or the equivalent.

MR. RENZ
206 (1) (2)  Linear Algebra

Systems of linear equations, vector spaces over the real and complex fields, linear transformations, matrices, determinants. Prerequisite: same as for 203.

THE STAFF

207 (1) (2)  Calculus III

Indeterminate forms, improper integrals, and infinite sequences and series. Differentiation and integration of power series. Vector algebra and geometry. Curves and arc length. Prerequisite: 111 or the equivalent.

THE STAFF

208 (1) (2)  Calculus IV

Functions of several real variables. Partial differentiation. Multiple and iterated integration. Line integration and Green’s theorem for special regions in the plane. Prerequisite: 207.

THE STAFF

210 (1)  Differential Equations

An introductory course in ordinary differential equations. Prerequisite: 206 and 207, or 207 and permission of the instructor.

MR. NORVIG
249 (2)  Selected Topics

MRS. SCHAFER

301 (2)  Mathematical Statistics

Topics include continuous multivariate densities, moment generating functions, sampling theory, estimation, confidence intervals, tests of statistical hypothesis and regression. Prerequisite: 203 and 208. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MR. RENZ

302 (1-2)  Elements of Analysis

Point set theory, study of convergence, continuity, differentiation and integration in finite dimensional Cartesian spaces. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Prerequisite: 206 or 208.

MR. WILCOX

305 (1-2)  Modern Algebraic Theory

Introduction to algebraic systems including groups, rings, integral domains, fields, abstract vector spaces. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MRS. SCHAFER

308 (1)  Topics in Geometry and Topology

Topics for 1971–72: Introduction to topology. Topics taken from metric spaces, compactness, product spaces, connectedness, separation axioms, convergence, continuity, homotopy theory, and manifolds. Prerequisite: 305 (1), or permission of the instructor.

MISS STEHNEY

310 (2)  Functions of a Complex Variable

Elementary functions and their mapping properties; integration theory; series expansions of analytic functions. Prerequisite: 302 (1).

MISS EVANS

349 (2)  Selected Topics

Topics for 1971–72: Set theory and the foundations of mathematics. Informal set theory, Relations and functions, Peano arithmetic. Construction of the real numbers from the natural numbers. Transfinite arithmetic, the axiom of choice, the well-ordering principle, and the continuum hypothesis. Prerequisite: 302 (1) or 305 (1), or permission of the instructor.

MR. MYERS

350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study  1 or 2
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2)  Honors Research  2
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

A major in mathematics must include 206, the first semester of 302 and of 305, and either the second semester of 302 or 310.

Courses 100 and 102 may not be counted in the major. Students planning to elect both units of either 302 or 305 should take both units in the same year.

Students expecting to do graduate work in mathematics should elect the second semester of 302 and of 305, 308, 310, and 349. They are also advised to acquire a reading knowledge of one or more of the following languages: French, German, or Russian.

Students who expect to teach at the secondary school level are advised to elect the second semester of 302, 308, or a course in geometry, and 310.

Placement in Courses and Exemption Examinations

Students entering with scores of 4 or 5 on the Advanced Placement AB Examination, or 3 on the BC Examination, of the College Entrance Examination Board are eligible for 206 and 207; those entering with scores of 4 or 5 on the Advanced Placement BC Examination of the College Entrance Examination Board are eligible for 206 and 208.

Examinations for exemption from one or two courses in mathematics to satisfy partially the college requirement in science and mathematics will be offered to students who have been well prepared in the subject matter of 110 and 111. If students pass both 110 and 111 examinations, they will receive exemption from 2 units in mathematics; if they should pass the 110 examination only, they will receive exemption from 1 unit in mathematics.
MUSIC

PROFESSOR: Lamb
ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS: Herrmann, Jander
(Chairman)
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Barry
INSTRUCTORS: Reichard, Benjamin, Patterson
LECTURERS: Steinberg, Windham
INSTRUCTORS IN PERFORMING MUSIC: Zighera (Cello), Goetze (Piano), Taylor (Organ), Pappoutsakis (Harp), Speyer (Oboe and English Horn), Preble (Flute), Vivian (Organ), O'Donnell (Voice), Pinto (Violin), Cook (Viola da gamba), Hedberg (Viola), Moss (Piano), Odiaga (Harpsichord), Plaster (Bassoon and Assistant in Chamber Music), Stuart (Clarinet), Moran (Horn), Linfield (Recorder and Assistant in Chamber Music), Stevens (Piano)

101 (1-2) Introductory Course 1 or 2
The fundamentals of musicianship. Development of reading and listening skills. Introduction to traditional harmony. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Open to all students. Three periods: one lecture and two section meetings.

MISS BARRY
103 (1-2) Introduction to the Literature of Music

A survey course designed to develop musical understanding, insight, and powers of observation through the study of music of various styles and periods. A previous knowledge of music is not required. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Not to be counted toward a major in music. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken not more than 1 unit in music, and to freshmen with the permission of the chairman of the department. Two periods of lecture and one section meeting.

MR. HERRMANN, MR. JANDER, MISS REICHARD

106 (2) Afro-American Music

A survey of Black music in America, its origins, its development, and its relation to cultural and social conditions. Not to be counted toward a major in music. Open to all students.

MR. WINDHAM

200 (1-2) Design in Music

MR. JANDER
203 (1-2) Counterpoint
MR. BENJAMIN, MR. PATTERSON

208 (1)* The Baroque Period
Studies in the music of the 17th and early 18th centuries with emphasis on the works of Bach and Handel. Not to be counted toward a major in music. Prerequisite: 101 or 103.
MISS BARRY

209 (1)* The Classical Period
Studies in the music of Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven. Not to be counted toward a major in music. Prerequisite: 101 or 103.
MISS BARRY

210 (2)* The Romantic Period
Analysis of representative compositions of the 19th century. Not to be counted toward a major in music. Prerequisite: 103 or 200 or 209.
NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.
MR. JANDER

214 (2)* The Twentieth Century
An introduction to contemporary music. Not to be counted toward a major in music. Prerequisite: 103 or 200 or 208 or 209.
MR. BENJAMIN

303 (1) The Middle Ages and the Renaissance
Topic for 1971-72: The Elizabethan Era. Prerequisite: 200 or, by special permission, 2 Grade II units in the literature of music.
MR. JANDER

307 (2) The Opera
A study of operatic forms, styles, and traditions from the time of Mozart to the present. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 2 Grade II units in the literature of music.
MR. HERRMANN

312 (1-2) Harmony
MR. PATTERSON
316 (1-2) Introduction to Composition 2
Advanced studies in theory. The principles of instrumentation. Composition for small ensembles. Prerequisite: 312 and 320. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MR. LAMB

319 (1) Seminar. The Nineteenth Century 1
Topic for 1971–72: The symphonies of Brahms. Open to students who have taken 200 and who have taken or are taking 312.

MR. BENJAMIN

320 (2) Seminar. Studies in Music Since 1900 1
Topic for 1971–72: Selected works of Béla Bartók. Prerequisite: same as for 303.

MISS BARRY

321 (1) Seminar. The Age of Bach and Handel 1

MR. STEINBERG

322 (2) Seminar. Classicism and Transition 1

MR. STEINBERG
344 (1) (2)  Performing Music  1 or 2

Intensive study of interpretation and of advanced technical performance problems in the literature. One hour lesson per week. Open by permission of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 200. (See Directions for Election.)

THE STAFF

350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study  1 or 2

Directed study in theory, orchestration, composition, or the history of music. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2)  Honors Research  2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Basic Keyboard Skills

Training in sight reading, keyboard harmony, score reading, and harmonic reduction is available without charge to music majors and to sophomores who have taken or are taking 200 and 203. It is offered on a yearly basis and with no credit and may be elected in successive years. Students wishing to enroll in this program should notify the department in accordance with the procedure required for the election of an academic course.

Performing Music: Instrumental and Vocal Lessons

Instruction is provided in voice, piano, organ, harpsichord, harp, violin, viola, cello, viola da gamba, flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, trumpet, French horn, recorder, and cornetto. The department strongly recommends the study of performing music as a complement to the course work.

Students except those in 344 who elect performing music instruction are charged at the rate of $196 for a half-hour private lesson per week throughout the year. An additional fee of $25 per year is required of all performing music students for the use of a practice studio for one period daily. The fee for daily harpsichord or organ practice is $35. Performing music fees are payable in advance and are not subject to return or reduction except upon recommendation of both the dean of studies and the chairman of the department of music.
Special arrangements may be made for group instruction in viola da gamba, but only for one semester. The rate is $70 for the semester for a one hour group lesson per week. Private instruction in viola da gamba may be taken at the rate of $98 for the semester or $196 for the year for a half-hour lesson per week.

Students may take performing music provided they take or have already taken 1 unit in the theory of music. Performing music is an elective, and students wishing to take it should notify the department in accordance with the procedure required for the election of an academic course. Performing music may be taken for academic credit, but only by students enrolled in course 344. (See course description and Directions for Election.)

Instruction in performing music is available to graduates of Wellesley College and to residents of the Town of Wellesley by special arrangement.

Performing music study is normally undertaken on a yearly basis, although with the permission of the chairman of the department it may be elected for a single semester only. Students whose work proves unsatisfactory may be required to discontinue their lessons.

The College subscribes for eight seats in the Saturday evening series of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Tickets for these concerts are available at cost and students taking music courses are given preference in the use of them.

Directions for Election

A maximum of 4 units of 344 may be counted toward the degree. Students are admitted to this program only after they have successfully auditioned for the department faculty. Such an audition is held on the recommendation of the student’s instructor in performing music, and usually takes place early in the second semester of the student's sophomore or junior year. Permission to remain in the 344 program is granted only to students whose progress is judged excellent.

Students wishing to major in music should consult with the chairman of the department who will advise them in planning their work both in the major and in such related fields as European history, literature, and art. Music majors are strongly encouraged to enroll in the Basic Keyboard Skills program. Those who propose to undertake graduate study in music should be aware that a knowledge of both French and German is essential for work at that level, and that a proficiency in Italian is highly desirable.
PHILOSOPHY

PROFESSORS: Onderdonk, Haring (Chairman)
ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS: Stadler, Putnam
ASSISTANT PROFESSORS: Congleton, Shue
INSTRUCTOR: Magid

101 (1) (2) The Socratic Dialogues
An introduction to philosophy through the study of some of Plato’s dialogues emphasizing his view of man’s nature and development. Some comparison with alternative philosophical viewpoints. Open to all students.
  MRS. HARING, MISS CONGLETON, MR. SHUE

109 (1) (2) Problems for Twentieth Century Philosophy
Problems pertaining to the nature of man and his moral and/or social commitments as these present themselves to philosophers reflecting upon life in the 20th century. Readings primarily (but not exclusively) from the contemporary philosophical literature, selected to illustrate and explain significant differences among present-day approaches. Open to all students.
  MR. SHUE, MISS MAGID

For directions for applying see p. 230. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1) a. The views of Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Mill, and Lenin. Discussion will center on whether some states are better than others, whether revolutions are ever justified, whether there will always be a state, whether the state should enforce a particular morality.

MRS. PUTNAM

b. Freedom and determinism. An examination, based primarily on recent studies, of the problem of free will and the related notions of responsibility, choice, action, predictability, reasons, and causes.

MISS ONDERDONK

MRS. PUTNAM

201 (2) Plato and Aristotle 1

Readings in Plato's later dialogues and in Aristotle's treatises with a view to tracing the principal developments in epistemology and metaphysics. Selected readings also from the pre-Socratics and the Scholastics. Prerequisite: 101 or Greek 201, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. HARING

203 (2) Philosophy of Art 1

An examination of some major theories of art and art criticism. Emphasis on the clarification of such key concepts as style, meaning, and truth, and on the nature of judgments and arguments about artistic beauty and excellence. Open to sophomores who have taken one course in philosophy, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. HARING

204 (1) Philosophy of Language 1

An investigation of man as the unique user of language. Some of the problems considered in relation to language: thought, knowledge, culture, and meaning. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite.

MISS CONGLETON

206 (2)  Moral Philosophy  1

An examination of how we arrive at intelligent moral decisions as discussed by major modern and contemporary philosophers: Hume, Kant, Mill, Dewey, Sartre. Application to current moral problems. Open to freshmen who have taken one course in philosophy and to all other students without prerequisite.

MRS. PUTNAM

207 (1)  The Development of Philosophy  1

in the Seventeenth Century

The evolution of Continental Rationalism and the beginnings of British Empiricism presented through a detailed study of the major philosophers of the early modern period: Descartes, Hobbes, Spinoza, Locke. These developments in philosophy viewed in the context of the intellectual history of the time. This course has as its natural sequence 208. A special section will be arranged for freshmen. Open to all students.

MISS ONDERDONK, MISS CONGLETON

208 (2)  The Development of Philosophy  1

in the Eighteenth Century

The evolution of British Empiricism presented through a study of its major representatives: Locke, Berkeley, Hume. Some consideration of Kant’s response. These developments in philosophy viewed in the context of the intellectual history of the time. Open to students who have taken [107] or 207, or by permission of the instructor.

MRS. PUTNAM, MISS MAGID

215 (1)  Consciousness, Ideology, and Knowledge  1

To what extent are an individual’s beliefs the product of factors outside the control of his own reasoning? Philosophical analysis applied to theses in the sociology of knowledge. Readings in major historical sources, e.g., Freud, Marx, Weber; but emphasis on contemporary formulations. Prerequisite: same as for 204.

MR. SHUE
216 (1) Logic

An introduction to the methods of symbolic logic and their application to arguments in ordinary English. Discussion of validity, implication, consistency, proof, and of such topics as the thesis of extensionality and the nature of mathematical truth. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.

MISS ONDERDONK

217 (1) Philosophy of Science

An examination of philosophical views about the methods of the natural and social sciences with particular attention to the question of whether the same methods are applicable in both. A philosophical analysis of fundamental concepts in the natural and social sciences. Prerequisite: same as for 216.

MRS. PUTNAM

218 (1) History of Science I

For description and prerequisite see Extradesparmental 218.

219 (2) History of Science II

For description and prerequisite see Extradesparmental 219.

301 (2) Nineteenth Century Philosophy

A consideration of some major themes in 19th century philosophy through a detailed study of Hegel followed, as time permits, by some discussion of Marx and Mill. Open to students who have taken [107] or 207, and 208, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS CONGLETON

302 (1) Pragmatism and Naturalism

An examination of works by the leading American pragmatists and of their influence on the development of a naturalistic world view in the philosophy of the 20th century. Open to students who have taken [107] or 201 or 207 or 208, or by permission of the instructor.

MRS. PUTNAM

306 (2) Philosophy of Logic and Mathematics

An examination of the views of Frege, Russell, Quine, and others on truth, probability, necessity, and the founda-
A discussion of major metamathematical results on consistency, completeness, and completability. Prerequisite: 216 or at least 1 Grade II unit in mathematics. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

311 (1)  Kant

Intensive studies in the philosophy of Kant with some consideration of his position in the history of philosophy. Prerequisite: same as for 301.

MRS. HARING

312 (2)  Phenomenology and Existentialism

Central themes in contemporary European philosophy. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 2 Grade II units in the department, or by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MRS. STADLER

326 (2)  Seminar

Topic for 1971–72: Wittgenstein. Contemporary problems in the philosophy of mind. Open to senior philosophy majors and by permission to other students who have had 2 units in philosophy above the Grade I level.

MISS CONGLETON

327 (1)  Seminar

MISS MAGID

338 (2)  Seminar

Topic for 1971–72: Justice. Political philosophy. Competing contemporary conceptions. Open to a limited number of qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor.

MR. SHUE

350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2)  Honors Research

Required of all honors candidates in the department.
Directions for Election

Philosophy majors are expected to elect courses in at least two of the following fields: (1) logic or the philosophy of science (2) history of philosophy, ancient or modern (3) value theory, i.e., moral or political philosophy or the philosophy of art. Students planning graduate work in philosophy are strongly advised to elect courses in all these three fields, and, in particular, logic.

In addition, students majoring in philosophy should develop a special competence either in the work of one major philosopher or in one problem of contemporary concern. Such competence may be demonstrated by passing a course on the Grade III level with an honors grade, by 350 work, or by submitting a substantial paper. Special arrangements can be made for students with strong interdepartmental interests.

A knowledge of Greek, French, or German is desirable. Students planning graduate work in philosophy should acquire a reading knowledge of two of these languages.

121 (1-2) Physical Education Activities

The instructional program in physical education is divided into four seasons, two each semester. To complete the college work in physical education a student must earn 8 credit points before the end of the junior year. Most activities give 1 credit point each season, but certain activities give 2 or more credit points as noted below. Each activity is divided into courses to provide instruction in homogeneous classes. Complete descriptions of courses are sent to entering students. Special fees are charged for a few courses and are listed in the course descriptions. The total activities offered in 1971–72 follow.

Directions for Election

Each student is expected to complete a minimum of two seasons a year until Physical Education 121 is completed. A student may elect a course which is scheduled throughout a semester, two courses concurrently, or may choose not to elect a course during some seasons.

Students should select courses which meet their present and projected interests in physical activities. It is hoped that students will gain knowledge of the relation of physical activity to the maintenance of general well-being; that they will achieve a level of ability, understanding, and participation in sports, dance, and/or exercise so that they may experience satisfaction and enjoyment; and that they will be able to swim with sufficient skill to participate safely in recreational swimming and boating.

A student’s choice of activity is subject to the approval of the department and the College Health Services. Upon recommendation of a College physician and permission of the department a student may enroll in a modified program.

Students may continue to enroll in physical education after Physical Education 121 is completed. Members of the faculty may elect activities with the permission of the department.
PHYSICS

PROFESSORS  Guernsey (Chairman), Fleming
ASSISTANT PROFESSORS  • Brown, Zornberg, Dodsworth

Unless otherwise noted all courses meet for two periods of lecture and discussion weekly and all Grade I and Grade II courses have one three hour laboratory appointment weekly.

100 (1)  Basic Concepts in Physics  1
Forces, fields, conservation laws, waves, atomic structure. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Three and one-half hour laboratory appointments in alternate weeks. Open to students who are not eligible for 103 or 110.

MISS FLEMING

103 (1)  Fundamental Physics I  1
Elementary mechanics, introduction to modern physics including special relativity. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Open to students who offer physics for admission and who are not eligible for 110.

MR. ZORNBERG
106 (2)  Fundamental Physics II
Wave phenomena, optics, electric circuits. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Prerequisite: 100 or 103, and Mathematics 110.

MISS BROWN

110 (1)  Advanced General Physics
Mechanics, wave motion, optics, electricity and magnetism. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Open to students who have completed Mathematics 111, or to students who offer physics for admission and are taking Mathematics 108 or 111.

MRS. GUERNSEY

150 (2)  Colloquium
For directions for applying see p. 230. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(2)
Introduction to physical thought. Experimental and theoretical development of some of the basic problems arising in contemporary physics.

MRS. GUERNSEY

200 (2)  Modern Physics
Basic principles of relativity and quantum theory, and of atomic and nuclear structure. Prerequisite: [104] or [105] or 106 or 110. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 111.

MR. ZORNBERG

201 (2)  Electricity
Fundamental laws of electric and magnetic fields; electric circuits; electric and magnetic properties of matter. Laboratory includes practice in the use of the oscilloscope and other measuring instruments. Prerequisite: [104] or [105] or 106 or 110, and Mathematics 111.

MRS. GUERNSEY

202 (1)  Optical Physics
Wave theory as applied to optical phenomena. Interference, diffraction, birefringence, polarization, dispersion. Introduction to modern optics including lasers and holography. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MISS BROWN
204 (1)  Mechanics  1

Statics and dynamics including rotational motion, with emphasis on the solution of problems. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. No laboratory. Prerequisite: 103 or [104] or [105] or 106 or 110, and Mathematics 111.

MR. ZORNBERG

206 (1)*  Electronics  1

Fundamental principles of electron tubes and transistors; application to power supplies, amplifiers, oscillators, modulators. Introduction to nonlinear electronic circuits. Prerequisite: 201. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MRS. GUERNSEY

216 (1)  Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences I  1

For description and prerequisite see Extradenartmental 216.

MISS DODSWORTH
217 (2) Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences II

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 217.

MISS DODSWORTH

305 (1)* Thermodynamics

The laws of thermodynamics; kinetic theory of gases; statistical mechanics. Prerequisite: [104] or [105] or 106 or 110, and 217 or Mathematics 208. NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

MR. ZORNBERG

306 (1) Advanced Mechanics

MISS DODSWORTH

309 (1) (2) Advanced Experimental Physics

Fundamental experiments selected from different areas of physics. Two laboratory appointments per week. Offered in both semesters, given in only one. Open by permission.

THE STAFF

310 (2) Mathematical Physics

Mathematical techniques used in quantum mechanics; solutions to the wave equation; Bessel functions and Legendre polynomials; introduction to Green's functions and/or group theory; complex variables. Prerequisite: 217 or Mathematics 210. Physics 306 is recommended.

MR. ZORNBERG

314 (2) Electromagnetic Theory

Maxwell's equations; electromagnetic waves and radiation; physical optics. Prerequisite: 201 and 306.

MISS BROWN

321 (1) Quantum Mechanics

Interpretative postulates of quantum mechanics; solutions to the Schroedinger equation; operator theory; perturbation theory; scattering; matrices. Prerequisite: 310 or Mathematics 210. In addition, 1 unit of Grade II physics, or permission of the instructor. Physics 306 is recommended.

MISS BROWN

322 (2) § Introduction to Solid State Physics 1

Crystal structure; energy-band theory of metals, insulators, and semiconductors; ferro-, dia-, and para-magnetism. Prerequisites: 200, 201, 301, and 305, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MR. ZORNBERG

323 (2) § Nuclear Physics 1

Static properties of atomic nuclei. Properties of charged particles, neutrons, and gamma rays; their interactions with matter. Natural and artificial radioactivity. Nuclear reactions. Prerequisite: [301] or 321.

MISS DODSWORTH

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Research 2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

A major in physics should ordinarily include 201, 202, 204, 306, 314 and 321; 217 or Mathematics 208 is an additional requirement. One unit of another laboratory science is recommended.

A reading knowledge of two of the following languages is desirable for students planning to attend graduate school: French, German, Russian.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 61

Exemption Examination

An examination for exemption from Physics 110 is offered to students who present one admission unit in physics. Students who pass this examination will be eligible for Grade II work in physics. No unit of credit will be given for passing this examination.
100 (1) (2) Political Power in the Modern World 1

The nature of politics and political power in urban, national, and international settings will be examined in general lectures given by members of the department. In colloquia, students will explore specific topics related to the theme of political power in these three contexts. Possible areas of analysis in the colloquia include: political leadership, environmental politics, political corruption, radical and conservative ideologies, civil rights, political repression. Open to all students.

THE STAFF
150 (1) (2)  Colloquia

For directions for applying see p. 230. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1)
Violence as a factor in international and domestic politics. Study of political aspects of urban, national, and international violence with emphasis upon racial conflict, student revolt, revolution, assassination, and civil, international, and guerrilla warfare, as well as upon the role of media, arms, police, students, and leadership.

(2)
"Public interest" lobbies and lawyers. An examination of the political role of Ralph Nader's group, Environmental Defense Fund, and other similar groups.

MR. STRATTON

200 (1) (2)  Comparative Politics of the Developing Areas

Study of selected aspects of African, Asian and Latin American political systems, with emphasis upon use and evaluation of analytical concepts in recent literature; political change, national integration, and legitimation among problems considered. Prerequisite: 1 Grade I unit in political science or 2 units in economics, history, psychology, or sociology, or permission of the instructor.

MR. ROSENBAUM

202 (1)  Classical and Medieval Political Thought

Study of political theories and doctrines of selected classical, medieval, and early modern writers such as Plato, Aristotle, Cicero, St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, Machiavelli, Luther, Calvin, and Hooker. Writings are considered in their historical context and for their relevance to modern political analysis. Prerequisite: 1 Grade I unit in political science or 2 units in economics, history, philosophy, psychology, or sociology.

MR. BARAS
203 (2) Modern and Contemporary Political Thought

Study of political theories and doctrines from the 17th century to the present. Among the theorists studied are Hobbes, Locke, Hume, Rousseau, Burke, Mill, Hegel, Marx, and representatives of contemporary schools and ideologies. Writings are considered in their historical context and for their relevance to political analysis. Prerequisite: same as for 202.

MRS. JUST

205 (2) Comparative Government: Western Europe

An exploration of the political, economic, and social challenges confronting European industrial democracies in an era of rapid technological change. Emphasis on the politics and societies of Britain, France, Germany, and Italy, with additional examples drawn from the experience of the Benelux and Scandanavian countries. The evolution of parties, interest groups, parliaments, and bureaucracies will be considered in the contexts of both domestic politics and regional integration. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

MISS MILLER

207 (1) Comparative Government: Latin America

Study of politics in selected Latin American states including Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and Mexico, treating dynamics of power development, reform and revolution, foreign policy, and factors underlying policy formation. Prerequisite: same as for 200; by permission to qualified students who have taken Spanish.

MR. ROSENBAUM

209 (2) Political Systems of Subsaharan Africa

An examination of the problems of decolonization, national integration, and mobilization in selected African states, including Ghana, Nigeria, Ivory Coast, Tanzania, and the Congo (Kinshasa). Prerequisite: same as for 200.

NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

210 (1) American Political Parties and Interest Groups

Analysis of the role of extragovernmental political organizations in the American political process. Organization, operation, and evaluation of political parties and interest groups; recruitment of leaders; elections and behavior of the electorate; influences on public policy formation. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

MR. SCHECHTER, MRS. JUST

211 (2)  Policy-Making in the Federal Government

Study of the President and other members of the presidency, political and career executives in the bureaucracy, and members of Congress and their staffs; formal and informal organization; emphasis upon relationships across organizational lines and influences upon behavior. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

MR. STRATTON

221 (1) (2)  World Politics

An introduction to the international system with emphasis on contemporary theory and practice. Analysis of the bases of power and influence, the policy perspectives of principal states, and the modes of accommodation and conflict resolution. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

MISS MILLER

222 (2)  Comparative Foreign Policies

An examination of factors influencing the formulation and execution of national foreign policies in the contemporary international system. Comparisons and contrasts between “advanced” and “developing” countries will be stressed, especially the varying significance of domestic sources of foreign policy in western and non-western settings. Prerequisite: 1 unit in international relations or comparative politics.

MR. ROSENBAUM

223 (1) (2)  Urban Politics

An introduction to contemporary urban political problems emerging from racial conflict, redevelopment, community organization and action programs, poverty law and law enforcement, intergovernmental relations, and national urban policy; some consideration of methods for studying urban politics. Field work in the Boston metropolitan region is required. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have had 1 Grade I unit in political science or 2 units in economics, history, psychology or sociology, or by permission of the instructor.

MR. ATKINS
249 (2)  Research Methods in Political Behavior  1

Discussion of the literature of political behavior, including public opinion, psychology of voting, and legislative decision making in the United States and other countries. Classroom exercises will stress understanding of concepts underlying empirical analysis. Students will be introduced to the computer as a research tool and will undertake some original research as part of their course work. No previous knowledge of mathematics, statistics, or computers is required. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

MRS. JUST

302 (1)*  American Political Thought  1

An examination of political theories and doctrines which have been developed in the United States with a view toward determining their adequacy as descriptions of, and prescriptions for, American politics. Special emphasis given to the period of the framing of the Constitution, the Progressive Era, and to contemporary political beliefs and problems. Open to students who have taken 1 Grade II unit in political science, economics, history, philosophy, psychology, or sociology; by permission to other qualified students. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MR. STETTNER

303 (2)  Systematic Political Theory  1

Examination of several important political concepts, such as power, authority, justice, freedom, democracy, equality, and obligation; their diverse meanings and values and how these vary under liberalism, Marxism, and other ideologies. Readings primarily from contemporary sources. Open to students who have taken 1 Grade II unit in political science, history, or philosophy; by permission to other qualified students. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

MR. STETTNER

306 (2)  Comparative Government:  1

South and East Asia

The study of national and international politics in Asia with particular reference to India, China, and Japan. Special attention will be given to the theory of politics in the national setting of these three countries and in the special context of Asian international relations. Stress upon the impact of society, culture, and modernization upon politics and governmental institutions. Open to students who have taken 1 Grade II unit in political science or History 225 and 227, or by permission of the instructor.

MR. BARAS
308 (1) Comparative Government: 1
The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe

Study of politics and government in the Soviet Union and East European satellites; the interrelationship of ideology and power, leadership, political institutions, and policy formation. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 1 Grade II unit in political science or History 209 or 313, and by permission of the instructor to juniors and seniors studying Russian language and history.

MR. BARAS

310 (2) Political Decision-Making 1
in the United States

Analysis of the policy-making process based on simulation of decision-making in executive, legislative, and/or judicial units at different levels of government in the United States. Four or five nationally important questions considered with all class members playing roles as advocates, witnesses, decision-makers, or analysts; evaluation of role-playing and extent to which relevant considerations are taken into account in reaching decisions. Open to students who have taken 210 and 211, and by permission of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors who have had only one of these courses.

MR. SCHECHTER

321 (1) Foreign Policy Analysis: 1
The United States

An examination of American foreign policy since 1945. Readings will include general critiques and case studies designed to illuminate both the processes of policy formulation and the substance of policies pursued. Individual research and student reports. Open to students who have taken 1 Grade II unit in international relations, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS MILLER

322 (2) Studies in Political Leadership 1

A consideration of the theory and practice of executive leadership in selected industrial and modernizing societies. The interaction of psychology and politics will be emphasized in exploring both conceptual approaches and case studies. Individual research and student reports. Open to students who have taken 1 Grade II unit in international relations or comparative politics, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS MILLER
330 (1) (2) Law and the Administration of Justice

An introduction to the nature and functions of law; the adversary system; methods of legal development based upon an analysis of selected problems in contract, tort, and criminal law; comparison of common law and civil law systems; relation of law and politics. Open to students who have taken 1 Grade II unit in political science, economics, history, philosophy, psychology, or sociology, and by permission of the instructor to sophomores. Recommended for students who are planning to take 331 or 332.

MR. SONNENFELD
331 (1) The International Legal Process

Functions of law and legal institutions in the international political system, considering such matters as protection of individual rights; international criminal responsibility; domestic remedies against international wrongs; controls of uses of sea and aerospace; settlement of disputes; methods of improving compliance with international law. Selected current legal issues treated in moot court practice. Open to students who have taken 330 or 2 units in international relations; by permission to other qualified students.

MR. SONNENFELD

332 (2) The Supreme Court in American Politics

Analysis of major developments in constitutional interpretation, the conflict over judicial activism, and current problems facing the Supreme Court; judicial review, the powers of the President and of Congress, Federal-State relations, and individual rights and liberties. Selected current legal issues treated in moot court practice. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. SCHECHTER

336 (1) Seminar

Topic for 1971–72: Popular participation in democratic systems; myth or reality? Advanced intensive study of one problem or a series of related problems. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 4 units in political science. Enrollment is limited; students should file applications with the instructor.

MRS. JUST

337 (2) Seminar

MR. BARAS

338 (2) Seminar

MR. ROSENBAUM
339 (2)   Seminar 1

MR. SONNENFELD

340 (1)   Seminar 1

NOT OFFERED IN 1971–72.

349 (1)   Politics of Environmental Control 1

Study of selected environmental problems with reference to governmental institutions, groups, and ideologies which promote or inhibit the development of governmental policies in respect to environmental control. Open to students who have taken 210 or 211 or 223, or by permission of the instructor.

MR. STRATTON

350 (1) (2)   Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2)   Honors Research 2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

A major in political science includes one course at the Grade I level and a course above the Grade I level in at least three of the following fields: American government and politics, comparative government and politics, international politics, political theory, and public law. A major may be broad in scope, or it may have a special focus, e.g., metropolitan regional problems, Asian, European, or Latin American area studies, international relations, or political ethics, based upon selected courses and independent research.

Graduate work in political science leading to the Ph.D. usually requires a reading knowledge of two foreign languages and, for many specialties, a knowledge of statistical techniques or an introduction to the calculus.

A student participating in the Wellesley Washington Summer Internship Program or the Urban Internship Program may arrange with the director to earn credit for independent study. See p. 35.

101 (1) (2) Introduction to Psychology 1
Study of selected research problems from areas such as personality development, learning, and cognition to demonstrate ways in which psychologists study behavior. Open to all students.
(1) (2) MISS ZIMMERMAN, MR. FERNALD
(2) MRS. CLINCHY

201 (1) (2) Psychological Statistics 1
Training in the use of statistical techniques as they have been adapted to the handling and evaluating of representative types of psychological data. Emphasis on developing an understanding of the possibilities and limitations of the use of statistics in psychology. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 101.
MR. SCHIFFENBAUER
207 (1) (2) Child Psychology 1

The behavior of normal children. A survey of experimental and clinical studies with special emphasis on theory and research in the area of parent-child relationships. Two periods of lecture and one of discussion or observation of children in nursery school settings. Prerequisite: 101.

(1) MR. SCHNALL
(2) MRS. ALPER

207R (1) (2) Research Methods in Child Psychology 1

An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of child psychology. Individual and group projects. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to 10 students. Prerequisite: 201 and 207. Not open to students who have taken, or are taking [200], 210R, or 212R.

(1) MRS. CLINCHY
(2) MR. SCHNALL

210 (1) (2) Social Psychology 1

The individual's behavior as it is influenced by other people and the social situation. Study of social influence, interpersonal perception, social evaluation, and various forms of social interaction. Two periods of lecture and one of discussion. Prerequisite: 101.

MR. SCHIAVO

210R (2) Research Methods in Social Psychology 1

An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of social psychology. Individual and group projects on selected topics. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to 10 students. Prerequisite: 201 and 210. Not open to students who have taken or are taking [200], 207R, or 212R.

MR. SCHIAVO

212 (1) (2) Personality 1

Selected theories of personality as applied to the normal individual. Some emphasis on relation of theories to selected topics and/or case studies. Prerequisite: 101.

(1) MRS. SCHNITZER
(1) (2) MR. FERNALD, MR. STEVENSON
212R (1) (2)  Research Methods in Personality  1

An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of personality. Individual and group projects. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to 10 students. Prerequisite: 201 and 212. Not open to students who have taken or are taking [200], 207R, or 210R.

(1) MR. STEVENSON
(2) MR. DICKSTEIN

217 (1) (2)  Cognitive Processes  1

Selected issues in reasoning, problem-solving, concept attainment, and memory. Prerequisite: 101.

(1) MR. DICKSTEIN
(2) MRS. CLINCHY

217R (1)  Research Methods in Cognitive Processes  1

An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of cognitive processes. Individual and group projects. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to 10 students. Prerequisite: 201 and 217. Not open to students who have taken or are taking [209], 218R, 219R. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

218 (2)  Perception  1

Experimental and theoretical approaches to selected topics in perception, including space, form, motion; perceptual development; role of personality variables in perception. Some physiology of the sense organs. Prerequisite: 101.

MRS. PARLEE

218R (1)  Research Methods in Perception  1

An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of perception. Individual and group projects. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to 10 students. Prerequisite: 201 and 218. Not open to students who have taken or are taking [209], 217R, 219R. NOT OFFERED IN 1971-72.

219 (1)  Learning  1

Basic problems and research findings at the human and animal levels. Among topics studied: schedules and parameters of reinforcement, discrimination, generalization, conditioned reinforcement, and behavior correlated with negative reinforcement. Prerequisite: 101.

MRS. FURUMOTO

219R (2) Research Methods in Learning 1

An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of learning. Individual and group projects. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to 10 students. Prerequisite: 201 and 219. Not open to students who have taken or are taking [209], 217R, or 218R.

MRS. FURUMOTO

300 (1) (2) Seminar 1

Topic for 1971–72: The psychology of college education. Contributions of the psychologist to the planning and evaluating of a liberal arts college program. Comparison of traditional colleges and new “experimental” colleges. Application of research in problem-solving, learning, attitude change, personality to curriculum planning, organization courses, teaching techniques. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and at least 2 Grade II units in any one of the following: economics, political science, psychology, sociology and anthropology.

MISS ZIMMERMAN

301 (1) Physiological Approaches to Behavior 1

An introduction to the relationship between physiological processes and aspects of human behavior such as emotion, motivation (drives, instincts), attention, learning and memory, basic sensory processes, schizophrenia, psychosomatic disorders, and aphasia. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and at least 2 Grade II units, or by special permission of the instructor.

MRS. PARLEE

303 (1) (2) The Psychological Implications of Being Female 1

Consideration of some of the changing patterns in the behavior of women, including literature in the area of sex differences. Some of the following topics will be examined: theoretical formulations of the psychology of women, case studies; results of research on sex differences in humans and animals; social determinants of sex-sterotyped behavior. Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Research 2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The total program of the major shall be prepared in consultation with the adviser so as to provide for an appropriate balance between specialization and diversity.

Specialization shall include a sequence of courses in at least one particular field of study. Diversity is fulfilled by electing some work within the department outside the field of specialization.

Freshmen and sophomores considering a major are encouraged to elect introductory courses appropriate to their special field of interest; information is available in the department office. Students planning to pursue studies in the Twelve College Exchange Program as part of their major should consult with their department adviser. Several of the Twelve College religion departments offer courses which could supplement and enrich a Wellesley major in religion and Biblical studies.

Studies in the original language are particularly valuable for students specializing in Old Testament or New Testament; see Religion 203 (Hebrew) and Greek 100 (Beginning Greek).

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

The College offers three established interdepartmental major programs: Black Studies, Classical Archaeology, Molecular Biology. In addition, a student may design an individual major. Some representative individual majors and courses available for them are included in this section.

BLACK STUDIES

A major in Black studies provides opportunity for cross-departmental study of the African background of American Black culture, the Black experience in the context of American historical, political, and social institutions, and of the contemporary conditions of Blacks in America. Students, in consultation with the director, may construct a major adapted to individual interests. Normally at least 4 units above the Grade I level are to be elected in one of the following: economics, history, political science, sociology and anthropology; and at least 4 additional units above the Grade I level of related work. Two of the 8 units must be at the Grade III level. Extradepartmental 205 is required of all majors.
The following courses are available in 1971–72 for majors in Black studies.

CLASSICAL ARCHAEOLOGY

DIRECTOR: Marvin

An interdepartmental major in classical archaeology gives opportunity for a study of classical civilization through its art, literature, and history with emphasis on either the Greek or Roman period.

The student's program should normally include ancient history (1 or 2 units), art (at least 4 units), Greek or Latin language and literature (at least 6 units), independent study (1 or 2 units) of an archaeological topic, preferably correlating work in art and literature or history (350, 370). It should be noted that work in both Greek and Latin is normally required for graduate school. Basic reading knowledge of German or French is recommended.

Programs will be adapted to individual interests within the field.

MOLECULAR BIOLOGY

DIRECTOR: Hicks

The departments of biological sciences and chemistry offer an interdepartmental major in molecular biology which gives opportunity for advanced study of the chemistry of biological systems.

In addition to 1 or 2 units of biochemistry (322, 323), the area of concentration consists of 5 units of chemistry (including 202 and 301 or 203 and 300), 5 units of biology (2 Grade III units), Physics 100, 103, or 105, and Mathematics 111, or the equivalent. Students who exempt any Grade I units may substitute further units in biology, chemistry, mathematics, or physics.

INDIVIDUAL MAJORS

Students who are interested may devise in consultation with two faculty advisers an individual major. The program for the individual major is subject to the approval of the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. In setting up guidelines for the individual major, the Committee hopes to extend the possibility for a major which crosses traditional departmental lines to those students who could most profit from such a major and to assure suitable guidance to the student in selecting appropriate courses for the major. The program for the individual major should include 4 units in one department above the Grade I level. The following majors and suggested courses are representative of the more established programs.

Asian Studies

Students interested in graduate work and a career in Chinese studies should take extensive Chinese language work; students interested in a broader range of courses on Asia may take a minimum of Chinese language work or none. The following courses are available in 1971–72 for majors in Asian studies.

- Chinese Art Art 248 (2)

Classical Civilization

Students who wish a classical civilization major can plan with the department of Greek and Latin an appropriate sequence of courses, which should include work in art, history, and literature. Such a program should always contain at least 4 units in the original language. Basic knowledge of French or German is recommended.

The following courses are available in 1971–72 for majors in classical civilization.

Seminar. The Economics of Environmental Disruption  Economics 249 (2)
The individual major in theatre studies offers opportunity for study of the theatre through its history, literature, criticism, and related arts and through the disciplines of its practitioners: playwrights, directors, designers, actors, and producers.

The student’s program in the major may be adapted to individual interests. Focus may be on the theatre and a national dramatic literature, on the theatre and related arts, or, within the general demands of the curriculum, a variety of emphases may be evolved, including work in such areas as philosophy, history, psychology, sociology, and religion.

At least 4 units above the Grade I level should ordinarily be elected in a literature department (English, French, German, Greek and Latin, Italian, Russian, or Spanish), with emphasis on dramatic literature. At least 2 units above the Grade I level should ordinarily be elected in art or music. Two of the 6 units thus specified (or their equivalents) must be at the Grade III level.

Students electing to design a major in theatre studies will ordinarily take at least one resident semester of concentrated work in the discipline either with the National Theatre Institute at the Eugene O’Neill Memorial Theater Center in Waterford, Connecticut, or at another institution in the Twelve College Exchange Program, to supplement and enrich their work at Wellesley.
Since developments in the theatre arts are the results of stage experiments and because the theatre performance is an expression of theatre scholarship, it is expected that theatre studies majors will elect to complement formal study of theatre history and theory with practical experience in the extracurricular production program of the Wellesley College Theatre.

In addition to the offerings of the theatre studies department, the following courses, available in 1971–72, are specifically relevant to the individual major in theatre studies:

The colloquia are designed for freshmen and sophomores who are interested in concentrated study of a significant well-defined topic. They offer students the opportunity to work in small groups in close association with faculty members. Most are open without prerequisite although a few presuppose some earlier study of the field either in secondary school or in a college course. They are similar to seminars in method and approach in that they stress independent work, discussion, and student reports.

Each colloquium counts as a 1 unit course. Except for Extradepartmental 150, each may be elected to satisfy in part one of the distribution requirements. Since enrollments are limited, students may not ordinarily enroll in more than one colloquium. They may, however, apply for more than one, indicating their first and second choices.

Incoming freshmen may obtain application forms from the class dean, sophomores from the department chairman. If a colloquium is oversubscribed the chairman or instructor, in consultation with the class dean, will decide which applicants will be accepted.

GIFTS TO WELLESLEY

Wellesley has deep gratitude for the gifts of alumnae, friends and parents without whose support it could not maintain its standards of excellence. The College welcomes outright gifts of cash, gifts of securities and gifts of other property. The College provides income for life to donors who invest in either an Annuity or a Life Income Plan.

Forms of Bequests

An unrestricted bequest to Wellesley may be worded:
"I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, the sum of . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . dollars."

In the case of a bequest for a specific purpose, it is wise to allow considerable latitude in the use of any fund, so that changing conditions will not impair the usefulness of the gift. Thus, such a bequest may be expressed:

"I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, the sum of . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . dollars, the income only to be used for . . . . . . . (here describe the purpose in as broad and simple terms as possible, as for example, faculty salaries or scholarships)." The more limited the use, the more important it is to add a provision such as, "If, in the future, the Trustees of the College determine that the Bequest is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was bequeathed, they may use it to meet other needs of the College, but the name of the Fund will always remain in Wellesley's records."

A residuary bequest to Wellesley may read as follows:

"All the rest, residue and remainder of my real and personal estate, I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts."
