Visitors

Wellesley welcomes visitors to the College. The administrative offices in Green Hall are open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and by appointment on Saturday mornings during term time. Special arrangements for greeting prospective students will also be made during holiday and vacation periods. Rooms for alumnae, parents of students, or prospective students, are available on the campus in the Wellesley College Club, and may be reserved by writing the club manager.

Student guides are happy to provide tours for visitors. In order to arrange for a mutually convenient time for interviews with professional members of the Board of Admission and student interviewers, prospective students and their parents are requested to make such appointments well in advance of their intended visit.

The College
Wellesley College is a residential liberal arts college for women situated on a large suburban campus in the township of Wellesley, Massachusetts, 12 miles from Boston. Approximately 1750 students are enrolled each year.

Above all, Wellesley strives to provide an excellent education. Faculty and students have a high regard for scholarship, coupled with a concern for contemporary social problems. They share a similar interest in providing an atmosphere for personal growth as well as intellectual achievement. Wellesley's faculty live, for the most part, on or near the campus, and are readily available to students outside of the classroom. The ratio of faculty to students is one to ten.

Wellesley College opened in 1875, after years of preparation by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fowle Durant. It was Mr. Durant's hope that, by providing educational opportunities of the kind then available only to men, women could prepare themselves for "great conflicts and vast social reforms." This is still the hope and the goal.
The College staff tries to implement this goal by working cooperatively with students. The present College Government, composed of students, faculty, and administrators, was created by an Agreement between faculty and students in 1918. Although this Agreement has been amended over the years it still provides the basic governmental structure of the College.

The College Government legislation assigns to the Senate responsibility for all nonacademic matters affecting the student body. Students form a majority of the Senate, and are the only voting members. Academic affairs are the concern of the Academic Council comprising most of the faculty, some administrators, and some nonvoting student members. A Chief Justice, elected from the student body, presides over the judicial system. In addition, students sit on most major policymaking committees, including the President's Advisory Council and the committees of the Board of Trustees.

Wellesley provides the opportunity for both urban and suburban living. It has a beautiful campus. Boston is nearby, and students go often to art galleries, symphony, theatres, shopping, or for volunteer or paid work.

Wellesley has no specific required courses. The curriculum is arranged so that each student may explore various fields, developing a primary interest which is expressed in the selection of a major program in the last two years. The College has limited cross-registration with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Wellesley students may take courses at MIT, and MIT students at Wellesley. Through the Twelve College Exchange Program Wellesley and eleven other colleges exchange students who may live and study on another campus for a semester or a year without additional cost.

Wellesley students traditionally come from diverse backgrounds and from many parts of the world besides the United States. Students encounter a wide range of points of view, academic disciplines, and special interests which stimulate and strengthen their own combinations of interests and talents.

Happily, Wellesley has the physical resources to support these interests and talents. The present College is in marked contrast to the small faculty and student body, the one building, the collection of only 8000 books, and the restricted social life with which Wellesley began. The quiet beauty of the campus remains unchanged after nearly one hundred years – while symbolizing the best of the traditional, it provides the setting for innovation and growth.
Criteria for Admission

The Board of Admission at Wellesley is composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. In selecting the candidates who will comprise the student body, this Board considers a number of factors. The candidates' high school records, rank in class, scholastic aptitude, achievement and intelligence test scores, letters of recommendation from teachers and principals, the students' statements about themselves and their future, and the interview reports of the staff, alumnae, and student interviewers are all carefully reviewed. The Board also considers special interests and talents, as well as social and political concerns.

No one factor alone nor all of them together provide an objective basis on which to select candidates for admission. Each factor must be evaluated with care and sensitivity. For example, College Board scores may be influenced by the student's previous experience with timed examinations, and these tests, of course, do not necessarily measure potential and certainly not motivation or creativity.

The Board of Admission considers each of these factors and chooses students who will be able to perform academic work at the level required at Wellesley, and who have the potential to benefit from, and to contribute to, the type of education offered at Wellesley. The Board is determined to use criteria which will assure that admitted students will be able to meet the standards for graduation. These criteria also are sufficiently flexible to make certain that creativity, strong potential, and high motivation are given appropriate consideration.

General Requirements for Freshman Applicants

Wellesley College does not require a fixed plan of secondary school courses as preparation for its program of studies. Entering students normally have completed four years of college preparatory studies in secondary school. Good preparation includes training in clear and coherent writing and in interpreting literature, training in the principles of mathematics (usually a minimum of three years), competence in at least one foreign language, ancient or modern (usually achieved through three or four years of study), and experience in at least one laboratory science and in history.

Students planning to concentrate in mathematics, in premedical studies, or in the natural sciences, are urged to pursue additional studies in mathematics. Students planning to concentrate in language or literature are urged to study a modern foreign language and Latin or Greek.

There are always exceptions to the preparation suggested here, and the Board will also consider an applicant whose educational background varies from this general description.

The Application

Application forms may be secured from the Board of Admission. A fee of $15 must accompany the formal application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted. In special circumstances the application fee may be waived.

The Interview

A personal interview is required of each applicant. If it is not possible for candidates to come to the College for an interview, they should write the Board of Admission for the name of a local alumna interviewer. A campus interview with a Wellesley College student interviewer can also be arranged.
Campus Visit

Students who are seriously considering Wellesley will have a fuller understanding of student life at Wellesley if they can arrange to spend a day on campus. Candidates are welcome to visit classes, eat in the dormitories, and talk informally with Wellesley students. Prospective students who plan to spend some time exploring the College are urged to let the Board of Admission know in advance so that tours, interviews, meals, and attendance at classes can be arranged before arrival on campus.

College Entrance Examination Board Tests

The Scholastic Aptitude Test and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) are required of all applicants for admission. Among the Achievement Tests, the English Composition Test is required and the two other tests may be chosen from two of the following fields: 1) foreign languages 2) social studies 3) either mathematics or science.
Each applicant is responsible for arranging to take the tests and for requesting CEEB to send to Wellesley College the results of all tests taken. CEEB sends its publications and the necessary registration forms to apply for the tests to all American secondary schools and many centers abroad. The applicant may obtain the registration form at school, or may obtain it by writing directly to CEEB, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; or in western United States, western Canada, Australia, Mexico, or the Pacific Islands, to CEEB, Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701.

It is wise to register with CEEB approximately seven to eight weeks before the test dates.

Dates of CEEB Tests:
November 4, 1972 (Scholastic Aptitude Test only)
December 2, 1972
January 13, 1973
March 3, 1973
April 7, 1973 (Scholastic Aptitude Test only)
May 5, 1973 (Achievement Tests only)
July 14, 1973
Admission Plans

1. Early Decision

This plan is intended for students who decide early that Wellesley is the college they wish to attend and who agree to file no other college application until after receiving a decision from the Wellesley Board of Admission. The appropriate CEEB tests should be taken prior to the beginning of the senior year in secondary school and candidates must apply and complete the form Request for Early Decision by October 15 of the senior year. All supporting credentials and an interview must be completed by November 1. These candidates will receive a decision from the Board of Admission by December 1.

2. April Decision

A candidate who uses the regular plan of admission must file an application by January 1 of the year for which she is applying. Applicants will be notified of the Board's decisions in April. Applicants for regular admission may take Scholastic Aptitude Tests and Achievement Tests any time from March of the junior year through January of the senior year. Results of tests taken after January arrive too late for consideration by the Board of Admission.

3. Early Admission

Students who have completed only three years of high school and who have demonstrated academic strength and personal and social maturity are considered for admission under the Early Admission Plan. It is preferable that these candidates have their interviews at the College, if distance permits. In all other respects they follow the regular procedures for entrance.

Americans Living Abroad

For American citizens living in other countries the entrance requirements and procedures for making application are the same as for applicants within the United States.

Students from Other Countries

The College welcomes applications from students who have outstanding secondary school records and who have completed the equivalent of the entrance requirements for Americans. In some cases, advanced credit is granted for successful completion of a university matriculation course. Foreign students must apply by January 15 of the year in which the student plans to enter college.
Admission is for September entrance only. There is no application fee for foreign students. Specific instructions for applying to Wellesley from abroad are contained in a special brochure Information for Students from Abroad which may be obtained by writing to the Board of Admission.

The Slater One Year Fellowship Program is open to qualified foreign students, primarily from western Europe, who wish to spend a year at Wellesley to increase their competence in American studies while preparing for a degree in their home university. Slater Fellows receive the full cost of tuition, room and board from the College. Applicants may obtain the necessary forms from the dean of foreign study.

Admission of Transfer Students

Wellesley College accepts transfer students in either the first or second semester. They must offer excellent academic records and strong recommendations from their dean and instructors. Incoming sophomores and juniors, and a limited number of second semester freshmen, are eligible to apply. Students wishing to apply for admission with advanced standing should make application before February 1 for entrance for the fall semester, and before November 15 for entrance for the spring semester, on forms which may be obtained from the Board of Admission. A nonrefundable application fee of $15 should be sent with the completed application form.

The College will evaluate the transcripts of successful transfer applicants and accept for credit only those courses which are considered appropriate to the liberal arts curriculum. A Wellesley unit is equivalent to four semester hours, and some transfer students may have to carry more than four courses per semester in order to complete their degree requirements within four years. Incoming juniors, in particular, should be aware that Wellesley requires evidence of proficiency in one foreign language before the beginning of the senior year. In addition, all transfer students should note which disciplines are included in Groups A, B, and C as defined on p. 53 so that they can satisfy the distribution requirements for graduation.

Graduate Students

Wellesley is primarily an undergraduate institution. The departments of art and biological sciences accept a limited number of candidates for the M.A. degree. (See Requirements for Degree of Master of Arts, p. 63).
FEES
FINANCIAL AID
FELLOWSHIPS

FEES AND EXPENSES

An excellent education is expensive.

At Wellesley the fee represents approximately one-half of the cost to the College for each resident student. In past years the difference has been made up from gifts and income earned on endowment funds.

Annual Fee

$3900 is the fee for tuition, board and room for the academic year 1972-73. In addition, there is a student activity fee of $50. The College offers three plans of payment described on p. 23. In 1973-74 the comprehensive fee for tuition, board and room will be $4250.

Student Activity Fee

The purpose of the student activity fee is to provide resources from which the student government organization can plan and implement the programs of student activities sponsored by various clubs and organizations on campus. The fee is nonrefundable.

Room Retainer Fee

Returning resident students must submit a room contract and $100 to the controller by March 1 to reserve a room for the following year. This $100 fee is applied against room and board charges for the following year and is not refundable after March 1.
Reservation Fee
$200 reserves a place in the College for the student. It is due February 1 for Early Decision students and May 1 for all other entering students, and annually on July 1 for returning students. It is included in the annual fee of $3900, and cannot be refunded for any reason.

General Deposit
$50 is a general deposit paid by each entering student. The deposit is refunded after graduation or withdrawal and after deducting any unpaid special charges.

Special Fees and Expenses
These include the following:
An initial nonrefundable application fee: $15.
Certain special fees and expenses listed in departmental descriptions, e.g., the cost of instrumental and vocal lessons given on p. 160.
A fee for each unit of work taken for credit in excess of five in any semester: $325.
A fee for validating in September each unit of work done independently during the summer or taken in other institutions in excess of the units accepted for an automatic transfer: $50.
An automobile parking fee per year: $80.
Fees for laboratory breakage and any other damage incurred by a student.
A fee for dormitory room key, if not returned: $5.

Nonresident and Graduate Student Fees
Detailed information on fees for nonresident and graduate students may be obtained by writing to the controller.

Plans of Payment
Detailed descriptions of plans are sent by the controller to the parents of entering students and to others upon request. It is necessary that all fees be paid in accordance with the specified plans before the student can begin or continue attendance, and all financial obligations to the College must be discharged before the diploma is awarded.
Although there are minor variations in the payment plans for April Decision and Early Decision students, the final due dates for each group are the same. A detailed schedule of payment plans for each group appears on the next page.

The College will accept payments made through any bank or trust company or recognized financing agency which will forward payments in accordance with the Standard Plan.
Payment for Students on Financial Aid

Except for the reservation fee, grants are usually applied equally against all tuition, board and room payments for the year. The remaining financial obligation must be paid in accordance with one of the approved plans. Students on financial aid who have difficulty meeting the scheduled payments outlined above should consult the financial aid officer.

Insurance

Information concerning optional health and accident insurance is automatically sent to all parents by the controller. Because of the high cost of medical care, parents are urged to subscribe to a comprehensive medical insurance plan.

Refunds

The reservation payment and the room retainer fee are not refundable after their due dates. Additional payments made before the opening of College in the fall are refundable only prior to that time.

The College necessarily makes commitments in advance for instruction and living arrangements and the parent or guardian is responsible for the entire fee for a semester if withdrawal or exclusion occurs after the start of the academic schedule. The only rebate in the event of withdrawal or exclusion is for the unused portion of the board rate which pertains to food cost ($10 per week) for each remaining full academic week of the semester calculated from the week after the withdrawal or exclusion date.
In the event of withdrawal of a student on financial aid, the proceeds of all refunds are applied first to the scholarship account.

General Expenses

It is estimated that $500 for the year will cover a student's general expenses including books and supplies, incidental fees, recreation and entertainment, laundry and dry cleaning, and some transportation, excluding trips to and from home. For the foreign student coming from abroad this figure is estimated at $600.

FINANCIAL AID

The Wellesley College program of financial aid for students is intended to open educational opportunity to able students of diverse backgrounds regardless of their financial circumstances. No student should be discouraged from applying to Wellesley because of the need for financial aid. At Wellesley admission decisions are made without regard for financial need, and only after a student is admitted does the Committee on Financial Aid consider applications for aid. Over 30 percent of Wellesley students receive some financial aid from Wellesley funds.

The Wellesley College Students' Aid Society, which sponsors loans, also offers personal assistance through loans of books and other items, gifts of clothing, and loans of small amounts of money for incidental expenses and special emergencies.

Financial aid is given only to students who require assistance in order to attend. Awards vary in size according to individual need and may equal or exceed the comprehensive College fee. Although awards are generally granted for one year at a time, the College expects to continue aid as needed throughout the four years for all financial aid students who continue to have need and whose college records are satisfactory. Most awards consist of a package of a grant and a loan, plus work.

In addition to College grants, loans, and work, Educational Opportunity Grants, National Defense Student Loans, and Work-Study jobs are available to eligible students.

In the College Work-Study Program, a student may work on or off the campus for a public or private non-profit organization during the academic year or summer. Students may work in diverse areas, for example, helping to develop community action programs, tutoring, doing research for local museums, staffing recreation centers.

The need for financial help always exceeds the amount of resources Wellesley has available in any given year. Therefore, students should, whenever possible, seek grants and/or loans through local, state, or federal programs, from educational foundations, and other private sources.

Wellesley College offers ten Town Scholarships to residents of the Town of Wellesley who qualify for admission and whose parents or guardian live in Wellesley. If these students live at home the scholarship is in the form of a full tuition grant. If these students choose to live on campus the amount of the scholarship is based on financial need and is determined by the same need criteria which apply to all other financial aid applicants.

The College expects students to contribute as much as possible to their own expenses through summer and term-time earnings. On-campus jobs under the Wellesley College and Federal Work-Study Programs are offered to all financial aid applicants. These jobs ordinarily involve five hours of work per week and enable students to earn approximately $250 a year. In addition, the Career Services Office is often able to arrange for additional paid work during the academic year and summer.

Further information on financial aid at Wellesley is contained in the brochure Opportunities for Financial Aid which may be obtained by writing to the Financial Aid Officer, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass. 02181.

Application for Financial Aid

Each registered applicant for admission who is applying for financial aid must file two forms, the Wellesley College Application for Financial Aid and the Parents' Confidential Statement, during the senior year in high school, in the places listed below. Early Decision applicants must file by October 15; April Decision applicants by January 15; fall semester transfer applicants by February 15; and spring semester transfer applicants by November 30.

The Wellesley College form will be sent to candidates who indicated that they would like to apply for financial aid on the application for admission. It should be returned to the financial aid officer, Wellesley College. Application for financial aid must be renewed each year.
Parents' Confidential Statement

This form is available in the secondary schools, or may be obtained by writing to the College Scholarship Service, Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; Box 881, Evanston, Illinois 60204; or Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701. A copy can also be provided by the financial aid officer if specifically requested by an applicant. The Parents' Confidential Statement should be filed with the College Scholarship Service which will then forward a copy for confidential use to the college or colleges indicated on the form.

FELLOWSHIPS AND GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

A number of fellowships and graduate scholarships are open to graduating seniors and alumnae of Wellesley College, while others administered by Wellesley are open to women graduates of any American institution. In general, awards are made to applicants who plan full-time graduate study.

Information and application forms may be obtained from the Secretary to the Committee on Extramural Graduate Fellowships and Scholarships, Wellesley College. Applications and supporting credentials for fellowships are due by February 20, except where noted.

For Graduates of Wellesley College

Fellowships open to Wellesley College alumnae and graduating seniors are listed below. Each is awarded annually unless specified otherwise.

American School of Classical Studies in Athens awards three fellowships on a competitive basis. Qualified graduates are exempt from any charge for tuition at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens or in Rome.

Stipend: $2000

Anne Louise Barrett Fellowship, preferably in music and primarily for study or research in musical theory, composition, or in the history of music; abroad or in the United States.

Stipend: $2500
Professor Elizabeth F. Fisher Fellowship for research or further study in geology or geography, including urban, environmental or ecological studies. Awarded in alternate years. To be offered in 1972-73 for 1973-74.
Stipend: $1000

Horton-Hallowell Fellowship for graduate study in any field, preferably in the last two years of candidacy for the Ph.D. degree, or its equivalent, or for private research of equivalent standard.
Stipend: $3500

Edna V. Moffett Fellowship for a young alumna, preferably for a first year of graduate study in history. Awarded in alternate years. To be offered in 1972-73 for 1973-74.
Stipend: $2500

Vida Dutton Scudder Fellowship for study in the field of social science, political science, or literature. Awarded in alternate years. To be offered in 1973-74 for the year 1974-75.
Stipend: $3000

Sarah Perry Wood Medical Fellowship for the study of medicine. Renewable.
Stipend: $3300

Trustee Scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies. These scholarships are unrestricted as to field of study. The title Trustee Scholar is honorary and in cases of financial need stipends may be awarded to the scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance. All applications and credentials are due by January 15. Recipients share a total annual stipend of $6000.

Fanny Bullock Workman Scholarship for graduate study in any field.
Stipend: $3000

Mary Elvira Stevens Traveling Fellowship for travel or study outside the United States. Any scholarly, artistic, or cultural purpose may be considered. Candidates must be at least 25 years of age on September 1 of the year in which the fellowship is first held. All applications must be filed with the Secretary to the Stevens Fellowship Committee before December 31.
Stipend: $7000
For Graduates of Other Institutions
Fellowships, Scholarships, and Assistantships

Some graduate fellowships and scholarships for study at the institution of the candidate's choice are administered by Wellesley College and are open to alumnae of any college, including Wellesley.

Several scholarships are available for candidates for the degree of Master of Arts at Wellesley.

Assistantships which provide stipends are available for candidates for the M.A. degree in biological sciences at Wellesley.

Alice Freeman Palmer Fellowship for study or research abroad or in the United States. The holder must be no more than 26 years of age at the time of her appointment, and unmarried throughout the whole of her tenure.

Stipend: $3500

M. A. Cartland Shackford Medical Scholarship for the study of medicine with a view to general practice, not psychiatry. Renewable.

Stipend: $3500

Harriet A. Shaw Scholarship for study or research in music and allied arts, abroad or in the United States. The candidate must be no more than 26 years of age at the time of her appointment. Preference given to music candidates; undergraduate work in history of art required of other candidates. Awarded in alternate years. To be offered in 1973-74 for the year 1974-75.

Stipend: $3000
Registration

At the beginning of each semester resident students must register in their dormitories before their first scheduled classes, and nonresidents must register in the Information Bureau, Green Hall, before their first scheduled classes.

Orientation for Entering Students

Freshmen and transfer students arrive on campus a few days before most upperclassmen. Their orientation is planned by the class dean and a student committee which also returns early to help entering students become acquainted with the College.

During this week there are mixers, picnics, campus tours, and trips to Boston and Cambridge. The class schedules are distributed. All new students meet their class deans and advisors. The Vil Junior in each dorm has special responsibility for helping the new students feel at home.

New students receive a handbook prepared by upperclassmen and a portrait directory which help them become acquainted quickly with the College and their classmates.
Residence

The College provides housing in 13 dormitories on campus, and although the majority of students choose to live in these residences, some students prefer to find their own housing off campus. The dormitories contain single rooms, double rooms, and suites. Small kitchenettes are located on most corridors for students to prepare snacks or to use when entertaining.

The cost of all rooms is the same, regardless of whether they are shared. Members of all four classes live in each dorm and share the dining and common rooms and the general life of the house. Students clean their own rooms and contribute two or three hours a week answering the telephones and doing other miscellaneous jobs which are scheduled by the student heads of work. Each dormitory has a nonstudent resident head of house. The visiting hours for guests are set by the students.

The College supplies a bed, desk, chair, lamp, bookcase, and bureau for each resident. Students may rent linen or supply their own. Students supply blankets and quilts and their own curtains, pictures, rugs, posters, and the rest of the delightful paraphernalia which turns the dorm room into a home away from home. Students may change dorms from year to year.

Advising

Students can receive advice and help from the College counselors and many others. The heads of house, class deans, faculty advisors, doctors and psychiatrists, the clinical psychologist, the human relations consultant, the chaplain, Vil Juniors, the dean of foreign study, members of College Government, and others are there to try to help students with problems—both large and small. Confidential problems are treated with respect, and students may feel secure knowing that a personal problem will remain confidential.

Supplementary Education

The College offers programs of academic assistance to all Wellesley College students. These include: tutoring, reading and study skills courses, diagnosis of study problems, and study counseling.

Religion

Wellesley seeks to respond sensitively to a variety of religious traditions. The College encourages independent religious involvement on the part of its students. Wellesley students may also major in religion and biblical studies, or take elective courses in these fields. Attendance at all worship services is voluntary.

The College chaplain is available to all students for religious guidance and personal counseling. He also officiates at regular Sunday morning worship, an ecumenically oriented Protestant service in Houghton Memorial Chapel, at which many distinguished men and women are invited to speak during the year. Other religious advisors representing several religious traditions are also available to students for counseling. The activities of various religious groups on campus as well as programs sponsored by the chaplain’s office are open to all.

Temples, churches, and other religious organizations representing a great variety of ways of worship are available locally and in the greater Boston area.

College Health Services

The services of the College physicians, psychiatrists, and nurses are available to students at Simpson Infirmary, which includes a 29-bed hospital and an outpatient clinic. Boston has long been one of the major medical centers in the country, and consultation with specialists in all medical fields is easily available.

Besides the usual care given by college health services, members of the Wellesley medical staff serve on a student-staff health committee. This committee works on ways to expand the use of the health services and sets up special programs of information and discussion of subjects such as drugs, sex, marriage.
The confidentiality of the doctor-patient relationship is the foundation upon which the success of the health services is based. College medical personnel will not share any medical information concerning a student with any College authorities, or with the parents of students, without the consent of the student. Parents are requested to sign a statement authorizing the College to proceed with appropriate treatment in the case of serious illness or emergency in the event they cannot be reached by telephone.

Each student is allowed three free days in the infirmary each academic year. Treatment involving unusual expenses or outside consultation or hospitalization is borne by the student. The College strongly recommends purchase of a group student health and accident insurance policy which protects students over a 12-month period whether or not they are in residence at the College.

Jobs on and off Campus

A student interested in employment may register at the Career Services Office. This office assists students in obtaining summer employment as well as part-time work during the academic year. There are many opportunities for students to find part-time employment at the College and in the Town of Wellesley. The Career Services Office is the clearinghouse for employers looking for students for part-time help and for students looking for work. Opportunities on campus include office work in academic departments, and work in small businesses run by students. Off campus, students have worked in offices, stores, and restaurants. A large number of local families employ students for child care, and for other varieties of household work.

Undergraduates and seniors are assisted in making plans for the future, either for employment or further study. Students may consult with the career services counselors about their interests and the plans they hope to make. Assistance is provided in many ways. The office maintains a library of vocational literature on current positions and future career possibilities; holds lectures and discussions for students on various occupations; supplies information about graduate courses, apprenticeships, graduate scholarships and assistantships as well as job opportunities; and schedules interviews for seniors with employer and graduate school representatives who recruit at the College.

All alumnae may continue to use the services of this office for information and help in employment or planning further study.
Summers

The long summer vacation gives students ample time for work, travel, or study.

The Career Services Office helps to place students in summer jobs and offers counseling and advice on the most rewarding kinds of jobs available depending on a student's particular interest.

The College sponsors a Washington Internship Program which provides a unique opportunity for students to learn about the national government through direct participation in political activity. Interested juniors may apply for 15 available summer internships, and those who are selected are placed in a broad range of positions both in governmental and nongovernmental offices. The program runs for ten weeks during which time interns hold full-time jobs and also participate in evening seminars with guest speakers on governmental or political problems. Job assignments are selected according to the interest of the student and learning experience to be afforded. Recent assignments have included positions in congressional offices, in the Department of Justice, in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, with the Federal Trade Commission, in the Office of the President, and with a major broadcasting system. Salaries are offered with some of these jobs, and the College provides stipends for students who hold nonsalaried positions.

In addition, the Wellesley Urban Internship Program offers students the opportunity to focus their summer experiences on some of the dilemmas of contemporary urban life. Students participating in this program spend ten weeks working for government agencies or private organizations in Boston or Los Angeles. Urban interns attend seminars and other meetings designed to stimulate analytical thinking about politics, government institutions, and public policy-making. Some of the interns are placed in paid positions; those who are not offered salaried posts receive a stipend from the College according to need.

The Internship Program in Economics, founded at Wellesley by the National Association of Business Economists, places qualified economics majors in salaried positions in private or public agencies in all parts of the country during the summer following the junior year. Students in this program carry out applied economic research under the direction of senior economists.

Wellesley awards Slater Fellowships for summer research and study abroad available primarily to junior Honors Candidates for work in connection with their 370 Honors Program. Slater Fellows must be recommended by their major departments and submit a budget indicating how much money they will need to supplement their own resources. Waddell Summer Fellowships provide opportunities for students wishing to study in Africa or the Caribbean. Independent travel, or travel with groups such as Crossroads Africa or the Experiment in International Living, is a good supplement to the academic program.

Some students carry out planned programs of independent study which have been worked out with members of an academic department and their class dean. Other students attend summer school. The amount of summer school credit allowed toward the degree is limited and is not automatic. Students should consult their class deans and appropriate departments before enrolling in summer school courses for which they expect credit toward the Wellesley degree. Students planning summer study in foreign countries should consult the Office of Foreign Study.

Whatever summer plans may be, Wellesley considers reading an indispensable accompaniment. Each department provides a summer reading list, designed particularly for majors, but open to all. These lists provide an excellent complement to the work done during the past year, and preparation for the one ahead.

The Campus

Wellesley College has a campus of more than 500 acres bordering on Lake Waban. There are woodlands, hills and meadows, an arboretum, botanic gardens, and an outdoor amphitheatre. In this setting are 64 buildings, with architectural styles ranging from Gothic to contemporary. Thirteen of the buildings are residence halls. Placed in four groups, each is approximately the same distance from the academic quadrangle where most classes are held. The campus map on pp. 46-47 will show most of the major areas.

The focal point of the campus is the tower which contains a 30-bell carillon. Named for its donor, Galen L. Stone, the tower rises 182 feet from Green Hall, the administration building, and is an excellent vantage point from which to view Wellesley's extensive campus and beyond.

One of Wellesley's oldest buildings (1880) is Billings Hall, now completely remodeled and expanded to create the Schneider College Center for extracurricular activities. Nearby is the Library and a short distance away, atop Norumbega Hill, is the quadrangle which includes the administration building, two classroom buildings (Founders and Pendleton Halls) and the Jewett Arts Center. The Houghton Memorial Chapel, the Whitin Observatory and the neighboring Sage Hall with adjoining greenhouses, the recreation and physical education buildings, the Child Study Center, as well as the Infirmary and other College buildings are described below.

Alumnae Hall

The largest auditorium on the campus is in Alumnae Hall which has a seating capacity of 1500 persons. Beneath the auditorium is a large ballroom. The building houses the Wellesley College Theatre and the College radio station, WBS. Alumnae Hall is host to visiting lecturers and concert artists, panelists, and professional theatre groups. The gift of Wellesley alumnae, the building was erected in 1923.

Arts Center

The Jewett Arts Center, completed in 1958, consists of the Mary Cooper Jewett art wing and the Margaret Weyerhauser Jewett music and drama wing. Linking the two buildings is the Wellesley College Museum.

The teaching collection of the museum includes choice examples of classical and medieval sculpture, old master prints and drawings, and contemporary art. Although used primarily for teaching and museum training, it is also open to the public and during the academic year loans exhibitions are organized, some entirely by students.

The music and drama wing contains the music library of books, scores, and recordings; listening rooms; well-equipped practice studios; and classrooms and offices of the music department. A fine collection of musical instruments is available to the students.

The Jewett Auditorium, an intimate theatre seating 320 persons, was designed for chamber music performances. In addition, there are rehearsal rooms and other facilities for the theatre workshop.

Chapel

The Houghton Memorial Chapel was presented to Wellesley in 1897 by the son and daughter of William S. Houghton, a trustee of the College. The Chapel's stained glass windows commemorate the founders and several former members of the College, while a tablet by Daniel Chester French honors Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley's second president. Beneath the main chapel which seats 1200 people there is the small, intimate Little Chapel.

Child Study Center

Wellesley College opened the Child Study Center in the fall of 1969 under the direction of the psychology department. It is located in the Anne L. Page Memorial Building, in which for many years was a college-run nursery school. The Center is designed for Wellesley undergraduates to study the learning processes among young children.

Classrooms

Founders Hall, built in 1919, is dedicated to the Durants, and Pendleton Hall, built in 1935, honors Wellesley's sixth president, Ellen Fitz Pendleton. They are located south and north respectively in the academic quadrangle. The humanities, social sciences, and mathematics are taught in Founders. Pendleton contains the laboratories, lecture rooms, libraries, and offices of the departments of chemistry, physics, and psychology. Extensive equipment and facilities provide opportunity for advanced work in these areas. There are additional classrooms in many other buildings.
Gray House

Gray House, near the new dorms, provides overnight accommodations for guests of students at a nominal cost.

Green Hall

The offices of the President, the Board of Admission, the Deans, and all administrative offices directly affecting the academic and business management of the College are located in Green Hall. The building has large rooms for Academic Council and trustee meetings, class and seminar rooms, some faculty offices, and the offices of the Alumnae Association, Resources, and the College Information Services staffs. Named for Hetty R. Green, the building was erected in 1931 and was in large part the gift of Mrs. Green's son and daughter, Col. Edward H. R. Green and Mrs. Mathew A. Wilks. The carillon in the Galen L. Stone Tower was the gift of Mrs. Charlotte Nichols Greene.

Greenhouses

Classrooms in the biological sciences department open directly into the greenhouses. They honor Margaret C. Ferguson, former Wellesley professor of botany, and bear her name. The climate in the greenhouses ranges from temperate to tropic with many excellent examples of trees and flowers which flourish in the respective temperatures. There is extensive space for experiments by faculty and students. The greenhouses are open to the public daily throughout the entire year.

Harambee House

Harambee House is the cultural and social center for Black students. It contains rooms for meetings and social gatherings as well as facilities for cooking and entertaining. It is located near the Schneider College Center just south of the Library.

Housing for Faculty and Staff

Wellesley maintains 39 houses and 65 apartments for faculty and administrative staff. Other campus buildings house maintenance and housekeeping staff.

Infirmary

The Simpson Infirmary, a 29-bed hospital and outpatient clinic, was built in 1942. It is connected to the original infirmary (1881) which is now used for staff housing.
Library

The Library's collection exceeds 500,000 volumes including some 20 percent in department libraries. Subscriptions to periodicals number over 2000. Special collections contain autograph letters, manuscripts, and rare books of distinction.

There is a seating capacity of 780, with 290 study carrels and 20 faculty studies. A language laboratory is available as are listening units for the collection of spoken and dramatic recordings. Special meetings, lectures, and discussions may be held in the Library's Pope Room seating 100.

The Library, erected in 1910 and first enlarged in 1916, was the gift of Andrew Carnegie. A new wing in 1957, and renovations to the old building as well as the installation of the language laboratory in 1958, were the gifts of alumnae and friends, especially of David M. Mahood and Mrs. Helen M. Petit in memory of Helen Ritchie Petit of the Class of 1928. The Library is open to the public daily while College is in session and Monday through Friday during vacation.
Maintenance

The Maintenance Building and nearby Physical Plant supply the services and utilities necessary for the upkeep of the College. Here are located the offices for grounds upkeep, security, housekeeping, and the resources for all utilities.

Observatory

The Whitin Observatory contains laboratories, classrooms, darkrooms, and the library of the astronomy department. Its research equipment includes a 6-inch, a 12-inch, and a 24-inch telescope. The gift of Mrs. John C. Whitin, a trustee of the College, the observatory was built in 1900 and enlarged in 1962 and 1966. It is considered to be an unusually fine facility for undergraduate training in astronomy.

Phi Sigma

The offices for personal counseling and continuing education are located in Phi Sigma House.

Physical Education and Recreation

Classes for all indoor sports and for modern dance are conducted in Mary Hemenway Hall, the gymnasium, and in the nearby Recreation Building. The latter has game rooms, badminton and squash courts, and a large swimming pool. Outdoor water sports center around the boathouse where the canoes, sailboats, and crew shells are housed. Wellesley maintains a nine hole golf course, 16 tennis courts, and hockey and lacrosse fields.

The older of the two buildings, Hemenway, was built in 1909 when the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics affiliated with the College and Mrs. Hemenway of Boston provided the funds for the building. The Recreation Building was opened in 1939. Its pool bears the name of George Howe Davenport, a trustee and generous benefactor of the College.

President’s House

The President’s House, formerly the country estate of Wellesley’s founders, the Durants, sits on a hill just south of the main campus. The house overlooks spacious lawns and the lake. Remodeled and renovated in 1968, it is frequently opened to various groups from the College community and is also the scene of alumnae and trustee gatherings as well as receptions for distinguished visitors.
Residence Halls

The 13 residence halls are arranged in four groups: one in the northwest corner of the campus; another west, on the hill overlooking the lake; a third slightly southeast of the lake shore; and the fourth stretching to the northeast. The buildings have large spacious living rooms and smaller common rooms. Each has its own dining facilities, and there are both single and double rooms. Almost all the buildings have a small kitchenette on each floor and every building has coin-operated washers and dryers. There are separate apartments for the heads of house. The residence halls bear the names of past presidents, faculty and students, as well as alumnae, trustees, and friends of the College.

Sage Hall

Located some distance from the academic quadrangle and on the northeast side of the campus, Sage Hall houses the biological sciences and geology departments. The building has laboratories, lecture rooms, a library, vivarium, aquarium, a teaching museum, and an extensive map collection for geography.
Schneider College Center

Schneider College Center is the center for extra-curricular life at the College. Its newly remodeled facilities provide lounge areas, a snack bar, meeting rooms, offices for student organizations, a coffee house, and many services for the College community. It is the bus terminal for the Wellesley-MIT cross-registrants.

The Center is governed by a student-faculty-staff board which arranges a series of social and special interest programs throughout the year. Harambee House, the Black cultural center, and Slater International Center are complementary adjuncts to Schneider.

Slater International Center

Slater International Center, to be dedicated in the fall of 1972, is an informal meeting place for foreign and American students and faculty. It will serve as one of the centers for student activities, for organizations on campus which have an interest in international affairs, and for seminars and speakers on international topics. Overlooking Lake Waban and part of the Schneider College Center complex, it contains rooms for large and small gatherings and meetings, a library, and facilities for cooking and entertaining.

Society Houses

There are three houses for special interest groups. Each house has kitchen and dining facilities, a living room, and other gathering rooms. Members are drawn from all four classes, beginning with second semester freshmen. The Society houses are listed below:

- Shakespeare
- Tau Zeta Epsilon
- Zeta Alpha

Shakespearean Drama
Art and Music
Modern Drama

Wellesley College Club

Completed in 1963, the Club is a center for faculty, staff, and alumnae. Its handsome reception rooms and dining rooms are used for many special occasions and daily by its members for lunch and dinner. There are a number of bedrooms for the use of guests, alumnae, and parents of students and prospective students.
Academic Affairs
The curriculum provides a framework within which students are invited to explore various fields in the arts and sciences. When students decide on an area of concentration they then select courses in other fields to provide complementary or contrasting experiences. These, together with the major, enable students to achieve a broadly liberal education.

In developing the curriculum, the faculty has tried to present diverse offerings among which students will gradually perceive interrelationships. Through study of different disciplines and bodies of knowledge, students perceive the coherent unity among diversity which is traditionally termed a liberal arts education.

By the time the Bachelor of Arts degree is earned, the student should be acquainted with the main fields of human interest, capable of integrating knowledge from various fields, and prepared for continuous scholarly growth and responsible participation in society. In the major field, the student is expected to demonstrate maturity of thought, acquaintance with recognized authorities in the field, and general competence in dealing with sources of research or analysis.
Requirements for Degree of Bachelor of Arts

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts is required to complete 32 units of academic work at a C average or better. Each semester course is assigned one unit of credit. The normal period of time in which to earn the degree is four years and a normal program of study consists of from three to five courses a semester.

Courses are classified in Grades I, II, and III. Introductory courses are numbered 100-199 (Grade I); intermediate courses, 200-299 (Grade II); advanced courses, 300-370 (Grade III). Each student shall include at least four units of Grade III work, at least two of which shall be in the major. The program in the senior year may not include more units of Grade I than of Grade III work and at least two must be of Grade III.

General Requirements

In order to provide students with as much freedom as possible, Wellesley requires no specific courses. To insure, however, that students gain insight and awareness in areas outside their own majors the College does require that they choose three semester courses in each of three general areas during the four year period. Research or Individual Study (the 350 courses) do not satisfy this requirement. These three groupings are:
Group A
Literature, Foreign Languages, Art, and Music
Three units chosen from courses in the Departments of Art, Chinese, English, French, German, Greek, Latin, Italian, Music, Russian, Spanish; or from extradepartmental literature courses.

Group B
Social Science, Religion and Biblical Studies, and Philosophy
One or two units chosen from courses in the Departments of History, Philosophy, Religion and Biblical Studies, and
One or two units chosen from courses in the Departments of Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology and Anthropology.

Group C
Science and Mathematics
Three units, at least one of which shall be in a laboratory science, chosen from courses in the Departments of Astronomy, Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, or one of the extradepartmental courses in history of science.

Freshmen are encouraged to carry a maximum of four courses each semester, but upperclassmen may take five.

Before the beginning of the senior year students must exhibit a degree of proficiency in the use of one foreign language, either ancient or modern. Many students fulfill the requirement by passing one of the language tests offered by the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB). Wellesley requires scores of 610 or better on the CEEB Achievement Test, or a score of at least 3 on the Advanced Placement Examination (AP). This requirement can also be met by the completion of two units of language study above the first year level. Students may take beginning courses in only two modern foreign languages. Credits for the foreign language requirement cannot be attained at summer school.

In addition, each student must complete the physical education requirement described on p. 168 for which no academic credit is given.

Students are expected to use acceptable standards of spoken and written English in their college work. Special assistance in English, mathematics, and other basic and special skills are offered at the College.
The Major

Wellesley students may choose majors offered by 23 departments, three interdepartmental majors—Black studies, classical and Near Eastern archaeology, and molecular biology—or they may devise an individual major. Of the 32 units required for graduation, at least eight are to be elected in the major, and no more than 14 in any one department.

Students who are interested in an individual major submit a plan of study to two faculty members from different departments. This plan should include four units in one department above the introductory level. The program for the individual major is subject to the approval of the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. Some students wish to center their study upon an area, a period, or a subject which crosses conventional departmental lines. Examples of possible area studies are Asian studies, Latin American studies, Russian studies, United States studies; of periods, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance; of subjects, classical civilization, comparative literature, international relations, theatre studies, urban studies.

In the second semester of the sophomore year each student elects a major field and prepares for the recorder a statement of the courses to be included in the major. Later revisions may be made with the approval of the chairman of the major department, or in the case of the individual major, with the student’s advisors, and be presented to the recorder not later than the second semester of the junior year.

Academic Standards

Academic standards at Wellesley are high, and students take full responsibility for attending classes, getting required work in on time, appearing for examinations. If students have difficulties with course work, become ill, or have other problems which interfere with their academic work they should consult with their class dean for assistance in making special arrangements for their studies.

Students are expected to maintain at least a C average throughout the college career. At the end of each semester each student’s record is reviewed, and appointments with the class dean or faculty advisor are arranged if needed. The College tries to provide the appropriate support services to students in difficulty. Students who show consistent effort are rarely excluded from College.
Grading System

Students have the option of electing courses on a letter or nonletter grade basis. At the beginning of the eighth week of a semester, students notify the recorder and their instructor whether they plan to take a course for a letter grade or on a credit/noncredit basis. Credit is given to those students who have attained a satisfactory familiarity with the content of a course and who have demonstrated ability to use this knowledge in a competent manner. If credit is not awarded this fact does not appear on the student's permanent record.

Examinations

An examination period occurs at the end of each semester. Special examinations are offered in September to qualified students to earn credit for work done independently, for admission to advanced courses without the stated prerequisites, and for exemption from required studies.

Students who wish credit towards the degree for work done independently in the summer, or for more than two units taken in summer school, should consult the appropriate department and the class dean, and should apply to the recorder at least a month in advance for a special examination to be given at the beginning of the college year.

Examinations may be taken for credit, for advanced placement, or for exemption from the required studies in Groups A, B, and C. Examinations for credit passed at a satisfactory level also count for advanced placement and/or exemption; examinations for advanced placement also count for exemption. Examinations passed at a satisfactory level for exemption do not count for credit.

Credit for Advanced Placement Examinations

Students who enter under the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board, making the scores specified by Wellesley College, will receive credit toward the B.A. degree, provided they do not register in college for courses which cover substantially the same material as those for which they have received advanced placement credit. Two units of credit will be given for each advanced placement examination in which a student received a grade of 4 or 5 with the following exceptions: only one unit of credit will be given for the Latin 4 examination; one unit of credit will be given for a score of 4 or 5 in the Mathematics AB examination, one unit of credit for a score of 3 in the Mathematics BC examination. Not more than two units are credited in any one subject.

Credit for Other Academic Work

Of the 32 units required for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a student may earn a maximum of 16 units through a combination of the following: AP examinations, courses taken at another institution during the summer or the academic year, or independent study off campus which is then evaluated by examination by a Wellesley department. (See Examinations.) Two units may be earned in summer school and two units for independent study. Eight units, in addition to summer school, may be earned through courses taken at another institution. All students, including transfer students, must complete 16 units at Wellesley.

Exemption from Required Studies

Students may be exempted from any of the studies required for the degree, provided they can demonstrate to the department concerned a reasonable competence in the elements of the course. Exemption from any of the studies required does not affect the general requirement for completion of 32 units for graduation. It does, however, make it possible for some students to select more advanced courses earlier in their college careers.

Such exemption may be achieved in one of two ways:

A score of 4 (Honors) or 5 (High Honors) on the CEEB Advanced Placement Test (AP), or Passing a special exemption examination.

Permission for the exemption examination must be obtained from the class dean and the chairman of the department concerned. (See Examinations.) In addition to the evidence offered by the examination, some departments may require the student to present a paper or an acceptable laboratory notebook.

Research or Individual Study

Each department of the College which offers a major course of study provides the opportunity for certain students to undertake a program of individual study directed by a member of the faculty. Under this program an eligible student may undertake a research project or a program of reading in a particular field. The results of this work normally are presented in a final report or in a series of short essays. The conditions for such work are described under the course numbered 350 in each department. Wellesley offers further opportunities for research and individual study. (See Honors in the Major Field.)

Freshman-Sophomore Colloquia

These colloquia give students the chance to work closely in small groups with individual faculty members. They are designed to provide the sort of educational experience which previously was enjoyed only by upperclassmen. They are similar to the advanced seminars in that they stress independent work, discussion, and oral and written presentations.

Cross-Registration Program with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology

A five year experimental program of cross-registration of students at Wellesley and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was officially inaugurated in 1968-69. The program allows students to elect courses at the other institution, and extends the diversity of educational experiences available in the curriculum and in the environments of each. The two schools combine their academic, extracurricular, and operational resources while maintaining the separate strengths, independence, and integrity of each institution.

A Wellesley student interested in exploring the possibilities of electing a specific course at MIT should consult the department advisor or the appropriate exchange program faculty advisor. Since the number of participants in the exchange is limited, upperclassmen are given first preference.

The Twelve College Exchange Program

Wellesley belongs to a consortium which includes Amherst, Bowdoin, Connecticut College, Dartmouth, Mount Holyoke, Smith, Trinity, Vassar, Wesleyan, Wheaton, and Williams. Students in good standing may apply through the exchange coordinator for a semester or full academic year in residence at any of the member institutions. The combined resources of this exchange offer students an unusually rich and extensive educational opportunity.

The Junior Year Abroad

Qualified students may apply for admission to various groups spending the junior year in Europe and in foreign countries in other parts of the world. The Wellesley Slater
Junior Year Abroad Scholarships are available to juniors who have been accepted in approved programs. Scholarships for students wishing to spend the junior year in Africa or the Caribbean are provided by the Waddell Fund. The selection of award recipients for awards from both funds is made early in the second semester of the sophomore year on the basis of academic qualifications and faculty recommendations. The amount of each individual award is determined according to need. Information about these scholarships may be obtained from the Office of Foreign Study.

Academic Distinctions

Honors in the Major Field

Students who have shown marked excellence and an unusual degree of independence in their work in the major field may receive the Bachelor of Arts degree with Honors in the Major Field. Eligibility for the program is based on the student's record in the major field. Under this program an eligible student may be invited to undertake independent research or special study which will be supervised by a member of the faculty. The successful completion of the work and of an oral honors examination leads to the award of Honors in the Major Field.

Other Academic Distinctions

The College names to Freshman Honors those students who maintain high academic standing during the freshman year and names juniors and seniors whose records after the freshman year are at the level of Wellesley College Scholars and Durant Scholars. Final honors, conferred at Commencement, are based on academic records after the freshman year and include the title Wellesley College Scholar for high academic standing and Durant Scholar for the highest academic standing.

Juniors and seniors are elected to membership in the Eta of Massachusetts chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of their total academic achievement in college, and seniors who are majoring in the sciences may be elected to associate membership in the Wellesley chapter of Sigma Xi.

On recommendation of the faculty, the Trustees award to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies the title of Trustee Scholar. The awards are made on a competitive basis. The title is honorary; in cases of financial need stipends are awarded to the Scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance. Applications and supporting credentials should be sent to the Secretary to the Committee on Extramural Graduate Fellowships and Scholarships by January 15.

Certain prizes have been established at the College for the recognition of merit in a particular field. They carry a small stipend or gift and usually bear the name of the donor or the person honored, and are awarded for excellence by the departments.

Leave of Absence

A few students find it wise to interrupt the normal sequence and spend a semester or two away from Wellesley either working, or enrolled at another institution. This flexibility in developing individual educational goals is sometimes advantageous. Application for leave of absence may be made to the class dean at any time after a student has completed at least one year at Wellesley.

To obtain permission to spend the year at another institution as a nonmatriculated student or guest, a student submits a detailed plan to the class dean or advisor and, if a major has been chosen, to that department. The plan should list the course of study for the year and justify its relationship to the four year program. Students must also submit a statement signed by the dean or registrar of the other institution recognizing their status as nonmatriculated students who will return to Wellesley to complete their work for the degree.
Withdrawal

Students who plan to withdraw must inform the class dean. A withdrawal form will then be sent to the parents or guardian for their signature. The official date of withdrawal is considered to be the date on which the signed form is received by the recorder of the College. The withdrawal date is important in order to compute costs and possible rebates. For regulations concerning withdrawal refunds see p. 24.

The College reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student whose academic work falls below its standards, or for whom Wellesley may not have been the best choice. In such cases of involuntary withdrawal, which are rare, the official date of withdrawal is considered to be the date upon which the student leaves the College.

Readmission

A student who has withdrawn from College and wishes to return should apply to the Office of the Dean of Studies for the appropriate forms. Readmission will be considered in the light of the reasons for withdrawal and reapplication, and of the space currently available. A nonrefundable fee of $15 must accompany the reapplication form.

Career Preparation

A liberal arts education does not prepare a student for a specific career. It is intended to provide that broad background upon which a student depends in indescribable ways throughout a lifetime. The Wellesley program provides a student with the chance to explore various fields of knowledge and to secure in-depth preparation in a specific major field. The student then can either begin a career or pursue further study in graduate school for more specialized professional work.

During the undergraduate years a student may meet the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and at the same time prepare to enter professional schools, for example, architecture, law, medicine, public health, social service, education. A sound education in the liberal arts is considered the best preparation for admission to most professional schools, but a student who is interested in any one of the professions should consult the class dean to plan a particular emphasis in the undergraduate program.
Information about many professions is maintained in the resources room in the Career Services Office. Students will find information about qualifying examinations, and catalogues containing the prerequisites for admission to a great number of professional schools.

Teaching in Secondary School

Some teaching positions in public as well as in private schools are open to college graduates without further study. Students who complete the course in supervised teaching and three other units of study in education and two in psychology are able to fulfill the minimum requirements for a teaching license in many states.

Qualification for supervised teaching necessitates that all requirements for distribution and the major (with the possible exception of one unit of independent study) be completed in three and one-half years. With or without credit for Advanced Placement and summer study, careful planning permits easy scheduling to this effect.

A student who intends to teach should consult the chairman of the department of education about requirements for certification and ways of preparing to meet them as soon as possible.
College Teaching and Research

A student who wishes to enter college teaching and research will find that the undergraduate work of the College provides preparation for graduate study leading to advanced degrees in the arts and sciences. The chairman of the major department or of the department in which a student hopes to pursue graduate study should be consulted as soon as possible to learn which courses in the field of special interest and which foreign languages will be most useful. It should be noted that for graduate study in many fields a reading knowledge of two specified foreign languages is required. The student will find the class dean, the faculty advisor, the chairmen of departments, and the staff of the Career Services Office helpful in locating information about graduate schools.

Medical School

In general, the minimum requirements for admission to recognized medical schools can be met by four units in chemistry, two units in physics, two units in biology, mathematics through calculus, and two units of English. Because there is some variation in minimum requirements, students should consult the most recent catalogues of the particular medical schools in which they are interested.

Many students planning to study medicine elect premedical sciences in the freshman year and major in one of them. A number of medical schools stress the importance of a liberal arts education as a preparation for medical studies and accept applicants regardless of their major provided they have fulfilled the minimum requirement for admission. Premedical students, therefore, are free to major in the field which interests them most.

The chairman and members of the premedical advisory committee will be glad to discuss curricular problems with students who are considering going into medicine.

Civil Service

A student wishing to qualify for examinations offered by the United States Civil Service Commission or various state and local civil service agencies should consult the Career Services Office about current requirements.

Requirements for Degree of Master of Arts

The Master of Arts degree is offered in art and biological sciences. The College does not maintain a program of courses for graduate students separate from those offered for undergraduates. Properly qualified graduate students are admitted to Grade III courses, to seminars, and to course 350, Research or Individual Study.

A candidate for the degree of Master of Arts is required to complete eight units of graduate work, which ordinarily includes a thesis embodying the results of original research. The program is arranged by the student's major department and is subject to the approval of the Committee on Graduate Instruction. A reading knowledge of French or German, to be tested by examination at entrance, is required. Individual departments may require a second language. A comprehensive examination testing the work of all the courses counting toward the degree is required of all candidates. At least one year in residence is required of all candidates.

Information regarding admission may be obtained from the chairmen of the departments of art or biological sciences.

Continuing Education

Through its Office of Continuing Education, Wellesley College provides a nonresidential program in which qualified women may enroll, either part-time or full-time, in regular course work at the College. Some of these women are resuming study toward the Bachelor of Arts degree after an interruption in their college work; others who have undergraduate degrees may need further training or reeducation in preparation for graduate study, or may simply wish to start exploring a new field.

Although men are not admitted as candidates for the B.A. degree at Wellesley, they may take courses under this program.
A semester course which carries one unit of credit requires approximately eleven hours of work each week spent partly in class and partly in preparation. The amount of time scheduled for classes varies with the subject from two periods each week in many courses in the humanities and social sciences to three, four, or five scheduled periods in certain courses in foreign languages, in art and music, and in the sciences. Classes are scheduled from Monday morning through late Friday afternoon; examinations may be scheduled from Monday morning through late Saturday afternoon.

Prerequisites are given in terms of Wellesley courses, exemption examinations, AP scores, and "admission units." Admission units refer to the secondary school credits acquired in various precollege courses.

HISTORY OF ART

Some of the courses in art history include laboratory work in the one or more media with which the course is concerned. The department believes that laboratory training has great value in developing observation and understanding of artistic problems, and for this reason requires it of majoring students. It should be stated, however, that no particular aptitude is required and that the work is adjusted to the student's ability.

The M.A. degree is offered in history of art. Eight units of advanced-level work are required, including Art 345 and at least one unit of Art 350. A comprehensive examination and reading knowledge of two foreign languages, German and either French, Italian, Latin, or Greek are required for the completion of the degree.
100 (1-2)  Introductory Course

A foundation for further study in the history of art. The major styles in western architecture, sculpture, and painting from ancient Greece to c. 1800 are presented in lectures and in conference sections. Simple laboratory work requiring no previous training or artistic skill planned to give the student a greater understanding of artistic problems. Open only to freshmen and sophomores.

THE STAFF

200 (1)  Classical Art

Topic for 1972-73: Art in the cities of the Roman Empire. The design of Roman cities and the buildings in them as well as the public and private monuments which illustrate the character of the Roman state and the nature of Roman taste. Topic for 1973-74: Greek painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Geometric period to the death of Cleopatra. Greek sculpture will be emphasized and some attention will be paid to the impact of Greek forms on later western art. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100 or 215, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS MARVIN
201 (2)* Near Eastern and Bronze Age Art

The art and archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean from 3000 B.C. to 1200 B.C. The interrelations of the cultures of Egypt, Mesopotamia, Minoan Crete, Mycenaean Greece, and their neighbors will be studied. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.

MISS MARVIN

202 (1) Medieval Sculpture and Painting

A study of western European sculpture, manuscript painting, ivories, and metal work from the late Roman through the High Gothic period. Open to sophomores who have taken 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. FERGUSSON

203 (2) Medieval Architecture

The architecture of western Europe from the Fall of Rome to the beginning of the Renaissance with particular concentration on the great Romanesque and Gothic monuments. Occasional conferences. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have taken or are taking 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. FERGUSSON

215 (1) European Art to the Renaissance

The major movements in architecture, sculpture, and painting from classical antiquity to c. 1400. Students attend course 100 lectures and have the option of attending course 100 conferences. Reading and paper assignments differ from those of 100. Students will be assigned staff advisors. Open only to juniors and seniors who have not taken 100.

THE STAFF

216 (2) European Art from the Renaissance to the Nineteenth Century

Western art from the Renaissance to the 19th century with emphasis on painting, sculpture, and architecture. Students attend course 100 lectures and have the option of attending course 100 conferences. Reading and paper assignments differ from those of 100. Prerequisite: same as for 215.

A survey of Afro-American art from colonial times to the present. Special attention will be given to the relationship between Afro-American art and social and cultural conditions in America. Open to all students.

MR. GAITHER

Survey of the major artistic traditions of China through monuments of the Bronze Age, Buddhist sculpture and painting from the Han to the Ch'ing Dynasty. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have had one unit in the history of art; or History [225] or [226] or [227] or 271 or 275 or 276 or [338] or [339] or 346; or Religion 253; or by permission of the instructor.

MRS. CLAPP

MRS. CLAPP

A study of selected artists whose work significantly illustrates the character of the late medieval and the early Renaissance styles. Particular attention to Florentine masters. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking one Grade II unit in the department, or by permission of the instructor.

MR. SHELL

Studies of the major masters of the High Renaissance followed by the examination of some selected Mannerist painters and of those developments within 16th century painting which lead in the direction of the Baroque. Considerable attention to Venetian masters. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MR. SHELL
304 (1) Late Medieval and Renaissance Sculpture 1

A study of major sculptors from the 14th century to the end of the 16th century with emphasis on Italy and the work of Giovanni Pisano, Donatello, Ghiberti, and Michelangelo. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

MRS. ANDERSON

306 (1) (2) The Graphic Arts 1 or 2

First semester: The graphic arts from the Renaissance to the present. Emphasis on the styles of Dürer, Rembrandt, Goya, Picasso. Special attention to the influence of technique upon style. Laboratory instruction in the processes of woodcut, engraving, etching, lithography. Visits to collections. Open only to seniors.

Second semester: A survey of photography in France, England, and the United States in the 19th and 20th centuries. Topics will include styles of individual photographers and movements, the problem of style in photography, and the reciprocal relationships between photography and the graphic arts. Open only to juniors and seniors who have taken 219 or 306 (1).

MRS. JANIS

308 (1) Renaissance and Baroque Architecture 1

The early and High Renaissance, Mannerist, and Baroque styles of the 15th through the 18th centuries, with particular emphasis on Italy. Prerequisite: same as for 302. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MRS. FRIEDMAN

Topic for 1972-73: Chartres Cathedral. Intensive study of either one problem or a series of related problems in medieval painting or sculpture. Open by permission of the instructor to juniors and seniors who have taken 202 or 203.

MR. FERGUSSON

333 (1) Seminar. Baroque Art 1

Problems of style, connoisseurship, and iconology in 17th century art concentrating on major Italian or northern Baroque masters. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 220 or 221.

MR. WALLACE

334 (2) Seminar. Ancient Art 1

Topic for 1973-74: To be announced. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 200 or 201, or by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS MARVIN

335 (1) Seminar. Selected Problems in the History of Art 1

Intensive study of either one problem or a series of related problems in 20th century painting. Open by permission of the instructor.

336 (2) Seminar. Museum Problems 1

An investigation of the history and structure of the museum, the philosophy of exhibitions and acquisitions, and the role of the museum in modern society, combining the theory and practice of all aspects of museum work.
Problems of conservation, exhibition, acquisition, publication, and education will be discussed. Students will be involved in the planning and mounting of an exhibition and will visit museums and private collections in the area. Open by permission of the instructor to juniors, seniors, and graduate students who have taken one Grade II unit in the department.

345 (1) (2) Seminar. Historical Approaches to Art for the Major

Comparative study of the major art historical approaches and their philosophical bases: connoisseurship, iconography, theories of the evolution of art, theories of style, psychoanalysis and art, psychology of perception, and theories of art criticism. Strongly recommended for all art majors; required of all candidates for the M.A. degree. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking one Grade II unit in the department.

THE STAFF

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking one Grade III unit.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

STUDIO COURSES

In order to receive credit for studio courses at least two units in the history of art must also be elected. The department recommends that the units in the history of art precede or be elected concurrently with the studio courses.

105 (1) (2) Introductory Drawing 1

Introductory drawing with emphasis on basic forms in spatial relationships. Stress on the essential control of line in a variety of media. Four periods of class instruction and four of studio practice. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and by permission to freshmen who have studied art before entering college.

MRS. FRISCH, MR. RAYEN, MR. LARRABEE
204 (1) (2) General Techniques Course

A survey of all significant technical material related to the history of western painting from the Middle Ages. Included are laboratory problems of purely technical nature requiring no artistic skill. Required of all art majors. Open to other students who are taking Grade II or Grade III art history courses.

MR. RAYEN, MR. LARRABEE, MR. SOKOLOFF

205 (1) (2) Introductory Painting

A study of basic forms in plastic relationships in a variety of media. Four periods of class instruction. Prerequisite: same as for 105.

MR. RAYEN, MR. SOKOLOFF

207 (2)* Introductory Sculpture

Basic modeling with emphasis on intensive observation of natural forms to develop the ability to translate volume and space into sculptural terms. Some work in terra cotta, direct plaster, and casting. Four periods of class instruction. Prerequisite: same as for 105.

MR. LARRABEE
209 (1) (2) Design I

Basic problems in two and three dimensions stressing texture and composition. Four periods of class instruction. Prerequisite: same as for 105.

313 (1) Painting: Watercolor and Oil

Landscape, still life, and painting from model. Four periods of class instruction. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100 or 105 or [106] or 205.

MRS. FRISCH

314 (1) (2) Advanced Drawing

Problems dealing with the progress from line to form to chiaroscuro. Analysis of anatomy, perspective, and composition with emphasis on direct visual observation of the model. Four periods of class instruction. Prerequisite: 105.

MR. SOKOLOFF

Directions for Election

A major in art must include course 100 (unless an exemption examination is passed), 204, and at least five further units in the history of art, chosen to make adequate distribution in the different arts and different periods. Normally four units should be elected outside the special area of concentration.

Students majoring in art history should plan to take 204 in the second semester of the sophomore year or in the first semester of the junior year. Art 345 is strongly recommended for all majors except those who are taking 370.

The department does not encourage overspecialization in one area but, by careful choice of related courses, a student majoring in art may plan a field of concentration emphasizing one period such as ancient, medieval, Renaissance, Baroque, 19th or 20th century art. Students interested in such a plan should consult the chairman of the department as early in the freshman or sophomore year as possible.

A reading knowledge of German and French, or Italian, is strongly recommended.

The attention of students is called to the interdepartmental major in classical and Near Eastern archaeology.

Credit toward the M.A. degree will be given to graduate students for all Grade III courses.
103 (1) (2) Introduction to Astronomy

Relationships of earth and sky; the solar system, stars, and galaxies. Two periods of lecture and discussion weekly with a third period every other week; laboratory in alternate weeks, and unscheduled evening work at the Observatory for observation and use of the telescopes. Open to all students.

THE STAFF
104 (2) Stellar and Galactic Astronomy 1

The following topics from Astronomy 103 will be discussed in depth: the sun, ages and evolution of stars, stellar populations, variable and unusual stars, the universe of galaxies. Open to students who have taken 103 and who have four admission units in mathematics or have taken or are taking Mathematics 110 or the equivalent.

MR. BIRNEY, MR. ADLER

200 (2) Modern Physics 1

For description and prerequisite see Physics 200. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

202 (1) Optical Physics 1

For description and prerequisite see Physics 202.

203 (1) Recent Developments in Astronomy 1

Contemporary problems in optical, radio, and space astronomy. Astronomical observations from outside the earth’s atmosphere. Radio galaxies and quasars. Prerequisite: 103.

MR. BIRNEY

206 (1) Basic Astronomical Techniques I 1

MR. ADLER

207 (2) Basic Astronomical Techniques II 1

Measurement of stellar radial velocities. Photoelectric and photographic photometry. Applications of the Method of Least Squares and statistical methods. The semester’s work includes an independent project at the telescope. Prerequisite: 206.

MR. ADLER

216 (1) Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences I 1

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 216.
217 (2) Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences II
For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 217.

302 (2) Galactic Structure
Distribution and kinematics of the stellar and nonstellar components of the Galaxy. Local structure, solar motion, velocity ellipsoids. Large scale structure, populations, rotation. Prerequisite: 103, and 216 or Mathematics 208.

304 (1)* Introduction to Astrophysics
The physical nature of the sun and stars derived from analysis of their spectra. Prerequisite: same as for 302. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

349 (1)* Selected Topics
Intensive study of a specific field. Prerequisite: same as for 302.

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
The following courses form the minimum major: 103, 104, 207, 217, 302; Physics 200, 202; and one additional Grade III unit in physics or astronomy. Extradepartmental 110 is strongly recommended. In planning a major program students should note that some of these courses have prerequisites in mathematics and/or physics. Additional courses for the major may be elected in the departments of physics, mathematics, astronomy.

A substantial background in physics is required for graduate study in astronomy. A student planning to enter graduate school in astronomy should supplement the minimum major with courses in physics, including Physics 306 and, if possible, other Grade III work. The student is also urged to acquire a reading knowledge of French, Russian, or German.

See p. 42 for a description of Whitin Observatory and its equipment.
BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

PROFESSOR: Creighton, Fiske
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Widmayer (Chairman), Harrison
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Bibb, Allen, Smith, Rubenstein, Fogel, Dobbins
LABORATORY INSTRUCTOR: Dermody, Muise

LABORATORY OF ELECTRON MICROSCOPY

PROFESSOR: Padykula
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Gauthier

Unless otherwise noted all courses meet for five periods of lecture, discussion, and laboratory weekly, except for seminars that meet for two periods.

103 (1)  Plant Biology

Investigations of plants in the laboratory, field, and greenhouses through observations and experimentation. Emphasis on growth and reproduction in the flowering plants. Open to all students.

MISS CREIGHTON, MR. DOBBINS

104 (1)  Microbiology

Structure, growth, reproduction, and activities of microorganisms, their interaction with the environment, and their economic uses. Open to all students.

MRS. ALLEN
105 (1) Animal Biology

Study of representative animals from single-celled organisms to man, illustrating the main evolutionary trends seen in the development of body plans and organ systems. Some work in embryology. Emphasis on structure and function in the vertebrates. Open to all students, but not recommended for those who have taken 109.

MRS. HARRISON, MR. RUBENSTEIN, MISS SMITH, MRS. MUISE

106 (2) Cell Biology

Investigations of cells and organisms through observation and experimentation. Study of cell structure, cell chemistry, energy relationships, and genetics. Open to all students except those who have taken [107] and [108].

MRS. FOGEL

109 (2) Human Biology

Study of anatomy and physiology of man. Some work on human genetics, population control, nutrition, and immunity. Two lectures weekly with a double period every other week for demonstration-discussions. Does not meet the laboratory science distribution requirement. Will not count toward the minimum major in biological sciences. Open to all students except those who have taken 105.

MRS. FISKE, MRS. HARRISON, AND STAFF

201 (1) (2) Introductory Ecology

An introduction to population and community ecology. Interspecific and intraspecific relationships among organisms. Succession of plants and social behavior of animals. Emphasis on evolutionary aspects of ecology. Open to students who have taken one unit of biology, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS SMITH

202 (1) Comparative Anatomy

Comparative anatomy of the chordates with emphasis on evolutionary trends within the vertebrate group. Dissection of representative forms including the dogfish and the cat. Open to students who have taken 105, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. RUBENSTEIN
203 (2)* Biology of Vascular Plants 1

A study of ferns and seed plants with emphasis on their anatomy, morphology, and taxonomy. Observation and experimentation in the laboratory, field, and greenhouses. Open to students who have taken one unit of biology or the equivalent, or by permission of the instructor.

MR. DOBBINS

205 (1) Genetics 1

Principles of inheritance; structure and function of hereditary informational molecules; application of genetic principles to biological problems. Laboratory and lecture material selected from plant, animal, microbial and human studies. Two periods of lecture and one laboratory session. Prerequisite: 103 or 104 or 106 or [107] or by permission of the instructor.

MISS CREIGHTON, MISS WIDMAYER

206 (1) Histology-Cytology I: Cell and Tissue Structure 1

The microscopic organization of animal cells and tissues. Ultrastructural and cytochemical features considered, especially in relation to functional activity. Laboratory study includes direct experience with selected histological and histochemical techniques. Prerequisite: 106 or [107], and 105 or 202 or the equivalent.

MISS PADYKULA, MISS GAUTHIER

207 (2)* Biology of Nonvascular Plants 1

A study of representative algae, fungi, lichens, mosses, and liverworts with emphasis on identification and their use as experimental organisms. Observation and experimentation in the laboratory, field, and greenhouses. Prerequisite: same as for 203. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MR. BIBB

208 (2) Basic Horticulture 1

Fundamentals of cultivation and propagation of plants; the effects of environment on their growth, and the methods of control of pests and diseases. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite, and to others who have had 103 or the equivalent.

MISS CREIGHTON
209 (2) Bacteriology 1

Structural organization of bacteria, their metabolism, and their environmental and biological relationships including disease and immunity. Laboratory projects. Prerequisite: one unit in biology and one unit in chemistry, or two units in chemistry, or permission of the instructor.

301 (1) Cell Physiology 1

Study of the molecular basis of cell function: energy conversions, biological membranes, contractility, cell communication and selected topics. Emphasis on experimental design and methods. Prerequisite: 106 or [107] and Chemistry 107. Strongly recommended courses are 205 and Chemistry 201 and 210 or the equivalent.

MRS. FOGEL

302 (2) Animal Physiology 1

Study of function of organ systems in animals. Emphasis on the vertebrates. Prerequisite: 105 and Chemistry 107, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. HARRISON

303 (1) Plant Physiology 1

Hormonal and other aspects of plant growth and development, physiology of reproduction, mineral nutrition, water relations, photosynthesis, and selected topics. Prerequisite: 103 and Chemistry 107, or permission of the instructor.

MR. DOBBINS

304 (2) Histology-Cytology II: Structure of Organ Systems 1

Analysis of the microscopic organization of organ systems, particularly those of the mammal. Detailed examination of selected specialized cells; the relationship of ultrastructural and cytochemical features to characteristic physiological processes. Prerequisite: 206 and permission of the instructor.

MISS PADYKULA, MISS GAUTHIER

305 (2) Advanced Genetics Seminar 1

Cytological and biochemical aspects of gene structure and function; mutational and recombinational processes; problems of cellular differentiation. Two periods of lecture. Prerequisite: 205, and either 301 or Chemistry 201 or the equivalent, or permission of the instructor.

MISS WIDMAYER
306 (2) Embryology 1
Ontogenetic development in chordates and related forms: fertilization, cleavage, differentiation, organogenesis, metamorphosis, and growth phenomena. Maintenance of pregnancy in mammals. Laboratory emphasis on topographic anatomy and experimental procedure. Open by permission of the instructor.

MR. RUBENSTEIN

307 (2)* Advanced Ecology 1
In-depth study of population dynamics, speciation, competition, and pollution. Extensive readings in primary source material. Laboratory and field studies. Prerequisite: 201 or permission of the instructor.

MISS SMITH

308 (2)* Plant Morphogenesis 1
Experimental study of internal and external factors affecting the development of form. Tissue culture and preparation of tissues for cytochemical and microscopic study. Prerequisite: 203 or 207 or permission of the instructor.

MR. DOBBINS

312 (1) Endocrinology 1
Regulation and action of hormones, neurohormones, and pheromones. Emphasis on the study of current literature and an original group laboratory project. Prerequisite: 105 and one unit of chemistry. Strongly recommended courses are 205 and 302.

MRS. FISKE
313 (2) Microbial Physiology and Cytology 1

Micro-organisms used as model systems for the study of cellular growth and its physiological basis, metabolic patterns, biochemical genetics, and relation of structure to function. Prerequisite: 104 or 106 or [107] or 209, and two units of chemistry, or permission of the instructor.
MRS. ALLEN

314 (1) Advanced Topics in Microbiology 1

Topic for 1972-73: To be announced. Open by permission of the instructor.

315 (2)* TerrestrialVertebrate Zoology 1

The forms, function, and evolution of amphibians, reptiles, birds, and mammals as related to their distribution, behavior, and ecology. Laboratory includes field identification and individual projects. Two lectures and one laboratory period weekly. Prerequisite: 105, and either 201 or 202, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MISS SMITH

319 (1) Advanced Cytology: Biological Ultrastructure 1

Introduction to the principles and major procedures of electron microscopy. Emphasis on interpretation of ultrastructural and cytochemical features of cellular components, particularly as related to functional activity. A knowledge of the basic principles of biochemistry strongly recommended. Prerequisite: 304 and Chemistry 201 and permission of the instructor.
MISS PADYKULA, MISS GAUTHIER

324 (1) Biochemistry I 1

For description and prerequisite see Chemistry 324.

325 (2) Biochemistry II 1

For description and prerequisite see Chemistry 325.

330 (1) Seminar 1

Topics in marine biology. Open ocean and estuarine environments. Emphasis on organisms, productivity, nutrient cycling, and physical and chemical parameters. Open by permission of the instructor.
MRS. FOGEL
331 (2)  Seminar
Topics in invertebrate zoology. Open by permission of the instructor.
MR. RUBENSTEIN

350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2)  Honors Program
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
A major in biological sciences must include two Grade I units or their equivalents. Course 109 counts as a non-laboratory science for the distribution requirement for the degree but does not count toward a minimum major in biological sciences. The major must also include either one unit in physics and Chemistry 106, or Chemistry 106 and 107. Biological Science 205 and Chemistry 210 are strongly recommended. Courses in biochemistry, 324 and 325, may be counted toward the major in biological sciences with the approval of the chairman.

For the minimum major only two Grade I units are recommended. A minimum major must include at least four units with laboratory work, two units above the Grade I level. The two Grade III units for the minimum major must be taken at Wellesley College. Independent summer study will not count toward a minimum major.

Within the major, students may design a program in general biology or one which emphasizes subjects dealing with animals, plants, or micro-organisms. A broad training in the various aspects of biology is recommended.

Students interested in an interdepartmental major in molecular biology are referred to p. 225 where the program is described. They should consult with the director of the molecular biology program.

Students planning graduate work are advised to take calculus, the recommended chemistry, and two units of physics, and to acquire a reading knowledge of one or more of the following languages: French, German, Russian.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 62.

Credit toward the M.A. degree will be given to graduate students for all Grade III courses.
Unless otherwise noted, Grade I and II courses meet for two periods of lecture and one three and one-half hour laboratory appointment weekly. Grade III courses meet for two periods of lecture weekly.

101 (1) Contemporary Problems in Chemistry I 1

Consideration of selected aspects of chemistry and related chemical concepts. Topic for 1972-73: The styrofoam society. The risks versus the benefits of scientific endeavor. Not to be counted toward the major. Open to students who present one admission unit in chemistry.

MR. COLB
102 (2) Contemporary Problems in Chemistry II 1

Consideration of selected aspects of chemistry and related chemical concepts. Topics for 1972-73: Impact of chemistry on man and his environment. Emphasis on the chemical nature of materials and processes in daily use such as metabolism, foods, food additives, synthetic materials, household products, cleaners, poisons, drugs, and pollution. An extra meeting each week is required for students who do not present one admission unit in chemistry. Not to be counted toward the major. Open to all students.

MISS HICKS

106 (1) (2) The Chemical Bond 1

Properties of matter, atomic structure, bonding, and stereochemistry stressing the relationship between structure and properties. An extra meeting each week is required for students who do not present one admission unit in chemistry and may be required for those who need supplementary work. Open to all students.

THE STAFF

107 (2) Equilibrium 1

Acid-base, complex-ion, solubility, redox, and solvent-distribution equilibria. Prerequisite: 106.

THE STAFF

201 (1) Organic Chemistry I 1

A study of the synthesis and reactions of typical organic compounds. An additional period may be required of AP students. Prerequisite: 107.

MISS WEBSTER, MR. COLB

203 (2) Chemical Thermodynamics and Kinetics 1

Experimental and theoretical aspects of the study of thermodynamics of chemical systems and the rates and rate processes of chemical reactions. An additional period may be required of AP students. Required for admission to all Grade III courses, including biochemistry. Prerequisite: 107 and one unit of college physics or the equivalent. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 111 or the equivalent.

MR. LOEHLIN
210 (2) Organic Chemistry. Molecules of Biological Significance

A continuation of 201 stressing the structure and reactions of biologically significant molecules and the mechanisms of biochemical reactions. A terminal course. Students wishing to take biochemistry or other Grade III courses should elect 203. Prerequisite: 201.

MISS WEBSTER

300 (1) (2) Foundations for Chemical Research

A coordinated program to introduce the student to research methods through the literature and the laboratory. At the beginning of the semester there will be a series of lecture-demonstrations, after which the students will pursue a program related to the work in those Grade III level chemistry courses which they elect for the major. The student is expected to spend the equivalent of 11 hours a week for one semester. One unit of credit will be given on satisfactory completion of the program. Required for a major in chemistry and molecular biology. Prerequisite: 201 and 203.

THE STAFF

303 (2) Organic Chemistry II

Correlation of structure and reactivities in organic systems through a study of reaction mechanisms. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MR. COLB

304 (1) Inorganic Chemistry

Structure and reactivities in inorganic systems, using examples which show the relationship between chemical systems and the environment. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MR. FRIEDMAN

305 (1) Structural Chemistry

The structure of matter: states of matter, elementary quantum theory, and spectra. Prerequisite: 201, and [202] or 203; one unit of mathematics which has a prerequisite of Mathematics 111. Prerequisite or corequisite: a second unit of college physics.

MISS ROCK
317 (2)*  Selected Topics in Physical Chemistry  1

Normally a different topic each year. Topic for 1972-73: Physico-chemical aspects of natural water systems. Prerequisite: 201, and [202] or 203.

MISS ROCK

318 (1)*  Selected Topics in Inorganic Chemistry  1

Normally a different topic each year. Prerequisite: same as for 317. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

319 (2)*  Selected Topics in Organic Chemistry  1

Normally a different topic each year. Prerequisite: 303. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

320 (2)*  Selected Topics in Biochemistry  1

Normally a different topic each year. Prerequisite: 324. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

324 (1)  Biochemistry I  1

A study of the chemical and physical-chemical nature of proteins, nucleic acids, and enzymes, emphasizing structure-function relationships. Protein and nucleic acid synthesis. Not open to students who have taken [322]. Prerequisite: same as for 317. Biology 106 and 205 are recommended.

MISS HICKS
325 (2) Biochemistry II

A study of biochemical energetics, intermediary metabolism, and the mechanism of enzyme and coenzyme action, with emphasis on mechanisms of reactions and regulations. Not open to students who have taken [323]. Prerequisite: same as for 317.

MISS HICKS

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to students who have taken at least two Grade II units in chemistry.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The eight units required for the chemistry major must include 300 and three additional Grade III units exclusive of 350 and 370. In addition, two units of college physics and one unit of mathematics which has Mathematics 111 as a prerequisite are required for the major.

Students interested in biochemistry or molecular biology are referred to p. 225 where the program is described. They should consult with the director of the molecular biology program.

Students who plan to do graduate work should acquire a reading knowledge of German and of either French or Russian, and consider additional advanced courses in mathematics and physics.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 62. Note that either 203 or 210 are acceptable to most medical schools as the fourth chemistry unit.

The American Chemical Society has established a set of requirements which it considers essential for the training of chemists. Students wishing to meet the standard of an accredited chemist as defined by this society should consult the chairman of the department of chemistry.

Placement and Exemption Examinations

Students who have had Advanced Placement courses, or two years of secondary school chemistry, or other unusually good preparation should consider the possibility of exempting Chemistry 106 and/or 107 by examination. For exemption with credit students will be expected to submit laboratory notebooks or reports.
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Lin (Chairman)
LECTURER: Yu

100 (1-2) Elementary Chinese 2
Introduction to spoken and written Mandarin Chinese. Pronunciation, sentence structure, conversation, reading, and character writing. Four periods. Open to all students.
MRS. LIN

200 (1-2) Intermediate Chinese 2
Reading with emphasis on vocabulary building; review of sentence structure, composition, and oral expression. Discussion of current events and cultural topics. Four periods. Prerequisite: 100 or permission of the instructor.
MRS. YU
250 (1) Readings in Modern Style Writings 1

Reading and discussion in Chinese of selections from contemporary writings, including essays on various topics such as art, economics, history, philosophy, political theory, and sociology. Three periods. Prerequisite: 200 or permission of the instructor.

MRS. LIN

251 (2) Topics in Chinese Culture of Today 1

Reading and discussion in Chinese of various topics of selections from representative texts, current periodicals, and news editorials of Mainland China and Taiwan. Oral report, short papers, translations in Chinese. Three periods. Prerequisite: 250 or permission of the instructor.

THE STAFF
300 (2) Readings in Contemporary Chinese Literature 1

Reading and discussion in Chinese of selections from plays, poetry, short stories, novels, and essays. Three periods. Prerequisite: same as for 251.

MRS. LIN

310 (1) Introduction to Literary Chinese 1

Wen-yen grammar, reading, and discussion in Chinese of selections of simple texts in classical Chinese. Two periods. Prerequisite: 300 or permission of the instructor.

MRS. YU

311 (2) Readings in Elementary Classical Chinese 1

Reading and discussion in Chinese of selections of poetry, prose, traditional short stories, and novels. Two periods. Prerequisite: 310 or permission of the instructor.

MRS. YU

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to qualified students.

Directions for Election

Although the College does not offer a major in Chinese language and literature, students who major in Asian studies or Chinese studies that relate to China should consult the chairman of the department and the advisor early in the college career.

For a student majoring in Asian studies who does not intend to do graduate work, at least one year of Chinese is encouraged, but not required. For a student majoring in Chinese studies, the minimum requirement is six units in Chinese language and literature. History 275, 276, 345, 346; Political Science 306; Art 248; and Religion 251 are strongly recommended as related courses.

Students who wish to do graduate work in Asian studies are advised to complete at least two years of Chinese language training.

Course 350 is an opportunity for properly qualified students to work independently in fields not covered in other courses in the department. It can also provide continuing study in classical Chinese literature.

For the non-Mandarin speaking students who can read and write Chinese and wish to continue Chinese studies, arrangements can be made for tutorial classes or special help. Students should contact the department chairman.
100 (1) (2) Survey of Modern Macro-Economics 1

Analysis of economic problems and policies with special reference to the United States today. Organization and operation of business enterprise; labor and management; prosperity and depression; money and banking; the national income and its distribution. Weekly tutorials in each semester for freshmen who elect 100 in the first semester and 101 in the second semester. (See Economics 355). Open to all students.

THE STAFF
101 (1) (2)  Survey of Modern Micro-Economics  1

Competition and monopoly; demand and supply; analysis of firms and industries; balance of payments; foreign aid and foreign trade; economic growth; comparison of the American economy with others. Open to all students.

THE STAFF

201 (1) (2)  Micro-Economic Analysis  1

Micro-economic theory; analysis of the individual household, firm, and industry. Prerequisite: 100 and 101.

MRS. BELL, MR. MUNYON
202 (1) (2)  Macro-Economic Analysis
Macro-economic theory; analysis of aggregate income, output, and employment. Prerequisite: same as for 201.
MRS. CRANDALL, MRS. JOHNSON

203 (2)*  Economic History
An economic analysis of European development in the 18th and 19th centuries. A selective application of classical and neoclassical growth models. The development of the market system and modern economic society. Prerequisite or corequisite: 100 and 101.
MR. MUNYON

204 (1)*  American Economic History
The "new" economic history. A sectoral and factorial analysis of the development of the American economy from colonial times to the 20th century. The economics of slavery and the Civil War. The emergence of an industrial state. Prerequisite: same as for 203. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MR. MORRISON

205 (1)  The Corporation
The development of the modern corporation and its place in the economy. Corporation organization and financial management. Financial markets; the technical and fundamental aspects of the stock market. Government regulation of corporations and markets. Prerequisite: same as for 203.
MR. CALDERWOOD

210 (1)  Money and Banking
The structure and operation of the monetary system. Commercial banking and other financial institutions. The Federal Reserve System. Monetary theory and policy. Prerequisite: same as for 203.
MRS. JOHNSON

211 (1) (2)  Elementary Statistics
Descriptive statistics and an introduction to statistical inference. Expected values, probability distributions, and tests of significance. Classical models of bivariate and multiple regression. Problem solving by means of the time-sharing computer. Prerequisite: same as for 201.
MRS. JOHNSON, MRS. TOLPIN
249 (2) Seminar. The Economics of Environmental Disruption

Is economic growth without environmental deterioration possible? The economic forces (externalities) which cause pollution; the costs and who bears the costs; the extent of the problem and possible solutions both here and abroad. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. GOLDMAN

301 (1) Comparative Economic Systems

The economics of capitalism, socialism, fascism, and communism. Prerequisite: 201 or 202.

MR. GOLDMAN

302 (2) Economic Development

The problems and possibilities of the less developed countries. Prerequisite: same as for 301. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MR. GOLDMAN

305 (2) Industrial Organization

MR. SIPPLE, MR. SLEEPER

Research or Individual Study

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

Directions for Election

The department offerings are intended to acquaint students systematically with the history of compulsory free education as developed in the United States and now practiced in many countries under different forms, the philosophies which underlie these efforts, the problems to be solved, and, as an adjunct, to aid students who wish to enter teaching immediately after graduation.

Students who intend to teach should (in their freshman year if possible) consult the department concerning the various city and state requirements for the certificate to teach and the appropriate undergraduate preparation for fifth year and paid intern programs which combine professional study with further study in teaching fields and lead to advanced (M.A.T., Ed.D., Ph.D.) degrees.
For those interested in secondary school teaching upon graduation, the following program is recommended:

Freshman year: Education 101 and Psychology 101
Sophomore year: Education 200, and Psychology 212 or 217 or 219
Junior year: Education 300, and 206 or 301
Senior year: Education 302 and 303

Preparation to teach in elementary schools should include:

Freshman year: Education 101 and Psychology 101
Sophomore year: Education 200 and Psychology 207
Junior year: Education 206 or 301; Psychology 212 or 217

A summer program, preferably preceding the senior year, at another accredited institution should include Methods and Supervised Teaching for the Elementary School. With careful planning the same courses can be taken under the Twelve College Exchange Program.

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
Grade II level literature courses are open to all students. Special attention is called to 209, which offers fundamental and rigorous practice in methods of interpretation of a literary text. Other courses isolate certain major figures or periods for concentrated study, or address themselves to continuing themes and issues. In choosing their courses students are encouraged to consult with their instructors and with other members of the department generally. More complete descriptions of every course, composed by their instructors, are posted every fall and spring on bulletin boards in Founders Hall, and are available from the department secretary.

English majors must take at least one course in Shakespeare, ordinarily at the advanced level. In addition, majors should work closely with their advisors in arranging a program of study with these objectives: (a) ability to interpret a text (b) an understanding of some of the major works, authors, and periods that comprise the history of English and American literature (c) a developing interest in some special field of study, such as the English Renaissance, drama, criticism, modernism.

Students of at least B standing in the work of the department will have first consideration when applying for admission to seminars and independent work, i.e., 350.

Courses 109, 200, 201, and 202 are planned as workshops in writing with informal group meetings and frequent individual conferences. While the emphasis is on constant practice in writing, each course requires a critical reading of pertinent examples of the type of writing being studied. Courses 301 and 302 continue the same plan at an advanced level.
Students interested in writing fiction and poetry can apply for one or two units of 350 in writing, in addition to taking the other writing courses listed, 200, 202, 301, 302. It is strongly recommended that majors electing several writing courses should also elect a strong program in literature courses in consultation with their advisors. In general, enrollment in writing courses is limited to 15. Students who have demonstrated special ability in fiction, poetry, or drama may be invited to do an honors project in writing.

Knowledge of English and American history, of the course of European thought, of theatre studies and of at least one foreign literature at an advanced level is of great value to the student of English. See, for example, History 233, 235, 238, 239, 242, 301; Philosophy 203, 204, 207; Grade II and Grade III courses in foreign literatures; Extrabudgetary 101, 104, 108, 201, 202, [226], [227], 228, 229, 231, 330, 331; and courses in theatre studies.

A reading knowledge of at least one ancient or modern foreign language is desirable for all majors. Students expecting to do graduate work in English should ordinarily plan to acquire a reading knowledge of two foreign languages.
FRENCH

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

Course 100 counts toward the degree but does not count toward the major. Students who begin with 100 in college and who plan to major in French should consult the chairman of the department during the second semester of their freshman year. A student may not count toward the major both 102 and 104. Course 104 may not be elected by students who have taken both 100 and 102.

Upperclassmen majoring in French (with the exception of those who carried two Grade II units in the freshman year) should not elect more than three Grade II units without permission of the department. Majors are required to take two of the following courses: 222, 308, 309. In some cases 224 may also be required.

Courses in other foreign language and literature departments, in art, history (especially 242 and 243), philosophy, English, Extradepartmental 101, 330 and 331, and Religion and Biblical Studies 104 and 105 are recommended for majors. The department offers three courses in French literature in translation (Extradepartmental 222, 223, 224).

Students who plan to do graduate work in French are advised to begin or to pursue the study of a second modern language and the study of Latin; those who plan to do graduate work in comparative literature are advised to continue the study of one or more other modern literatures and to acquire proficiency in at least one classical language.
102 (1) Introduction to Geology 1

Fundamental facts and principles of earth behavior and history with special reference to Massachusetts and New England. Current problems in oceanography, continental drift, and lunar geology. Field trips and laboratory include study of minerals, rocks, fossils, topographic and geologic maps.

MRS. KAMILLI

200 (2) Historical Geology 1

The geologic history of North America and the evolution of life as revealed in the fossil record. Paleogeography and ancient sedimentary and tectonic environments. Field trips will develop the geologic history of the region. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 102 or permission of the instructor.

MR. ANDREWS

202 (2) Mineralogy 1

Introduction to crystallography; systematic study of the rock-forming minerals. Emphasis on geochemical relationships including bonding, solid solution series, and phase diagrams. Laboratory. Prerequisite: two units of physical science, preferably Chemistry 106 and/or 107, or permission of the instructor.

MRS. KAMILLI
205 (1)* Invertebrate Paleontology

The morphology and evolution of the major fossil invertebrate phyla with discussion of such general topics as functional morphology, origin of species and higher taxa, ontogeny and phylogeny, animal size and shape relationships, and the theory of evolution. Laboratory and field trips. Prerequisite: 102 or 200 or Biology 105 or permission of the instructor.

MR. ANDREWS

206 (2)* Structural Geology

The recognition, description, and causes of deformation of the earth's crust. Topics include the tectonic history of mountain ranges, scale models of geologic structures, mechanics of folding and faulting, comparison of the structure of the Alps and the Appalachians, plate tectonics, and sea floor spreading. Laboratory, field work, and field trips. Prerequisite: same as for 200.

MR. ANDREWS
249 (1)* Marine Geology 1

Geology of the ocean floor with emphasis on shoreline and submarine processes, ocean currents and sediments, origin and development of the continental shelves. Other subjects will include study of submarine canyons, coral reefs, ocean basin tectonics, the deep sea floor, and ocean life. Field trips to Woods Hole and Cape Cod. No laboratory. Prerequisite: same as for 200. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MR. ANDREWS

304 (1)* Stratigraphy and Sedimentation 1

The formation, composition, and correlation of stratified rocks. Emphasis on sedimentary environments and paleoecology, correlation by fossils and radiogenic techniques, transportation, deposition and consolidation of sedimentary particles. Laboratory. Field trips to both modern sedimentary environments and their ancient rock analogues. Prerequisite: 102 and 200, or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MR. ANDREWS

307 (1)* Optical Mineralogy 1

Basics of optical crystallography. Application of modern methods to the identification of silicates in grains and thin section. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 202 or Physics 202. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MRS. KAMILLI

309 (2)* Petrology 1

Study of the origin and occurrence of igneous and metamorphic rocks with particular reference to modern geochemical investigations. Examination and description of hand specimens and thin sections under the petrographic microscope. Prerequisite: 202 or 207 or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MRS. KAMILLI

310 (1)* Research Methods in Geology 1

Problems in geologic data analysis using statistical and computer methods, macro-, micro-, and x-ray photography, field mapping, mineral separation and x-ray diffraction techniques. Other topics will be chosen according to students' interests. Laboratory. Field work. Prerequisite: 102 and one Grade II unit, or permission of the instructor.

MR. ANDREWS

349 (1) (2) Selected Topics 1 or 2
First semester: Topics in geology to be selected with consideration for students' interests. Prerequisite: one Grade II unit in geology and permission of the instructor.
Second semester: Regional geology of the Appalachians. Detailed study of the structure, mineralogy, stratigraphy, and igneous petrology of the northern and southern Appalachian tectonic province. Opportunity to integrate studies during an extended field trip during spring vacation. Prerequisite: one Grade II unit in geology or permission of the instructor.

MRS. KAMILLI

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
In addition to eight units in geology, the minimum major requires four units from other laboratory sciences or mathematics. (All four units may not be taken in the same department.) Advanced courses in mathematics, chemistry, or physics will be suggested according to the student's needs, interests, and ability.
A student planning graduate work should note that most graduate geology departments require at least a full year (two units) each of chemistry, calculus, and physics. (Biology often may be substituted for physics if the student is interested in paleontology.) In addition, graduate study usually requires a reading knowledge of French and/or German or Russian.
The department strongly recommends that major students attend one of the Rocky Mountain geology field courses given by other colleges. Credit may be given for such courses provided the student's plans are approved in advance by the department.
The language of the classroom in all courses is almost exclusively German. The student thus has constant practice in hearing, speaking, and writing German.

The department reserves the right to place a new student in the course for which the student seems best prepared regardless of the number of units the student has offered for admission.

By doing special reading during the summer and upon approval of the chairman, capable students in 100 have the opportunity to omit 102 and proceed with 202.

Qualified students may be recommended to spend the junior year in Germany. See p. 57.

100 (1-2) Elementary German 2

Study of grammar and vocabulary; frequent written exercises; reading of short stories; special emphasis on oral expression. Three periods. Open to students who do not present German for admission.

THE STAFF
102 (1-2)  Intermediate German  2

Intensive language study: emphasis on idiomatic usage and on syntax. Introduction to the critical study of literary texts, mainly 19th and 20th century. Three periods. Prerequisite: 100 or two admission units in German.

THE STAFF

202 (1-2)  Patterns in Literary Thought  1 or 2

Modern drama, poetry, and prose and their historical, formal, and philosophical relations to works of earlier periods. Three periods. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Prerequisite: 102, or three or more admission units of German, or, by permission of the department, 100. Permission will be based on a satisfactory grade in 100 and summer work.

MISS GOTH, MRS. DEUTSCH

204 (1)  Goethe I  1

Lyric, prose, and drama before Goethe's return from Italy. Prerequisite: two units of [200] or two units of 202.

MISS GOTH

205 (2)*  From Romanticism to Realism  1

Romantic thought, discovery of the unconscious: Friedrich Schlegel, Brentano, Novalis, E.T.A. Hoffmann, Eichendorff, and others. Prerequisite: same as for 204.

MISS WARD

206 (2)*  Nineteenth Century Literature  1

Late Romanticism and Realism. Lyric and prose. Mörike, Heine, Stifter, Keller, C. F. Meyer, Fontane. Prerequisite: same as for 204. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS WARD

210 (1)*  German Drama  1

Theory and practice between the age of Gottsched and Brecht. The theories of Gottsched, Lessing, Schiller, Hebbel, and Brecht will be included as well as the drama of Schiller, Büchner, Kaiser, and others. Prerequisite: one Grade II unit. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS WARD
304 (2) Goethe II
Goethe, the poet and the thinker, with emphasis on Faust, and his writings after 1788. Prerequisite: 204.

308 (1) Prose Fiction
19th and 20th century novels and novellas: Keller, Stifter, Fontane, Kafka, Hesse, Grass, and others. Prerequisite: two Grade II units.

312 (2) Literature of the Twentieth Century
Aspects and tendencies of 20th century literature from the First World War to the present time. Prerequisite: three Grade II units or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

349 (2) Seminar. The Writer and His Age
Intensive study of the works of one or two writers in relation to philosophical, historical, and literary trends of their periods. Topic for 1972-73: Thomas Mann. Prerequisite: one Grade III unit.

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
Course 100 is counted toward the degree but not toward the major.

Students who begin with 100 and who wish to major in German should consult the department in order to obtain permission to omit 102 and take 202.

Students intending to major in the department are requested to take 202, 204, 304 and at least two further Grade III units.

Courses 205, 210, 312, and one seminar are strongly recommended for the major.

Courses in art, history, philosophy, English, literature courses in other foreign language departments, and Extradepartmental 330 and 331 are recommended.
GREEK AND LATIN

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Lefkowitz, Geffcken (Chairman)
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Frame, Dickison
INSTRUCTOR: Marvin, Brown, Boedeker

GREEK

101 (1) Greek Literature in Translation
An introduction to classical literary forms and ideas that continue to concern the western world. Reading from the works of Homer, the Greek dramatists, and Thucydides. Open to all students.
MISS BROWN

102 (1) (2) Beginning Greek
Fundamentals of the Greek language. Reading from classical authors and from the New Testament. Four periods. Open to students who do not present Greek for admission.
MISS MARVIN, MISS BROWN
103 (2)  Introduction to Greek Literature
Reading from classical authors and from the New Testament. Intensive review of grammar and syntax. Prerequisite: [100 (1)] or 102.

MR. FRAME

104 (2)  Classical Mythology
The more important classical myths read in English translations of Greek and Latin authors; their religious origins; their expression in ancient literature and art; their later influence. Open to all students. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MRS. LEFKOWITZ

105 (1)  Introduction to Historical Linguistics
For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 105.

150 (1)  Colloquium

   Livy’s portrayal of early Roman heroes as models of behavior and Ovid’s and Propertius’ rejection of this moral point of view. Prerequisite: same as for 300. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
   MISS GEFFCKEN

316 (1)* The Effects of Power and Authority in the Empire
   The literature of disillusion both historical and satirical with emphasis on Tacitus and Juvenal. Prerequisite: same as for 300.
317 (2)* Imperial Rome: The Novel 1

The development of the ancient novel with emphasis on satirical techniques in Petronius and on religious and mythological themes in Apuleius. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MISS GEFFCKEN

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open to seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

To fulfill the distribution requirement in Group A, students may elect any courses in Greek or Latin except 200 and 201.

The following may not be counted toward the major in Greek or Latin: Greek 101, [200], 203, 204, [228], 230; Greek/Latin 104, 150; Latin [201], [229], 231.

All students majoring in Greek must complete four units of Grade III work.

All students majoring in Latin are required to complete 301, 302, and at least two units of the following: 308, 309, 316, 317. Students planning to teach are advised to elect 206.

Latin students who offer an AP Latin score of 5 should elect 249; an AP score of 4 normally leads to 202, but under special circumstances permission may be given to elect 249.

Students majoring in Greek or Latin are advised to elect some work in the other language. It should be noted that work in both Greek and Latin is essential for graduate studies in the classics.

Courses in ancient history, ancient art, ancient philosophy, and classical mythology are recommended as valuable related work. Students interested in a major in classical and Near Eastern archaeology are referred to p. 225 where the program is described.

Students who wish to focus a classical major on ancient civilization can plan with the department an appropriate sequence of courses, which should include work in art, history, and literature. Such a program should always contain at least four units of work in the original language. Basic knowledge of French or German is recommended.

100 (1) (2) Medieval and Early Modern European History

An examination of historical processes through the study of critical periods in western European history: the "Fall" of Rome; the creation of a new society in the High Middle Ages; problems of decline and innovation in late medieval times, of continuity and "modernity" in the Renaissance and Reformation. Frequent use of original sources, and an introduction to problems of interpretation. Open to all students.

    MR. COX, MRS. McLAUGHLIN

101 (1) (2) Modern European History

An introduction to European history from 1648 to the present, designed to aid the student in formulating historical judgments about the significance of representative institutions, the scientific revolution, the Enlightenment, the French Revolution, industrialization, imperialism, world wars, totalitarianism. Open to all students.

    MR. GULICK, MR. BERNSTEIN, MR. BERTOCCI
102 (1) Approaches to the History of American Society

An introduction to both the concepts and methods of American social history through an exploration of the validity of the notion of America as an egalitarian society. Use of contemporary sources in a series of case studies from the colonial period to the present. Open to freshmen and sophomores without prerequisite.

MRS. CONZEN

103 (1) The World and the West

An introduction to comparative history, focusing on the changing relations between western Europe and other civilizations over the past five centuries. Discussion of technological change and the balance of power; the missionary impulse; trading-post empires; and the challenge of modernization, with specific examples from Southeast Asia, Latin America, Africa, and the Middle East. Open to all students.

MISS HAY

150 (1) (2) Colloquia

For directions for applying see p. 234. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1)

a. The role of women in ancient Greece. An examination of the role of women in literature of 5th century Athens and their status in Greek society. Selected reading from historical, philosophical, and literary sources.

MISS DICKISON

b. Medieval heroes and society. Leaders, and concepts of leadership, in European society between the 5th and 16th centuries. An introduction to various definitions of the "hero" since earliest times, followed by an investigation, primarily using contemporary chronicles and biographies, of the ways in which heroes in premodern European history have changed with the changing conditions for successful leadership.

MR. COX

c. The peasant as myth and fact. An examination of some assumptions about the peasant and his political and social role in the modern world, including interpretations of the peasant's potential: as the embodiment of the “natural man,” as a spontaneous anarchic and revolutionary force, as the essence of conservatism or reaction. The materials will be drawn from a variety of literary and historical sources.

MRS. CONZEN

c. Literature and social change in 20th century Africa. The problems of rapid social change, economic development, and colonial rule, as well as the conflict between traditional and modern life styles will be examined through contemporary African novels and poetry. To be offered in 1973-74. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS HAY

230 (2) History of Greece 1

The failure of democracy in Greece; a study of the historical evidence for the development of democracy in Athens; the effects of the acquisition of an empire and the results of the confrontation with Sparta. Open to all students except those who have taken [200]. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS DICKISON

231 (2) History of Rome 1

Rome of the Caesars; political, economic, social life of the empire; attitudes toward autocratic government. Particular attention will be given to the period 27 B.C.-138 A.D. Open to all students except those who have taken [201].

MISS DICKISON
232 (2) Medieval Civilization, 1000 to 1300
European society during the High Middle Ages. Kingship and a comparison of medieval states, warfare and the birth of chivalry, peasants and townsmen in an era of economic and technological change, students and churchmen in a period of intellectual ferment. An exploration of political and social ideas as expressed in contemporary sources, including art and literature. Not open to students who have taken [219]. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have had a course in medieval history, art, or literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
MR. COX

233 (1-2) The Renaissance and Reformation
First semester: Topics in the history of the Renaissance, Italy and selected areas of northern Europe 1300-1600.
Second semester: The reformation of the 16th century, including the major Protestant movements, the radicals, the Catholic Reformation, and the relationships between religious developments and the broader historical context. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Not open to students who have taken [217]. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have taken 100 or related work in art, literature, or philosophy, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MRS. McLAUGHLIN

235 (1) Classical and Medieval Intellectual History
A history of western thought from the Greeks to the end of the 14th century. Not open to students who have taken [203]. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
MRS. CHAPLIN

236 (2) Modern European Intellectual History
A consideration of the history of western thought from Descartes to such contemporaries as Merleau-Ponty, with particular emphasis on man's changing notions of the relationship of self to society. Not open to students who have taken [203 (2)] or [204]. Prerequisite: same as for 235.
MR. BERTOCCI
238 (1) History of England to 1500

A survey of English history from the coming of the Anglo-Saxons through the Wars of the Roses. Some attention will be given to problems of historical interpretation. Not open to students who have taken 213. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to sophomores who have taken 100 or are concentrating in English literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. ROBINSON

239 (2) History of England, 1500 to 1715

English history under the Tudors and Stuarts. The English Reformation, Elizabethan Renaissance, and 17th century revolutions will be the major themes. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have had 100 or 238, to sophomores concentrating in English literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

240 (1) Modern England

English history from the late 18th century to the mid-20th century. The transformation of a basically agrarian, hierarchical, traditional society into an industrial, democratic, welfare state. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to students who have taken 101 or 239, to sophomores concentrating in English literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. To be offered in 1973-74. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

Second semester: 1861 to the present, with emphasis on the Soviet State and its institutions. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Not open to students who have taken 209. Prerequisite: same as for 244.

MRS. BERLIN

248 (1) Europe in the Twentieth Century

A study of selected topics such as fascism, communism, and appeasement, with emphasis on England, Germany, and Russia, and some discussion of developments in France, Italy, Spain, and eastern Europe. Not open to students who have taken 202. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to freshmen and sophomores who have taken 101, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MR. BERNSTEIN
250 (1) The First Frontier

The adaptation of the English, Europeans, and Africans to the alien environment of North America in the 17th century. Analysis of the formation of colonial settlements; problems of survival and leadership; relations with Indian cultures, the creation of new societies in the New World. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. PREYER

251 (2) The Making of a Nation, 1763 to 1850

The American Revolution, the formation of the Union, the development of the United States as a new nation. Not open to students who have taken [222]. Prerequisite: same as for 250.

MRS. PREYER

252 (1) The United States, 1850 to 1917

The impact of the Civil War and Reconstruction, the emergence of an urban industrial society, and the responses of reformers to that society. Not open to students who have taken [223]. Prerequisite: same as for 250.

MR. AUERBACH

253 (1) (2) The United States, 1917 to the Present

Selected 20th century issues and problems, with emphasis on the perceptions of intellectuals attempting to cope with social change. Not open to students who have taken [224]. Prerequisite: same as for 250.

MR. AUERBACH

254 (1) United States Urban History

The causes and consequences of the urbanization of the American population from the colonial period to the present: the expansion of the urban system; changing economic functions of cities; the physical city; demographic patterns; spatial structure; social and political institutions; urbanism and its problems. Not open to students who have taken [220]. Open to sophomores by permission of the instructor, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. CONZEN
260 (1) The Hispanic World

The political, social, economic, and cultural evolution of the Latin American world from colonial days to the present. Emphasis on colonial institutions and their relations to historical developments in the Iberian peninsula, and on the fundamental problems, especially in certain key countries, of modern and contemporary Latin America. Not open to students who have taken [214]. Prerequisite: same as for 242.

MR. LOVETT

265 (2) History of the Middle East

The social and cultural institutions of the Islamic world before 1800; the impact of the West; the rise and development of nationalist movements in the 19th and 20th centuries. Some attention will be given to Islamic influence in India, Africa, and Southeast Asia. Open to all students. NOT TO BE OFFERED IN 1973-74.

MISS HAY

267 (1) History of West Africa

A survey of West African history from the ancient kingdom of Ghana to present times. Long distance trade routes and state formation; the spread of Islam; the Atlantic slave trade in the precolonial period; social change, economic development, nationalism, and new ideologies in the 20th century. Open to all students except those who have taken [208].

MISS HAY

268 (2) History of East and Central Africa

Eastern and Central African history from the Bantu migrations to the present. Migration and state formation, Swahili civilization; the impact of the slave trade in the precolonial period; and continuing conflicts in southern Africa. Open to all students except those who have taken [208]. NOT TO BE OFFERED IN 1973-74.

MISS HAY

271 (1) Japanese History

Japanese history from earliest times to the present, stressing Japan's quest for modernity in the 19th and 20th centuries and the consequences of this quest. Open to all students except those who have taken [225]. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MR. COHEN
275  (1)  Pre-Modern Chinese History  1

Chinese civilization from earliest times to the period of the modern western impact. Emphasis on the development of thought and political institutions. Extensive readings in Chinese literature. Open to all students except those who have taken [226].

MRS. BARNETT

276  (2)  Modern Chinese History  1

The history of China from the Opium War to the Cultural Revolution. Analysis of political, economic, social, and intellectual changes stimulated by the intrusion of the modern West. Open to all students except those who have taken [227].

MRS. BARNETT

280  (2)  Imperialism, Nationalism, and Modernization  1

Varieties of European imperialism in the 19th and 20th centuries, particularly colonial rule and informal empire, and the different ways in which people of other world civilizations responded to the threat of industrial Europe. The colonial experience, the growth of nationalist movements, and forms of modernization will be compared on the basis of examples drawn from Africa, the Middle East, Japan, and Southeast Asia. Prerequisite: same as for 250. To be offered in 1973-74. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS HAY

300  (1)  (2)  Historical Thinking and its Problems  1

A study of the variety of approaches to history used by historians in the past and present. The relationship between the historical discipline and disciplines such as the social sciences and literature. Problems confronting the historian today: evidence, causation, generalization, value judgment, objectivity. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken two Grade II units of history, or by permission of the instructor.

301  (1)  The Art of Biography  1

Exploration of the diverse ways of presenting biographical narrative and insights in prose, film, and other media; the utilization of sources on the individual and their integration with historical materials; the historiographical problems of biography. Prerequisite: same as for 254.

MR. GULICK
302 (2) Biography Workshop

Student biographical projects in prose, film, and other media, normally a continuation of projects begun in 301. Group discussion. Prerequisite: 301.

MR. GULICK

303 (2) Ideology and Politics in Modern Germany, 1890 to 1945

A study of the interaction of ideology and politics in modern Germany with an examination of liberalism, conservatism, socialism, neo-romanticism, Nazism, and their competition for mass support since the unification of Germany. Not open to students who have taken [207 (2)]. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

305 (1) Europe’s Traditional System of International Relations, 1780 to 1914

The nature of Europe’s classical balance of power system and its subsequent modification through the French and industrial revolutions; the diplomacy of national unification and of imperialist expansion. Attention to Ottoman, Chinese, and African relations with Europe. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MR. GULICK
306 (2) Global International Relations

The emergence of untraditional, cataclysmic problems of weaponry, population, and environment superimposed on traditional, ongoing problems of international relations. Attention equally divided among Europe, East Asia, the United States, and the Soviet Union. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MR. GULICK

309 (2) Intellectual History of Russia

Emphasis on the tradition of radical social thought in the 19th and early 20th centuries. Not open to students who have taken [313]. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MRS. BERLIN

310 (1-2) Social History of the United States

The evolution of the American society viewed as the response of basic social units such as families, classes, occupational and ethnic groups, educational and religious institutions – to the changing conditions of initial settlements, expansion, and industrialization, as conditioned by changing social ideals. First semester: Colonial period to 1860. Second semester: 1860 to 1960. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken two units of history or by permission of the instructor.

MRS. CONZEN

312 (2) Civil Liberties in the United States

The historical development of First Amendment freedoms with emphasis on the relationship between civil liberties and political and social movements. The historical context of contemporary issues such as political justice, civil disobedience in wartime, and student rights. Not open to students who have taken [218]. Prerequisite: same as for 254.

MR. AUERBACH

315 (1) Social History of Black Americans, 1820-1919

The development of Afro-American culture and institutions with special emphasis on the local roots of national movements. The founding of Black churches and fraternal associations; the role of Black newspapers, the nature of Black leadership, the Exodus to Kansas. Prerequisite: same as for 300.

MISS PAINTER
318 (1) Race and Conflict in Southern Africa 1

An exploration of the historical relationships between the European, African, and Asian communities in South Africa and Mozambique, in an attempt to understand the current situation in these countries. Prerequisite: one course in African studies or permission of the instructor. To be offered in 1973-74. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MISS HAY

330 (1) Seminar. Medieval Europe 1

Topic for 1972-73: Heresy and the Inquisition. Problems in medieval religious dissent. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor. (See Directions for Election.)

MRS. McLAUGHLIN

331 (1) Seminar. English History 1

332 (2) Seminar. English History 1

Topic for 1972-73: The "woman question" in England. How Victorian (and Edwardian) men and women approached a heated issue from the 1850's onward. A study of the literature about, and the struggles for, the emancipation of women: personal, legal, educational, professional, political. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MRS. ROBINSON

333 (1) Seminar. European Intellectual History and Philosophy 1

Topic for 1972-73: An interdisciplinary examination of problems of political liberty and personal autonomy in the social thought of Locke, Rousseau, Hegel, and Marx. Same course as Philosophy 333. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. BERTOCCI AND MR. SHUE

336 (2) Seminar. American Urban History 1

Topic for 1972-73: The social ecology of the American city. Analysis of the historical processes of the past 200 years which led to the functional and social segregation of the modern American city, with emphasis on the social consequences of the changing urban spatial order. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MRS. CONZEN

337 (1) Seminar. American History I 1

Topic for 1972-73: Selected problems in American legal history. The transmission of English law to the American colonies and the development of American law in the federal system. Not open to students who have taken [333]. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MRS. PREYER

338 (2) Seminar. American History II 1

Topic for 1972-73: The Great Depression. An intensive examination of selected aspects of American society between 1929 and 1941 in an attempt to determine the impact of the Depression upon the lives and institutions of Americans. Not open to students who have taken [335]. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. AUERBACH

340 (2) Seminar. Afro-American History 1

Topic for 1972-73: Research seminar in 19th century Afro-American history from a Black point of view. Students will be expected to do original research. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MISS PAINTER

342 (1) Seminar. African History 1

Topic for 1972-73: African empires in the 19th century. A comparison of various African kingdoms which expanded in the 19th century through military conquest, comparing their political and military institutions and ideologies, the factors which contributed to their rise and decline, and the resulting social and economic changes in the conquered areas. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MISS HAY

345 (1) Seminar. Chinese History I 1

Topic for 1973-74: To be announced. Prerequisite: same as for 330. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

346 (2) Seminar. Chinese History II 1

Topic for 1972-73: Christianity and social change in modern China. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MRS. BARNETT
347 (2) Seminar. Comparative History

Topic for 1972-73: Millennial Movements. Student papers will examine specific movements which were based on a belief in the imminent end of the world in an attempt to discover the different kinds of movements which have occurred and the historical, social, and cultural setting, both European and non-European, in which they may arise. Prerequisite: same as for 330. NOT TO BE OFFERED IN 1973-74.

MISS HAY

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.
Directions for Election

A wide variety of programs may provide insight into the nature and scope of history as a discipline. Accordingly, the major student is given great latitude in designing a program of study. The student may elect courses freely, but ordinarily should have as a primary focus one of the following: (1) a particular geographic area, nation, or culture (2) a limited time period (3) a special aspect of history, e.g., social, diplomatic, intellectual (4) a significant historical problem or theme, e.g., revolution, urbanization, racism. In designing a program students are encouraged to consider courses given at MIT and in other departments at Wellesley. The concept of the major should be discussed with the major advisor, and students should consult with their advisors about changes they may wish to make in the course of the junior and senior years.

The colloquia are available to freshmen and sophomores without prerequisite. Since colloquia enrollments are limited, special application must be made. Incoming freshmen may obtain application forms from the class dean, sophomores from the recorder's office, Green Hall. If a colloquium is oversubscribed the instructor will decide which applicants are to be accepted. Students are advised to apply for more than one, indicating first, second, and third choices if they wish.

Seminars, unless otherwise indicated, are open by permission of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors. Since enrollments are limited, a student wishing to apply for admission to one or more seminars must fill out an application blank, available in the department office, Founders Hall 120.

The general survey courses (100, 101, 102, 103) and Grade II survey courses in classical (230, 231), Asian (271, 275, 276), African (267, 268), and Middle Eastern (265) history are open to all students without prerequisite. In addition, freshmen and sophomores with a strong secondary school background in European history (modern, and ancient or medieval) may elect as a beginning course 235, 236, 238, 239, 240, 244, 246, 248. Courses at the Grade I level, however, are strongly recommended for students planning to major in history.

History 300 is designed to acquaint students with the development of history as a discipline and to alert them to some of its methodological and interpretive problems. It is strongly recommended for consideration by major students.
ITALIAN

PROFESSOR: Avitabile (Chairman)
INSTRUCTOR: Ellerman

All courses are conducted in Italian. In all courses except seminars some work will be required in the laboratory. Qualified students may be recommended to spend the junior year in Italy. See p. 57.

100 (1-2) Elementary Italian 2
Development of basic language skills for the purpose of acquiring contemporary spoken Italian and a reading knowledge useful in the study of other disciplines. A general view of Italian civilization. Three periods.

THE STAFF

202 (1) Intermediate Italian 1
Written and oral practice to develop fluency. Topics of contemporary interest, with readings from newspapers, periodicals, short stories, and poetry. Three periods. Prerequisite: 100 or the equivalent.

THE STAFF
207 (2) Significant Moments of Italian Literature: 1
The Middle Ages to the Post-Renaissance

An introduction to the Golden Age of Italian literature. Study and analysis of selected works by such authors as Saint Francis of Assisi, Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Leonardo da Vinci, Machiavelli, Castiglione, Guicciardini, and Ariosto. Prerequisite: 202 or 203.

MRS. ELLERMAN

301 (1-2) Dante 2

A study of Dante’s Divina Commedia and minor works. Prerequisite: [206] or 207 or permission of the instructor.

MISS AVITABILE

302 (1) The Theater in Italy 1

The development of the theater from its origins to the present time. Study of the Commedia dell’arte and of plays by authors such as Polizano, Machiavelli, Tasso, Goldoni, and Pirandello. Prerequisite: same as for 301.

MRS. ELLERMAN

303 (2) Italian Romanticism 1

Preromantic and romantic literature with special reference to Foscolo, Leopardi, and Manzoni. Prerequisite: same as for 301.

MISS AVITABILE

308 (1) From Verismo to Neorealismo 1

A study of Italian fiction since 1880 as seen in the short stories by Verga and Pirandello and in the novels by authors such as Moravia, Pavese, and Vittorini. Prerequisite: same as for 301.

MRS. ELLERMAN

349 (2) Seminar 1

Topic for 1972-73: Modern Italian literary criticism. Introduction to the literary criticism of DeSanctis, Croce, and Gramsci. Contemporary trends with special reference to the sociological, symbolic, stylistic, and structuralist schools. An analysis of literary examples to illustrate the various methods. Open by permission of the instructor.

THE STAFF

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open by permission to students who have completed two units in literature in the department.
370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

Course 100 counts toward the degree but does not count toward the major. Courses [226] and [227] count toward the major.

Majors are advised to take 301 and 308. Courses in one or more other languages, ancient or modern, in art, history, and philosophy, are recommended as valuable related work.

Majors planning to do graduate work in Italian are advised to take at least one unit in French or Spanish literature and to have a reading knowledge of Latin or of a third Romance language.
All courses meet for two periods weekly with a third period every other week.

100 (1) (2) Introduction to Mathematical Thought

Study of form in mathematical thought with emphasis on interrelationships of structural patterns. Material selected from areas such as number theory, algebraic and geometric structures, and theory of infinite sets. Courses 100 and 102 are intended primarily as terminal courses; both may be elected. Open to all students except those who have taken or are taking 110 or 111 or the equivalent.

MISS EVANS
102 (1) (2) Introduction to Finite Mathematics 1

Topics selected from areas such as logic, sets, partitions, probability, vectors and matrices; applications in the biological and social sciences. Courses 102 and 100 are intended primarily as terminal courses; both may be elected. Open to all students.

MR. BLUMENTHAL, MR. WILCOX

108 (1) (2) Techniques of Calculus 1

This course is devoted almost exclusively to techniques and applications. It is primarily intended for students requiring calculus for applications. Topics include differentiation, integration, partial derivatives, with applications to extrema, velocities, related rates, areas, and volumes. The course introduces most of the techniques developed in 110 and 111. Not open to students who have taken or are taking either 110 or 111. Open to students who have some familiarity with trigonometric functions.

THE STAFF

110 (1) (2) Calculus I 1

Study of functions of one variable. Limits and continuity. Differential calculus of algebraic and trigonometric functions with applications. Introduction to the integral. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 108. Open to students who have some familiarity with trigonometric functions.

THE STAFF

111 (1) (2) Calculus II 1

The logarithmic and exponential functions. Techniques and applications of integration. Limits, derivatives, and integrals in greater depth than in 110. Prerequisite: 110 or a substantial introduction to the calculus, or 108 by permission of the department.

THE STAFF

203 (1) Probability and Elementary Statistics 1

Topics selected from the theory of sets, discrete probability for both single and multivariate random variables, probability density for a single continuous random variable, expectations, mean, standard deviation, and sampling from a normal population. Prerequisite: 111 or the equivalent.

307 (2)* Topology

MISS STEHNEY

309 (2)* Foundations of Mathematics
The set-theoretic foundations of modern mathematics. Cardinal and ordinal arithmetic. The axiom of choice and the continuum hypothesis. Prerequisite: 302 (1) or 305 (1) or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

310 (2) Functions of a Complex Variable
Elementary functions and their mapping properties; integration theory; series expansions of analytic functions. Prerequisite: 302 (1).

MR. BLUMENTHAL

349 (1) Selected Topics
Topic for 1972-73: Convexity. The geometrical and combinatorial properties of convex sets in n-space. Separation and support theorems, Caratheodory's theorem, Helly's theorem and its relatives. Combinatorial results on convex sets leading to the Brouwer fixed point theorem and related results as time allows. Prerequisite: 302 (1).

MR. RENZ
350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
A major in mathematics must include 206, the first semester of 302 and of 305, and either the second semester of 302 or 310.

Courses 100 and 102 may not be counted toward the major. Students planning to elect both units of either 302 or 305 should take both units in the same year.

Students expecting to do graduate work in mathematics should elect the second semester of 302 and of 305, 310, and 349. They are also advised to acquire a reading knowledge of one or more of the following languages: French, German, or Russian.

Students who expect to teach at the secondary school level are advised to elect the second semester of 302 or a course in geometry, and 310.

Majors who may be practice teaching in their senior year should elect 302 (1-2) or 302 (1) and 310 (2) not later than in the junior year. Students are encouraged to elect MIT courses which are not offered by the Wellesley College mathematics department.

Placement in Courses and Exemption Examinations
Students entering with scores of 4 or 5 on the Advanced Placement AB Examination, or 3 on the BC Examination, of the College Entrance Examination Board are eligible for 206 and 207; those entering with scores of 4 or 5 on the Advanced Placement BC Examination of the College Entrance Examination Board are eligible for 206 and 208.

Examinations for exemption from one or two courses in mathematics to satisfy partially the college requirement in science and mathematics will be offered to students who have been well prepared in the subject matter of 110 and 111. If students pass both 110 and 111 examinations, they will receive exemption from two units in mathematics; if they should pass the 110 examination only, they will receive exemption from one unit in mathematics. Exemption examinations are not offered for 100 and 102.
MUSIC

PROFESSOR: Lamb
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Herrmann, Jander (Chairman)
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Barry
INSTRUCTOR: Patterson, Duff, Kelly
LECTURER: Windham
INSTRUCTOR IN PERFORMING MUSIC: Zighera (Cello), Goetze (Piano), Taylor (Organ), Pappoutsakis (Harp), Speyer (Oboe and English Horn), Preble (Flute and Baroque Flute), Vivian (Organ), O'Donnell (Voice), Pinto (Violin and Baroque Violin), Hedberg (Viola), Moss (Piano), Odiaga (Harpsichord), Plaster (Bassoon and Assistant in Chamber Music), A. Cook (Viola da Gamba and Assistant to the Collegium Musicum), Stevens (Piano), Moran (Horn), Stuart (Clarinet), Linfield (Recorder and Assistant to the Collegium Musicum), R. Cook (Trumpet and Cornetto), Smith (Guitar and Lute and Assistant to the Collegium Musicum), Roth (Early Wind Instruments and Assistant to the Collegium Musicum)

101 (1-2) Introductory Course 1 or 2

The fundamentals of musicianship. Development of reading and listening skills. Introduction to traditional harmony. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Three periods: one lecture and two section meetings. Open to all students.

MISS BARRY
103 (1-2)  Introduction to the Literature of Music

A survey course designed to develop musical understanding, insight, and powers of observation through the study of music of various styles and periods. A previous knowledge of music is not required. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Not to be counted toward the major in music. Two periods of lecture and one section meeting. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken not more than one unit in music, and to freshmen with the permission of the chairman of the department.

MR. KELLY, MRS. DUFF

106 (2)  Afro-American Music

A survey of Black music in America, its origins, its development, and its relation to cultural and social conditions. Open to all students.

MR. WINDHAM

200 (1-2)  Design in Music

A survey beginning with Gregorian chant and concluding with electronic music, with emphasis on live performance and on the incisive analysis of scores. Three periods. Prerequisite: 101.

MR. JANDER
203 (1-2)  Counterpoint  2
MR. PATTERSON

208 (1)*  The Baroque Period  1
Studies in the music of the 17th and early 18th centuries with emphasis on the works of Bach and Handel. Not to be counted toward the major in music. Prerequisite: 101 or 103. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MISS BARRY

209 (1)*  The Classical Period  1
Studies in the music of Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven. Not to be counted toward the major in music. Prerequisite: 101 or 103.
MRS. DUFF

210 (2)*  The Romantic Period  1
Analysis of representative compositions of the 19th century. Not to be counted toward the major in music. Prerequisite: 103 or 200 or 209.
MRS. DUFF

214 (2)*  The Twentieth Century  1
An introduction to contemporary music. Not to be counted toward the major in music. Prerequisite: 103 or 200 or 208 or 209. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

303 (1)  The Middle Ages and the Renaissance  1
Studies in the vocal music of Dufay, Josquin, and Byrd. Prerequisite: 200.
MR. KELLY

307 (2)  The Opera  1
A study of operatic forms, styles, and traditions from the time of Mozart to the present. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken two Grade II units in the literature of music. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MR. HERRMANN

312 (1-2)  Harmony  2
MR. LAMB
316 (1-2) Introduction to Composition
Advanced studies in theory. The principles of instrumentation. Composition for small ensembles. Prerequisite: 312 and 320. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MR. LAMB

319 (1) Seminar. The Nineteenth Century
Topic for 1972-73: The expansion of symphonic process as observed in selected symphonies and concertos of Beethoven, Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Tchaikovsky, and Liszt. Open to students who have taken 200 and who have taken or are taking 312.
MR. JANDER

320 (2) Seminar. The Twentieth Century
Topic for 1972-73: Studies in Neoclassicism, with examples drawn from works of Stravinsky, Bartok, Hindemith, and Berg. Prerequisite: same as for 303.
MR. JANDER

321 (1) Seminar. The Baroque Era
Topic for 1972-73: Analysis of selected choral and instrumental works of Handel. A study in conformity and nonconformity. Prerequisite: same as for 319.
MR. LAMB

322 (2) Seminar. The Classical Era
Topic for 1972-73: Mozart’s chamber music with piano. Prerequisite: same as for 319.
MISS BARRY

344 (1) (2) Performing Music
Intensive study of interpretation and of advanced technical performance problems in the literature. One hour lesson per week. Open by permission of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 200. (See Directions for Election.)
THE STAFF

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
Directed study in theory, orchestration, composition, or the history of music. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission.

Required of all honors candidates in the department.
Directions for Election

A major in music includes 101, 200, 203, and 312. At least two units of additional study at the Grade III level are strongly recommended.

Students who plan to undertake graduate study in music should be aware that a knowledge of both German and French is essential for work at that level, and a proficiency in Italian is highly desirable. Also of value are studies in European history, literature, and art.

Music majors are especially urged to develop their musicianship through the acquisition of basic keyboard skills, through private instruction in practical music, and through involvement in the music department’s various performing organizations.

Training in sight reading, keyboard harmony, and score reduction is provided without charge to all students enrolled in Music 203 and 312.

PERFORMING MUSIC

Private Instruction

The music department makes arrangements for private instruction in voice, piano, organ, harpsichord, harp, violin, viola, cello, viola da gamba, flute (Baroque and modern), oboe, clarinet, bassoon, trumpet, French horn, recorder, cornett, lute, and guitar (classical and modern).

Students who contract for performing music instruction are charged at the rate of $196 for a half-hour private lesson per week throughout the year. An additional fee of $25 per year is charged to all performing music students for the use of a practice studio for one period daily. The fee for the use of a practice studio for harpsichord and organ is $35. Performing music fees are payable in advance and can be returned or reduced only under limited conditions and upon the approval of the chairman of the department of music.

Special arrangements can be made for group instruction in viola da gamba or recorder, but for a single semester only. The fee is $70 for the semester for a one-hour group lesson per week.

All students at Wellesley who take lessons in performing music are required to take the first semester of Music 101 (basic theory) or gain exemption.

Arrangements for lessons in performing music are made at the department office during the first week of the semester.
Academic Credit
A maximum of four units of academic credit for performing music is available during the junior and senior year to advanced students who are admitted to the 344 program. In order to be admitted to this special program the student must be recommended by the instructor and must perform a successful audition before the department faculty.

Performing Organizations
The following five organizations are a vital extension of the academic program of the Wellesley music department:

The Wellesley Choral Society
The Choral Society, of approximately eighty members, engages in a series of concerts each year on and off campus. They also perform jointly with men's choirs. Endowed funds provide for one concert each year accompanied by a professional orchestra.

The Wellesley Madrigals
The Madrigals is a chamber chorus of about twenty-five mixed voices. The organization elects its own student director.

The Chamber Music Society
The Chamber Music Society, supervised by a faculty member and assistants, presents three concerts each year, plus a number of diverse, informal programs.

The Collegium Musicum Wellesliensis
The Collegium Musicum, led by several members of the staff who specialize in early music, presents concerts featuring repertory for such instruments as viola da gamba, recorder, harpsichord, cornetto, Baroque flute, classical guitar, and lute.

The MIT Orchestra
Through the Wellesley-MIT Exchange Program students on the Wellesley campus are eligible to audition for membership in the MIT Symphony Orchestra. Wellesley students have become members of the orchestra and have often held solo positions.
PHILOSOPHY

PROFESSOR: Onderdonk
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Stadler (Chairman), Putnam, Congleton
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Shue
INSTRUCTOR: Magid

101 (1) (2) The Socratic Dialogues
An introduction to philosophy through the study of some of Plato’s dialogues emphasizing his view of man’s nature and development. Some comparison with alternative philosophical viewpoints. Open to all students.
MISS CONGLETON, MR. SHUE

109 (1) (2) Problems for Twentieth Century Philosophy
Problems pertaining to the nature of man and his moral and/or social commitments as these present themselves to philosophers reflecting upon life in the 20th century. Readings primarily (but not exclusively) from the contemporary philosophical literature, selected to illustrate and explain significant differences among present-day approaches. Open to junior and senior majors by permission of the instructor, and to all other students without prerequisite. A special section will be arranged in the first semester for junior and senior nonmajors.
MRS. PUTNAM, MR. SHUE, MISS MAGID
Colloquium

For directions for applying see p. 234. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1)

The views of Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Mill, and Lenin. Discussion will center on whether some states are better than others, whether revolutions are ever justified, whether there will always be a state, whether the state should enforce a particular morality.

MRS. PUTNAM
201 (2) Plato and Aristotle

Readings in Plato's later dialogues and in Aristotle's treatises with a view to tracing the principal developments in epistemology and metaphysics. Selected readings also from the pre-Socratics and the Scholastics. Prerequisite: 101 or Greek 201 or permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

203 (1) Philosophy of Art

An examination of some major theories of art and art criticism. Emphasis on the clarification of such key concepts as style, meaning, and truth, and on the nature of judgments and arguments about artistic beauty and excellence. Open to sophomores who have taken one course in philosophy, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

MRS. STADLER

204 (1) Philosophy of Language

An investigation of man as the unique user of language. The relationship of language capacity to rationality and morality will also be considered. Readings for the first half of the course will include Whorf, Skinner, Chomsky, Piaget, and Vygotsky; for the second half, Wittgenstein. Open to freshmen who have taken a course in philosophy, and to other students without prerequisite.

MISS CONGLETON

206 (1) (2) Moral Philosophy

An examination of how we arrive at intelligent moral decisions as discussed by major modern and contemporary philosophers: Hume, Kant, Mill, Dewey, Sartre. Application to current moral problems. Prerequisite: same as for 204.

MRS. PUTNAM

207 (1) The Development of Philosophy in the Seventeenth Century

The evolution of Continental Rationalism and the beginnings of British Empiricism presented through a detailed study of the major philosophers of the early modern period: Descartes, Hobbes, Spinoza, Locke. These developments in philosophy viewed in the context of the intellectual history of the time. This course has as its natural sequent 208. Open to all students.

MISS ONDERDONK
208 (2) The Development of Philosophy in the Eighteenth Century

The evolution of British Empiricism presented through a study of its major representatives: Locke, Berkeley, Hume. Some consideration of Kant’s response. These developments in philosophy viewed in the context of the intellectual history of the time. Open to students who have taken [107] or 207, or by permission of the instructor.
MISS MAGID

215 (2) Consciousness, Ideology, and Knowledge

What factors influence the formation of an individual’s beliefs? Theses in the sociology of knowledge. Readings in Marx, Weber, Morton White, and others. Prerequisite: same as for 204.
MRS. PUTNAM

216 (1) Logic

An introduction to the methods of symbolic logic and their application to arguments in ordinary English. Discussion of validity, implication, consistency, proof, and of such topics as the thesis of extensionality and the nature of mathematical truth. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.
MISS ONDERDONK

218 (1) History of Science I

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental
218.

219 (2) History of Science II

For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental
219.

249 (2) Problems of Philosophy

Topic for 1972-73: Recent theories of knowledge and of mind. Critical evaluation of answers to such questions as: What is knowledge? What role does sensory experience play in knowledge? How are the mind and body related?
What is the relevance of psychological research to these philosophical problems? Open to students who have taken at least one course in philosophy and not more than three; or by permission of the instructor.
MISS MAGID
301 (2) Nineteenth Century Philosophy
A consideration of some major themes in 19th century philosophy through a detailed study of Hegel followed, as time permits, by some discussion of Marx and Mill. Open to students who have taken 107, 207, and 208, or by permission of the instructor.
MISS CONGLETON

302 (1) Pragmatism and Naturalism
An examination of works by the leading American pragmatists and of their influence on the development of a naturalistic world view in the philosophy of the 20th century. Open to students who have taken 107 or 201 or 207 or 208, or by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
MRS. PUTNAM

311 (1) Kant
Intensive studies in the philosophy of Kant with some consideration of his position in the history of philosophy. Prerequisite: same as for 301.
MRS. STADLER

312 (2) Phenomenology and Existentialism
Central themes in contemporary European philosophy. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken two units in philosophy above the Grade I level, or by permission of the instructor.
MRS. STADLER

326 (2) Seminar. Pierce, Russell, and Quine
Contemporary problems in ontology and epistemology. Open to senior philosophy majors and by permission to other students who have taken two units in philosophy above the Grade I level.
MRS. PUTNAM

327 (1) Seminar. Present-Day Problems in Ethics or Epistemology
Topic for 1972-73: The foundations of knowledge. A critical investigation in contemporary epistemology. Does knowledge have a foundation in sensory experience? Is there anything we know with certainty? What role does justification play in knowledge? What would a theory be like which acceptably answered these problems? Prerequisite: same as for 326.

MISS MAGID

333 (1) Seminar. European Intellectual History and Philosophy 1

Topic for 1972-73: An interdisciplinary examination of the problems of political liberty and personal autonomy in the social thought of Locke, Rousseau, Hegel, and Marx. Same course as History 333. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor.

MR. SHUE AND MR. BERTOCCI

338 (2) Seminar 1

Political philosophy. Open to a limited number of qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

MR. SHUE

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

Philosophy majors are expected to elect courses in at least two of the following fields: (1) logic or the philosophy of science (2) history of philosophy, ancient or modern (3) value theory, i.e., moral or political philosophy, or the philosophy of art. Students planning graduate work in philosophy are strongly advised to elect courses in all three fields, and, in particular, logic.

In addition, students majoring in philosophy should develop a special competence either in the work of one major philosopher or in one problem of contemporary concern. Such competence may be demonstrated by passing a course on the Grade III level with an honors grade, by 350 work, or by submitting a substantial paper. Special arrangements can be made for students with strong interdepartmental interests.

A knowledge of Greek, French, or German is desirable. Students planning graduate work in philosophy should acquire a reading knowledge of two of these languages.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION

PROFESSOR: Spears (Director)
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Cochran, Trexler
INSTRUCTOR: Jordan, Shevenell, Mitchell, Parks, Burling, Batchelder, Holland, Wiencke

121 (1-2) Physical Education Activities

The instructional program in physical education is divided into four seasons, two each semester. To complete the College work in physical education a student must earn 8 credit points before the end of the junior year. These credit points do not count as academic units toward the degree, but are required for graduation. Most activities give 1 credit point each season, but certain activities give 2 or more credit points as noted below. Each activity is divided into classes to provide instruction in homogeneous groups. Complete descriptions of courses are sent to entering students. Special fees are charged for a few courses and are listed in the course descriptions. The total activities offered in 1972-73 follow.

Sailing, scuba

Reading Period. Scheduled daily during reading period

Individual figure control, modern dance workshop, sailing, scuba, swimming, tennis

Directions for Election

Each student is expected to complete a minimum of two seasons a year until Physical Education 121 is completed. A student may elect a course which is scheduled throughout a semester, two courses concurrently or may choose not to elect a course during some seasons.

Students should select courses which meet their present and projected interests in physical activities. It is hoped that students will gain knowledge of the relation of physical activity to the maintenance of general well-being; that they will achieve a level of ability, understanding, and participation in sports, dance, and/or exercise so that they may experience satisfaction and enjoyment; and that they will be able to swim with sufficient skill to participate safely in recreational swimming and boating.

A student’s choice of activity is subject to the approval of the department and the College Health Services. Upon recommendation of a College physician and permission of the department a student may enroll in a modified program.

Students may continue to enroll in physical education after Physical Education 121 is completed. Members of the faculty may elect activities with the permission of the department.
PHYSICS

PROFESSOR: Guernsey (Chairman), Fleming
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Brown
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Dodsworth, Hicks, Cavrak
TEACHING ASSISTANT: Lieu

Unless otherwise noted all courses meet for two periods of lecture and discussion weekly and all Grade I and Grade II courses have one three hour laboratory appointment weekly.

100 (1) Basic Concepts in Physics

Forces, fields, conservation laws, waves, atomic structure. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Three and one-half hour laboratory appointments in alternate weeks. Open to all students.

101 (2) Physics Today

Discussion of some of the basic problems arising in contemporary physics. Each student will write a final paper applying physical principles to a particular field of interest. Laboratory in alternate weeks. Open to all students.

103 (1) Fundamental Physics I

Elementary mechanics, introduction to modern physics including special relativity. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Open to students who offer physics for admission and who are not eligible for 110.

MRS. GUERNSEY

MR. CAVRAK
106 (2) Fundamental Physics II
Wave phenomena, optics, electric circuits. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Prerequisite: 100 or 103 or by permission [105], and Mathematics 110.

MR. CAVRAK

110 (1) Advanced General Physics
Mechanics, wave motion, optics, electricity and magnetism. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Open to students who have completed Mathematics 111, or to students who offer physics for admission and are taking Mathematics 108 or 111.

MRS. GUERNSEY

200 (2)* Modern Physics
Basic principles of relativity and quantum theory, and of atomic and nuclear structure. Prerequisite: [105] or 106 or 110. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 111. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

201 (2) Electricity
Fundamental laws of electric and magnetic fields; electric circuits; electric and magnetic properties of matter. Laboratory includes practice in the use of the oscilloscope and other measuring instruments. Prerequisite: [105] or 106 or 110, and Mathematics 111.

MRS. GUERNSEY

202 (1) Optical Physics
Wave theory as applied to optical phenomena. Interference, diffraction, birefringence, polarization, dispersion. Introduction to modern optics including lasers and holography. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. CAVRAK

204 (1) Mechanics
Statics and dynamics including rotational motion, with emphasis on the solution of problems. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. No laboratory. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MISS HICKS
206 (1)*  Electronics  1
  Fundamental principles of electron tubes and transistors; application to power supplies, amplifiers, oscillators, modulators. Introduction to nonlinear electronic circuits. Prerequisite: 201. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
  MRS. GUERNSEY

216 (1)  Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences I  1
  For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 216.
  MISS DODSWORTH

217 (2)  Applications of Mathematics in the Physical Sciences II  1
  For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 217.
  MISS HICKS

249 (2)*  Selected Topics  1
  Topic for 1972-73: Medical physics. Application of physics to biological systems. Forces acting on muscles and bones, feedback systems in the human body, and the heart as an electrical system are a few of the topics to be discussed. Field trips. Laboratory on alternate weeks. Prerequisite: same as for 201.
  MISS DODSWORTH

305 (2)*  Thermodynamics  1
  The laws of thermodynamics; kinetic theory of gases; statistical mechanics. Prerequisite: 105 or 106 or 110, and 217 or Mathematics 208.
  MISS DODSWORTH

306 (1)  Advanced Mechanics  1
  A vector analytical presentation of Newtonian mechanics; introduction to Lagrangian and Hamiltonian mechanics. Prerequisite: 204, and 217 or Mathematics 208.
  MISS DODSWORTH

309 (1) (2)  Advanced Experimental Physics  1
  Fundamental experiments selected from different areas of physics. Two laboratory appointments per week. Offered in both semesters, given in only one. Open by permission.
  THE STAFF
314 (2) Electromagnetic Theory 1
Maxwell's equations; electromagnetic waves and radiation; physical optics. Prerequisite: 201 and 306.
MR. CAVRKA

321 (1) Quantum Mechanics 1
Interpretative postulates of quantum mechanics; solutions to the Schrödinger equation; operator theory; perturbation theory; scattering; matrices. Prerequisite: 217 or Mathematics 210. In addition, one unit of Grade II of physics, or permission of the instructor. Physics 306 is recommended.
MISS HICKS

349 (2) Selected Topics 1
MISS HICKS

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election
A major in physics should ordinarily include 201, 202, 204, 306, 314 and 321; 217 or Mathematics 208 is an additional requirement. One unit of another laboratory science is recommended.
A reading knowledge of two of the following languages is desirable for students planning to attend graduate school: French, German, Russian.
Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 62.

Exemption Examination
An examination for exemption from Physics 110 is offered to students who present one admission unit in physics. Students who pass this examination will be eligible for Grade II work in physics. No unit of credit will be given for passing this examination.
100 (1) (2) Political Science and Modern Politics

Introduction to the study of political science, including American and comparative politics, international relations, public law, and political theory. Weekly lectures and discussion sections in the first half of the semester. The second half of the semester is conducted in small seminars each exploring a particular problem. In 1971-72 seminar topics were: the law and politics of civil rights; behavior of the Soviet Politburo and the American Presidency in the Cuban missile crisis and environmental quality control; ethnic politics in America; political corruption; permanent revolution in China; women and the law. Topics for 1972-73: To be announced. Open to all students.

THE STAFF
COMPARATIVE POLITICS

201 (1) The Variety of Regimes

A comparison of various types of regimes, including both historical and contemporary examples. Discussion of the goals of each regime, its theoretical basis or ideology, method of leadership selection, and the formal and informal machinery of government. Case studies will draw on the experience of Greek city-states, parliamentary democracies, and selected communist and fascist states. Special attention will be given to the problem of changing a regime through reform or revolution.

Prerequisite: one unit in political science or two units in anthropology, economics, history, psychology, or sociology, or permission of the instructor.

MR. BARAS

204 (1) Comparative Politics of the Developing Areas

Study of selected aspects of African, Asian, and Latin American political systems, with emphasis upon use and evaluation of analytical concepts in recent literature; political change, national integration, and legitimization among problems considered. Not open to students who have taken [200]. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. ELLERTSON

205 (1) Politics of Western Europe

An exploration of the political, economic, and social challenges confronting European industrial democracies in an era of rapid technological change. Emphasis on the politics and societies of Britain, France, Germany, and Italy, with additional examples drawn from the experience of the Benelux and Scandinavian countries. The evolution of parties, interest groups, parliaments, and bureaucracies will be considered in the contexts of both domestic politics and regional integration.

Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MISS MILLER

207 (1) Politics of Latin America

Study of politics in selected Latin American states including Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and Mexico, treating dynamics of power development, reform and revolution, foreign policy, and factors underlying policy formation.
Prerequisite: same as for 201; by permission to qualified students who have taken Spanish. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

209 (2) Political Systems of Subsaharan Africa 1

An examination of the problems of decolonization, national integration, and mobilization in selected African states, including Ghana, Nigeria, Ivory Coast, Tanzania, and the Congo (Kinshasa). Prerequisite: same as for 201. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

300 (2) Politics of South and East Asia 1

The study of national and international politics in Asia with particular reference to India, China, and Japan. Special attention will be given to the theory of politics in the national setting of these three countries and in the special context of Asian international relations. Stress upon the impact of society, culture, and modernization upon politics and governmental institutions. Not open to students who have taken [306]. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. BARAS

301 (1) Politics of The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe 1

Study of politics and government in the Soviet Union and East European satellites; the interrelationship of ideology and power, leadership, political institutions, and policy formation. Not open to students who have taken [308]. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. BARAS

304 (1) Studies in Political Leadership 1

A consideration of the theory and practice of executive leadership in selected industrial and modernizing societies. The interaction of psychology and politics will be emphasized in exploring both conceptual approaches and case studies. Individual research and student reports. Not open to students who have taken [322]. Open to students who have taken one Grade II unit in international relations or comparative politics, or by permission of the instructor.

MISS MILLER
305 (2) Seminar

Topic for 1972-73: Popular participation in democratic systems — myth or reality? Study of public opinion, political socialization, elite-mass relationships, and alienation. Discussions will explore current problems of political participation involving such groups as women, poor people, ethnic and racial minorities. Not open to students who have taken 336. Open to juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor.

MRS. JUST

AMERICAN POLITICS

210 (1) (2) American Political Parties and Interest Groups

Analysis of the role of extragovernmental political organizations in the American political process. Organization, operation, and evaluation of political parties and interest groups; recruitment of leaders; elections and behavior of the electorate; influences on public policy formation. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MRS. JUST

211 (1) (2) Policy-Making in the Federal Government

Study of the behavior of the President and his immediate advisors, bureaucrats, the judiciary, and members of Congress and their staffs as revealed in representative case studies of domestic and foreign policy-making. Among cases considered have been Truman’s decision to resist the North Korean invasion of South Korea, the Cuban missile crisis, the steel seizure of 1952, authorization and operation of the Council of Economic Advisors, and the supersonic transport controversy. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. STRATTON

212 (1) (2) Urban Politics

An introduction to contemporary urban political problems emerging from racial conflict, redevelopment, community organization and action programs, poverty law and law enforcement, intergovernmental relations, and national urban policy; some consideration of methods for studying urban politics. Field work in the Boston metropolitan region is required. Not open to students who have taken 223. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

MR. ELLERTSON

310 (1) Political Decision-Making in the United States

Analysis of the policy-making process based on simulation of decision-making in executive, legislative, and/or judicial units at different levels of government in the United States. Four or five nationally important questions considered with all class members playing roles as advocates, witnesses, decision-makers, or analysts; evaluation of role-playing and extent to which relevant considerations are taken into account in reaching decisions. Prerequisite: one Grade II unit in American politics or permission of the instructor.

MR. STRATTON
Seminar 1 Topic for 1972-73: Politics of environmental control. Study of a variety of environmental problems and the public and private institutions, interest groups, and ideologies which promote or inhibit adoption of effective governmental programs for environmental quality control. Not open to students who have taken 349. Prerequisite: same as for 305, p. 178.

MR. STRATTON

Seminar 1 Topic for 1972-73: The politics of community control. Intensive study of decentralized control of local American government – both inner-city and suburb – with emphasis on selected elements of the urban crisis, including poverty, delivery of public services, law enforcement, and administration of justice, as well as the values and expectations of urban citizens. Prerequisite: same as for 305, p. 178.

MR. ELLERTSON

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

World Politics 1 An introduction to the international system with emphasis on contemporary theory and practice. Analysis of the bases of power and influence, the policy perspectives of principal states, and the modes of accommodation and conflict resolution. Prerequisite: same as for 201, p. 176.

MISS MILLER

Comparative Foreign Policies 1 An examination of factors influencing the formulation and execution of national foreign policies in the contemporary international system. Comparisons and contrasts between "advanced" and "developing" countries will be stressed, especially the varying significance of domestic sources of foreign policy in western and non-western settings. Prerequisite: one unit in international relations or comparative politics. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.
224 (1) World Community in the Scientific Age 1

International responses to scientific and technological change will be examined in such fields as marine science and technology, environmental alteration, plant pathology and the "green revolution," and telecommunications. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the processes of decision-making and patterns of state behavior in international organizations. Prerequisite: one unit in international relations or permission of the instructor.

MR. SLOUKA

321 (2) The United States in World Politics 1

An examination of American foreign policy since 1945. Readings will include general critiques and case studies designed to illuminate both the processes of policy formulation and the substance of policies pursued. Individual research and student reports. Prerequisite: same as for 224.

MISS MILLER

323 (1) Seminar 1

Topic for 1972-73: Scientific knowledge and world politics. Case studies of current issues that assess the role of scientific experts and technical expertise in the international political process. Emphasis on policy problems which result from the impact of advanced technology on the environment. Prerequisite: same as for 305, p. 178.

MR. SLOUKA

LEGAL STUDIES

330 (1) (2) Law and the Administration of Justice 1

An introduction to the nature and functions of law; the adversary system; methods of legal development based upon an analysis of selected problems in contract, tort, and criminal law; comparison of common law and civil law systems; relation of law and politics. Open to students who have taken one Grade II unit in political science, economics, history, philosophy, psychology, or sociology, and by permission of the instructor to sophomores. Recommended for students who are planning to take 331 or 332.

MISS EVANS
331 (2) The International Legal Process 1

Functions of law and legal institutions in the international political system, considering such matters as protection of individual rights; international criminal responsibility; domestic remedies against international wrongs; controls of uses of sea and aerospace; settlement of disputes; methods of improving compliance with international law. Selected current legal issues treated in moot court practice. Open to students who have taken 330 or two units in international relations, or by permission to other qualified students.

MISS EVANS

332 (2) The Supreme Court in American Politics 1

Analysis of major developments in constitutional interpretation, the conflict over judicial activism, and current problems facing the Supreme Court; judicial review, the powers of the President and of Congress, Federal-State relations, and individual rights and liberties. Selected current legal issues treated in moot court practice. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

MR. PARK

333 (1) Seminar 1

Topic for 1972-73: The law and politics of drug control. Interpretation and enforcement of laws prohibiting use or sale of marijuana, LSD, heroin, and other drugs. Emphasis on police behavior, the role of legal counsel, the functioning of the judicial system, and rehabilitation of offenders, as well as the politics of federal and state reform efforts. Prerequisite: same as for 305, p. 178.

MR. PARK

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY AND EMPIRICAL THEORY

240 (1)* Classical and Medieval Political Thought 1

Study of political theories and doctrines of selected classical, medieval, and early modern writers such as Plato, Aristotle, Cicero, St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, Machiavelli, Luther, Calvin, and Hooker. Writings are considered in their historical context and for their relevance to modern political analysis. Not open to students who have taken 202. Prerequisite: one unit in political science or two units in economics, history, philosophy, psychology, or sociology. NOT OFFERED IN 1972-73.

241 (2)  Modern and Contemporary Political Thought

Study of political theories and doctrines from the 17th century to the present. Among the theorists studied are Hobbes, Locke, Hume, Rousseau, Burke, Mill, Hegel, Marx, and representatives of contemporary schools and ideologies. 370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4

Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The total program of the major shall be prepared in consultation with the advisor so as to provide for an appropriate balance between specialization and diversity.

Specialization shall include a sequence of courses in at least one particular field of study. Diversity is fulfilled by electing some work within the department outside the field of specialization.

Freshmen and sophomores considering a major are encouraged to elect introductory courses appropriate to their special field of interest; information is available in the department office. Students planning to pursue studies in the Twelve College Exchange Program as part of their major should consult with their department advisor. Several of the Twelve College religion departments offer courses which could supplement and enrich a Wellesley major in religion and biblical studies.

Studies in the original language are particularly valuable for students specializing in Old Testament or New Testament; see Religion 203 (Hebrew) and Greek 102 (Beginning Greek).

MISS PRETTYMAN AND MISS WEBSTER
The College offers three established interdepartmental major programs: Black studies, classical and Near Eastern archaeology, molecular biology. In addition, a student may design an individual major. Some representative individual majors and courses available for them are included in this section.

BLACK STUDIES
DIRECTOR: Scott

A major in Black studies provides opportunities for an interdepartmental study of the Black experience in Africa, the Caribbean, and especially in the United States. The program is presented within a context relevant to the development of the Afro-American community, and to the creation of a humanitarian American society at large.

Strong emphasis is placed upon work in a specific concentration in order to provide the students with a sound disciplinary background, and to equip them for graduate school, professional training, or employment in areas related to the Black experience.
In addition to formal course work, the program is comprised of special events—lectures, concerts, conferences, festivals—and of a field studies program that provides students with work experience in neighboring Black communities.

The following courses are available in 1972-73 for majors in Black studies:

Art 226 (1)
History of Afro-American Art

Education 206 (1)
Sociology of Education

English 228 (2)

CLASSICAL AND NEAR EASTERN ARCHAEOLOGY
DIRECTOR: Marvin

The purpose of a major in classical and Near Eastern archaeology is to acquaint the student with the complex societies of the Old World in antiquity.

Students who major in archaeology may choose Greece, Rome, or the ancient Near East as a principal area of interest. Students who concentrate in classical archaeology must normally have at least an elementary knowledge of both Greek and Latin, and an advanced knowledge of the literature of that country (Greece or Rome) which is their special area of concern. Students who concentrate on the ancient Near East must have knowledge of one ancient Near Eastern language.

The program for each student will be planned individually from courses in the departments of art, Greek, history, Latin, philosophy, religion and biblical studies, and sociology and anthropology, as well as from the architecture and anthropology programs at MIT. Certain courses in statistical methods and geology are also very useful.

Students should plan for at least one summer of excavation and travel, and are expected to complete units of independent study as well as regular course offerings.

Because the requirements for this major are somewhat complex, students are urged to declare an interest early so that a comfortable program can be devised for each student.

MOLECULAR BIOLOGY
DIRECTOR: Hicks

The departments of biological sciences and chemistry offer an interdepartmental major in molecular biology which gives opportunity for advanced study of the chemistry of biological systems.

In addition to one or two units of biochemistry ([322], [323], 324, 325), the area of concentration consists of five units of chemistry (202 and 301 or 203 and 300), five units of biology (two Grade III units), Physics 100, 103, or 105, and Mathematics 111, or the equivalent. Students who exempt any Grade I units may substitute further units in biology, chemistry, mathematics, or physics.
INDIVIDUAL MAJORS

Students who are interested may design an individual major, in consultation with two faculty advisors. The program for the individual major is subject to the approval of the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. In setting up guidelines for the individual major, the committee hopes to extend the possibility for a major which crosses traditional departmental lines to those students who could most profit from such a major and to assure suitable guidance to the student in selecting appropriate courses for the major. The program for the individual major should include four units in one department above the Grade I level.

The following majors and suggested courses are representative of the more established programs.

Asian Studies

Students interested in graduate work and a career in Chinese studies should take extensive Chinese language work; students interested in a broader range of courses on Asia may take a minimum of Chinese language work or none.

The following courses are available in 1972-73 for majors in Asian studies:

Theatre Studies

The individual major in theatre studies offers opportunity for study of the theatre through its history, literature, criticism, and related arts and through the disciplines of its practitioners: playwrights, directors, designers, actors, and producers.

The student's program in the major may be adapted to individual interests. Focus may be on the theatre and a national dramatic literature, on the theatre and related arts, or, within the general demands of the curriculum, a variety of emphases may be evolved, including work in such areas as philosophy, history, psychology, sociology, and religion.

At least four units above the Grade I level normally should be elected in a literature department (English, French, German, Greek and Latin, Italian, Russian, or Spanish), with emphasis on dramatic literature. At least two units above the Grade I level normally should be elected in art or music. Two of the six units thus specified (or their equivalents) must be at the Grade III level.

Students electing to design a major in theatre studies normally will take at least one resident semester of concentrated work in the discipline either with the National Theatre Institute at the Eugene O'Neill Memorial Theater Center in Waterford, Connecticut, or at another institution in the Twelve College Exchange Program, to supplement and enrich their work at Wellesley.

Since developments in the theatre arts are the results of stage experiments and because the theatre performance is an expression of theatre scholarship, it is expected that theatre studies majors will elect to complement formal study of theatre history and theory with practical experience in the extracurricular production program of the Wellesley College Theatre.
In addition to the offerings of the theatre studies department, the following courses, available in 1972-73, are specifically relevant to the individual major in theatre studies:

Religion and Biblical Studies 311 (1) (2)
Theology and Its Expression in Literature
The colloquia are designed for freshmen and sophomores who are interested in concentrated study of a significant well-defined topic. They offer students the opportunity to work in small groups in close association with faculty members. Most are open without prerequisite although a few presuppose some earlier study of the field either in secondary school or in a college course. They are similar to seminars in method and approach in that they stress independent work, discussion, and student reports.

Each colloquium counts as a one unit course. Each may be elected to satisfy in part one of the distribution requirements. Since enrollments are limited, students ordinarily may not enroll in more than one colloquium. They may, however, apply for more than one, indicating their first and second choices.

Incoming freshmen may obtain application forms from the class dean, sophomores from the department chairman. If a colloquium is oversubscribed the chairman or instructor, in consultation with the class dean, will decide which applicants will be accepted.
Topics for 1972-73

GIFTS TO WELLESLEY

Wellesley has deep gratitude for the gifts of alumnae, friends and parents without whose support it could not maintain its standards of excellence. The College welcomes outright gifts of cash, gifts of securities and gifts of other property. The College provides income for life to donors who invest in either an Annuity or a Life Income Plan.

Forms of Bequests

An unrestricted bequest to Wellesley may be worded:

"I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, the sum of .................................. dollars."

In the case of a bequest for a specific purpose, it is wise to allow considerable latitude in the use of any fund, so that changing conditions will not impair the usefulness of the gift. Thus, such a bequest may be expressed:

"I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, the sum of ..................... dollars, the income only to be used for ............... (here describe the purpose in as broad and simple terms as possible, as for example, faculty salaries or scholarships)." The more limited the use, the more important it is to add a provision such as, "If, in the future, the Trustees of the College determine that the Bequest is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was bequeathed, they may use it to meet other needs of the College, but the name of the Fund will always remain in Wellesley's records."

A residuary bequest to Wellesley may read as follows:

"All the rest, residue and remainder of my real and personal estate, I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts."
