Visitors
Wellesley welcomes visitors to the College. The administrative offices in Green Hall are open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and by appointment on Saturday mornings during term time. Special arrangements for greeting prospective students can also be made during vacation periods. Rooms for alumnae and for parents of students or prospective students are available on the campus in the Wellesley College Club and may be reserved by writing to the club manager.

A prospective student who wishes to arrange an interview with a member of the professional staff of the Board of Admission should make an appointment well in advance.

Student guides provide tours for visitors without previous appointment. Visitors to the College may call the Board of Admission prior to their visit to arrange a mutually convenient time for the tour.

A student's years at Wellesley College are the beginning—not the end—of an education. It is an education characterized by sensitivity and knowledge, and by the mastery of intellectual skills and the growth of a discerning mind. Above all, its aim is the wisdom to use knowledge to enhance one's own life and to participate more effectively in the larger community.

Wellesley offers this education in an environment which takes women seriously as individuals, as scholars, and as leaders.

Although education at Wellesley will be 100 years old in 1975, it continues to reflect the goals of its founder, Henry Fowle Durant. He was an impassioned believer in equality for women, who saw education as the way women could prepare themselves for "great conflicts" and "vast reforms in social life." Wellesley College reaffirmed these early visions in 1971 when, after seriously considering coeducation, it elected to remain a college for women only.

Throughout the years, Wellesley has encouraged women to make unconventional choices, and it continues to encourage students to seek for themselves a range of options. As a result, many Wellesley women choose to major in such areas as economics, mathematics, and the sciences and subsequently enter careers in business, law, and medicine—all fields which have been long dominated by men.

This conscious effort to provide women with a full range of career and life choices is an integral part of Wellesley's rigorous and demanding academic experience.

High academic standards at Wellesley are combined with considerable flexibility of choice for the individual student. There are opportunities for independent study, individually designed majors, and research.

A primary concern in the Wellesley classroom is the development of analytical skills and clarity of expression; to this end, most instructors emphasize writing papers and reports. Classes are small, with the average size ranging from 22 to 25 students. Popular introductory courses which enroll more than 100 students include small discussion or conference sections. Upper level classes and seminars bring together 12 to 15 students and an instructor to pursue a common problem. The student-faculty ratio of 11 to 1 offers an excellent opportunity for students to undertake individual work with faculty on honors projects and research.

Wellesley's faculty—of whom 54 percent are women—bring to the College diverse academic and professional interests. They are scholars as well as poets, novelists, artists, musicians, scientists, political and economic analysts. A number live on or near the campus, and they take part in many aspects of College life.

Intellectual development at Wellesley is buttressed by outstanding resources and facilities. The Margaret Clapp Library has an extensive general collection containing original source material from special collections. In addition to the facilities of the main library, many departments have their own libraries. In the sciences, facilities include laboratories, greenhouses, an observatory, and special equipment such as controlled environment chambers, an electron microscope, and a laser beam spectrophotometer. Wellesley's physics laboratory was the second such laboratory in the country (the first was at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology). A new Science Center, for which construction has already begun, will bring together all of the science departments, including mathematics and the computer center, in a contemporary setting where interdisciplinary studies can be fostered.

Students in the arts find excellent facilities in the Jewett Arts Center which has a teaching museum, libraries, practice rooms, studios, and an auditorium. Each year the Museum has several exhibitions of students' work, and Jewett is also used for students' concerts and recitals.

The Wellesley curriculum is extended through opportunities for cross-registration with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, exchange programs, and study abroad.

MIT men and women come to Wellesley for such courses as psychology, economics, and art history. Wellesley women travel to MIT for such classes as urban planning, political science, and photography. Buses shuttle hourly along the 12 mile route between the two campuses.

The Twelve College Exchange Program each year brings men and women from other New England colleges to Wellesley for a semester or a year, and enables Wellesley students to live and study on another campus.

Wellesley also offers opportunities for study abroad through the Slater and Waddell fellowship programs. The Slater program underwrites the cost of attending European institutions for a summer or academic year, and it brings Slater Fellows from abroad to the Wellesley campus. The Waddell program provides funds for study in Caribbean countries or in Africa. Wellesley does not have its own junior year abroad program, but it does help students make arrangements for such study by direct enrollment in foreign universities or through application to such programs administered by other colleges.
One advantage of women's colleges is the opportunity for women to assume leadership in college organizations and activities. These options frequently are closed to women in coeducational institutions where extracurricular activities are dominated by male students.

Wellesley students serve on almost all major committees—including committees of the Board of Trustees, Academic Council, the Board of Admission, and the Commission on Community Life. In academic departments, they are voting members of curriculum and faculty search committees, and they also serve on committees which set policy for residential life and which govern Schneider College Center, the focus for much student and community activity on campus.

In 1918 students and faculty concluded an historic Agreement creating the College Government which allows for student control over most nonacademic aspects of their lives and for faculty supervision of academic matters. College Government officers are elected each spring by the students, and the president of College Government heads the student Senate which consists of students, faculty, and administrators but in which only student members have voting privileges.

Students are members of the Commission on Community Life, which has representatives from all College groups and reports to the president. The commission is concerned with relations and communications among the many segments of the campus community, and has also developed an affirmative action program which will insure diversity among employees.

Students also have numerous outlets for self-expression through involvement in such activities as theatre and musical groups, student publications, and sports.

Each week brings lectures, poetry readings, films, exhibitions, and performances in dance, theatre, and music. Visiting artists and lecturers frequently offer master classes for interested students; receptions and informal dinners provide further occasions for students to talk with distinguished men and women.

While Wellesley encourages the participation of its students in events and activities designed to heighten their awareness of the world around them, a student's inner development and her search for personal and spiritual values is also an important process. Over the past few years, there has been an increasing interest in ethical and religious issues and activities. The Office of the Chaplain sponsors special seminars and programs in which students can explore these issues as well as share with one another the celebration of religious holidays. The chaplaincy provides a religious program embracing many faiths, but also offers denominational programs for those who wish to participate.

The development of social responsibility and social responsiveness is an integral part of Wellesley's heritage that continues to this day. Students are encouraged to participate in the communities of Boston as well as in the Wellesley College community. Their activities range from tutoring with the MIT-Wellesley Upward Bound Program to internships in urban legal studies.

As an individual learns and grows, so, too, does a community. It explores and seeks alternatives, makes mistakes and begins anew. The past five years at Wellesley have witnessed marked changes in the curriculum and academic policies as well as in policies governing students' lives on campus. This change—and it is a continuing process—comes about through the efforts of individuals who influence and shape the College environment. The College, in turn, influences the lives of each member of its community.

In its desire to create the best possible education for women, Wellesley continues to seek solutions to problems faced by both women and men in a changing society. It is looking, too, at its own community, and is trying to make it a better place in which to work and to study and to grow. It is exploring new patterns of work, new ways for campus groups to communicate more effectively with one another, and new styles of residential life.

Each student who comes to Wellesley College joins a continuing community, for the support and involvement of the alumnae add an important dimension to the College's life.

One reason for Wellesley's leadership among colleges and universities in this country is the success of its many alumnae who have pioneered in all areas of life. Some have been outstanding scholars and researchers; others have been leaders in science, politics and women's rights; still others have made important contributions to their communities through volunteer work.

Whatever one's life choice and goal, a Wellesley education provides women with intellectual and personal growth which continues long after the college years.
Criteria for Admission

The Board of Admission at Wellesley is composed of representatives of the faculty, the administration, and the students. In selecting the candidates who will comprise the student body, the Board of Admission considers a number of factors: high school records, rank in class, scholastic aptitude and achievement test scores, letters of recommendation from teachers and principals, the student's own statements about herself and her activities, and the interview reports of the staff or alumnae. The Board of Admission also considers special interests and talents, as well as social and political concerns.

All aspects of the application are evaluated with care and sensitivity, and no one factor alone takes precedence over other factors. For example, College Board scores may be influenced by the student's previous experience with timed examinations, and these tests, of course, do not necessarily measure potential, and certainly not motivation or creativity.

The Board of Admission chooses students who will be able to perform academic work at the level required at Wellesley, and who have the potential to benefit from and contribute to the type of education offered at Wellesley. The Board of Admission uses criteria which will assure that admitted students will be able to meet the standards for graduation. These criteria also are sufficiently flexible to make certain that creativity, strong potential, and high motivation are given appropriate consideration.

The Board of Admission considers each application on its merits and does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, creed, or national origin. In accordance with its desire to maintain diversity in its student body, Wellesley College encourages applications from qualified students who come from a wide variety of cultural, economic, and ethnic backgrounds.

General Requirements for Freshman Applicants

Wellesley College does not require a fixed plan of secondary school courses as preparation for its program of studies. Entering students normally have completed four years of college preparatory studies in secondary school. Adequate preparation includes training in clear and coherent writing and in interpreting literature, training in the principles of mathematics (usually a minimum of three years), competence in at least one foreign language, ancient or modern (usually achieved through three or four years of study), and experience in at least one laboratory science and in history.

Students planning to concentrate in mathematics, in premedical studies, or in the natural sciences are urged to elect additional courses in mathematics in secondary school. Students planning to concentrate in language or literature are urged to study a modern foreign language and Latin or Greek before they enter college.

There are always exceptions to the preparation suggested here, and the Board will consider an applicant whose educational background varies from this general description.

The Application

Application forms may be obtained from the Board of Admission. A fee of $15 must accompany the formal application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted. If the application fee imposes a burden on the family's finances, a letter from the applicant's guidance counselor requesting a fee waiver should be sent to the College with the application for admission.

The Interview

A personal interview is required of each applicant. If it is not possible for a candidate to come to the College for an interview, she should write to the Board of Admission for the name of a local alumna interviewer.

Campus Visit

Students who are seriously considering Wellesley will have a fuller understanding of student life at Wellesley if they can arrange to spend a day on campus. Candidates are welcome to attend classes, eat in the residence halls, and talk informally with Wellesley students. Prospective students who plan to spend some time exploring the College are urged to notify the Board of Admission in advance so that tours, interviews, meals, and attendance at classes can be arranged before arrival on campus.

College Entrance Examination Board Tests

The Scholastic Aptitude Test and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) are required of all applicants for admission. One Achievement Test must be the English Composition Test.

Each applicant is responsible for arranging to take the tests and for requesting CEEB to send to Wellesley College the results of all tests taken. CEEB sends its publications and the registration forms necessary to apply for the tests to all American secondary schools and many centers abroad. The applicant may obtain the registration form at school, or may obtain it by writing directly to CEEB, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; or in western United States, western Canada, Australia, Mexico, or the Pacific Islands, to CEEB, Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701.

It is necessary to register with CEEB approximately six weeks before the test dates.

The CEEB Code Number for Wellesley College is 3957.
Admission Plans

1  April Decision
   A candidate who uses the regular plan of admission must file an application by January 15 of the year for which she is applying. Applicants will be notified of the Board of Admission’s decisions in April. Applicants for regular admission may take Scholastic Aptitude Tests and Achievement Tests any time through January of the senior year. Results of tests taken after January arrive too late for consideration by the Board of Admission.

2  Early Decision
   This plan is intended for students who decide early that Wellesley is the college they wish to attend and who agree to file no other college application until after receiving a decision from the Wellesley Board of Admission. The appropriate CEEB tests should be taken by the end of the junior year and candidates must apply and complete the Request for Early Decision form by October 15 of the senior year. All supporting credentials and an interview must be completed by November 1. Candidates will receive a decision from the Board of Admission by December 1.

3  Early Admission
   The College considers applications from candidates who plan to complete only three years of high school and who have demonstrated academic strength and personal and social maturity. These candidates are considered for admission along with other applicants for the April Decision Plan. They are requested to identify themselves as Early Admission applicants in their correspondence with the Board of Admission. It is preferable that these candidates have their interviews at the College if distance permits. In all other respects they follow the regular procedures for the April Decision Plan.

Deferred Entrance
   An admitted applicant who has notified the Board of Admission by May 1 of her intention to attend Wellesley may defer entrance to the freshman class for one year if she makes this request in writing to the Director of Admission by May 15.

United States Citizens Living Abroad
   For U.S. citizens living in other countries the entrance requirements and procedures for making application are the same as for applicants within the United States.

Foreign Students
   The College welcomes applications from students in other countries who have excellent secondary school records and who have completed the equivalent of the entrance requirements for Americans. In some cases, credit toward the Wellesley degree is granted for successful completion of university matriculation examinations such as the baccalaureate or the advanced level examinations for the British General Certificate of Education. Foreign students must apply by January 15 of the year in which the student plans to enter the College. Admission is for September entrance only. There is no application fee for foreign students. Specific instructions for foreign students wishing to apply to Wellesley are contained in the brochure, Information for Students from Abroad, which may be obtained by writing to the Board of Admission. Letters of inquiry should include the student's age, country of citizenship, present school, and academic level.

The Slater One-Year Fellowship Program is open to qualified foreign students currently enrolled in foreign universities who wish to expand their knowledge of American studies while preparing for a degree in their home universities. Preference is given to students from western Europe. Slater Fellows receive the full cost of tuition, room and board from the College. Application forms may be obtained by writing to the Office of Foreign Study.

Admission of Transfer Students

Wellesley College accepts a limited number of transfer students from accredited four and two year colleges. They must offer excellent academic records at both the high school and college levels and strong recommendations from their deans and instructors. Incoming sophomores and juniors are eligible to apply for entrance in either the first or second semester; transfers in the middle of the freshman year are discouraged. Students wishing to transfer into Wellesley should make application before February 1 for entrance in the fall semester, and before November 15 for entrance in the spring semester, on forms which may be obtained from the Board of Admission. The notification dates are April 1 and January 1, respectively. The preliminary application form should be returned with a nonrefundable registration fee of $15, or a fee waiver request authorized by an official advisor; the rest of the application forms will be sent upon receipt of these two items.

The College will evaluate the transcripts of transfer applicants who have been offered admission, and will accept for credit only those courses which are comparable to the liberal arts curriculum at Wellesley. Transfer credit for studies completed in foreign countries will be granted only when the College recorder has given specific approval of the courses elected and the institutions granting the credit. To receive a Wellesley degree, a transfer student must complete a minimum of 16 units of work (64 semester hours) at the College. A Wellesley unit is equivalent to four semester hours and some transfer students may need to carry more than the usual four courses per semester in order to complete their degree requirements within four years. Wellesley College has no summer school and courses done independently during the summer may not be counted toward the 16 units required. Incoming juniors, in particular, should be aware that Wellesley requires evidence of proficiency in one foreign language before the beginning of the senior year. In addition, all transfer students should note which disciplines are included in Groups A, B, and C as defined on p. 42 so that they can satisfy the distribution requirements for graduation.

Incoming junior transfer students may not take part in the Twelve College Exchange Program. All transfer students may elect to take courses through the cross-registration program with MIT after they have completed one semester of study at Wellesley. Candidates who have interrupted their education for more than five years may wish to consult the Office of Continuing Education.

Graduate Students

Wellesley is primarily an undergraduate institution. The Departments of Art and Biological Sciences accept a limited number of candidates for the M.A. degree. (See Requirements for Degree of Master of Arts, p. 48.) Prospective candidates should apply directly to the chairman of the appropriate department. A nonrefundable application fee of $15 should accompany the completed application form.
At Wellesley the fee represents approximately one-half of the educational cost to the College for each student. In past years the difference has been made up from gifts and income earned on endowment funds.

Annual Fee
The comprehensive fee for the academic year 1974-75 is $4600. In addition, there is a student activity fee of $50. The breakdown is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Resident</th>
<th>Nonresident</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

<td>50</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>$4650</td>
<td>$3050</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The College offers three plans of payment described on pp. 20-21.

Student Activity Fee
The purpose of the student activity fee of $50 is to provide resources from which the student government organization can plan and implement the programs of student activities sponsored by various clubs and organizations on campus. The fee is nonrefundable.

Reservation Fee
A fee of $200 reserves a place in the College for the student. It is due February 1 for Early Decision students and May 1 for all other entering students, and annually on July 1 for returning students. It is included in the annual fee of $4600 and cannot be refunded after the due date.

General Deposit
A general deposit of $50 is paid by each entering student. The deposit is refunded after graduation or withdrawal and after deducting any unpaid special charges.

Room Retainer Fee
Returning resident students must submit $100 to the bursar by March 1 to reserve a room for the following year. This $100 fee is applied against room and board charges for the following year and is not refundable after March 1.

Special Fees and Expenses
These include, but are not limited to, the following:

- An initial nonrefundable application fee: $15.
- Certain special fees and expenses listed in departmental descriptions, e.g., the cost of instrumental and vocal lessons given on p. 134.
- A fee for each unit of work taken for credit in excess of five in any semester: $375.
- A fee for each unit of work done independently during the summer: $50.
- An automobile parking fee per semester: $40.
- Fees for breakage of laboratory equipment and any other damage incurred by a student.
- A fee for dormitory room key, if not returned: $5.

Plans of Payment
It is necessary that all fees be paid in accordance with the specified plans before the student can begin or continue attendance, and all financial obligations to the College must be discharged before the degree is awarded. Detailed descriptions of plans are sent by the bursar to the parents of entering students and to others upon request. Although there are minor variations in the payment plans for April Decision and Early Decision students, the final due dates for each group are the same. The eight-payment plan is available only for a complete academic year.

Payment for Students on Financial Aid
Except for the reservation fee, grants are usually applied equally by semester against all tuition, room and board payments for the year. The remaining financial obligation must be paid in accordance with one of the approved plans. Students on financial aid who have difficulty meeting the scheduled payments outlined above should consult the financial aid officer.

Medical Insurance
Information concerning student medical insurance is sent to all parents by the bursar. Because of the high cost of medical care, parents are required to subscribe to the Wellesley College Student Insurance Plan (Blue Cross-Blue Shield), or to provide equivalent coverage. Full-time continuing education students are also required to have coverage; part-time continuing education students do not have privileges of the infirmary.

Refund Regulations
1. Reservation payment and room retainer fee are not refundable after their due dates.
2. The official date of withdrawal is considered to be the date on which the student and the class dean acknowledge the decision to withdraw to be final, and the class dean signs the withdrawal card.
3. In the event of withdrawal of a student on financial aid, the proceeds of all refunds will be applied proportionately to the sources from which payment was made.
4. There is no refund made to a student who leaves the College without the written approval of the class dean.

*This plan includes a $20 service charge.
Refund Schedule
Prior to the first day of class, tuition, room and board fees are 100 percent refundable. Not included are the reservation fee and the room retainer fee.
After classes begin, tuition is refunded at the rate of 75 percent from the first through the 14th calendar day and 50 percent from the 15th through the 35th calendar day. There is no tuition refund after the 35th calendar day.
After classes begin, there is no refund for the room charge.
Board rebate is computed at the rate of $13 per week for each remaining full academic week of the semester, calculated from the week after the withdrawal or exclusion date.

General Expenses
It is estimated that $600 for the year will cover a student's general expenses including books and supplies, incidental fees, clothing, recreation and entertainment, laundry and dry cleaning, and local transportation, excluding trips to and from home for the year. For the foreign student coming from abroad this figure is estimated at $800.

Graduate Student Fees
The basic fee for a graduate student is $375 per semester course, payable by September 1 for the fall semester and by January 15 for the spring semester.

Continuing Education Fees
The basic fee for a continuing education student is $375 per semester course, payable by September 1 for the fall semester and by January 15 for the spring semester. Continuing education applicants pay the same $15 fee as all other students. There is also a registration fee of $25, payable when the student is accepted.
A continuing education student who finds it necessary to withdraw from a course is entitled to tuition refunds as follows: tuition will be refunded completely through the 21st calendar day of the semester. One-half of the tuition will be refunded if withdrawal is between the 22nd and 35th calendar day of the semester. There will be no refund after the 35th calendar day of the semester.
The Wellesley College program of financial aid for students is intended to open educational opportunity to able students of diverse backgrounds regardless of their financial circumstances. No student should be discouraged from applying to Wellesley because of the need for financial aid. At Wellesley, admission decisions are made without regard for financial need, and only after a student is admitted does the Committee on Financial Aid consider applications for aid. Over 35 percent of Wellesley students receive some financial aid from Wellesley funds.

The Wellesley College Students' Aid Society, which sponsors loans, also offers personal assistance through loans of books and other items, gifts of clothing, and loans of small amounts of money for incidental expenses and special emergencies.

Financial aid is given only to students who require assistance in order to attend. Awards vary in size according to individual need and may equal or exceed the comprehensive College fee. Although awards are generally granted for one year at a time, the College expects to continue aid as needed throughout the four years for all financial aid students who continue to have need and whose college records are satisfactory. Most awards consist of a package of a grant and a loan, plus work.

In addition to College funds, federal monies also have been available in the past for grants, loans, and certain work-study programs. It is expected that similar funding will continue. In general, qualification for these federally sponsored programs has depended upon family income.

The need for financial help sometimes exceeds the amount of resources Wellesley has available in any given year. Therefore, students should, whenever possible, seek grants and/or loans through local, state, or federal programs, from educational foundations, and other private sources.

Wellesley College offers ten Town Scholarships to residents of the Town of Wellesley who qualify for admission and whose parents or guardian live in Wellesley. If these students live at home the scholarship is in the form of a full tuition grant. If these students choose to live on campus the amount of the scholarship is based on financial need and is determined by the same need criteria which apply to all other financial aid applicants.

The College expects students to contribute as much as possible to their own expenses through summer and term-time earnings. Academic-year campus jobs ordinarily involve five hours of work per week and enable students to earn approximately $300 a year. In addition, the Career Services Office is often able to arrange for additional paid work during the academic year and summer.

Further information on financial aid at Wellesley is contained in the brochure Opportunities for Financial Aid which may be obtained by writing to the Financial Aid Officer, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts 02181.

Application for Financial Aid
Each registered applicant for admission who is applying for financial aid must file three forms: the Wellesley College Application for Financial Aid, the Parents' Confidential Statement of the College Scholarship Service, and a certified copy of the latest federal income tax return.

Application
The Wellesley College Application for Financial Aid will be sent to candidates who indicated that they would like to apply for financial aid on the application for admission. It should be returned to the financial aid officer, Wellesley College, by October 15 from Early Decision applicants and by February 1 from all other applicants.

Parents' Confidential Statement
This form is available in the secondary schools, or may be obtained by writing to the College Scholarship Service, Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; Box 881, Evanston, Illinois 60204; or Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701. A copy can also be provided by the financial aid officer if specifically requested by an applicant. The Parents' Confidential Statement should be filed with the College Scholarship Service which will then forward a copy for confidential use to the college or colleges indicated on the form.

The statement must be filed with the Wellesley College financial aid officer by October 15 from Early Decision applicants; February 1 from April Decision applicants; February 15 from fall semester transfer applicants; and November 30 from spring semester transfer applicants.

Federal Income Tax Return
If a student is admitted and enrolls at Wellesley College, parents are expected to submit a certified copy of their latest federal income tax return by July 1. The certified copy is forwarded directly to the College by the District IRS Office at the request of the parent. Financial aid awards are not final until the IRS form is submitted.
A number of fellowships and graduate scholarships are open to undergraduates, graduating seniors, and alumnae of Wellesley College, while others administered by Wellesley are open to women graduates of any American institution. In general, awards are made to applicants who plan full-time graduate study.

Information and application forms may be obtained from the Secretary to the Committee on Graduate Fellowships and Scholarships, Office of Financial Aid, Wellesley College. Applications and supporting credentials for fellowships are due by January 15, except where noted.

For Graduates and Undergraduates of Wellesley College

Fellowships open to Wellesley College alumnae, graduating seniors, and undergraduates are listed below. Each is awarded annually unless specified otherwise.

Anne Louise Barrett Fellowship, preferably in music and primarily for study or research in musical theory, composition, or in the history of music; abroad or in the United States. Renewable.
Stipend: $2500

DuPont Graduate Fellowship in Science and Engineering for graduate study in the biological sciences, chemistry, engineering, and physics. Mathematics and medicine are not included. Awarded annually to a senior. Applications are due December.
Stipend: $10,000

Professor Elizabeth F. Fisher Fellowship for research or further study in geology or geography, including urban, environmental or ecological studies. Awarded in alternate years. Offered in 1974-75 for 1975-76.
Stipend: $1000

Horton-Hallowell Fellowship for graduate study in any field, preferably in the last two years of candidacy for the Ph.D. degree, or its equivalent, or for private research of equivalent standard.
Stipend: $3500

Edna V. Moffett Fellowship for a young alumna, preferably for a first year of graduate study in history. Awarded in alternate years. Offered in 1974-75 for 1975-76.
Stipend: $2500

Stipend: $3300

Trustee Scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies. These scholarships are unrestricted as to field of study. The title of the Trustee Scholar is honorary and in cases of financial need stipends may be awarded to the scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance. All applications and credentials are due by January 15. Recipients share the total annual stipend.
Stipend: $6000

Fanny Bullock Workman Scholarship for graduate study in any field.
Stipend: $3000

Mary Elvira Stevens Traveling Fellowship for travel or study outside the United States. Any scholarly, artistic, or cultural purpose may be considered. Candidates must be at least 25 years of age on September 1 of the year in which the fellowship is first held. Applications must be filed with the Secretary to the Stevens Fellowship Committee, Office of Financial Aid, before December 15.
Stipend: $7000

Peggy Howard Grants in Economics for study by women who intend to become professional economists. Available to both undergraduate and graduate students. Funds vary in amount, and can be used to cover costs of graduate study or for special projects. Applications and awards are made through the Department of Economics.

For Graduates of Other Institutions
Fellowships, Scholarships, and Assistantships

Some graduate fellowships and scholarships for study at the institution of the candidate's choice are administered by Wellesley College and are open to alumnae of any college, including Wellesley.

Assistantships which provide stipends are available for candidates for the M.A. degree in biological sciences at Wellesley.

Alice Freeman Palmer Fellowship for study or research abroad or in the United States. The holder must be no more than 26 years of age at the time of her appointment, and unmarried throughout the whole of her tenure.
Stipend: $3500

M. A. Cartland Shackford Medical Scholarship for the study of medicine with a view to general practice, not psychiatry. Renewable.
Stipend: $3500

Harriet A. Shaw Scholarship for study or research in music and allied arts, abroad or in the United States. The candidate must be no more than 26 years of age at the time of her appointment. Preference given to music candidates; undergraduate work in history of art required of other candidates. Awarded in alternate years. To be offered in 1975-76 for the year 1976-77.
Stipend: $3000
STUDENT LIFE
Intellectual growth is only part of the journey toward the full realization of one’s talents and abilities. Wellesley College offers many opportunities for a student to develop self-confidence, sensitivity, and leadership abilities through participation in student organizations and college governance.

Many student groups reflect ethnic as well as social, political, and religious interests. Some of these organizations are Mezcla, an association of Chicana, American Indian, and Spanish students; Ethos, an organization of Black students; the Wellesley Women’s Committee, a group of students, faculty, and staff interested in feminist issues; the Married Students Union, a new group which is seeking programs serving their special needs. A number of religious groups such as the Newman Club, the Wellesley Christian Fellowship, and the Wellesley Jewish Students offer many programs throughout the year. Other groups such as Archaeologists Anonymous and Club Français plan activities around academic interests.

Students are also responsible for a number of publications, among them Wellesley News, the weekly student newspaper; Legenda, the College yearbook; We, a literary publication; and Muse, a newsletter of the Wellesley Women’s Committee. WBS, the College radio station, is operated by an all-student staff.

Sports are a significant part of life at Wellesley. Some students compete on crew and tennis teams as well as in field hockey, basketball, squash, sailing, swimming, and water polo. Other students pursue physical education just for fun, or to stay in shape. Interests range from yoga and fencing to dance and scuba diving. The recreation building, which has a heated swimming pool, also has facilities for badminton, volley ball, squash, gymnastics, exercise, and dance. Lake Waban, on the campus, is used for water sports and ice skating.

The arts have always been a highly visible part of the Wellesley experience, and many musical and theatrical groups have formed. The College Choir, The Madrigals, the Troupe, the Collegium Musicum, the Chamber Music Society, the Chapel Choir, the Ethos Choir, the Carillonners Guild, and the MIT Orchestra all offer experiences for students with interests in music. Those inclined toward the theatre can choose among the Wellesley College Theatre, the Experimental Theatre, the Shakespeare Society, and the Wellesley College Black Repertory Total Theatrical Experience. In addition to the productions of these groups, the Departments of Greek and Latin offer plays in the original text.

Life at Wellesley also includes a number of traditional social events. Winter Weekend, Sophomore Parents Weekend, and Spring Weekend are supplemented by frequent informal parties. A weekly celebration, TSIF (Thank Schneider It’s Friday), has a growing number of enthusiasts among faculty members and employees as well as students who come to Schneider College Center late Friday afternoons for beer and/or wine and ragtime piano.

Schneider Center, which also has a coffee house and conference rooms, is the location for much community activity. Supplementing the facilities and resources of Schneider are Slater International Center, which is the frequent setting for international events and celebrations, and Harambee House, the social and cultural center of the Black community at Wellesley. Throughout the year, Harambee sponsors such events as lectures and dance performances, many in conjunction with the Black studies department.

On weekends, many students move back and forth between the campus and activities in Cambridge and Boston. The student Senate provides buses on weekends to and from Harvard Square, opening up many opportunities for exploring urban life.

Residence Halls

Although some students live off campus, most live in one of Wellesley’s 13 residence halls which are the focus of much campus life. Each hall is a community within the larger Wellesley community, and each has a character of its own. Much of the informal learning at Wellesley takes place in spontaneous discussions and debates at meals and in students’ rooms. The diversity of Wellesley’s students, who bring to the College differing lifestyles and cultural backgrounds, contributes much to this process.

The residence experience is also likely to include lectures, guest artists-in-residence, group discussions, dinners with faculty members, and parties. One tradition, initiated in the early years of the College, is Wednesday afternoon tea—an informal occasion which continues to attract many students.

Members of all four classes live in each hall. Each residence hall also has a professional head of house, with the exception of Stone-Davis, which will have an all-student staff on an experimental basis for 1974-75. The head of house serves as an advisor and counselor to individuals and groups in the residence halls and as a liaison to the College community.
Students in each residence hall elect a House Council which administers the day-to-day details of living. The social committee in each hall plans parties and other events throughout the year. Each residence also elects a representative to the Senate, and it is this person's job to consult with members of her residence hall on campus-wide issues and to convey the feelings of her hall to the student government.

A residential policy committee has been reviewing many aspects of residential life and hopes to develop ways to involve students in all areas of residential policy making. The Residence Office has been working to expand the guest-in-residence program, and to increase the number of academic, cultural, and social events in the residence halls.

Each of the residence halls contains single rooms, double rooms, and some suites. The cost of all rooms is the same, regardless of whether they are shared, and students are required to sign a residence license upon assignment of a room. Each hall has spacious living rooms and smaller common rooms. All but two have dining facilities, and in the remaining halls, facilities are open on a five-day or seven-day basis. There are limited kitchenette facilities in the halls for preparing snacks or for use when entertaining. Each building is equipped with coin-operated washers and dryers.

The College supplies a bed, desk, chair, lamp, bookcase, and bureau for each resident student. Students may rent linen or supply their own. Students supply blankets, quilts, and their own curtains, pictures, rugs, and posters. They clean their own rooms and contribute two or three hours a week answering the telephones and doing other miscellaneous jobs which are scheduled by the student heads of work.

Counseling Resources

The College has a number of professionally trained staff members who are available for consultation on academic or personal matters. The class deans, who generally follow a class throughout the four years, have major responsibility for advising students on academic matters. Questions about choosing a major, or difficulties in adjusting to a program, are discussed with the class deans. Special tutoring and programs in reading and study skills are arranged through the class deans also.

It is most unusual for a student not to feel the need, some time during her college years, to talk over personal concerns with people other than friends and roommates. A counseling center is staffed by a clinical psychologist and a human relations consultant. Although the atmosphere is open and informal, complete confidentiality is maintained by the office at all times.

The staff of the College Health Services includes psychiatrists and other specialists available for crisis counseling and special help. Long-term psychotherapy is not provided at the College, but the resources for such treatment are available in the surrounding area.

Other resources include the professional staff in the residence halls, the chaplain and his assistants, and faculty members.

Religious Resources

Wellesley seeks to respond sensitively to a variety of religious traditions. The College encourages independent religious involvement on the part of its students. Wellesley students may also major in religion and biblical studies, or take elective courses in these fields. Attendance at all worship services is voluntary.

The College chaplain and other advisors representing several religious traditions are available to all students for religious guidance. The chaplain also officiates at regular Sunday morning worship, an ecumenically oriented Protestant service in Houghton Memorial Chapel, at which many distinguished men and women are invited to speak during the year. The activities of various religious groups on campus as well as programs sponsored by the chaplaincy are open to all.

Temples, churches, and other religious organizations representing a great variety of ways of worship are available locally and in the greater Boston area.

College Health Services

The services of the College physicians, psychiatrists, and nurses are available to regular full-time students at Simpson Infirmary, which includes a 29-bed hospital and an outpatient clinic. Part-time continuing education students are eligible for Health Services facilities only by special arrangement. Minimal fees are charged for certain services such as laboratory tests or special treatments such as physiotherapy. Boston has long been one of the major medical centers in the country, and consultation with specialists in all medical fields is easily available.

Besides the usual care given by College Health Services, members of the Wellesley medical staff serve on a student-staff health committee. This committee works on ways to expand the use of the health services and arranges special programs of information and discussion on subjects such as drugs, sex, and marriage.
The confidentiality of the doctor-patient relationship is the foundation upon which the success of the health services is based. College medical personnel will not share any medical information concerning a student with any College authorities, or with the parents of students, without the consent of the student. Parents are requested to sign a statement authorizing the College to proceed with appropriate treatment in the case of serious illness or emergency in the event they cannot be reached by telephone.

There is a charge for inpatient care which is usually covered by health insurance. Students are required to enroll in the College Health Insurance plan unless they have equivalent coverage.

Jobs on and off Campus

A student interested in employment may register at the Career Services Office. This office assists students in obtaining summer employment as well as part-time work during the academic year. There are many opportunities for students to find part-time employment at the College and in the Town of Wellesley. The Career Services Office is the clearinghouse for employment of students. Opportunities on campus include office work in academic and administrative departments, in Schneider College Center, and work in small businesses run by students. Off campus, students have worked in offices, stores, and restaurants. A large number of local families employ students for child care and for other varieties of household work.

Students are assisted in making plans for the future, either for employment or further study. Students may consult with the career services counselors about their interests and plans. Assistance is provided in many ways. The office maintains a library of vocational literature on current positions and future career possibilities; holds lectures and discussions for students on various occupations; supplies information about graduate courses, apprenticeships, graduate scholarships and assistantships, as well as job opportunities; and schedules interviews for seniors with employer and graduate school representatives who recruit at the College.

All alumnae may continue to use the services of this office for information and help to find employment or in planning further study.

Summers

The long summer vacation gives students ample time for work, travel, or study.

The Career Services Office has information on summer opportunities. Counseling and advice are offered to students on the various possibilities available to match their interests and abilities.

Summer internships and other opportunities sponsored by the College are described on pp. 45-46.

THE CAMPUS
Wellesley College has a campus of more than 500 acres bordering on Lake Waban. There are woodlands, hills and meadows, an arboretum, ponds, and miles of footpaths. In this setting are 64 buildings, with architectural styles ranging from Gothic to contemporary. The focal point of the campus is the Galen Stone Tower, named for its donor. The tower rises 182 feet from Green Hall, the administration building, and contains a 30-bell carillon. It is an excellent vantage point from which to view Wellesley's campus and beyond.

Classrooms
The two primary classroom buildings, Founders Hall and Pendleton Hall, are located in the academic quadrangle. The humanities, social sciences, and mathematics are taught in Founders. Pendleton contains the laboratories, lecture rooms, libraries, and offices of the departments of chemistry, physics, and psychology. Extensive equipment and facilities provide opportunities for advanced work in these areas.

Sage Hall
Located on the northeast side of the campus is Sage Hall, which houses the biological sciences and geology departments. The building has laboratories, lecture rooms, a library, aquarium, teaching museum, and an extensive map collection for geography. Special equipment includes an electron microscope, a laser beam spectrophotometer, a radioisotope laboratory, and an ultra centrifuge.

Greenhouses
Classrooms in the biological sciences department open directly into the Margaret C. Ferguson Greenhouses, named after a former Wellesley professor of botany. The climate in the greenhouses ranges from temperate to tropic with many excellent examples of trees and flowers which flourish in the respective temperatures. There is considerable space for experiments by faculty and students. The greenhouses are open to the public throughout the year.

Observatory
The Whitin Observatory contains laboratories, classrooms, darkrooms, and the library of the astronomy department. Its research equipment includes a 6-inch, a 12-inch, and a 24-inch telescope. The observatory was a gift of Mrs. John C. Whitin, a former trustee of the College. It was built in 1900, enlarged in 1962 and 1966, and is considered to be an unusually fine facility for undergraduate training in astronomy.

Science Center
The construction of a new building is underway which, together with Sage Hall, will form the new Wellesley College Science Center. This complex will house the departments of astronomy, biological sciences, geology, mathematics, physics, and psychology.

Arts Center
The Jewett Arts Center, completed in 1958, consists of the Mary Cooper Jewett art wing and the Margaret Weyerhauser Jewett music and drama wing. Linking the two buildings is the Wellesley College Museum.

The teaching collection of the museum includes choice examples of classical and medieval sculpture, prints and drawings by old masters, and contemporary art. Although used primarily for teaching and museum training, it is also open to the public, and during the academic year many exhibitions are offered.

The art wing contains studios, classrooms, an extensive library, and offices of the art department and museum. The music and drama wing contains the music library, listening rooms, practice studios, and classrooms and offices of the music department. A collection of musical instruments of various periods is available to students.
The Jewett Auditorium, a theatre seating 320 persons, was designed for chamber music performances, and is also used for special events. In addition, there are rehearsal rooms and other theatre facilities.

Margaret Clapp Library
The Margaret Clapp Library, erected in 1910 and first enlarged in 1916, was the gift of Andrew Carnegie. A wing was added in 1957, and current constructions will nearly double its size.

The library’s collection exceeds 500,000 volumes. Subscriptions to periodicals number over 2,000. Special collections, such as the English Poetry Collection, contain letters, manuscripts, and rare books of distinction.

The language laboratory and listening units for the collection of spoken and dramatic recordings are part of the library. Special meetings, lectures, and discussions may be held in the Pope Room.

Child Study Center
Wellesley College opened the Child Study Center in the fall of 1969 under the direction of the psychology department. It is located in the Anne L. Page Memorial Building, used for many years to house the College nursery school. The Center is designed for Wellesley undergraduates to study the learning processes of young children.

Residence Halls
Each residence, its student capacity and location, is listed below:

- Munger: 130 students, Northwest
- Beebe: 125 students
- Cazenove: 135 students
- Pomeroy: 135 students
- Shafer: 130 students
- Tower Court: 250 students, West
- Claflin: 125 students
- Severance: 150 students
- Stone: 115 students, Southeast
- Davis: 115 students
- Bates: 130 students, Northeast
- Freeman: 130 students
- McAfee: 135 students

Physical Education Facilities
Classes for all indoor sports and for modern dance are conducted in Mary Hemenway Hall, which houses the offices of the physical education department, and in the nearby Recreation Building. The latter has game rooms, badminton and squash courts, and a swimming pool. Outdoor water sports center around the boathouse where the canoes, sailboats, and crew shells are kept. Wellesley also maintains a 9-hole golf course, 16 tennis courts, and hockey and lacrosse fields.
Extracurricular Facilities

Alumnae Hall
The largest auditorium on the campus, seating 1500 people, is in Alumnae Hall. It also has a large ballroom and houses the Wellesley College Theatre and the College radio station, WBS. Visiting lecturers, concert artists, and professional theatre groups often appear there. The building was erected in 1923 and is the gift of Wellesley alumnae.

Chapel
The Houghton Memorial Chapel was presented to Wellesley in 1897 by the son and daughter of William S. Houghton, a former trustee of the College. The chapel's stained glass windows commemorate the founders and others, while a tablet by Daniel Chester French honors Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley's second president. The chapel, which seats 1200 people, is a setting for lectures and community meetings as well as religious services.

Schneider College Center
The center for extracurricular life at the College is Schneider College Center. Its newly remodeled facilities provide lounge areas, a snack bar, meeting rooms, offices for student organizations, and a coffee house. It also contains the offices of the director of student services, the director of residence, and the chaplain.

Harambee House and Slater International Center are complementary adjuncts to Schneider.

Harambee House
Harambee House is the cultural and social center for the Black community at Wellesley. It contains rooms for seminars, meetings, and social gatherings as well as facilities for cooking and entertaining.

Slater International Center
Slater International Center is an informal meeting place for foreign and United States students and faculty. It serves as the center for campus organizations which have an interest in international affairs, and for seminars and speakers on international topics. It has rooms for large and small gatherings, a library, and facilities for cooking and entertaining.

Society Houses
There are three society houses for special interest groups. Each house has kitchen and dining facilities, a living room, and other gathering rooms. Members are drawn from all four classes, beginning with second semester freshmen. Shakespeare House is a center for students interested in Shakespearean drama; Tau Zeta Epsilon House is oriented around art and music; and Zeta Alpha House provides a setting for students with an interest in modern drama.
Green Hall
The offices of the president, the Board of Admission, the deans, and all administrative offices directly affecting the academic and business management of the College are located in Green Hall. The building has large rooms for Academic Council and trustee meetings, class and seminar rooms, and some faculty offices. Named for Hetty R. Green, the building was erected in 1931.

Infirmary
The Simpson Infirmary, a 29-bed hospital and outpatient clinic, was built in 1942. It is connected to the original infirmary (1881), which is now used for staff housing.

President's House
The President's House, formerly the country estate of Wellesley's founders, the Durants, is located on a hill just south of the main campus. The spacious lawns border Lake Waban. Remodeled and renovated in 1968, it is frequently the scene of alumnae and trustee gatherings as well as receptions for distinguished visitors, for entering students, and for graduating seniors and their parents.

Wellesley College Club
The Wellesley College Club is a center for faculty, staff, and alumnae. Its reception and dining rooms are open to members and guests for lunch and dinner and are also used for many special occasions. Overnight accommodations are also available for alumnae and for parents of students and prospective students.
The curriculum provides a framework within which students are invited to explore various fields in the arts and sciences. In developing the curriculum, the faculty has tried to present diverse offerings among which students will gradually perceive interrelationships. Through study of different disciplines and bodies of knowledge, students perceive the coherent unity among diversity which is traditionally termed a liberal arts education. When students decide on an area of concentration they then elect courses in other fields to provide complementary or contrasting experiences. These, together with the major, enable students to achieve a broad liberal arts education.

By the time the Bachelor of Arts degree is earned, the student should be acquainted with the main fields of human interest, capable of integrating knowledge from various fields, and prepared for continuous scholarly growth and responsible participation in society. In the major field, the student is expected to demonstrate maturity of thought, acquaintance with recognized authorities in the field, and general competence in dealing with sources of research or analysis.

Requirements for Degree of Bachelor of Arts
Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts is required to complete 32 units of academic work at a C average or better. Each semester course is assigned one unit of credit. The normal period of time in which to earn the degree is four years and a normal program of study includes from three to five courses a semester. Freshmen are encouraged to carry a maximum of four courses each semester, but upperclass students may take five.

Courses are classified in Grades I, II, and III. Introductory courses are numbered 100-199 (Grade I); intermediate courses, 200-299 (Grade II); advanced courses, 300-380 (Grade III). Each student must include at least four units of Grade III work, at least two of which shall be in the major. The program in the senior year may not include more units of Grade I than of Grade III work, and at least two must be Grade III.

Distribution Requirements
In order to provide students with as much flexibility as possible, Wellesley requires no specific courses. To insure, however, that students gain insight and awareness in areas outside their own major fields, the College does require that they choose three semester courses in each of three general areas during the four year period. (Courses numbered 350—Research or Individual Study—do not satisfy this requirement.)

The three groups of academic disciplines are:

Group A
Literature, Foreign Languages, Art, and Music
Three units chosen from courses in the Departments of Art, Chinese, English, French, German, Greek and Latin, Italian, Music, Russian, Spanish; or from extradepartmental literature courses.

Group B
Social Science, Religion and Biblical Studies, and Philosophy
One or two units chosen from courses in the Departments of History, Philosophy, Religion and Biblical Studies and One or two units chosen from courses in the Departments of Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology and Anthropology.

Group C
Science and Mathematics
Three units, at least one of which shall be a course with laboratory, chosen from offerings in the Departments of Astronomy, Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, or one of the extradepartmental courses in history of science.

Foreign Language Requirements
Before the beginning of the senior year students must exhibit a degree of proficiency in the use of one foreign language, either ancient or modern. Many students fulfill the requirement by passing one of the language tests offered by the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB). Wellesley requires scores of 610 or better on the CEEB Achievement Test, or a score of at least 3 on the Advanced Placement Examination (AP). This requirement can also be met by the completion of 2 units of language study at the second year college level or 1 unit of language study above the second year college level.

Students may take introductory courses in only two modern foreign languages.

Fulfillment of the foreign language requirement through work done at another institution must be approved by the appropriate department. A student whose native language is not English will be exempted from this requirement, subject to approval of the class dean and the Academic Review Board.

Other Requirements
Students are expected to use acceptable standards of spoken and written English in their college work. Special assistance in English, mathematics, and other basic and special skills is offered at the College.

In addition, all students must complete the physical education requirement described on p. 144 for which no academic credit is given.
The Major

Students may choose majors offered by 24 departments, four interdepartmental majors—classical civilization, classical and Near Eastern archaeology, East Asian studies, and molecular biology—or they may devise an individual major. Of the 32 units required for graduation, at least eight are to be elected in the major, and no more than 14 in any one department.

Students who are interested in an individual major submit a plan of study to two faculty members from different departments. This plan should include four units in one department above the introductory level. The program for the individual major is subject to the approval of the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. Some students wish to center their study upon an area, a period, or a subject which crosses conventional departmental lines. Examples of possible area studies are American studies, Latin American studies, Russian studies; of periods, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance; of subjects, comparative literature, international relations, theatre studies, urban studies.

In the second semester of the sophomore year each student elects a major field and prepares for the recorder a statement of the courses to be included in the major. Later revisions may be made with the approval of the chairman of the major department, or in the case of the individual major, with the student's advisor, and be presented to the recorder not later than the second semester of the junior year.

Academic Standards

Academic standards at Wellesley are high, and students take full responsibility for attending classes, submitting required work on time, and appearing for examinations. If students have difficulties with course work, become ill, or have other problems which interfere with their academic work, they should consult with their class dean for assistance in making special arrangements for their studies.

Students are expected to maintain at least a C average throughout the college career. At the end of each semester each student's record is reviewed, and appointments with the class dean are arranged if needed. The College tries to provide the appropriate support services to students in difficulty. Students who show consistent effort are rarely excluded from the College.

Grading System

Students have the option of electing courses on a letter or nonletter grading system. At the beginning of the eighth week of a semester, students notify the recorder and their instructor whether they plan to take a course for a letter grade or on the credit/noncredit basis. Credit is given to students who have attained a satisfactory familiarity with the content of a course and have demonstrated ability to use this knowledge in a competent manner. If credit is not earned in this fact does not appear on the student's permanent record.

Examinations

An examination period occurs at the end of each semester. Within this period students may devise their own examination schedules for the majority of courses. Examinations are scheduled for some art, music, and foreign language courses which require audiovisual equipment. Special examinations are offered in September to qualified students to earn credit for work done independently, for admission to advanced courses without the stated prerequisites, and for exemption from required studies.

Students who wish credit towards the degree for work done independently in the summer should consult the appropriate department and the class dean, and should apply to the recorder at least one month in advance for a special examination to be given at the beginning of the college year.

Examinations may be taken for credit, for admission to a more advanced course, or for exemption from the required studies in Groups A, B, and C. Examinations for credit passed at a satisfactory level also count for advanced placement and/or exemption; examinations for advanced placement also count for exemption. Examinations passed at a satisfactory level for exemption do not count for credit.

Credit for Advanced Placement Examinations

Students entering under the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board, and who make the scores specified by Wellesley College, will receive credit toward the B. A. degree, provided they do not register in college for courses which cover substantially the same material as those for which they have received Advanced Placement credit. Two units of credit will be given for each AP examination in which a student received a grade of 4 or 5 with the following exceptions: one unit of credit will be given for the Latin 4 examination; one unit of credit will be given in the Mathematics AB examination; one unit of credit for a score of 3 in the Mathematics BC examination. Not more than two units are credited in any one department.
Credit for Other Academic Work

Of the 32 units required for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a student may earn a maximum of 16 units through a combination of the following: AP examinations; courses taken at another institution during the summer or the academic year; or study independent of Wellesley courses which is then evaluated by examination by a Wellesley department. (See Examinations.) Two units may be earned in summer school and two units for summer independent work. Eight units, in addition to summer school, may be earned through courses taken at another institution. Students, including transfer students, must complete 16 units at Wellesley. Candidates for the B.A. degree in the program for Continuing Education must complete a minimum of 8 units of work at the College.

Exemption from Required Studies

Students may be exempted from any of the studies required for the degree, provided they can demonstrate to the department concerned a reasonable competence in the elements of the course. Exemption from any of the studies required does not affect the general requirement for completion of 32 units for graduation. It does, however, make it possible for some students to select more advanced courses earlier in their college careers.

Such exemption may be achieved in one of two ways: a score of 4 (Honors) or 5 (High Honors) on the CEEB AP tests, or passing a special exemption examination. Permission for the exemption examination must be obtained from the class dean and the chairman of the department concerned. (See Examinations.) In addition to the evidence offered by the examination, some departments may require the student to present a paper or an acceptable laboratory notebook.

Acceleration

A few students complete all the requirements for the degree in less than the usual eight semesters. After two semesters at Wellesley, students who wish to accelerate should consult their deans and then write a letter to the Academic Review Board, petitioning to fulfill the requirements earlier.

The petition should include the month and year in which the degree requirements will be fulfilled, and all units that will be counted toward the degree.

Normally, a plan to accelerate must include eight units at Wellesley in two consecutive semesters during the junior and senior years. In accumulating units in addition to courses taken at Wellesley, an accelerating student may count:

1. Advanced Placement credit;
2. A maximum of two units earned in summer school;
3. A maximum of two units earned through independent study during the summer and validated at Wellesley; and
4. College or university credit earned prior to graduation from secondary school, which is not included in the units of secondary school work required for admission.

An accelerating student must maintain a C average at all times.
Research or Individual Study

Each academic department provides the opportunity for certain students to undertake a program of individual study directed by a member of the faculty. Under this program an eligible student may undertake a research project or a program of reading in a particular field. The results of this work normally are presented in a final report or in a series of short essays. The conditions for such work are described under the course numbered 350 in each department. Wellesley offers further opportunities for research and individual study. (See Honors in the Major Field.)

Freshman-Sophomore Colloquia

These colloquia give students the chance to work closely in small groups with individual faculty members. They are designed to provide the sort of educational experience which previously was enjoyed only by advanced students. They are similar to the seminars in that they stress independent work, discussion, and oral and written presentations.

Cross-Registration Program with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology

A program of cross-registration of students at Wellesley and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was officially inaugurated in 1968-69. The program allows students to elect courses at the other institution, and extends the diversity of educational experiences available in the curricula and in the environments of both. The two schools combine their academic, extracurricular, and operational resources while maintaining the separate strengths, independence, and integrity of each institution.

A Wellesley student interested in exploring the possibilities of electing a specific course at MIT should consult the exchange coordinator, the department advisor, or the appropriate exchange program faculty advisor. Since the number of participants in the exchange is limited, upperclass students are given first preference.

The Twelve College Exchange Program

Wellesley belongs to a consortium which includes Amherst, Bowdoin, Connecticut College, Dartmouth, Mount Holyoke, Smith, Trinity, Vassar, Wesleyan, Wheaton, and Williams. Students in good standing may apply through the exchange coordinator for a semester or full academic year in residence at any of the member institutions. Admission is competitive, and preference is given to students planning to participate in their junior year.

The Junior Year Abroad

Qualified students may apply for admission to various groups spending the junior year in Europe and in other foreign countries. The Wellesley Slater Junior Year Abroad fellowships are available to juniors who have been accepted for programs approved by the Foreign Study Committee. Some financial support for students wishing to spend the junior year in Africa or the Caribbean is provided by the Waddell Fund. The selection of recipients for awards from both funds is made early in the second semester of the sophomore year on the basis of academic qualifications and faculty recommendations. The amount of each individual award is determined according to need. Information about these awards may be obtained from the Office of Foreign Study.

The Office of Foreign Study helps students with individual plans for study abroad, for example, applications for direct enrollment as visiting students in British universities.

Summer Internships

The College sponsors a Washington Summer Internship Program which provides a unique opportunity for students to learn about the national government through direct participation in political activity. Interested juniors may apply for 15 available summer internships, in governmental and nongovernmental offices. The program runs for ten weeks during which time interns hold full-time jobs and also participate in evening seminars with guest speakers on governmental or political problems. Job assignments are made according to the interest of the student and the learning experience to be afforded. Recent assignments have included positions in congressional offices, in the Department of Justice, in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, with the Federal Trade Commission, in the Office of the President, and with a major broadcasting system. Salaries are offered in some of these positions; the College provides stipends for students who hold non-salaried positions.

In addition, the Wellesley Urban Politics Summer Internship Program offers juniors the opportunity to focus on some of the dilemmas of contemporary urban life. Students participating in this program spend ten weeks working for government agencies or private organizations in Boston or Los Angeles. Interns attend seminars and other meetings designed to stimulate analytical thinking about politics, government institutions, and public policy-making. Interns receive a stipend from the College.

The Internship Program in Economics, founded at Wellesley by the National Association of Business Economists, places qualified economics majors in salaried positions in private or public agencies in all parts of the country during the summer following the junior year. Students in this program carry out applied economic research under the direction of senior economists.
Community Involvement

Wellesley students can become involved in the greater Boston community in a variety of ways. Some of Wellesley's students choose to work in Roxbury or other communities where they can participate in legal aid, tutoring, and health services, or church work. A number of Wellesley students work with the City of Boston or the Town of Wellesley in various departments.

Credit may be given for supervised field work as a research component of some courses or independent study; in other instances, experience in the community forms part of the required work of courses dealing with social, political, or economic issues. Generally, students become involved in community work for many other reasons besides the possibility of earning academic credit.

Credit for Summer School and Summer Independent Study

Some students undertake planned programs of summer independent study which they have designed with members of an academic department and their class dean. Other students attend summer school. The amount of summer school credit allowed toward the degree is limited to two units, and is not automatic. Students should consult their class deans and appropriate departments before enrolling in summer school courses for which they expect credit toward the Wellesley degree.

Summer Study Abroad

Students planning summer study in foreign countries should consult the Office of Foreign Study. Wellesley awards Slater Summer Fellowships to students who need to have access to materials available only in foreign countries. First consideration is given to applicants whose summer studies are related to honors projects approved for the senior year. Waddell Summer Fellowships provide opportunities for students wishing to study in Africa or the Caribbean. An application for a Slater or a Waddell Fellowship requires the support of the student's major department and a statement from the financial aid officer showing what funds are needed to supplement the student's financial resources.

Academic Distinctions

Honors in the Major Field

Students who have shown marked excellence and an unusual degree of independence in their work in the major field may receive the Bachelor of Arts degree with Honors in the Major Field. Eligibility for the program is based on the student's record in the major field. Under this program an eligible student may be invited to undertake independent research or special study which will be supervised by a member of the faculty. In several departments, options for general examinations, special honors seminars, and opportunities to assist faculty in introductory and intermediate level courses are available to honors candidates. The successful completion of the work and of an oral honors examination leads to the award of Honors in the Major Field.

Other Academic Distinctions

The College names to Freshman Honors those students who maintain high academic standing during the freshman year. Juniors and seniors whose records after the freshman year are at the level of Wellesley College Scholars and Durant Scholars may also receive these designations. Final honors, conferred at Commencement, are based on academic records after the freshman year and include the title Wellesley College Scholar for high academic standing and Durant Scholar for highest academic standing.

Juniors and seniors are elected to membership in the Eta of Massachusetts chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of their total academic achievement in college. Seniors who are majoring in the sciences may be elected to associate membership in the Wellesley chapter of Sigma XI.

On recommendation of the faculty, the trustees award to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies the title of Trustee Scholar. The awards are made on a competitive basis. The title is honorary; in cases of financial need stipends are awarded to the Scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance. Applications and supporting credentials should be sent to the Secretary to the Committee on Graduate Fellowships and Scholarships by January 15.

Certain prizes have been established at the College for the recognition of merit in a particular field. Each carries a small stipend in gift and usually bears the name of the donor or the person honored, and is awarded for excellence by the departments.
Leave of Absence

Recognizing that it is to the educational advantage of many students to interrupt the normal sequence of four continuous years at Wellesley, the College has established a policy for temporary leaves of absence. Leaves may be taken for as short a period as one semester and as long as two years, and for a variety of reasons which may include study at another institution, work, travel, or other activities which meet personal needs. Application for leave of absence may be made to the class dean at any time after a student has completed at least one year at Wellesley.

To obtain permission to spend the year at another institution as nonmatriculated students or guests, students submit a detailed plan to the class dean or advisor and, if a major has been chosen, to that department. The plan should list the course of study for the year and justify its relationship to the four-year program. Students must also submit a statement signed by the dean or registrar of the other institution recognizing their status as nonmatriculated students who will return to Wellesley to complete their work for the degree.

Withdrawal

Students who plan to withdraw must inform the class dean. A withdrawal form will then be sent to the parents or guardian for their signature. The official date of the withdrawal is considered to be the date upon which the student and the class dean agree and on which the withdrawal card is signed by the class dean. Students who have officially withdrawn from the College or have taken an official leave of absence for the current semester cannot remain in residence on campus. The withdrawal date is important in order to compute costs and possible refunds. For regulations concerning refunds, see p. 22.

The College reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student whose academic work falls below its standards, or for whom Wellesley may not have been the best choice. In such cases of involuntary withdrawal, which are rare, the official date of withdrawal is determined by the College.

Readmission

A student who has withdrawn from the College and wishes to return should apply to the Office of the Dean of Studies for the appropriate forms. Readmission will be considered in the light of the reasons for withdrawal and reapplication, and in the case of resident students, available residence hall space. A non-refundable fee of $15 must accompany the application form for readmission.

Career Preparation

A liberal arts education does not prepare a student for a specific career. It is intended to provide that broad background upon which a student depends in indescribable ways throughout a lifetime. The Wellesley curriculum provides a student with the opportunity to explore various fields of knowledge and to secure in-depth preparation in a specific major field. The student then can either begin a career or pursue further study in graduate school for more specialized professional work.

During the undergraduate years a student may meet the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and at the same time prepare to enter professional schools, for example, architecture, law, medicine, public health, social service, education. A sound education in the liberal arts is considered the best preparation for admission to most professional schools, but a student who is interested in any one of the professions should consult the class dean to plan a particular emphasis in the undergraduate program.

Information about many professions is maintained in the resources center in the Career Services Office. Students will find information about qualifying examinations, and catalogs containing the prerequisites for admission to a great number of professional schools.

For those students considering employment after graduation, the Career Services Office maintains files on the job opportunities in various business, health, educational, and social organizations. In addition, a full recruiter schedule, job referral notices, and individual counseling sessions aid students in their job search.

Teaching in Secondary School

Some teaching positions in public as well as in private schools are open to college graduates without further study. Students who complete the course in supervised teaching and three other units of study in education and two in psychology are able to fulfill the minimum requirements for a teaching license in many states.

Qualification for supervised teaching necessitates that all requirements for distribution and the major (with the possible exception of one unit of independent study) be completed in three and one-half years. With or without credit for Advanced Placement and summer study, careful planning permits easy scheduling to this effect.

A student who intends to teach should consult the chairman of the department of education about requirements for certification and ways of preparing to meet them as soon as possible.
College Teaching and Research
A student who wishes to enter college teaching and research will find that the undergraduate work of the College provides preparation for graduate study leading to advanced degrees in the arts and sciences. The chairman of the major department or of the department in which a student hopes to pursue graduate study should be consulted as soon as possible to learn which courses in the field of special interest and which foreign languages will be most useful. It should be noted that for graduate study in many fields, a reading knowledge of two specific foreign languages is required. The student will find the class dean, the faculty advisor, the chairman of departments, and the staff of the Career Services Office helpful in locating information about graduate schools.

Civil Service
A student wishing to qualify for examinations offered by the United States Civil Service Commission or various state and local civil service agencies should consult the Career Services Office about current requirements.

The Health Professions
In general, the minimum requirements for admission to recognized medical schools, dental schools, and other graduate schools in the health professions can be met by 4 units in chemistry, 2 units in physics, 2 units in biology, and 2 units in English. Some medical schools require 2 units in mathematics, and some also advise study in the behavioral sciences. Because there is some variation in minimum requirements, students should consult the most recent editions of Medical School Admissions Requirements and Admission Requirements of American Dental Schools. Current editions are available in the Career Services Office.

Most students planning to study medicine or dentistry elect premedical sciences in the freshman year. Although many students then choose to major in one of these sciences, all medical and dental schools recognize the importance of a liberal arts education as preparation for a medical career and accept qualified applicants regardless of their major. Provided they fulfill the minimum requirements for admission, premedical and predental students are free to major in the field which interests them the most. For other areas in the health professions, a major in one of the sciences or social sciences may be advisable.

Material, prepared for students interested in the health sciences, is available from the Career Services Office upon request and should be helpful to those seeking more specific advice. In addition, the chairman and members of the Premedical Advisory Committee will be glad to discuss curricular problems with the students who are considering one of the health professions. Premedical and predental students should contact the premedical advisor early in their college years.

Requirements for Degree of Master of Arts
The Master of Arts degree is offered in art and biological sciences. The College does not maintain a program of courses for graduate students separate from those offered for undergraduates. Properly qualified graduate students are admitted to Grade III courses and seminars, and to course 350, Research or Individual Study.

A candidate for the Degree of Master of Arts is required to complete 8 units of graduate work, which ordinarily includes a thesis embodying the results of original research. The program is arranged by the student's major department and is subject to the approval of the Committee on Graduate Instruction. A reading knowl-
A semester course which carries one unit of credit requires approximately eleven hours of work each week spent partly in class and partly in preparation. The amount of time scheduled for classes varies with the subject from two periods each week in many courses in the humanities and social sciences to three, four, or five scheduled periods in certain courses in foreign languages, in art and music, and in the sciences. Classes are scheduled from Monday morning through late Friday afternoon; examinations may be scheduled from Monday morning through late Saturday afternoon.

Prerequisites are given in terms of Wellesley courses, exemption examinations, AP scores, and "admission units." Admission units refer to the secondary school credits acquired in various precollege courses.

The Department of Art offers courses in the history of art and in studio art. Some of the courses in art history include laboratory work in one or more media with which the course is concerned. One of the studio courses, 204, is a survey of the techniques of painting from the Middle Ages to the present, and is required of all art majors. The department believes that laboratory training has great value in developing observation and understanding of artistic problems. For students majoring in history of art, however, no particularly artistic aptitude is required, and the laboratory work is adjusted to the student's ability.

An art major may either concentrate in history of art or in studio art. The M.A. degree is offered in history of art. See Directions for Election.

The Staff

100 (1-2) Introductory Course
1 or 2
A foundation for further study in the history of art. The major styles in western architecture, sculpture, and painting from ancient Greece through the 19th century are presented in lectures and in conference sections. Simple laboratory work requiring no previous training or artistic skill planned to give the student a greater understanding of artistic problems. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Open only to freshmen and sophomores.

200 (1) Classical Art
Topic for 1974-75: Greek painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Geometric Period to the death of Cleopatra. Greek sculpture will be emphasized and some attention will be paid to the impact of Greek forms on later western art. Topic for 1975-76: Art in the cities of the Roman Empire. The design of Roman cities and the buildings in them as well as the public and private monuments which illustrate the character of Roman taste. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100 (1) or 215, or by permission of the instructor.

Miss Marvin

201 (2)* Near Eastern and Bronze Age Art
The art and archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean from 3000 B.C. to 1200 B.C. The interrelations of the cultures of Egypt, Mesopotamia, Minoan Crete, Mycenaen Greece, and their neighbors will be studied. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.

Not offered in 1974-75. See 380.

Miss Marvin

202 (2) Medieval Sculpture and Painting
A survey of the major monuments of sculpture, manuscript and fresco painting in France and England during the Romanesque and Gothic periods with particular emphasis on the context of use, the formation of workshops, and the development of programs. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have taken 100 (1), and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

203 (1) Medieval Architecture
The architecture of western Europe from the Fall of Rome to the beginning of the Renaissance with particular concentration on the great Romanesque and Gothic monuments. Occasional conferences. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 (1), and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Mr. Fergusson

215 (1) European Art to the Renaissance
The major movements in architecture, sculpture, and painting from classical antiquity to c. 1400. Students attend course 100 lectures and have the option of attending course 100 conferences. Reading and paper assignments differ from those of 100. Students will be assigned staff advisors. Open only to juniors and seniors who have not taken 100.

The Staff
216 (2) European Art from the Renaissance through the Nineteenth Century

Western art from the Renaissance through the 19th century with emphasis on painting, sculpture, and architecture. Students attend course 100 lectures and have the option of attending course 100 conferences. Reading and paper assignments differ from those of 100.
Prerequisite: same as for 215.

The Staff

219 (1) Painting and Sculpture of the Nineteenth Century

A study of painting and sculpture of the 19th century in the United States and Europe with emphasis on France. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 (1) and (2), by permission of the instructor to freshmen who are taking 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Ms. Janis

220 (1) Painting and Sculpture of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries in Southern Europe

A study of Italian and Spanish painting and sculpture with special emphasis on Caravaggio and Bernini, and on El Greco and Velázquez. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 (1) and (2), and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mr. Wallace

221 (2) Painting and Sculpture of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries in Northern Europe

Flemish, Dutch, French, and German painting and sculpture of the 17th century with emphasis on Rembrandt and Rubens. French and English painting and sculpture of the 18th century.
Prerequisite: same as for 220.
Mr. Wallace

224 (1-2) Modern Art

1 or 2
The major developments in painting, sculpture, and architecture from early in this century to the present. Conference sections in second semester. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Background reading is required if elected in second semester only.
Prerequisite: 100 (1) and (2), or 216, or 219, or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Moffett

226 (1) History of Afro-American Art

A survey of Afro-American art from colonial times to the present. Special attention will be given to the relationship between Afro-American art and social and cultural conditions in America.
Open to all students.
Mr. Gaither

231 (1) American Art from Colonial Times to the Civil War

A survey of American painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Colonial period to the Civil War. Attention given to the relationship between art and the social history and literature of the time. Not open to students who have taken [225].
Prerequisite: same as for 220.
Mrs. Friedman

232 (2) American Art from the Civil War to the Foundation of the New York School

American painting, sculpture, and architecture from the Civil War to the foundation of the New York School. Attention given to the relation between art and the social history and literature of the time. Not open to students who have taken [225].
Prerequisite: same as for 220.
Mrs. Friedman

248 (2) Later Buddhist Art in China and Japan

Study of sculpture and painting of the later Buddhist schools in China and Japan. Emphasis on the art of the Pure Land, Zen, and Esoteric sects. Some consideration will be given to the origins of the Esoteric sects in India and to their later development in Nepal and Tibet.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken one unit in art history; or one unit in Asian history, religion or literature; or by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Weiner
249 (1) Far Eastern Art
Topic for 1974-75: Early Buddhist art of Greater India and China. Study of Buddhist architecture, sculpture, and painting from their origins through the eighth century Mahayana in Greater India, China, and the Nara period in Japan. Stylistic developments will be considered in relation to the evolution of Buddhist religious thought and to cultural traditions in different parts of Asia. Topic for 1975-76: Japanese art. An introduction to the sculpture and pictorial arts of Japan from the early Buddhist period through the 18th century woodblock print.
Prerequisite: same as for 248.
Mrs. Weiner

251 (1) Italian Renaissance Art
Painting and sculpture in Italy in the 15th and 16th centuries. Special attention given to major masters and monuments, with emphasis on the general artistic principles of Early and High Renaissance in Florence, Rome, and northern Italy. Analysis of patronage and changing cultural and aesthetic ideals in the Renaissance period.
Prerequisite: same as for 220.
Mr. Shell

254 (2)* Art of the City: Medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque
Aspects of the history of urban form, and of art in public areas of the city in the medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque periods. Analysis of various urban types such as medieval market towns, ideal city plans in the Renaissance, and innovations in city planning in the 17th century. Attention will be given to sculptural programs designed to enhance public spaces and buildings.
Open to sophomores who have taken 202, or 203, or 220, or 251, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Anderson

302 (2)* Italian Painting: The Fourteenth and Fifteenth Centuries
A study of selected artists whose work significantly illustrates the character of the late medieval and the early Renaissance styles. Emphasis in 1974-75 will be on 15th century artists.
Open to sophomores who have taken 251, to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking one Grade II unit in the department, or by permission of the instructor.
Mr. Shell

303 (2)* Italian Painting: The Sixteenth Century
Studies of the major masters of the High Renaissance followed by the examination of some selected Mannerist painters and of those developments within 16th century painting which lead in the direction of the Baroque. Considerable attention to Venetian masters.
Prerequisite: same as for 302.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mr. Shell

304 (1) Late Medieval and Renaissance Sculpture
A study of major sculptors from the 14th century to the end of the 16th century with emphasis on Italy and the work of Giovanni Pisano, Donatello, Ghiberti, and Michelangelo.
Prerequisite: same as for 302.
Mrs. Anderson

305 (1) The Graphic Arts
The graphic arts from the Renaissance to the present. Emphasis on the styles of Dürer, Rembrandt, Goya, and Picasso. Special attention given to the influence of technique upon style. Laboratory instruction in the processes of woodcut, engraving, etching, lithography. Visits to collections. Not open to students who have taken 306 (1).
Open only to seniors.
Ms. Janis, Mrs. Lyndon

306 (2) History of Photography
A survey of photography in France, England, and the United States in the 19th and 20th centuries. Topics will include styles of individual photographers and movements, the problem of style in photography, and the reciprocal relationship between photography and the graphic arts.
Open only to juniors and seniors who have taken 219 or 305 or 306 (1).
Ms. Janis
308 (2) Renaissance and Baroque Architecture
The Early and High Renaissance, Mannerist, and Baroque styles of the 15th through the 18th centuries, with particular emphasis on Italy.
Prerequisite: same as for 302.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mrs. Friedman

311 (2)* Painting of Northern Europe
Painting in the period from the late 14th century through the early 16th century in France, Germany, and the Low Countries. Emphasis on aspects of International Gothic style painting and miniatures; on the Flemish painters Campin, van Eyck, van der Weyden, and van der Goes; and on Dürer.
Open to sophomores who have taken 202 or 251; to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking one Grade II unit in the department, or by permission of the instructor.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mrs. Anderson

312 (2) Problems in Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Century Art
A study of special problems of interpretation in 19th and early 20th century art. Romantic imagery, interpretations of Manet, photography and painting, historicism, origins of abstraction. Emphasis on extensive reading and class discussion.
Prerequisite: 219 or permission of the instructor.
Ms. Janis

330 (2)* Seminar. Italian Painting
Open by permission of the instructor to students who have taken one of the following: 251, 302, 303, 304, 308, or 311.
Mr. Shell

331 (2) Seminar
Normally a different topic each year.
Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mr. Shell

332 (2)* Seminar. Medieval Art
Intensive study of either one problem or a series of related problems in medieval painting or sculpture.
Open by permission of the instructor to juniors and seniors who have taken 202 or 203.
Not offered in 1974-75. See 380.
Mr. Fergusson

333 (1) Seminar. Baroque Art
Problems of style, connoisseurship, and iconology in 17th century art concentrating on major Italian or northern Baroque masters.
Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 220 or 221.
Mr. Wallace

334 (2) Seminar. Problems in Archaeological Method and Theory
An examination of the theoretical premises underlying the study of ancient art and archaeology. The problems dealt with will include the models from which ancient societies are reconstructed, methods of excavation and analysis of materials, the design of research projects, and the special problems of the historian of ancient art. Required of archaeology majors. Meets jointly with MIT 21.662.
Prerequisite: at least one Grade II unit of ancient art, ancient history, or archaeology.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Miss Marvin, Mr. Steinberg (MIT)

335 (1) Seminar. Selected Problems in the History of Art
Intensive study of either one problem or a series of related problems in 20th century painting.
Open by permission of the instructor.
Mr. Moffett

336 (2) Seminar. Museum Problems
An investigation of the history and structure of the museum, the philosophy of exhibitions and acquisitions, and the role of the museum in modern society, combining the theory and practice of all aspects of museum work. Problems of conservation, exhibition, acquisition, publication, and education will be discussed. If the museum schedule permits, students will be involved in the planning and mounting of an exhibition. Visits to museums and private collections in the area will be arranged.
Open by permission of the instructor to juniors, seniors, and graduate students who have taken one Grade II unit in the department.
Ms. Gabhart
337 (2)* Seminar. Chinese Art
Normally a different topic each year.
Open by permission of the instructor to juniors and seniors who have taken 248.
Not offered in 1974-75.

345 (1) (2) Seminar. Historical Approaches to Art for the Major
Comparative study of the major art historical approaches and their philosophical bases: connoisseurship, iconography, theories of the evolution of art, theories of style, psychoanalysis and art, psychology of perception, and theories of art criticism. Strongly recommended to all art majors; required of all candidates for the M.A. degree.
Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking one Grade II unit in the department.
Mr. Moffett, Mrs. Weiner

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open to qualified students by permission of the instructor and the chairman of the department.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

380 (2) Mini Courses
Intensive six-week study of a specialized topic in medieval or classical art. One unit of credit will be given for two mini courses.
Topics for 1974-75:
Series I (a) The Shaft Grave Circles of Mycenae. The course will examine the two great shaft circles at Mycenae, looking both at the type of burial and at the contents of the graves. Discussion of the implications for social and economic organization which can be drawn from the tombs as well as the artistic and technological levels of artifacts therein. (b) Sculpture of the Egyptian Old Kingdom in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The Museum of Fine Arts in Boston has one of the leading collections of Old Kingdom sculpture in the world. This course will focus on the finds from the Giza necropoleis and the problems of style and iconography presented by the material
Prerequisite: 100 (1) or 215, and permission of the instructor.
Miss Marvin

Series II (a) Medieval Restoration. An examination of the restoration of medieval monuments, mainly architectural, with emphasis on the late 18th and 19th centuries. The differing philosophies towards restoration and the historic controversies generated by the work of men like Wyatt, Scott, Viollet-le-Duc and Abadie will be the focus of the seminar. (b) The Medieval Castle. An investigation of the origins, development, and decline of the medieval castle with particular emphasis on typological, architectural, functional, and sociological characteristics.
Prerequisite: 100 (1) or 215, and permission of the instructor.
Mr. Fergusson

Directions for Election

History of Art
An art major concentrating in history of art must elect both semesters of 100 (unless an exemption examination is passed), 204, and at least five further units in history of art. For distribution, students must elect at least one unit each in three of the following six areas of specialization: ancient, medieval, Renaissance, Baroque and 18th century, 19th and 20th centuries, nonwestern art. Art 345 and 305 may not be used to meet this distribution requirement. If approved by the chairman, courses elected at other institutions may be used to meet the distribution requirement.
The new distribution requirement is recommended but not mandatory for the Class of 1975.

Students planning to major in history of art should plan to take 204 in the second semester of the sophomore year or in the first semester of the junior year.
Art 345 is strongly recommended for all majors, especially those who are considering graduate study in history of art.
The department does not encourage overspecialization in any one area, but by careful choice of related courses a student may plan a field of concentration emphasizing one period or area, for example, medieval art or oriental art. Students interested in such a plan should consult the chairman of the department as early in the freshman or sophomore year as possible.
Students interested in graduate study in the field of conservation of works of art should consult with the chairman of the department regarding chemistry requirements for entrance into conservation programs. Ordinarily at least two semesters of chemistry at the college level should be elected.
A reading knowledge of German and French, or Italian, is strongly recommended. A limited number of qualified students may elect for credit seminars offered by the curators of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Details of this program are available from the chairman.

The attention of students is called to the interdepartmental major in classical and Near Eastern archaeology.

M.A. in History of Art
Eight units of advanced work are required, of which at least six units must be Grade III. The eight units must include 345, and at least one unit of independent research. A comprehensive examination and reading knowledge of two foreign languages, German and either French, Italian, Latin or Greek, are required for the completion of the degree.

In order to receive credit for studio courses, except 108, at least two units in the history of art must also be elected. The department recommends that the units in the history of art precede or be elected concurrently with the studio courses.

105 (1) (2) Introductory Drawing 1
Introductory drawing with emphasis on basic forms in spatial relationships. Stress on the essential control of line in a variety of media. Four periods of class instruction and four of studio practice.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and by permission to freshmen who have studied art before entering college.
Mrs. Frisch, Mr. Rayen, Mr. Larrabee, Mrs. Lyndon

106 (1) (2) Introductory Photography 1
Photography as a means of visual communication. Problems dealing with light, tonal values, two- and three-dimensional space, documentary and aesthetic approaches to the medium. Emphasis on printing and critical analysis of photographs. Four periods of class instruction. Limited enrollment. Open by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. MacNeil

204 (1) (2) General Techniques Course 1
A survey of significant technical material related to the history of western painting from the Middle Ages to the modern period. Included are laboratory problems of purely technical nature requiring no artistic skill.
Open to other students who are taking Grade II or Grade III art history courses. Required of all art majors.
Mr. Rayen, Mr. Larrabee, Mr. Yarde

205 (1) (2) Introductory Painting 1
A study of basic forms in plastic relationships in a variety of media. Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: same as for 105.
Mr. Rayen, Mr. Larrabee

207 (1) Introductory Sculpture 1
Analysis of forms using clay and direct plaster to study closely the distribution of weight and volume in space and light. Additional weekly assignments involving three-dimensional analyses and constructions in paper. Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: same as for 105.
Mrs. Lyndon

208 (2) Advanced Photography 1
The development of one's personal photographic vision through intensive technical and aesthetic studies in photography. Independent projects in which students are encouraged to combine studies in photography with work in related disciplines such as history, philosophy, creative writing, psychology. Study of the work of master photographers, writings on photography, and discussions with lecturers from various disciplines. Four periods of class instruction. Limited enrollment.
Prerequisite: 108 or permission of the instructor.
Mrs. MacNeil
Directions for Election

209 (2) Design I
Basic problems in two and three dimensions stressing texture and composition. Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: 105 or 205 or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Yarde

210 (1) Design II: Color
Basic problems in the interaction of color. Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: same as for 209.
Mr. Rayen

212 (2)* Printmaking
A study of raised image and intaglio printmaking including woodcut, etching, aquatint, and engraving. Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: 105.
Mrs. Lyndon

307 (2) Advanced Sculpture
Problems in sculptural composition, both representational and abstract. Exploration of various media including plaster, wood, and metals. Technical considerations include basic shop procedures and use of power tools. Four periods of class instruction. Limited enrollment.
Prerequisite: 207 or permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Lyndon

313 (1) Painting: Watercolor
Technical problems dealing with the transparent nature of watercolor. Emphasis on landscape and still life composition. Four periods of class instruction.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100 or 105 or a Grade II course in studio art or by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Frisch

314 (1) Advanced Drawing
Problems dealing with the progress from line to form to chiaroscuro. Analysis of anatomy, perspective, and composition with emphasis on direct visual observation of the model.
Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: 105.
Mr. Yarde

315 (2) Advanced Painting
Continuing problems in the formal elements of pictorial space, including both representational and abstract considerations in a variety of media. Four periods of class instruction.
Prerequisite: 105 and 205.
Mr. Yarde

Studio Art
An art major concentrating in studio art must elect 100, 105, 204, and at least four additional Grade II or Grade III units in studio art.
Professor:
Birney (Chairman)

Associate Professor:
Adler

Assistant Professor:
Dinger

103 (1) (2)  Introduction to Astronomy
Relationships of earth and sky; the solar system, stars, and galaxies. Two periods of lecture and discussion weekly with a third period every other week; laboratory in alternate weeks, and unscheduled evening work at the Observatory for observation and use of the telescopes.
Open to all students.

The Staff

200 (2)  Modern Physics
For description and prerequisite see Physics 200.

201 (1)  Techniques of Intermediate Calculus
For description and prerequisite see Mathematics 201.

202 (1)  Optical Physics
For description and prerequisite see Physics 202.

203 (2)  Recent Developments in Astronomy
Contemporary problems in optical, radio, and space astronomy. Astronomical observations from outside the earth's atmosphere. Radio galaxies and quasars.
Prerequisite: 103.

Mr. Adler

204 (1) (2)  Stellar and Galactic Astronomy
Selected topics of fundamental importance in astronomy will be discussed in depth. Not open to students who have taken [104]. Open to students who have taken 103 and are familiar with trigonometric functions.

Miss Dinger

206 (1)  Basic Astronomical Techniques I
Prerequisite: same as for 204.

Mr. Adler

207 (2)  Basic Astronomical Techniques II
Measurement of stellar radial velocities. Photoelectric and photographic photometry. Applications of the Method of Least Squares and statistical methods. The semester's work includes an independent project at the telescope.
Prerequisite: 206 and Mathematics 111. Prerequisite or corequisite: [104] or 204.

Mr. Adler

216 (2)  Applications of Mathematics to the Physical Sciences I
For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 216.

217 (1)  Applications of Mathematics to the Physical Sciences II
For description and prerequisite see Extradepartmental 217.

Not offered in 1974-75.
302 (2)  Galactic Structure
Distribution and kinematics of the stellar and nonstellar components of the galaxy. Galactic rotation, problems of spiral structure, the galactic nucleus, the halo. Prerequisite: [104] or 204, and 201 or 216 (2) or Mathematics 208.
Not offered in 1974-75.

304 (1)*  Introduction to Astrophysics
The physical nature of the sun and stars derived from analysis of their spectra. Prerequisite: same as for 302.
Not offered in 1974-75.

349 (1)*  Selected Topics
Intensive study of a specific field. Prerequisite: same as for 302.
Mr. Birney

350 (1-2)  Research or Individual Study
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2)  Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

The following courses form the minimum major: [104] or 204, 207, 216, 302; Physics 200, 202; and two additional Grade III units in astronomy or physics. Extradespartmental 110 is strongly recommended. In planning a major program students should note that some of these courses have prerequisites in mathematics and/or physics. Additional courses for the major may be elected in the departments of physics, mathematics, and astronomy.

A substantial background in physics is required for graduate study in astronomy.

A student planning to enter graduate school in astronomy should supplement the minimum major with courses in physics, including Physics 306 and, if possible, other Grade III work. The student is also urged to acquire a reading knowledge of French, Russian, or German.

See p. 37 for a description of Whitin Observatory and its equipment.
100 (1) (2) Multicellular Plants and Animals
Major biological concepts emphasizing relationships between structure and function through examination of selected plant and animal systems.
Open to all students except those who have taken [103] or [105].
The Staff

101 (2) Cell Biology and Microbial Life
Plant, animal and microbial cell structure, chemistry and function. Growth and reproduction of cells, energy relationships and genetics. Activities of microorganisms in their natural habitats.
Open to all students except those who have taken [104] or [106] or [107].
The Staff

109 (1) Human Biology
Study of anatomy and physiology of man. Some work on human genetics, population control, nutrition, and immunology. Two lectures weekly with a double period every other week for demonstration-discussions. Does not meet the laboratory science distribution requirement. Will not count toward the minimum major in biological sciences.
Open to all students except those who have taken 100 or [105].
The Staff

200 (1) (2) Cellular Physiology
Intensive study of cell function, physical characteristics of cells, energy metabolism and metabolic pathways, irritability of cells, membranes and membrane transport, evolution of enzyme systems, control mechanisms. Students intending to major should elect this course as soon as possible.
Prerequisite: 100 and 101 and one unit of college chemistry.
Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Coyne, Mr. Machtiger, Ms. Wong

201 (1) Introductory Ecology
An introduction to ecosystem structure and development, including population and community ecology, interspecific and inter-specific relationships among organisms, and biogeography. Emphasis on evolutionary aspects of ecology. Laboratory emphasis on field work and reduction and presentation of quantitative data.
Prerequisite: 100 or permission of the instructor.
Mr. van der Laan, Mr. Sanford

202 (1) Comparative Anatomy
Comparative anatomy of the chordates with emphasis on evolutionary trends within the vertebrate group. Dissection of representative forms including the dogfish and the cat.
Open to students who have taken 100 or [105] and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mr. Rubenstein

306 (2) Embryology
Prerequisite: 200 and permission of the instructor. 202 is strongly recommended.
Mr. Rubenstein

307 (2)* Advanced Ecology
In-depth study of population dynamics, specialization, competition, and pollution. Extensive readings in primary source material. Laboratory and field studies.
Prerequisite: 201 or permission of the instructor.
Not offered in 1974-75.

308 (2) Plant Morphogenesis
Experimental study of internal and external factors affecting the development of form. Emphasis is placed on cellular differentiation and organogenesis. Tissue culture and preparation of tissues for cytochemical and microscopic study.
Prerequisite: 200, 205, and either 203 or 207.
Mr. Dobbins

312 (2) Seminar. Endocrinology
Selected topics on the regulation and action of hormones, neurohormones, and pheromones in vertebrates. Emphasis on the study of current literature.
Prerequisite: same as for 305. 302 is strongly recommended.
Mrs. Fiske

313 (1) Microbial Physiology and Cytology
Microorganisms used as model systems for the study of cellular growth and its physiological basis, metabolic patterns, biochemical genetics, and relationship of structure to function.
Prerequisite: same as for 305. 209 is strongly recommended.
Mrs. Allen

314 (1) Seminar. Topics in Microbiology
Topic for 1974-75: Virology, nature of viruses, their molecular biology, and their interaction with plant, animal, and microbial hosts. Two periods of lecture.
Open by permission of the instructor.
Topic for 1975-76: Immunology. The nature of antigens and antibodies, theories of antibody formation and antigen-antibody interaction, structural and histological aspects of immunologically important organs and tissues.
Prerequisite: 200 or Chemistry [201] or 211. [104] or 209 strongly recommended.
Mr. Machtiger

315 (2)* Terrestrial Vertebrate Zoology
The forms, function, and evolution of amphibians, reptiles, birds, and mammals as related to their distribution, behavior, and ecology. Laboratory includes field identification and individual projects.
Prerequisite: [105], and either 201 or 202, or permission of the instructor.
Not offered in 1974-75.

319 (1) Advanced Cytology: Biological Ultrastructure
Introduction to the principles and major procedures of electron microscopy. Emphasis on interpretation of ultrastructural and cytological features of cellular components, particularly as related to functional activity. A knowledge of the basic principles of biochemistry strongly recommended.
Prerequisite: 304 and either Chemistry [201] or 211.
Ms. Padykula, Ms. Gauthier

326 (2) Biochemistry II
For description and prerequisite see Chemistry 326.

Topic for 1974-75: Marine biology with emphasis on ecological and zoological aspects. Open to juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor, and to others who have taken two units of biology by permission of the instructor.
Mr. van der Laan

331 (1) Seminar. Biological Bases of Animal Behavior
Selected topics, such as aggression, courtship, communication, orientation. Emphasis on neurophysiological and endocrinological control, including readings on experimental work involving brain stimulation and ablation, manipulation of hormones and extirpation of sense organs. Examples to be drawn from invertebrates and vertebrates. Discussion and reports on the literature.
Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mr. Busch
Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

A major in biological sciences must include two Grade I units or their equivalent, 200 and 205, which should be taken before declaring the major or before entering Grade III work, and two units of chemistry. Additional chemistry is strongly recommended or required for certain Grade III courses.

Course 109 counts as a nonlaboratory science for the distribution requirement for the degree, but ordinarily does not count toward a minimum major in biological sciences. For the minimum major only two Grade I units are recommended. A minimum major must include at least four units with laboratory work, of which two units must be above the Grade I level. The two Grade III units for the minimum major must be taken at Wellesley College. Independent summer study will not count toward a minimum major. Courses in biochemistry, 221 and 326, may be counted toward the major in biological sciences with the approval of the chairman.

Within the major, students may design a program in general biology or one which emphasizes subjects dealing with animals, plants, or microorganisms. A broad training in the various aspects of biology is recommended.

Students interested in an interdepartmental major in molecular biology are referred to p. 198 where the program is described. They should consult with the director of the molecular biology program. Courses in biochemistry do not count among the five biology courses required for the molecular biology major.

Students planning graduate work are advised to take calculus, the recommended chemistry and two units of physics, and to acquire a reading knowledge of one or more of the following languages: French, German, Russian. They should consult the catalogues of the schools of their choice for specific requirements.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 48.

Credit toward the M.A. degree will be given to graduate students for all Grade III courses.
BLACK STUDIES
Associate Professor:
Martin, Scott (Chairman)

Assistant Professor:
Spillers

Lecturer:
Scarborough, Karefa-Smart, Stewart

Visiting Professor:
J. Karefa-Smart

Course may be elected to fulfill in part the distribution requirement in Group A

Course may be elected to fulfill in part the distribution requirement in Group B

The following courses form the core of offerings in Black studies.

106 (1) Introduction to the Black Experience
The course serves as the introductory offering in Black studies and explores in an interdisciplinary fashion salient aspects of Black history, culture, and life in Africa, the Caribbean, and the Americas. Its aim is to provide students with a fundamental intellectual understanding of the world Black experience as it is reflected in history, the humanities, and social sciences. Not open to students who have taken [205]. Open to freshmen and sophomores without prerequisite, and to juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor.

Mr. Scott

106 (2) Afro-American Music
For description and prerequisite see Music 106.

150 (1) (2) Colloquia
For directions for applying see p. 204. Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1)

a. 1919. Year of the “New Negro”

“New Negro” was a term used by Black people all over the world to describe the attitudes of militancy and race pride that characterized the years after World War I. This colloquium will examine race riots, militant race organizations, radical Black publications and the like for the year 1919. Material will be drawn from the United States, the West Indies, England, South Africa, and possibly other places where Black people lived to show the universality of the “New Negro” phenomenon and the interconnectedness of its manifestations.

Mr. Martin

b. Black poetry

For description and prerequisite see English 150 (1) b.

(2)

a. 1919. Year of the “New Negro”

206 (1-2) Afro-American History
1 or 2
First semester: Afro-American history to 1865. Study of the political, economic, and social development of American Blacks from their African origins to the end of the Civil War. Second semester: Afro-American history since 1865. An analysis of the social, economic, and political developments within the Black community from the Reconstruction era to the emergence of Black Power. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Open to all students except those who have taken [204].

Mr. Scott

210 (1-2) Black Drama in the Twentieth Century
1 or 2
Basic concepts, subtleties, and complexities of the Black playwright and his interpretation of the various Black experiences that are an integral part of the Black man’s existence in a racist society. Lonnie Elder III, Ron Milner, Adrienne Kennedy, Alice Childress, Joseph Walker, James Baldwin, Imamu Baraka, Lorraine Hansberry, Ted Shine, William Branch, and Douglas Turner Ward are among the playwrights to be considered. Special emphasis on the aesthetics of Black drama and theatre in general. Students will also be given the opportunity to explore how Black drama has helped to save Broadway from its own artistic and economic decadence. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Open to all students.

Mr. Scarborough
211 (1) Introduction to African Literature
The development of African literature in English and in translation. Although special attention will be paid to the novels of Chinua Achebe, writers such as James Ngugi, Camara Laye, Wole Soyinka, Ezekiel Mphahlele, and Christopher Okigbo will also be considered. The influence of oral tradition on these writers' styles as well as the thematic links between them and writers of the Black awakening in America and the West Indies will be discussed as time allows.
Open to all students.
Mr. Menkiti

215 (1) Nationalism and Political Integration in Tropical Africa
An examination of concepts and patterns of African nationalism, the independence movement, nation building, and political systems development. Special attention will focus on the role of political parties in the functioning and development of modern African societies. Prerequisite: Political Science 100 or permission of the instructor.
Dr. Karefa-Smart

217 (2) Africa in World Politics
A study of concepts of supranationalism, examination of emergent patterns of regionalism, Pan-Africanism, and continental unity, Africa and the major powers, and African relations with the Third World.
Prerequisite: same as for 215.
Not offered in 1974-75.

220 (1) The Black Religious Experience in America
An historical and theological analysis of the religious experience in Afro-American communities, with emphasis on the origins, varied nature, and function of Black religion. Special attention is given to the works and thinking of major Black clergy and theologians as an aid to: 1) a systematic approach to the study of religion; and 2) an informed understanding of the limits and possibilities for religious involvement in a racially oppressive society.
Open to all students.
Ms. Karefa-Smart

226 (1) History of Afro-American Art
For description and prerequisite see Art 226.

228 (2) Black Literature in America
For description and prerequisite see English 228.

230 (1-2) The Black Woman in American Society
1 or 2
First Semester: An analysis of the economic, social and political role of Black women in American society from an historical perspective, beginning with the African background and continuing through the era of slavery, Reconstruction, urban migration, two world wars, to the present. Special emphasis is placed upon the Black woman within the context of major Black social institutions such as the family and church.
Second Semester: An examination of the problems of the contemporary Black woman in the United States. Topics include: the relationships between Black men and women; Black women and white men; Black women and white women; Black Sisterhood; the Black woman as wife and mother; the Black professional woman; and the role of Black women in both the struggle for Black and women's liberation. One unit of credit will be given for either semester.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite, and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.
Miss Stewart

302 (2) Introduction to African Philosophy
Initiation into basic African philosophical concepts and principles. The first part of the course deals with a systematic interpretation of such questions as the Bantu African philosophical concept of Muntu and related beliefs, as well as Bantu ontology, metaphysics, and ethics. The second part centers on the relationship between philosophy and ideologies and its implications in Black African social, political, religious, and economic institutions. The approach will be comparative. Not open to freshmen.
Prerequisite: one unit in philosophy or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Menkiti

310 (1-2) Seminar, Black Literature
1 or 2
Topic for 1974-75: Langston Hughes. Described widely as "the poet of his people," Langston Hughes was a leading novelist, playwright, poet, and translator of Black literature. Given his genius and productivity, this seminar is being devoted to a study of his life and works. First semester: A selective and representative sample of his works from 1920-1946. Second semester: Writings from 1947-1967. One unit of credit may be given for either semester.
Prerequisite: one Grade II unit in literature or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Scarborough
316 (1) History of the West Indies 1
Survey of political, economic, and sociological factors shaping West Indian society from Columbus to the present. Open to sophomores by permission of the instructor and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mr. Martin

319 (2) Pan-Africanism 1
The historical efforts of Black people all over the world to unite for their mutual advancement will be examined. Such topics as 19th century emigrationist movements, the role of Afro-American churches in African nationalism, the Pan-African congresses of W. E. B. DuBois, the Garvey movement, the Pan-African ideas of Malcolm X, the Pan-African aspects of Southern African liberation movements and others will be discussed. The emphasis will be on the 20th century. Prerequisite: 106 or one unit in Black history or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Martin

340 (2) Seminar. Afro-American History 1
Topic for 1974-75: Blacks and communists. Many of the most important Black leaders in the 20th century have belonged at one time or another to a communist organization or have at least flirted ambiguously with communism. The list includes W. E. B. DuBois, George Padmore, Langston Hughes, Richard Wright, Paul Robeson, Marcus Garvey, Kwame Nkrumah, Angela Davis, Malcolm X, and others. This seminar will attempt to discover why communism has exerted this fascination upon persons struggling for Black liberation and why the association has sometimes ended in disillusionment. Most of the seminar will deal with the situation in the United States. Material will also be drawn from Europe, Africa, and the West Indies. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor.
Mr. Martin

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study 1 or 2
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program 2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

The following courses are offered as related work by other departments where they are described and may be counted toward the major in Black studies.

210 (2) Racial and Ethnic Minorities
See Sociology and Anthropology 210.

212 (1) Urban Politics
See Political Science 212.

228 (2) Black Religion and Social Protest
See Religion and Biblical Studies 228.

244 (1) Societies and Cultures of Africa
See Sociology and Anthropology 244.

254 (1) United States Urban History
See History 254.

267 (1) History of Africa. West Africa
See History 267.

268 (2) History of Africa. East, Central, and Southern Africa
See History 268.

See History 318.

The requirements for the major are consistent with the concept of Black studies as a multi-disciplinary area of study. The requirements are designed to provide a wide range of knowledge and analytical ability as well as a firm foundation in an area of specialization, such as history, economics, or political science.

It is recommended that two units be elected in each of the three general areas of Black history, humanities, and the social sciences as multi-disciplinary training. As the basic introduction to the discipline of Black studies, 106 is required for the major. At least four units must be taken in a single discipline as a field of specialization.

In addition to formal course work, the program offered in Black studies is comprised of special events—lectures, concerts, conferences, festivals—and of a field studies program that provides students with work experience in neighboring Black communities.
Professor:
Crawford, Webster*, Rock*

Associate Professor:
Loehlin, Hicks (Chairman)

Assistant Professor:
Kolodny, Gasparr, Colb, Dey, Levy, Kahl, Lieberman

Laboratory Instructor:
Darlington, Mann, Smith³, Selwyn³

Unless otherwise noted, all courses meet for two periods of lecture and one three and one-half hour laboratory appointment weekly. The Selected Topics courses will generally be taught without laboratory, but may include laboratory for some topics.

101 (1) Contemporary Problems in Chemistry I
Consideration of selected aspects of chemistry and related chemical concepts. Topic for 1974-75: Symmetry and dissymmetry—viewing the world in three dimensions. Not to be counted toward the minimum major. Students wishing credit for more than one unit of 101-102 should consult the department.
Open to all students.
Mr. Colb

102 (2) Contemporary Problems in Chemistry II
Consideration of selected aspects of chemistry and related chemical concepts. Topic for 1974-75: To be announced. Not to be counted toward the minimum major. Students wishing credit for more than one unit of 101-102 should consult the department.
Open to all students.
Mr. Kahl

103 (1) (2) Introductory Chemistry I
States of matter, properties of solutions, equilibria in solution, electrochemistry; introduction to chemical energetics and kinetics. There is an extra meeting each week for students who do not present an admission unit in chemistry. Recommended for students who have taken [106] and wish to elect advanced work in chemistry. Open to all students except those who have taken [107].
The Staff

104 (2) Introductory Chemistry II
Quantum theory of atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, chemistry of elements. Not open to students who have taken [106].
Prerequisite: 103.
The Staff

211 (1) (2) Organic Chemistry I
A study of the synthesis and reactions of typical organic compounds. There may be an additional meeting each week for students who exempted 103 or 104. Not open to students who have taken [201].
Prerequisite: 104 or [107].
Ms. Crawford, Ms. Dey

221 (1) (2) Biochemistry I
A study of the chemistry of proteins and nucleic acids, stressing structure-function relationships. Particular emphasis on the mechanism of enzyme action. Not open to students who have taken [324].
Prerequisite: [201] or 211. Biology 205 is recommended.
Ms. Levy

231 (2) Physical Chemistry I
Properties of gases, chemical thermodynamics, properties of solutions and chemical kinetics. Not open to students who have taken [203].
Prerequisite: 104 or [107], Mathematics 111, and Physics [100] or [103] or 104 or 105 or 106 or 110.
Mr. Loehlin
241 (1) Inorganic Chemistry
Chemical periodicity, structure and reactivities in inorganic systems. Not open to students who have taken [304].
Prerequisite: [201] or 211.
Not offered in 1974-75.

261 (2) Introduction to Research Techniques
Techniques in separation and analysis, structure determination, quantitative manipulations, statistical treatment of data. One lecture and two laboratory meetings each week. Not open to students who have taken [300].
Prerequisite: [201] or [203] or 211 or 231.
Mr. Lieberman

Each year an important topic will be studied from a variety of chemical perspectives. Topic for 1974-75: Energy. One two-period meeting per week. No laboratory.
Prerequisite: two units of chemistry beyond 104 or [107] and permission of the instructor.
Mr. Loehlin

309 (1) Foundations of Chemical Research
Introduction to research methods through the literature and the laboratory.
Prerequisite: 261, 313 and 333.
Not offered in 1974-75.

313 (1) (2) Organic Chemistry II
A continuation of 211, stressing the structure and reactions in organic systems. Not open to students who have taken [210] or [303].
Prerequisite: [201] or 211.
Ms. Dey, Mr. Colb

319 (2)* Selected Topics in Organic Chemistry
Normally a different topic each year.
Prerequisite: [210] or [303] or 313, and permission of the department.
Not offered in 1974-75.

A study of biochemical energetics, intermediary metabolism, with emphasis on the mechanism of individual enzymatic reactions, functions of coenzymes, problems of physiological regulation. Not open to students who have taken [325].
Prerequisite: 221 or [324], and [203] or 231. Chemistry 313 and Biology 200 are strongly recommended.
Ms. Hicks

329 (1)* Selected Topics in Biochemistry
Normally a different topic each year.
Prerequisite: 221 or [324], and permission of the department.
Ms. Levy

333 (2) Physical Chemistry II
The structure of solids and liquids, introduction to quantum chemistry, bonding and spectroscopy. Not open to students who have taken [305].
Prerequisite: [203] or 231, Physics 106 or 110 and Mathematics 201 or 207.
Ms. Kolodny

339 (2)* Selected Topics in Physical Chemistry
Topic for 1974-75: Physical chemistry of water.
Prerequisite: [203] or 231, and permission of the department.
Mr. Gasparro

349 (1)* Selected Topics in Inorganic Chemistry
Normally a different topic each year.
Prerequisite: 241 or [304], and permission of the department.
Mr. Kahl

350 (1-2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open by permission to students who have taken at least two Grade II units in chemistry.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.
Directions for Election

The eight units required for a major in chemistry must include 103 or [107], 104 or [106], [201] or 211, [303] or 313, [203] or 231, and [305] or 333, plus two additional units other than 350 or 370. In addition, Mathematics 201 or 207 and a Grade II unit of physics are required. For students in the Class of 1975, the requirements remain as listed in the 1973-74 Catalogue. Students should consult the chairman for any exceptions.

Students planning graduate work in chemistry or closely allied fields should plan to elect 241 and 261, and should also strongly consider additional mathematics and physics courses. A reading knowledge of German and either French or Russian is required in many graduate programs.

Students planning to elect Organic Chemistry I and II and/or Physical Chemistry I and II are urged to elect both units I and II in the same academic year whenever possible.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 48. Note that either [203] 231 or [210] 313 is acceptable to most medical schools as the fourth chemistry unit.

The American Chemical Society has established a set of requirements which it considers essential for the training of chemists. Students wishing to meet the standard of an accredited chemist as defined by this society should consult the chairman of the department of chemistry.

Placement and Exemption Examinations

Students who have had Advanced Placement courses, or two years of secondary school chemistry, or other unusually good preparation should consider the possibility of exempting [106] 104 and/or [107] 103 by examination. For exemption with credit students will be expected to submit laboratory notebooks or reports.
101 (1-2) elementary spoken Chinese
Introduction to vernacular Mandarin Chinese. Pronunciation, sentence structure, conversation and reading. Three periods. 101 and 102 combined form the first-year Chinese course.
Open to all students except those who have taken [100]. Corequisite: 102.

Mrs. Lin

102 (1-2) basic Chinese reading and writing
Development of reading skills of simple texts and in character writing in both regular and simplified forms. One period with an additional hour for smaller group discussions or individual assignments. 101 and 102 combined form the first-year Chinese course. Open to all students except those who have taken [100]. Corequisite: 101.

Mrs. Lin

201 (1-2) intermediate Chinese reading
Reading with emphasis on vocabulary building; review and further development of sentence structure, composition, and oral expression. Newspaper reading. Three periods. 201 and 202 combined form the second-year Chinese course. Not open to students who have taken [200]. Prerequisite: [100] or 101 or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: 202.

Mrs. Wang-Keiser

202 (1-2) intermediate conversational Chinese
Discussion of current events and cultural topics. One period with an additional hour for smaller group discussions or individual assignments. 201 and 202 combined form the second-year Chinese course. Not open to students who have taken [200]. Prerequisite: [100] or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: 201.

Mrs. Wang-Keiser

241 (1) Chinese literature in translation I
For description and prerequisite see extradepartmental 241.

242 (2) Chinese literature in translation II
For description and prerequisite see extradepartmental 242.

252 (1) readings in modern style writings
Reading and discussion in Chinese of selections from contemporary writings, including essays on various topics such as art, economics, history, philosophy, political theory, and sociology. Three periods. Not open to students who have taken [250]. Prerequisite: [200] or 201 or permission of the instructor.

Mrs. Lin
253 (2) Topics in Chinese Culture of Today
Reading and discussion in Chinese of various topics of selections from representative texts, current periodicals, and news editorials of Mainland China and Taiwan. Oral report, short papers, translations in Chinese. Three periods. Not open to students who have taken [251].
Prerequisite: [250] or permission of the instructor.

The Staff

300 (2) Readings in Contemporary Chinese Literature
Reading and discussion in Chinese of selections from plays, poetry, short stories, novels, and essays. Three periods.
Prerequisite: same as for 253.

Mrs. Lin

310 (1) Introduction to Literary Chinese
Wen-yen grammar, reading, and discussion in Chinese of selections of simple texts in classical Chinese. Two periods.
Prerequisite: 300 or permission of the instructor.

Mrs. Wang-Keiser

311 (2) Readings in Elementary Classical Chinese
Reading and discussion in Chinese of selections of poetry, prose, traditional short stories, and novels. Two periods.
Prerequisite: 310 or permission of the instructor.

Mrs. Wang-Keiser

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open by permission to qualified students.

Although the College does not offer a major in Chinese language and literature, students who major in East Asian studies or Chinese studies that relate to China should consult the chairman of the department and the advisor early in the college career.

For students majoring in East Asian studies who do not intend to do graduate work, at least one year of Chinese is encouraged, but not required. Students who do wish to do graduate work in East Asian studies are advised to complete at least two years of Chinese language training.

For students majoring in East Asian studies, with a concentration of Chinese studies, the minimum requirement is three years in Chinese language and literature in the original Chinese. History 275, 276, 345, 346; Political Science 300; Art 248, 337; and Religion 108, 253 are strongly recommended as related courses. Students who wish to take Chinese 252 or other courses in Chinese literature are advised to have a knowledge of Chinese culture or history. For this, History 275 and 276 are recommended.

Course 350 is an opportunity for properly qualified students to work independently in fields not covered in other courses in the department. It can also provide continuing study in classical Chinese literature.

For the non-Mandarin speaking students who can read and write Chinese and wish to continue Chinese studies, arrangements can be made for tutorial classes or special help. Students should contact the department chairman.

Associate Professor: Morrison

Assistant Professor: Crandall*, Painter, Ladd

Instructor: Kornblith*, Brush*, Flynn

Visiting Professor: Bronfenbrenner*, Calderwood*

100 (1) (2) Survey of Modern Macro-Economics
1 How economists analyze current problems and policies of national income and GNP; supply and demand; labor and management; some accounting and stock market analysis; the role of government; money and banking; inflation and employment; prosperity and depression. Weekly tutorials in each semester for freshmen who elect Economics 100 in the first semester. The tutorial is continued into the second semester for freshmen who elect 101. (See Economics 355.) Open to all students.

The Staff

101 (1) (2) Survey of Modern Micro-Economics
1 The distribution of scarce resources. How firms and consumers determine their economic behavior: supply and demand, cost of production, consumer choice. Structure of the American economy: competition, monopoly, antitrust, distribution of income, international trade; the balance of payments. Attention will also be focused on current issues, such as poverty, pollution, and alternatives to capitalism. Open to all students.

The Staff

201 (1) (2) Micro-Economic Analysis
1 Micro-economic theory; analysis of the individual household, firm, and industry. Prerequisite: 100 and 101.

Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Painter

202 (1) (2) Macro-Economic Analysis
1 Macro-economic theory; analysis of aggregate income, output, and employment. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

Mr. Bronfenbrenner, Mrs. Crandall

203 (2)* Economic History
1 An economic analysis of European development in the 18th and 19th centuries. A selective application of classical and neoclassical growth models. The development of the market system and modern economic society. Prerequisite or corequisite: 100 and 101. Not offered in 1974-75.

The Staff

204 (1)* American Economic History
1 The "new" economic history. A sectoral and factorial analysis of the development of the American economy from colonial times to the 20th century. The economics of slavery and the Civil War. The emergence of an industrial state. Prerequisite: same as for 203. Not offered in 1974-75.

Mr. Morrison

205 (1) The Corporation
1 The development of the modern corporation and its place in the economy. Corporation organization and financial management. Financial markets; the technical and fundamental aspects of the stock market. Government regulation of corporations and markets. Prerequisite: same as for 203.

Mr. Calderwood
210 (1) Money and Banking
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mrs. Crandall

211 (1) Elementary Statistics
Descriptive statistics and an introduction to statistical inference. Expected values, probability distributions, and tests of significance. Classical models of bivariate and multiple regression. Problem solving by means of the time-sharing computer.
Prerequisite: same as for 201.
Mr. Morrison, Mrs. Ladd

225 (1) Urban Economics
Analyses of the urban and suburban economies with particular reference to urban renewal, income distribution, transportation, housing markets, employment, and the economic development of the inner city.
Prerequisite: same as for 201.
Mrs. Painter

230 (2) Labor Economics
Prerequisite: same as for 201.
Mrs. Painter

249 (2) Seminar. The Economics of Environmental Disruption
Is economic growth without environmental deterioration possible? The economic forces (externalities) which cause pollution; the costs and who bears the costs; the energy crisis; the implications of zero economic growth; the extent of the problem and possible solutions both here and abroad.
Prerequisite: same as for 201.
Mr. Goldman

301 (1) Comparative Economic Systems
The economics of capitalism, socialism, fascism, and communism.
Prerequisite: 201 or 202.
Mr. Goldman

302 (2)* Economic Development
The problems and possibilities of the less developed countries.
Prerequisite: same as for 301.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mr. Goldman

305 (1)* Industrial Organization
Analysis of the structure, conduct, and performance of particular industries in the economy.
Prerequisite: 201.
Mrs. Crandall

307 (1) Consumption and Marketing
Analysis of the theory of consumer choice and of market models applied to patterns of income, spending, and saving.
Prerequisite: 201, 202, and 211.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mrs. Bell

310 (2) Public Finance
Prerequisite: 201.
Mrs. Ladd

312 (2) Economics of Accounting
Prerequisite: 201.
Ms. Brush

314 (1) International Economics
Theory of international trade. Methods of adjustment to disequilibrium in balance of payments. The impact of international movements of commodities and capital on economic activity in the past and since World War II. Current problems: international liquidity, economic integration, the United States balance of payments.
Prerequisite: 201 and 202.
Ms. Kornblith
315 (2)  History of Economic Thought
The development of economic thought from ancient to modern times. A brief survey of early economic ideas followed by a more detailed examination of the history of economics since 1776. The systems of the leading economists in the light of their own times and of the present day.
Prerequisite: 201.
Mr. Clemence

316 (2)  Recent Economic History
Economic history from the depression to the "new" economics. Stagnation, growth, and inflation: an analysis of the major economic events of the 1950's and the 1960's.
Prerequisite: 202.
Mr. Morrison

317 (2)  Seminar. Mathematical Economics
Applications of elementary calculus to selected topics in economic theory. Use of basic econometric techniques to estimate consumption, investment, and price relationships. Problems and use of computation facilities.
Prerequisite: same as for 307.
Mr. Flynn

330 (1)  Seminar. The Distribution of Income
A theoretical and empirical study of the distribution of income. Who gets what in the American economy? Problems of equity and efficiency. Social policy, including measures to equalize income, to redistribute income, or to influence its receipt and expenditure.
Prerequisite: 201 and 202, one of which may be taken concurrently.
Mr. Bronfenbrenner

Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 201 and 202.

355 (1-2)  Tutorial and Seminar
A survey of economic theory and policy. Seminar reports on research and independent study; tutorials for 100 (1) and 101 (2) conducted by each student.
Open upon department recommendation to senior majors.
Mr. Clemence

370 (1-2)  Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

The complete survey course consists of both 100 and 101. Neither 100 nor 101 is a prerequisite for the other and either may be elected separately for one unit of credit.

A student who plans to take any course after 100 and 101 should consult either the instructor or the department chairman.

Courses 201, 202, and 211 are required for the major and should be taken at Wellesley. If a student proposes to take these courses at another institution, these plans must be approved in advance by the department chairman. Either Economics 203 or 204 is recommended for the major. At least half of the Grade III units in the major should be taken at Wellesley. Plans to elect more than half of the advanced level work at another institution must receive prior approval from the chairman.

Students planning careers in business or law should also give special consideration to 205, 210, 305, 307, 310, 312, and 314. Those who plan to study economics in graduate school should take 317.

All students are strongly urged to take mathematics as a related subject. For those going into graduate work in economics, calculus and linear algebra have proven to be particularly helpful.
101 (1) (2) Education in Historical Perspective
Origins of compulsory mass education. Influence of Plato, Comenius, Fichte, Kant, Jefferson, Franklin, Mann, Barnard, and others upon the structure of education. Contributions of mass education to cultural development.
Open to all students except those who have taken [201].
Mrs. Bradley, Mr. Sleeper

200 (1) (2) Modern Philosophies of Education
Impact of such philosophies as idealism, realism, experimentalism, reconstructionism, and existentialism on education and its generation of socio-ethical values and responsibilities. Not open to students who have taken [100].
Prerequisite: 101 or [201].
Mrs. Bradley

216 (1) (2) Sociology of Education
The school as a social system, the politics and economics of schooling; organizational constraints on the schools; the influence of environment and groups on learning. Not open to students who have taken [206].
Prerequisite: Sociology 102.

300 (1) The Secondary School
Aims, organization and administration of United States secondary schools, including "free" schools. Topics include history of the secondary school, secondary school education in relation to adolescent development and the role of the secondary school in the community.
Prerequisite: 101.
Mr. Sleeper

301 (2) Comparative Studies of Educational Systems
Study of the impact of old and new educational policies, plans, and ideals as seen in various sections of the United States and in selected foreign countries.
Open by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Bradley

302 (2) Methods and Materials of Teaching
Study and observation of teaching objectives and classroom procedures in secondary schools. Review of learning theories. Examination of curriculum materials in major teaching fields and of curriculum planning in general. Open only to seniors doing student teaching. Students electing 302 and 303 may include in addition one unit of independent study in the same semester.
Prerequisite: 300 or permission of the instructor. Corequisite: 303.
Mr. Sleeper
303 (2) Curriculum and Supervised Teaching
Observation, supervised teaching, and curriculum development in student's teaching fields throughout the semester. Attendance at secondary school placement required five days a week. Students electing 302 and 303 may include in addition one unit of independent study in the same semester. Corequisite: 302.

Mr. Sleeper

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

The department offerings are intended to acquaint students systematically with the history of compulsory free education as developed in the United States and now practiced in many countries under different forms, the philosophies which underlie these efforts, the problems to be solved, and, as an adjunct, to aid students who wish to enter teaching immediately after graduation.

Students who intend to teach should (in their freshman year if possible) consult the department concerning the various city and state requirements for the certificate to teach and the appropriate undergraduate preparation for fifth year and paid intern programs which combine professional study with further study in teaching fields and lead to advanced (M.A.T., Ed.D., Ph.D.) degrees.

For those interested in secondary school teaching upon graduation, the following program is recommended:

Freshman year: Education 101 and Psychology 101

Sophomore year: Education 200, and Psychology 212 or 217 or 219

Junior year: Education 300, and 216 or 301

Senior year: Education 302 and 303

Preparation to teach in elementary schools should include:

Freshman year: Education 101 and Psychology 101

Sophomore year: Education 200 and Psychology 207

Junior year: Education 216 or 301; Psychology 212 or 217

A summer program, preferably preceding the senior year, at another accredited institution should include Methods and Supervised Teaching for the Elementary School. With careful planning the same courses can be taken under the Twelve College Exchange Program.

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
Required of all honors candidates who choose to do honors research or an honors project in creative writing. For alternate honors programs see Directions for Election.
Grade II level literature courses are open to all students. Special attention is called to 209, which offers fundamental and rigorous practice in methods of interpretation of a literary text. Other courses isolate certain major figures or periods for concentrated study, or address themselves to continuing themes and issues. In choosing their courses students are encouraged to consult with their instructors and with other members of the department generally. More complete descriptions of every course, composed by their instructors, are posted every fall and spring on bulletin boards in Founders Hall, and are available from the department secretary.

English majors must take at least one course in Shakespeare, ordinarily at the advanced level. In addition, majors should work closely with their advisors in arranging a program of study with these objectives: (a) ability to interpret a text (b) an understanding of some of the major works, authors, and periods that comprise the history of English and American literature (c) a developing interest in some special field of study, such as the English Renaissance, drama, criticism, modernism.

Students of at least B standing in the work of the department will have first consideration when applying for admission to seminars and for independent work (350).

The department offers a choice of three programs for Honors. Under Program I (English 370, carrying two to four units of credit) the honors candidate does independent research on a project in creative writing. Programs II and III offer an opportunity to receive Honors on the basis of work done for regular courses; these programs carry no additional course credit. The candidate who elects Program II takes a written examination in a field defined by several related courses she has taken (e.g., the Renaissance, drama, criticism). The candidate who elects Program III presents a dossier of essays written for several courses, with a statement of connections between them and critical questions raised by them. An oral examination is required in all Honors Programs.

Courses 109, 200, 201, and 202 are planned as workshops in writing with informal group meetings and frequent individual conferences. While the emphasis is on constant practice in writing, each course requires a critical reading of pertinent examples of the type of writing being studied. Courses 301 and 302 continue the same plan at an advanced level.

Students interested in writing fiction and poetry can apply for one or two units of 350 in writing, in addition to taking the other writing courses listed, 200, 202, 301, 302. It is strongly recommended that majors electing several writing courses should also elect a strong program in literature courses in consultation with their advisors. In general, enrollment in writing courses is limited to 15.

Knowledge of English and American history, of the course of European thought, of theatre studies, and of at least one foreign literature at an advanced level is of great value to the student of English. See, for example, History 233, 235, 238, 239, 242, 301; Philosophy 203, 204; Grade II and Grade III courses in foreign literatures; Extradepartmental 101, 104, 108, 201, 202, [226], [227], 228, 229, 231, 330, 331; and courses in theatre studies.

A reading knowledge of at least one ancient or modern foreign language is desirable for all majors. Students expecting to do graduate work in English should ordinarily plan to acquire a reading knowledge of two foreign languages.
French

Professor: Lafeuille, Galand, François, McCulloch (Chairman)

Assistant Professor: Stambolian, Coquillat, Mistacco, Weinreb

Instructor: Lydgate, Robbins, Gaquin

Lecturer: McPherrin* , Uzan3

Visiting Lecturer: Vaissière3

All courses are conducted in French. Oral expression, composition, and, in certain courses, creative writing are stressed.

The department reserves the right to place new students in the courses for which they seem best prepared regardless of the number of units they have offered for admission.

Attention is called to the opportunity for residence in the French Center, Tower Court.

Qualified students are encouraged to spend the junior year in France. See p. 45.

The department offers to students who do not have a knowledge of French the following courses in French literature in translation: Extradepartmental 222, 223, 224.

Modern theories, critical perspectives, and modes of narrative fiction studied in the works of Proust, Gide, Malraux, Sartre, Camus, Robbe-Grillet.
Prerequisite: 214 or 216 or one Grade III unit of French literature.
Mr. Galand

308 (2) Studies in Language Ila
Comparative stylistics: a normative approach to the problems of translation.
Prerequisite: one Grade III unit of French literature and 222, or permission of the instructor.
Mr. François

309 (1) Studies in Language Ilib
Translation into French from novels, essays, and poetry. Study of French style through analysis of selected texts.
Prerequisite: same as for 308.
Miss Lafeuille

310 (1) Medieval French Literature II
See 212. Joint class meetings for 212 and 312. Supplementary assignments and readings in Old French for students at Grade III level.
Open by permission of the instructor.
Miss McCulloch

319 (1) As Women See Themselves
Women in contemporary French society as seen by the present generation of women writers, from Simone de Beauvoir to Françoise Mallet-Joris and others. The course will take, as a starting point, the major patriarchal characterizations found in Balzac's Le Lys dans la Vallée and Flaubert's Madame Bovary. Background material drawn from men and women thinkers, past and present.
Prerequisite: two Grade II units of French literature or permission of the instructor.
Miss Lafeuille

Topic for 1974-75: Rabelais. Discussion of Rabelais' Five Books, with emphasis on Pantagruel, Gargantua, and the Tiers Livre; Rabelais' position in the shifting cultural patterns of the early Renaissance in France.
Open by permission of the instructor to students who have taken two Grade III units of French literature.
Mr. Lydgate

350 (1-2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Prerequisite: same as for 321.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Directions for Election

Course 100 is counted toward the degree but not toward the major. Students who begin with 100 in college and who plan to major in French should consult the chairman of the department during the second semester of their freshman year. A student may not count toward the major both 102 and 104. Course 104 may not be elected by students who have taken both 100 and 102.

Upperclassmen majoring in French (with the exception of those who carried two Grade II units in the freshman year) should not elect more than three Grade II units without permission of the department. Majors are required to take two of the following courses: 222, 308, 309. In some cases 224 may also be required.

Courses in other foreign language and literature departments, in art, history (especially 242 and 243), philosophy, English, Extra-departmental 330 and 331, and Religion and Biblical Studies 104 and 105 are recommended for majors.

Students who plan to do graduate work in French are advised to begin or to pursue the study of a second modern language and the study of Latin; those who plan to do graduate work in comparative literature are advised to continue the study of one or more other modern literatures and to acquire proficiency in at least one classical language.
Assistant Professor:
Kamilli (Chairman), Andrews

Instructor:
Nedland

102 (1) (2) Introduction to Geology
Fundamental facts and principles of earth behavior and history with special reference to Massachusetts and New England. Current problems in oceanography, continental drift, and lunar geology. Field trips and laboratory include study of minerals, rocks, fossils, topographic and geologic maps. Open to all students.
Ms. Kamilli, Mr. Andrews, Mr. Nedland

200 (2) Historical Geology
The geologic history of North America and the evolution of life as revealed in the fossil record. Paleogeography and ancient sedimentary and tectonic environments. Field trips will develop the geologic history of the region. Laboratory.
Prerequisite: 102 or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Andrews

202 (2) Mineralogy
Introduction to crystallography; systematic study of the rock-forming minerals. Emphasis on geochemical relationships including bonding, solid solution series, and phase diagrams. Laboratory. Prerequisite: two units of physical science, preferably Chemistry [106] and/or [107], or permission of the instructor.
Ms. Kamilli

205 (1)* Invertebrate Paleontology
The morphology and evolution of the major fossil invertebrate phyla with discussion of such general topics as functional morphology, origin of species and higher taxa, ontogeny and phylogeny, animal size and shape relationships, and the theory of evolution. Laboratory and field trips.
Prerequisite: 102 or 200 or one unit in biology or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Andrews

206 (2)* Structural Geology
The recognition, description, and causes of deformation of the earth's crust. Topics include the tectonic history of mountain ranges, scale models of geologic structures, mechanics of folding and faulting, comparison of the structure of the Alps and the Appalachians, plate tectonics, and sea floor spreading. Laboratory, field work, and field trips.
Prerequisite: 102 and 200, or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Andrews
208 (1)* Marine Geology
Geology of the ocean floor with emphasis on shoreline and submarine processes, ocean currents and sediments, origin and development of the continental shelves. Other subjects will include study of submarine canyons, coral reefs, ocean basin tectonics, the deep sea floor, and ocean life. Field trips to Woods Hole and Cape Cod. No laboratory. Prerequisite: same as for 200. Not offered in 1974-75.

304 (1)* Stratigraphy and Sedimentation
The formation, composition, and correlation of stratified rocks. Emphasis on sedimentary environments and paleoecology, correlation by fossils and radiogenic techniques, transportation, deposition and consolidation of sedimentary particles. Laboratory. Field trips to both modern sedimentary environments and their ancient rock analogues. Prerequisite: 102 and 200, or permission of the instructor. Not offered in 1974-75.

307 (1)* Optical Mineralogy

309 (2)* Petrology
Study of the origin and occurrence of igneous and metamorphic rocks with particular reference to modern geochemical investigations. Examination and description of hand specimens and thin sections under the petrographic microscope. Laboratory. Prerequisite: 202 and 307, or permission of the instructor. Not offered in 1974-75.

310 (1)* Research Methods in Geology
Problems in geologic data analysis using statistical and computer methods, macro-, micro-, and x-ray photography, field mapping, mineral separation, and x-ray diffraction techniques. Other topics will be chosen according to students' interests. Laboratory. Field work. Prerequisite: 102 and one Grade II unit, or permission of the instructor. Mr. Andrews

Topics in geology to be selected with consideration for students' interests. Prerequisite: Grade II course in geology and permission of the instructor. Ms. Kamilli, Mr. Nedland

350 (1-2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
Required of all honors candidates in the department.
In addition to eight units in geology, the minimum major requires four units from other laboratory sciences or mathematics. (All four units may not be taken in the same department.) Advanced courses in mathematics, chemistry, or physics will be suggested according to the student's needs, interests, and ability.

A student planning graduate work should note that most graduate geology departments require at least a full year (two units) each of chemistry, calculus, and physics. (Biology often may be substituted for physics if the student is interested in paleontology.) In addition, graduate study usually requires a reading knowledge of French and/or German or Russian.

The department strongly recommends that students majoring in geology attend one of the Rocky Mountain geology field courses given by other colleges. Credit may be given for such courses provided the student's plans are approved in advance by the department.
Professor:
Goth (Chairman)

Assistant Professor:
Duckworth, Ward

Lecturer:
Deutsch, Sanson

The language of the classroom in all courses is almost exclusively German. The student thus has constant practice in hearing, speaking, and writing German.

The department reserves the right to place a new student in the course for which the student seems best prepared regardless of the number of units the student has offered for admission.

By doing special reading during the summer and upon approval of the chairman, capable students in 100 have the opportunity to omit 102 and proceed with 202.

Qualified students may be recommended to spend the junior year in Germany. See p. 45.

100 (1-2) Elementary German
Study of grammar and vocabulary; frequent written exercises; reading of short stories; special emphasis on oral expression. Three periods.
Open to students who do not present German for admission.

The Staff

102 (1-2) Intermediate German
Intensive language study: emphasis on idiomatic usage and on syntax. Introduction to the critical study of literary texts, mainly 19th and 20th centuries. Three periods.
Prerequisite: 100 or two admission units in German.

The Staff

201 (1) Language in Thought and Action
Intensive review of advanced grammar and syntax with emphasis on strengthening vocabulary and idioms. Designed to promote functional grasp of stylistics and semantics in conversation, exercises in expository writing, and translation. Geared to need, interest, and ability of individual students to some degree. Three periods.
Prerequisite: 102, or three or more admission units of German, or, by permission of the department, 100. Permission will be based on a satisfactory grade in 100 and summer work.

Mrs. Duckworth, Ms. Ward

202 (1-2) Patterns in Literary Thought
Modern drama, poetry, and prose and their historical, formal, and philosophical relations to works of earlier periods. Three periods. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. 202 (2) may be taken independently after 201 (1).
Prerequisite: same as for 201.

Miss Goth, Mrs. Deutsch

204 (1) Goethe I
Lyric, prose, and drama before Goethe's return from Italy.
Prerequisite: 202 (1) and (2), or 201 and 202 (2).

Miss Goth

205 (1)* Studies in Romanticism
Prerequisite: same as for 204.

Ms. Ward

206 (2)* Nineteenth Century Literature
Late Romanticism and Realism with special emphasis on the development of the Novelle as a genre. Mörike, Stifter, Keller, C. F. Meyer, Droste-Hülshoff, Storm, and Fontane.
Prerequisite: same as for 204.

1 or 2
Open to seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates who choose to do honors research. For alternate honors program see Directions for Election.
Directions for Election

To fulfill the distribution requirement in Group A, students may elect any courses in Greek or Latin except 150, 230, and 231.

The following may not be counted toward the major in Greek or Latin: Greek [101], [200], 203, 204, 230; Greek/Latin 104, 105, 150, 208; Latin 231.

All students majoring in Greek must complete four units of Grade III work.

All students majoring in Latin are required to complete 300 or 301, 302, and at least two units of the following: 308, 309, 316, 317. Students planning to teach are advised to elect 206.

Latin students who offer an AP Latin score of 5 should elect 249; an AP score of 4 normally leads to 202, but under special circumstances permission may be given to elect 249.

Students majoring in Greek or Latin are advised to elect some work in the other language. It should be noted that work in both Greek and Latin is essential for graduate studies in the classics.

Courses in ancient history, ancient art, ancient philosophy, and classical mythology are recommended as valuable related work. Students interested in a major in classical and Near Eastern archaeology are referred to p. 197 where the program is described.

Students who wish to focus a classical major on ancient civilization can plan with the department an appropriate sequence of courses, which should include work in art, history, philosophy, and literature. Such a program should always contain at least four units of work in the original language. Basic knowledge of French or German is recommended.

The departments offer a choice of two plans for the Honors Program. Plan A (Honors Research, see 370 above, carrying two to four units of credit) provides the candidate with opportunity for research on a special topic and the writing of a long paper or several shorter papers. Plan B provides an opportunity for the candidate to show through examinations at the end of her senior year that she has acquired a superior grasp, not only of a basic core of texts, but also of additional reading beyond course requirements. Plan B carries no course credit, but where appropriate, students may elect a unit of 350 to prepare a special author or project which would be included in the Honors examinations. Honors candidates who are classical civilization majors should elect Plan B.
Professor: Gulick, Robinson, Preyer, Cohen, Cox (Chairman)

Associate Professor: Auerbach*, Martin, Purcell

Assistant Professor: Bertocci, Hay, Chaplin*, Conzen

Instructor: Edwards

Lecturer: Berlin

100 (1) (2)  Medieval and Early Modern European History
1  A study of the major ideas and institutions that have shaped western civilizations from the "grandeur that was Rome" to the Age of the Renaissance and Reformation. Emphasis upon the different "life-styles" of successive western societies and upon the processes of social change in the history of Western Europe. Introduction to the techniques of historical analysis and to problems in the interpretation of historical evidence through extensive use of original sources.
Open to all students.
Mr. Cox, Mr. Edwards

101 (1) (2)  Modern European History
1  An introduction to European history from 1600 to the present, designed to aid the student in formulating historical judgments about the significance of representative institutions, the scientific revolution, the Enlightenment, the French Revolution, industrialization, imperialism, world wars, totalitarianism.
Open to all students.
Mr. Gulick, Mr. Bertocci

102 (2)*  Approach to the History of American Society
1  An introduction to both the concepts and methods of American social history through group exploration of the development of a representative community from the colonial period to the 20th century, using original source materials to analyze in microcosm major trends in American society.
Open to all students.
Mrs. Conzen

103 (1)  The World and the West
1  An introduction to comparative history, focusing on the changing relations between western Europe and other civilizations over the past five centuries. Discussion of technological change and the balance of power; the missionary impulse; trading-post empires; the challenge of modernization, with specific examples from Southeast Asia, Latin America, Africa, India, and the Middle East.
Open to all students.
Ms. Hay

150 (1) (2)  Colloquia
1  For directions for applying see p. 204.
Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

(1)
a. 1919. Year of the "New Negro"

For description and prerequisite see Black Studies 150.

b. 1776 and all that

An analysis of the group of American revolutionaries who rose to power and led the movement for independence from Great Britain. Materials will be drawn from primary sources of the period: letters, documents, pamphlets and newspapers.

Mrs. Preyer
c. Peasant in history: myth and fact

What is a peasant? Always a huge body of mankind yet still defying ready definition. Is the peasant an anarchic and revolutionary force? the essence of conservatism or reaction? the embodiment of the "natural man"? Does he still exist at all in industrializing societies? Materials for the investigation of these questions will be drawn from a variety of historical and literary sources.

Mrs. Berlin

d. Myth and history

Exploration of the ways in which man's desire for order and visualize his experience affects his perception of factual events; analysis of the fictions in eyewitness accounts, retrospective critical narrative and moralistic biography. Reading in translation of Greek and Roman historical literature.

Mrs. Lefkowitz

a. 1919. Year of the "New Negro"

Same as 150 (1) a.

b. Heroes and heroines in medieval society

Leaders and concepts of leadership in European society between the 5th and 16th centuries. An introduction to various definitions of the "hero" since earliest times, followed by an investigation, primarily using contemporary chronicles and biographies, of the ways in which heroes in premodern European history have changed with the changing conditions for successful leadership.

Mr. Cox

200 (2)* Quantitative Methods in Historical Analysis

The understanding of historical investigation based upon statistical data, including introduction to elementary techniques for handling such data and to computer applications in history. Examples for analysis will be drawn primarily from European and American social and political history.

Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite.

Not offered in 1974-75.

Mrs. Conzen

206 (1-2) Afro-American History

1 or 2

For description and prerequisite see Black Studies 206.

230 (2)* History of Greece

The failure of democracy in Greece; a study of the historical evidence for the development of democracy in Athens; the effects of the acquisition of an empire and the results of the confrontation with Sparta.

Open to all students except those who have taken 200.

Not offered in 1974-75.

Miss Dickison

231 (2)* History of Rome

Rome of the Caesars; political, economic, social life of the empire; attitudes toward autocratic government. Particular attention will be given to the period 27 B.C.-138 A.D.

Open to all students except those who have taken 201.

Mr. Fant

232 (2) Medieval Civilization 1000 to 1300

European society during the High Middle Ages. Kingship and a comparison of medieval states, warfare and the birth of chivalry, peasants and townsmen in an era of economic and technological change, students and churchmen in a period of intellectual ferment. An exploration of political and social ideas as expressed in contemporary sources, including art and literature. Not open to students who have taken 219.

Open to freshmen and sophomores who have had a course in medieval history, art, or literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Not offered in 1974-75.

Mr. Cox

233 (1-2) The Renaissance and Reformation

1 or 2

First semester: The Renaissance. A study of the intellectual, cultural, social, economic, and political currents of the Renaissance, especially as they converged in Florence.

Second semester: The reformations of the 16th century, including the major Protestant movements, the radicals, the Catholic Reformation, and the relationships between religious developments and the broader historical context. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Not open to students who have taken 217.

Open to freshmen and sophomores who have taken 100 or related work in art, literature, or philosophy, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Mr. Edwards
235 (1) Classical and Medieval Intellectual History
A history of western thought from the Greeks to the end of the 14th century. Not open to students who have taken [203]. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Not offered in 1974-75.

236 (2) Modern European Intellectual History
A consideration of the history of western thought from Descartes to such contemporaries as Merleau-Ponty, with particular emphasis on man's changing notions of the relationship of self to society. Not open to students who have taken [203 (2)] or [204]. Prerequisite: same as for 235.
Mr. Bertocci

238 (1) History of England to 1500
1
A survey of English history from the coming of the Anglo-Saxons through the Wars of the Roses. Some attention will be given to problems of historical interpretation. Not open to students who have taken [213]. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to sophomores who have taken 100 or are concentrating in English literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Robinson

English history under the Tudors and Stuarts. The English Reformation, Elizabethan Renaissance, and 17th century revolutions will be the major themes. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to sophomores who have taken 100 or are concentrating in English literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Robinson

240 (1) Modern England
English history from the late 18th century to the mid-20th century. The transformation of a basically agrarian, hierarchical, traditional society into an industrial, democratic welfare state.
Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to students who have taken 101 or 239, to sophomores concentrating in English literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Robinson

242 (1) The Age of Louis XIV in France
Society and government in 17th century France. The political and cultural background under Richelieu and Mazarin; social, political, and intellectual life during the Golden Age of Absolutism under Louis XIV. Not open to students who have taken [210]. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 or 101, or courses in related language and literature, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

243 (2) The Enlightenment, the French Revolution, and Napoleon
French civilization in the 18th century; analysis of the causes, events, and results of the Revolution. The era of the Revolution and the Napoleonic Empire with emphasis upon political, social, and cultural developments, and their impact upon the rest of Europe. Not open to students who have taken [211]. Prerequisite: same as for 242.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mr. Cox

246 (1-2) History of Russia
1 or 2
First semester: The Kievan State to 1861. Second semester: 1861 to the present, with emphasis on the Soviet State, and its institutions. One unit of credit may be given for either semester. Not open to students who have taken [209]. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to sophomores who have taken Russian 100, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Berlin

248 (2) Europe in the Twentieth Century
A study of selected topics such as fascism, communism, and appeasement, with emphasis on England, Germany, and Russia, and some discussion of developments in France, Italy, Spain, and eastern Europe. Not open to students who have taken [202]. Open to qualified freshmen and sophomores (see Directions for Election), to freshmen and sophomores who have taken 101, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Not offered in 1974-75.
250 (1) Colonial America, 1607-1783
The adaptation of the English, Europeans, and Africans to the alien environment of North America in the 17th century. Analysis of the formation of colonial settlements, problems of survival and leadership, relations with Indian cultures, the creation of new societies in the New World. Not open to students who have taken [221].
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Preyer

251 (2) The United States, 1783 to 1850
The American Revolution, the formation of the Union, the development of the United States as a new nation. Not open to students who have taken [222].
Prerequisite: same as for 250.
Mrs. Preyer

252 (1) The United States, 1850 to 1917
The impact of the Civil War and Reconstruction, the emergence of an urban industrial society, and the responses of reformers to that society. Not open to students who have taken [223].
Prerequisite: same as for 250.
Mr. Purcell

253 (2) The United States, 1917 to the Present
Selected 20th century issues and problems, with emphasis on the perceptions of Americans attempting to cope with social change. Not open to students who have taken [224].
Prerequisite: same as for 250.
Mr. Purcell

254 (1) United States Urban History
Origins and development of the American urban system from the colonial period to the present, with emphasis upon changing city functions, urban physical and spatial structure and growth, group accommodation to city living, historical trends in urban politics, and problem solving. Not open to students who have taken [220].
Open to sophomores by permission of the instructor, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Conzen

260 (1)* The Hispanic World
The political, social, economic, and cultural evolution of the Latin American world from colonial days to the present. Emphasis on colonial institutions and their relations to historical developments in the Iberian peninsula, and on the fundamental problems, especially in certain key countries, of modern and contemporary Latin America. Not open to students who have taken [214].
Prerequisite: same as for 242.
Mr. Lovett

261 (1)* History of Spain
The period of Spain's hegemony and modern developments culminating in the Civil War of 1936-39.
Prerequisite: same as for 242.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mr. Lovett

265 (2) History of the Middle East
The social and cultural institutions of the Islamic world before 1800; the impact of the West; the rise and development of nationalist movements in the 19th and 20th centuries. Some attention will be given to Islamic influence in India, Africa, and Southeast Asia. Open to all students.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Ms. Hay

An introduction to the history of West Africa from the ancient kingdom of Ghana to present times. The major topics will include the pre-colonial kingdoms, the expansion of Islam, the Atlantic slave trade, social and economic change during the colonial period, and nationalistic movements.
Open to all students except those who have taken [208].
Ms. Hay
An introduction to the history of East, Central, and Southern Africa from ancient times to the present. Topics of major interest will include migration and state formation in early times, Swahili civilization, the slave trade, colonialism and nationalism, and the continuing conflicts in Southern Africa.
Open to all students except those who have taken [208].
Ms. Hay

271 (1) Japanese History
Japanese history from earliest times to the present, stressing Japan's quest for modernity in the 19th and 20th centuries and the consequences of this quest.
Open to all students except those who have taken [225].
Mr. Cohen

275 (1) Pre-Modern Chinese History
Chinese civilization from earliest times to the period of the modern western impact. Emphasis on the development of thought and political institutions. Extensive readings in Chinese literature.
Open to all students except those who have taken [226].
Mr. Cohen

276 (2) Modern Chinese History
The history of China from the Opium War to the present. Analysis of political, economic, social, and intellectual changes stimulated by the intrusion of the modern West.
Open to all students except those who have taken [227].
Mr. Cohen

280 (2) Imperialism, Nationalism, and Modernization
Varieties of European imperialism in the 19th and 20th centuries, particularly colonial rule and informal empire, and the different ways in which people of other world civilizations responded to the threat of industrial Europe. The colonial experience, the growth of nationalist movements, and forms of modernization will be compared on the basis of examples drawn from Africa, the Middle East, Japan, and Southeast Asia.
Prerequisite: same as for 200.
Ms. Hay

300 (1) Historical Thinking and Its Problems
A study of the variety of approaches to history used by historians in the past and present. The relationship between the historical discipline and disciplines such as the social sciences and literature. Problems confronting the historian today: evidence, causation, generalization, value judgment, objectivity.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken two Grade II units of history, or by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Robinson

301 (1) The Art of Biography
Exploration of the diverse ways of presenting biographical narrative and insights in prose, film, and other media; the utilization of sources on the individual and their integration with historical materials; the historiographical problems of biography.
Prerequisite: same as for 254.
Mr. Gulick

302 (2) Biography Workshop
Student biographical projects in prose, film, and other media, normally a continuation of projects begun in 301. Group discussion.
Prerequisite: 301.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mr. Gulick

305 (1) Europe's Traditional System of International Relations, 1780 to 1914
The nature of Europe's classical balance of power system and its subsequent modification through the French and industrial revolutions; the diplomacy of national unification and of imperialist expansion. Attention to Ottoman, Chinese, and African relations with Europe.
Prerequisite: same as for 300.
Mr. Gulick

306 (2) Global International Relations
The emergence of untraditional, cataclysmic problems of weaponry, population, and environment superimposed on traditional, ongoing problems of international relations. Attention equally divided among Europe, East Asia, the United States, and the Soviet Union.
Prerequisite: same as for 300.
Mr. Gulick

309 (2) Intellectual History of Russia
Emphasis on the tradition of radical social thought in the 19th and 20th centuries. Not open to students who have taken [313].
Prerequisite: same as for 300.
Not offered in 1974-75.
Mrs. Berlin
10 (1-2) Social History of the United States
The evolution of American society viewed as the response of basic social units such as families, classes, communities, occupational and ethnic groups, educational and religious institutions to the changing conditions of initial settlement, expansion, and industrialization, as conditioned by changing social deals. First semester: Colonial period to 1840. Second semester: 1840 to 1940. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken two units of history or by permission of the instructor.

Mrs. Conzen

12 (2) Civil Liberties in the United States
The historical development of selected First Amendment freedoms with emphasis on the relationship between civil liberties and political and social movements. The historical context of contemporary issues such as political justice, civil disobedience in wartime, and student rights. Not open to students who have taken 218. Prerequisite: same as for 254. Not offered in 1974-75.

16 (1) History of the West Indies
For description and prerequisite see Black studies 316.

318 (1) Race and Conflict in Southern Africa
An exploration of the historical relationships between the European, African, and the Asian communities in South Africa, Angola, and Mozambique, in an attempt to understand the current situation in these countries. Prerequisite: one unit in African studies or permission of the instructor.

Not offered in 1974-75.

Ms. Hay

319 (2) Pan-Africanism
For description and prerequisite see Black Studies 319.

330 (2) Seminar. Reformation Europe
Topic for 1974-75: The lay Reformation. A psychological and social study of the 16th century layman's response to the Reformation: the theological issues he found most significant and how his political and personal attempts to influence the course of the Reformation. Open to qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor. See Directions for Election.

Mr. Edwards

331 (1) Seminar. English History
Normally a different topic each year. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

Not offered in 1974-75.

Mrs. Robinson

332 (2) Seminar. English History
Topic for 1974-75: The "woman question" in England. How Victorian and Edwardian men and women approached a heated issue from the 1850's onward. A study of the literature about, and the struggles for, the emancipation of women: personal, legal, educational, professional, political. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

Mrs. Robinson

333 (1) Seminar. European Intellectual History
Topic for 1974-75: Literature and politics in 19th century France. This seminar will examine the varieties of criticism which French men of letters directed at liberal political culture in 19th century France. It will focus particularly on the reactions of selected novelists, essayists, and social theorists to the growing wave of rationalistic, secular, and democratic values. Among others, the seminar will consider writers like Stendhal, Flaubert, Renan, Comte, and Tocqueville. Prerequisite: same as for 330.

Mr. Bertocci

335 (1) (2) Seminar. American Studies
For description and prerequisite see Extra-departmental 335.
336 (2) Seminar. American Urban History
Topic for 1974-75: 19th century Boston. The response of Boston and its surrounding area to industrialization and immigration, with exploration of such topics as the changing character and social relations of its population, shifting employment and mobility patterns, new physical environments, altered perceptions of public services. Students will be expected to do original research. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mrs. Conzen

337 (1) Seminar. American History I
Topic for 1974-75: Selected problems in American legal history. The transmission of English law to the American colonies and the development of American law in the federal system. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mrs. Preyer

338 (2) Seminar. American History II
Topic for 1974-75: 20th century America—the domestic impact of war. The first half will be devoted to readings on the domestic impact of the two world wars (political and economic changes, social tensions, and cultural response). The second half will be devoted to student research papers dealing with aspects of the domestic consequences of some 20th century war. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mr. Purcell

340 (2) Seminar. Afro-American History
For description and prerequisite see Black Studies 340.

342 (1) Seminar. African History
Topic for 1974-75: African empires in the 19th century. A comparison of various African kingdoms which expanded in the 19th century through military conquest, comparing their political and military institutions and ideologies, the factors which contributed to their rise and decline, and the resulting social and economic changes. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Ms. Hay

345 (1) Seminar. Chinese History I
Topic for 1974-75: Rethinking 19th century Chinese history. The seminar will begin with a brief review of standard Marxist and non-Marxist interpretations of 19th century China and will then move on to more intensive exploration of the various revisionist approaches that have been put forward in recent years. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mr. Cohen

346 (2) Seminar. Chinese History II
Topic for 1974-75: Mao Tse-tung. Mao's life and thought will be explored from a number of vantage points; an effort will be made to define his dual role as a generator and legitimizer of change in modern China. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mr. Cohen

347 (2) Seminar. Comparative History
Topic for 1974-75: A revolutionary era, 1776-1848. Similarities and differences of revolution, reform, and reaction in Europe and America. The ideology of change, the evolution of democratically oriented political movements, the role of social class and class consciousness, and the emergence of new social and economic realities. Prerequisite: same as for 330.
Mrs. Preyer

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.
A wide variety of programs may provide insight into the nature and scope of history as a discipline. Accordingly, the student majoring in history is given great latitude in designing a program of study. The student may elect courses freely, but ordinarily should have as a primary focus one of the following: (1) a particular geographic area, nation, or culture (2) a limited time period (3) a special aspect of history, e.g., social, diplomatic, intellectual (4) a significant historical problem or theme, e.g., revolution, urbanization, racism. In designing a program students are encouraged to consider courses given at MIT and in other departments at Wellesley. The concept of the major should be discussed with the major advisor, and students should consult with their advisors about changes they may wish to make in the course of the junior and senior years.

The colloquia are available to freshmen and sophomores without prerequisite. Since colloquium enrollments are limited, special application must be made. Incoming freshmen may obtain application forms from the class dean; sophomores from the Recorder's Office, Green Hall. If a colloquium is oversubscribed the instructor will decide which applicants are to be accepted. Students are advised to apply for more than one, indicating first, second, and third choices if they wish.

Seminars, unless otherwise indicated, are open by permission of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors. Since enrollments are limited, a student wishing to apply for admission to one or more seminars must fill out an application blank, available in the department office, Founders Hall 120. Notification of which applicants are to be accepted will be made no later than the announced date for course changes without fee in each semester.

The general survey courses (100, 101, 102, 103) and Grade II survey courses in classical (230, 231), Asian (271, 275, 276), African (267, 268), and Middle Eastern (265) history are open to all students without prerequisite. In addition, freshmen and sophomores with a strong secondary school background in European history (modern, and ancient, or medieval) may elect as a beginning course 235, 236, 238, 239, 240, 246, 248. Courses at the Grade I level, however, are strongly recommended for students planning to major in history.
Professor: Avitabile (Chairman)
Instructor: Mattii

All courses are conducted in Italian. In all courses except seminars some work will be required in the laboratory. Qualified students may be recommended to spend the junior year in Italy. See p. 45.

100 (1-2) Elementary Italian
2 Development of basic language skills for the purpose of acquiring contemporary spoken Italian and a reading knowledge useful in the study of other disciplines. A general view of Italian civilization. Three periods.

The Staff

202 (1) Intermediate Italian
1 Written and oral practice to develop fluency. Topics of contemporary interest, with readings from newspapers, periodicals, current fiction, and poetry. Three periods.

Prerequisite: 100 or the equivalent.

The Staff

207 (2) Significant Moments of Italian Literature: The Middle Ages to the Post-Renaissance
1 An introduction to the Golden Age of Italian literature. Study and analysis of selected works by such authors as Saint Francis of Assisi, Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Leonardo da Vinci, Machiavelli, Castiglione, Guicciardini, and Ariosto.

Prerequisite: 202.

Mrs. Mattii

208 (1) Italian Romanticism
1 An introductory study of the poetry and prose of Foscolo, Leopardi, and Manzoni.

Prerequisite: 207 or permission of the instructor.

Ms. Avitabile

301 (1-2) Dante
2 A study of Dante's Divina Commedia and minor works.

Prerequisite: same as for 208.

Ms. Avitabile

302 (1) The Theatre in Italy
1 The development of the theatre from its origins to the present time. An introduction to the classical theatre, the Commedia dell'Arte, the Pastoral drama; special emphasis on the modern theatre. Study of plays by authors such as Poliziano, Machiavelli, Tasso, Goldoni, and Pirandello.

Prerequisite: same as for 208.

308 (2) From Verismo to Neorealismo
1 A study of Italian fiction since 1880 as seen in the short stories by Verga and Pirandello and in the novels by authors such as Moravia, Pavese, and Vittorini.

Prerequisite: same as for 208.

349 (2) Seminar
1 Topic for 1974-75: High points in Italian lyric poetry: Petrarch, Tasso, Leopardi, Ungaretti. Open by permission of the instructor.

The Staff

350 (1) (2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2 Open by permission to students who have completed two units in literature in the department.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4 Required of all honors candidates in the department.
Course 100 is counted toward the degree but not toward the major. Students majoring in Italian are advised to take 301 and 308. Courses in one or more other languages, ancient or modern, art, history, and philosophy, are recommended as valuable related work. Majors planning to do graduate work in Italian are advised to take at least one unit in French or Spanish literature and to have a reading knowledge of Latin or of a third Romance language.
\[ f(x, y) = 3 + \frac{x^2 + y^2}{x^2 + y^2} \]

Show that \( f_{xy}(0, 0) = f_{yx}(0, 0) \)

\[ f_x(0, 0) = \lim_{x \to 0} \frac{2x}{x^2} = \infty \]

\[ x \to 0 \]

\[ y = 2 \cdot 0.1 y(-32) \]
Professor:
Schafer, Evans, Norvig (Chairman)

Associate Professor:
Wilcox

Assistant Professor:
Myers, Stehney*, Shultz, Wason, Shuchat

Instructor:
Roitman

All courses meet for two periods weekly with a third period every other week.

100 (1) (2) Introduction to Mathematical Thought
Study of form in mathematical thought with emphasis on interrelationships of structural patterns. Material selected from areas such as number theory, algebraic and geometric structures, and theory of infinite sets. Courses 100 and 102 are intended primarily as terminal courses; both may be elected. Open to all students except those who have taken or are taking 110 or 111 or the equivalent.

Miss Evans

102 (1) (2) Introduction to Finite Mathematics
Topics selected from areas such as logic, sets, partitions, probability, vectors and matrices; applications in the biological and social sciences. Courses 100 and 102 are intended primarily as terminal courses; both may be elected. Open to all students.

The Staff

108 (1) (2) Techniques of Calculus
This course is devoted almost exclusively to techniques and applications. It is primarily intended for students requiring calculus for applications. Topics include differentiation, integration, partial derivatives, with applications to extrema, velocities, related rates, areas, and volumes. The course introduces most of the techniques developed in 110 and 111. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 110 or 111 or the equivalent. Open to students who have some familiarity with trigonometric functions.

The Staff

110 (1) (2) Calculus I
Study of functions of one variable. Limits and continuity. Differential calculus of algebraic and trigonometric functions with applications. Introduction to the integral. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 108 or the equivalent. Open to students who have some familiarity with trigonometric functions.

The Staff

111 (1) (2) Calculus II
The logarithmic and exponential functions. Techniques and applications of integration. Limits, derivatives, and integrals in greater depth than in 110. Prerequisite: 110 or a substantial introduction to the calculus, or 108 by permission of the department.

The Staff

A nontheoretical development of topics of particular importance to students interested in applications of mathematics. Topics include: functions of several variables, partial differentiation and multiple integration. Linear algebra, matrices, linear equations, determinants. Ordinary differential equations, homogeneous and simple nonhomogeneous equations, numerical and power series solutions. Vector valued functions. Not to be counted toward the major in mathematics. Extradepartmental 216 is recommended as a sequel, particularly for majors in the physical sciences. Open to students who have taken 111 or by permission of the instructor.

Mr. Myers
203 (2) Probability and Elementary Statistics
Topics selected from the theory of sets, discrete probability for both single and multivariate random variables, probability density for a single continuous random variable, expectations, mean, standard deviation, and sampling from a normal population. Prerequisite: 111 or the equivalent.
Mr. Shultz

206 (1) (2) Linear Algebra
Systems of linear equations, vector spaces over the real and complex fields, linear transformations, matrices, determinants. Prerequisite: same as for 203.
The Staff

207 (1) (2) Calculus III
Indeterminate forms, improper integrals and infinite series. Differentiation and integration of power series. Curves and elementary differential geometry. Introduction to differential equations. Prerequisite: same as for 203.
The Staff

208 (1) (2) Calculus IV
Functions of several real variables. Partial differentiation. Multiple and iterated integrations. Line integrations and Green's theorem. Prerequisite: 207 or permission of the instructor.
Ms. Schafer, Mr. Norvig

210 (2) Differential Equations
An introductory course in ordinary differential equations. Prerequisite: 207.
Mr. Shultz

Topic for 1974-75: Geometry. Modern euclidean geometry, geometric transformations, projective geometry, noneuclidean (spherical and hyperbolic) geometry, and other selected topics. Prerequisite: 111 or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Shultz

302 (1-2) Elements of Analysis
1 or 2
Point set theory; study of convergence, continuity, differentiation and integration in finite dimensional Cartesian spaces. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Prerequisite: 206 and 208.
Mr. Norvig, Mr. Myers

305 (1-2) Modern Algebraic Theory
1 or 2
Introduction to algebraic systems including groups, rings, integral domains, fields, abstract vector spaces. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Prerequisite: same as for 302.
Ms. Schafer, Mr. Shultz

307 (2)* Topology
Mr. Wilcox

309 (2)* Foundations of Mathematics
The set-theoretic foundations of modern mathematics. Cardinal and ordinal arithmetic. The axiom of choice and the continuum hypothesis. Prerequisite: 302 (1) or 305 (1) or permission of the instructor. Not offered in 1974-75.

310 (2) Functions of a Complex Variable
Elementary functions and their mapping properties; integration theory; series expansions of analytic functions. Prerequisite: 302 (1).
Ms. Wason
130  MATHEMATICS

Directions for Election

A major in mathematics must include the first semester of 302 and of 305, and either the second semester of 302 or 310. Units of AP credits will not be counted toward the minimum of eight units required of majors. Students planning to elect both units of either 302 or 305 should take both units in the same year.

Courses 100 and 102 may not be counted toward the major. The department also offers Techniques of Mathematics, Experimental 103, which is described on p. 190.

Students expecting to do graduate work in mathematics should elect the second semester of 302 and of 305, 310, and 349. They are also advised to acquire a reading knowledge of one or more of the following languages: French, German, or Russian.

Students who expect to teach at the secondary school level are advised to elect the second semester of 302 or a course in geometry, and 310.

Majors who may be practice teaching in their senior year should elect 302 (1-2) or 302 (1) and 310 (2) not later than their junior year.

Students are encouraged to elect MIT courses which are not offered by the Wellesley College mathematics department.

Placement in Courses and Exemption Examination

Students entering with AP scores of 4 or 5 on the AB Examination, or 3 on the BC Examination of the CEEB are eligible for 206 and 207; those entering with AP scores of 4 or 5 on the BC Examination of the CEEB are eligible for 206 and 208.

Examinations for exemption from one or two courses in mathematics to satisfy partially the college requirement in science and mathematics will be offered to students who have been well prepared in the subject matter of 110 and 111. If students pass both 110 and 111 examinations, they will receive exemption from two units in mathematics; if they should pass the 110 examination only, they will receive exemption from one unit in mathematics. Exemption examinations are not offered for 100 and 102.

Consideration of selected topics in mathematics.
Prerequisite: 302 (1) or 305 (1).
Not offered in 1974-75.

350 (1) (2)  Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2)  Honors Program
Required of honors candidates who choose to do honors research.
Professor:
Herrmann (Chairman)

Associate Professor:

Assistant Professor:
Barry, Kelly*

Lecturer:
Windham, Fisk³, Cooke, Shapiro³

Instructor in Performing Music:
Zighera (cello), Goetze (piano), Taylor (organ), Pappoutsakis (harp), Preble (flute and baroque flute), Vivian (organ), O'Donnell (voice), Hedberg (viola), Moss (piano), Odiaga (harpsichord), Plaster (bassoon and Assistant in Chamber Music), Hartzell (viola da gamba and Assistant in the Collegium Musicum), Moran (horn), Stuart (clarinet), Linfield (recorder, krummhorn, and Assistant in the Collegium Musicum), R. Cook (trumpet and cornetto), Roth (oboe and baroque oboe), Speyer (oboe), Cirillo (violin and Director of Chamber Music), Smith* (guitar and lute), Arnold (guitar), Fisk (piano), Lipson (viola)

101 (1-2) Introductory Course
1 or 2
The fundamentals of musicianship. Development of reading and listening skills. Introduction to traditional harmony. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Three periods: one lecture and two section meetings.
Open to all students.
Miss Barry

103 (1-2) Introduction to the Literature of Music
1 or 2
A survey course designed to develop musical understanding, insight, and powers of observation through the study of music of various styles and periods. A previous knowledge of music is not required. One unit of credit may be given for the first semester. Not to be counted toward the major in music. Two periods of lecture and one section meeting.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken not more than one unit in music, and to freshmen with the permission of the chairman of the department.
Mr. Kelly, Mrs. Shapiro, Mr. Windham

A survey of Black music in the United States and in the Caribbean from its origin in Africa to the present, with emphasis on the 20th century. The course will examine basic theoretical principles as they apply to Black musical culture, the development of styles, and the relationship between musical innovation and socio-political events.
Open to all students.
Mr. Windham

200 (1-2) Design in Music
A survey beginning with Gregorian chant and concluding with electronic music, with emphasis on live performance and on the incisive analysis of scores. Three periods.
Prerequisite: 101.
Mr. Kelly

203 (1-2) Counterpoint
Two- and three-part writing. Analysis.
Prerequisite: 101.
Mr. Cooke

208 (1)* The Baroque Era
Studies in the music of the 17th and early 18th centuries with emphasis on the works of Bach and Handel. Not to be counted toward the major in music.
Prerequisite: 101 or 103.
Not offered in 1974-75.

209 (1)* The Classical Era
Studies in the music of Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven. Not to be counted toward the major in music.
Prerequisite: 101 or 103.
Mr. Windham

210 (2)* The Romantic Era
Analysis of representative compositions of the 19th century. Not to be counted toward the major in music.
Prerequisite: 103 or 200 or 209.
Mr. Windham
214 (2)* The Twentieth Century
An introduction to contemporary music. Not to be counted toward the major in music.
Prerequisite: 103 or 200 or 208 or 209.
Not offered in 1974-75.

303 (1) The Middle Ages and the Renaissance
Topic for 1974-75: Studies in instrumental and vocal works, chiefly from the Renaissance, selected to explore problems of performance, in particular the traditions of improvisation and the impact of these traditions on written music. Readings in contemporaneous sources, and emphasis on live performance in class.
Prerequisite: 200.
Mrs. Shapiro

307 (2) The Opera
A study of operatic forms, styles, and traditions from the time of Mozart to the present.
Prerequisite: two Grade II units in the literature of music.
Mr. Herrmann

312 (1-2) Harmony
Prerequisite: 203.
Mr. Fisk

316 (1-2) Introduction to Composition
Advanced studies in theory. The principles of instrumentation. Composition for small ensembles.
Prerequisite: 312 and 320.

319 (1)* Seminar. The Nineteenth Century
Topic for 1974-75: Studies in instrumental and vocal works of the middle of the century, selected to reveal principal style trends during the generation after Beethoven. Open to students who have taken 200 and who have taken or are taking 312.
Miss Barry

320 (2)* Seminar. The Twentieth Century
Topic for 1974-75: Studies in forms and techniques of composition in music during the early part of the century, with emphasis on works of Stravinsky and of the Second Viennese School.
Prerequisite: same as for 303.
Mr. Cooke

321 (1)* Seminar. The Age of Bach and Handel
Normally a different topic each year.
Prerequisite: same as for 319.
Not offered in 1974-75.

322 (2)* Seminar. The Classical Era
Normally a different topic each year.
Prerequisite: same as for 319.
Not offered in 1974-75.

344 (1) (2) Performing Music
1 or 2
Intensive study of interpretation and of advanced technical performance problems in the literature. One hour lesson per week.
Open on recommendation of the instructor to qualified juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 200. See Directions for Election.
The Staff
A major in music includes 101, 200, 203, and 312. At least two units of additional study at the Grade III level are strongly recommended. Students who plan to undertake graduate study in music should be aware that a knowledge of both German and French is essential for work at that level, and a proficiency in Italian is highly desirable. Also of value are studies in European history, literature, and art. Music majors are especially urged to develop their musicianship through the acquisition of basic keyboard skills, through private instruction in practical music, and through involvement in the music department's various performing organizations. Training in sight reading, keyboard harmony, and score reduction is provided without charge to all students enrolled in Music 203 and 312.

Private Instruction
The music department makes arrangements for private instruction in voice, piano, organ, harpsichord, harp, violin (baroque and modern), viola, cello, viola da gamba, flute (baroque and modern), oboe (baroque and modern), clarinet, bassoon, trumpet, French horn, recorder, cornetto, lute, and guitar (classical and modern). Students who contract for performing music instruction are charged at the rate of $210 for a half-hour private lesson per week throughout the year. An additional fee of $25 per year is charged to all performing music students for the use of a practice studio for one period daily. The fee for the use of a practice studio for harpsichord and organ is $35. Performing music fees are payable in advance and can be returned or reduced only under limited conditions and upon the approval of the chairman of the department of music. All students at Wellesley who take lessons in performing music are required to take the first semester of Music 101 (basic theory) or gain exemption. Arrangements for lessons in performing music are made at the department office during the first week of the semester.
Academic Credit
A maximum of four units of academic credit for performing music is available during the junior and senior year to advanced students who are admitted to the 344 program. In order to be admitted to this special program the student must be recommended by the instructor, must perform a successful audition before the department faculty, and must take two Grade III units of literature study.

Performing Organizations
The following five organizations are a vital extension of the academic program of the Wellesley music department:

The Wellesley College Choir
The Wellesley College Choir, with approximately 80 members, gives concerts on and off campus during the academic year, many of them with men's choirs. Endowed funds provide for at least one joint concert each year accompanied by a professional orchestra.

The Wellesley Madrigals
The Madrigals is a chamber chorus of about twenty-five mixed voices. The organization elects its own student director.

The Chamber Music Society
The Chamber Music Society, supervised by a faculty member and assistants, presents three concerts each year, plus a number of diverse, informal programs.

The Collegium Musicum Wellesliensis
The Collegium Musicum, directed by a faculty member and several assistants, specializes in the performance of early music. Members of the Collegium enjoy the use of an unusually fine collection of historical instruments: harpsichords, recorders, krummhorn, violas da gamba, baroque violins, baroque and renaissance flutes, baroque oboe, cornetto, sackbut, and lute. Separate consort instruction is available in viola da gamba and recorder for both beginning and advanced players. Members of such groups are encouraged to take private instructions as well.

The MIT Orchestra
Through the Wellesley-MIT cross-registration program students on the Wellesley campus are eligible to audition for membership in the MIT Symphony Orchestra. Wellesley members of the orchestra have often held solo positions.
PHILOSOPHY
Professor:
Stadler (Chairman)

Associate Professor:
Putnam, Congleton

Assistant Professor:
Shue, Menkiti, Margalit

101 (1) (2) Plato's Dialogues as an Introduction to Philosophy
An introduction to philosophy through a study of Plato's views of the nature of man and society, and of the nature of philosophical inquiry as found in the early and middle dialogues taking Socrates as their central concern.
Open to all students.
Mr. Shue

109 (1) (2) Problems for Twentieth Century Philosophy
Problems pertaining to the nature of man and his moral and/or social commitments as these present themselves to philosophers reflecting upon life in the 20th century. Readings primarily (but not exclusively) from the contemporary philosophical literature, selected to illustrate and explain significant differences among present-day approaches.
Open to junior and senior majors by permission of the instructor, and to all other students without prerequisite. A special section will be arranged in the first semester for junior and senior nonmajors.
The Staff

150 (1) Colloquium
For directions for applying see p. 204.
Open by permission to a limited number of freshman and sophomore applicants.

Fact, fiction, and philosophy
Scientists, story tellers, and philosophers seem to view the world from different perspectives. They seem to see different worlds and they seem to use different modes of expression to communicate what they see. In this colloquium students will explore these different approaches. Appreciation of the value of these diverse points of view and modes of expression will be encouraged.
Mrs. Putnam

200 (1) (2) Modern Sources of Contemporary Philosophy
A study of the work of Descartes, Hume, and Kant intended as an introduction to contemporary concerns in philosophy through a consideration of their formation in the work of the post-Renaissance philosophers most cited in current discussion. Some attention will also be given to Rousseau and Vico. The course is intended as preparation for more advanced work both in contemporary philosophy and in the history of modern philosophy.
Open to all students except freshmen in the first semester and students who have taken [207] or [208].
Ms. Congleton

201 (1) Plato and Aristotle
A study of Platonic dialogues chosen primarily from the middle and late periods, and of selected Aristotelian treatises.
Open by permission of the instructor.
Ms. Congleton
Philosophy

203 (1) (2) Philosophy of Art
1 An examination of some major theories of art and art criticism. Emphasis on the clarification of such key concepts as style, meaning, and truth, and on the nature of judgments and arguments about artistic beauty and excellence.
Open to freshmen who have taken one unit in philosophy, and to sophomores, juniors, and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Stadler

204 (1) (2) Philosophy of Language
1 An investigation of man as the unique user of language. The relationship of language capacity to rationality and morality will also be considered. Readings for the first half of the course will include Whorf, Skinner, Chomsky, Piaget, and Vygotsky; for the second half, Wittgenstein.
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mrs. Margalit

206 (2) Moral Philosophy
1 An examination of the methods by which we arrive at intelligent moral decisions and of the nature of justice and moral responsibility as discussed by major modern and contemporary philosophers. Application to current moral problems.
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mr. Shue

211 (2) Philosophy of Religion
1 An examination of basic problems regarding the nature of religion, the grounds of religious belief, and the character of ritual, with attention to both traditional and contemporary positions.
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mr. Menkiti

215 (2) Consciousness, Ideology and Knowledge
1 What factors influence the formation of an individual's beliefs? Theses in the sociology of knowledge. Readings in Marx, Weber, Mannheim, and others.
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mrs. Putnam

216 (1) Logic
1 An introduction to the methods of symbolic logic and their application to arguments in ordinary English. Discussion of validity, implication, consistency, proof, and of such topics as the thesis of extensionality and the nature of mathematical truth.
Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Putnam

217 (2) Philosophy of Science
1 A course for both science and non-science majors to increase understanding and appreciation of scientific knowledge and the methods of scientists. An examination of concepts which philosophers of science have found to be particularly interesting, e.g., explanation, law, theory construction, experiment and observation, truth. Examples from the history of science and contemporary science, drawn from both the "hard" and the "soft" sciences.
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mrs. Putnam

218 (1) History of Science I
1 For description and prerequisite see Extra-departmental 218.
Not offered in 1974-75.

219 (2) History of Science II
1 For description and prerequisite see Extra-departmental 219.
Not offered in 1974-75.
220 (1) History of Modern Philosophy from the Renaissance to Kant
A study of the development of modern philosophical approaches to knowledge, man, nature, and society. The course will begin with a brief consideration of Thomas Aquinas as representative of the approach to which the moderns contrasted themselves, and it will assume previous study of Descartes, Hume, and Kant. This background will then be used in studying the development of modern thinking through Machiavelli, Galileo, Bacon, Hobbes, Spinoza, Leibniz, Locke, Berkeley, and Rousseau. Emphasis will be on close reading and discussion of selected major texts, but attention will also be given to the cultural and political context of the philosophers studied. Not open to students who have taken [207] or [208].
Prerequisite: 200 or other previous study of Descartes, Hume, and Kant accepted by the instructor as equivalent.
Ms. Congleton

221 (2) History of Modern Philosophy from Kant to the Early Twentieth Century
A continuation of Philosophy 220 through the study of Hegel, Schopenhauer, Kierkegaard, Bentham, Mill, Marx, Nietzsche, and Russell. Prerequisite: 220.
Ms. Congleton

249 (1) Medical Ethics
A philosophical examination of some central problems at the interface between medicine and ethics. Exploration of the social and ethical implications of current advances in biomedical research and technology. Topics discussed will include psycho-surgery, gender-surgery, genetic screening, amniocentesis, euthanasia.
Prerequisite: same as for 203.
Mr. Menkiti

302 (2) Introduction to African Philosophy
For description and prerequisite see Black Studies 302.

326 (2) Philosophy of Law
A systematic consideration of fundamental issues in the conception and practice of law. Such recurrent themes in legal theory as the nature and function of law, the relation of law to morality, the function of rules in legal reasoning, and the connection between law and social philosophy. Clarification of such notions as obligation, power, contract, liability, and sovereignty. Readings will cover the natural law tradition and the tradition of legal positivism, as well as such contemporary writers as Hart and Fuller.
Open to qualified juniors and seniors, or by permission of the instructor.
Mr. Menkiti

327 (1) Man, Monkey, and Machine
An examination of various philosophical attempts to answer contemporary versions of questions about the nature of human nature, for example: Is man more than a very talented animal? Is he more than a very complex machine? Is the mind a different kind of entity from the body?
Prerequisite: same as for 326.
Mrs. Stadler

328 (2) Seminar. Wittgenstein
Intensive study in the philosophy of Wittgenstein with some consideration of his position in the evolution of 20th century philosophy.
Prerequisite: same as for 326.
Ms. Congleton

333 (2) Phenomenology and Existentialism
Central themes in contemporary European philosophy with emphasis on the contributions of Heidegger, Sartre, and Merleau-Ponti.
Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 200, or by permission of the instructor.
Mrs. Stadler
338 (1) Seminar in Political Philosophy
Topic for 1974-75: Justice—competing contemporary conceptions.
Open to a limited number of qualified juniors and seniors by permission of the instructor.
Mr. Shue

350 (1-2) Research or Individual Study
1 or 2
Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

370 (1-2) Honors Program
2 to 4
Required of all honors candidates in the department.

Philosophy majors are expected to elect courses in at least two of the following fields:
(1) logic or the philosophy of science (2) history of philosophy, ancient or modern (3) value theory, i.e., moral or political philosophy, or the philosophy of art. Students planning graduate work in philosophy are strongly advised to elect courses in all three fields, and, in particular, in logic.

In addition, students majoring in philosophy should develop a special competence either in the work of one major philosopher or in one problem of contemporary concern. Such competence may be demonstrated by passing a course on the Grade III level with an honors grade, by 350 work, or by submitting a substantial paper. Special arrangements can be made for students with strong interdepartmental interests.

A knowledge of Greek, French, or German is desirable. Students planning graduate work in philosophy should acquire a reading knowledge of two of these languages.

The department offers the following options for earning honors in the major field: (1) writing a thesis or a set of related essays (2) a two-semester project which replaces the thesis with some of the activities of a teaching assistant (3) a program designed particularly for students who have a general competence and who wish to improve their grasp of their major field by independent study in various sectors of the field. A student electing option (2) will decide, in consultation with the department, in which course she will eventually assist and, in the term preceding her teaching, will meet with the instructor to discuss materials pertinent to the course. Option (3) involves selecting at least two related areas and one special topic for independent study. When the student is ready, she will take written examinations in her two areas and, at the end of the second term, an oral examination focusing on her special topic.
121 (1-2) Physical Education Activities
The instructional program in physical education is divided into four seasons, two each semester. To complete the College work in physical education a student must earn 8 credit points before the end of the junior year. These credit points do not count as academic units toward the degree, but are required for graduation. Most activities give 1 credit point each season, but certain activities give 2 or more credit points as noted below. Each activity is divided into classes to provide instruction in homogeneous groups. Complete descriptions of courses are sent to entering students. Special fees are charged for a few courses and are listed in the course descriptions. The total program of activities offered in 1974-75 follows.

- Open water diving
Directions for Election

Each student is expected to complete a minimum of two seasons a year until Physical Education 121 is completed. A student may elect a course which is scheduled throughout a semester, two courses concurrently, or may choose not to elect a course during some seasons.

Students should select courses which meet their present and projected interests in physical activities. It is hoped that students will gain knowledge of the relation of physical activity to the maintenance of general well-being; that they will achieve a level of ability, understanding, and participation in sports, dance, and/or exercise so that they may experience satisfaction and enjoyment; and that they will be able to swim with sufficient skill to participate safely in recreational swimming and boating.

A student’s choice of activity is subject to the approval of the department and the College Health Services. Upon recommendation of a College physician and permission of the department a student may enroll in a modified program.

Students may continue to enroll in physical education after Physical Education 121 is completed. Members of the faculty may elect activities with the permission of the department.
Professor: Guernsey\(^3\) (Chairman), Fleming

Associate Professor: Brown

Assistant Professor: von Foerster

Instructor: Mitchell\(^3\)

Laboratory Instructor: Mitchell\(^3\), Benson

Unless otherwise noted all courses meet for two periods of lecture and discussion weekly and all Grade I and Grade II courses have one three-hour laboratory appointment weekly.

101 (2) Physics in Perspective
Qualitative discussion of the evolution of physics from classical to modern concepts with emphasis on 20th century physics. Each student will write a final paper applying physical principles to a particular field of interest. Laboratory in alternate weeks. Not to be counted toward the minimum major.
Open to all students.
Miss Fleming

102 (2) Physics of Perception and Aesthetics
1
Qualitative discussion of some of the physical problems arising in psychology, art, and music. Each student will write a final paper applying physical principles to a particular field of interest. Laboratory in alternate weeks. Not to be counted toward the minimum major.
Open to all students.
Mr. von Foerster

104 (1) Basic Concepts in Physics
Forces, fields, conservation laws, waves, duality of nature. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Three and one-half hour laboratory appointments in alternate weeks. Not open to students who have taken [100].
Open to all students who do not offer physics for admission and by permission of the instructor to juniors and seniors who offer physics for admission.
Miss Fleming

105 (1) Introductory Physics
Elementary mechanics; introduction to wave phenomena. Not open to students who have taken [103].
Open to students who offer physics for admission and who are not eligible for 110.
Mr. von Foerster

106 (2) Fundamental Physics
Electricity and magnetism; wave phenomena and optics. Biological examples. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Prerequisite: [100] or [103] or 104 or 105 and Mathematics 108 or 110, or open by permission to juniors and seniors who offer physics for admission.
Ms. Brown

110 (1) Advanced General Physics
Mechanics, wave motion, optics. Two periods weekly with a third period every other week. Open to students who have completed Mathematics 111, or to students who offer physics for admission and are taking Mathematics 108 or 111.
Mrs. Guernsey

200 (2)* Modern Physics
Basic principles of relativity and quantum theory, and of atomic and nuclear structure. Prerequisite: 106 or 110. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 111.

A major in physics should ordinarily include 201, 202, 306, 314 and 321; Extraboo-ormental 217 or Mathematics 208 is an additional requirement. One unit of another laboratory science is recommended.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements given on p. 48.

An examination for exemption from Physics 110 is offered to students who present one admission unit in physics. Students who pass this examination will be eligible for Grade II work in physics. No unit of credit will be given for passing this examination.
100 (1) (2) Political Science and Modern Politics
Introduction to the study of politics. The course will focus on the role of values in political systems, the nature of political conflict, the organization and operation of executive, legislative, and judicial institutions. During the first half of the semester there will be one lecture each week by different members of the department, followed by small discussion sections which will explore the content of the lecture and questions raised by the lecturer. In 1974-75 the introductory lectures will be integrated around the common theme of the American political experience. The second half of the course will be conducted in small seminars, each exploring a particular problem; students will choose the seminar they wish to take. In 1973-74 seminar topics were: comparison of the U.S. President and the British Prime Minister; the law and politics of civil rights; neighborhood politics; elite-mass power relations in Latin American societies; law and the environment; Plato's Republic. Topics for 1974-75: To be announced.
Open to all students.
The Staff

201 (1) The Variety of Regimes
A comparison of various types of regimes, including both historical and contemporary examples. Discussion of the goals of each regime, its theoretical basis or ideology, method of leadership selection, and the formal and informal machinery of government. Case studies will draw on the experience of Greek city-states, parliamentary democracies, and selected communist and fascist states. The class will evaluate several attempts, both ancient and modern, to construct a comprehensive theory of comparative politics.
Prerequisite: one unit in political science, or two units in anthropology, economics, history, psychology, or permission of the instructor.
Mr. Baras

204 (1) Comparative Politics of the Developing Areas
1
Study of selected aspects of African, Asian, and Latin American political systems, with emphasis upon use and evaluation of analytical concepts in recent literature; political change, national integration, and legitimization among problems considered.
Prerequisite: same as for 201.
Mr. Max-Neef
205 (1) Politics of Western Europe
An exploration of the political, economic, and social challenges confronting European industrial democracies in an era of rapid technological change. Emphasis on the politics and societies of Britain, France, Germany, and Italy, with additional examples drawn from the experience of the Benelux and Scandinavian countries. The evolution of parties, interest groups, parliaments, and bureaucracies will be considered in the contexts of both domestic politics and regional integration. Prerequisite: same as for 201.

The seminar will consider the values, ideals, concepts of social organization, etc. in each utopia, and will attempt to come to overall conclusions about this form of political thought. Prerequisite: same as for 305.
Mr. Stettner
A major in political science may be broad in scope, or it may have a special focus, e.g., metropolitan regional problems, environmental politics, area studies, international politics, legal problems of minorities, political ethics. Political Science 100, which provides an introduction to the discipline of political science, is strongly recommended for students planning to major. The department offers courses, seminars, and research or independent study in five fields: American government, comparative government, international relations, legal studies, political theory and methods. Of the eight units comprising a minimum major, two units must be taken in each of three of these five fields. At least three of these six distribution units must be taken in the department of political science at Wellesley. Units taken at another institution in order to fulfill the field requirement must be approved by the department.

Graduate work in political science leading to the Ph.D. usually requires a reading knowledge of two foreign languages and, for many specialties, a knowledge of statistical techniques or an introduction to the calculus.

Students participating in the Wellesley Washington Summer Internship Program or the Wellesley Urban Politics Summer Internship Program may arrange with the respective directors to earn credit for independent study.
101 (1)(2) Introduction to Psychology
Study of selected research problems from areas such as personality development, learning, and cognition to demonstrate ways in which psychologists study behavior.
Open to all students.
Miss Zimmerman, Mr. Moore, Mr. Fernald, Mr. Hassett

201 (1)(2) Statistics
The application of statistical techniques to the analysis of psychological data. Major emphasis on the use of statistics as a tool for the evaluation of published research and for use in the student's own research in more advanced courses. Laboratory. Three periods of combined lecture-laboratory and one additional laboratory period.
Prerequisite: 101.
Mr. Finison, Ms. Wolf

207 (1)(2) Child Development
A survey of child behavior and psychological development from birth through adolescence, with emphasis on infancy and early childhood. Theory and research pertaining to personality, social and cognitive development are examined. Two periods of lecture and one of discussion or observation of children.
Prerequisite: 101.
Mr. Banik, Ms. Mokros

207R (1)(2) Research Methods in Child Development
An introduction to research methods appropriate to the study of child psychology. Individual and group projects. Laboratory. Each section typically limited to ten students. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 210R, or 212R.

Honors Program

Required of all honors candidates in the department.
The total program of the major shall be prepared in consultation with the advisor so as to provide for an appropriate balance between specialization and diversity.

Specialization shall include a sequence of courses in at least one particular field of study. Diversity is fulfilled by electing some work within the department outside the field of specialization.

Freshmen and sophomores considering a major are encouraged to elect introductory courses appropriate to their special field of interest; information is available in the department office. Students planning to pursue studies in the Twelve College Exchange Program as part of their major should consult with their department advisor. Several of the Twelve College religion departments offer courses which could supplement and enrich a Wellesley major in religion and biblical studies.

Studies in the original language are particularly valuable for students specializing in Old Testament or New Testament; see Religion 109 and 209 (Classical Hebrew) and Greek 102 (Beginning Greek).

Extradepartmental Courses

104 (1) Classical Mythology
For description and prerequisite see Greek 104.

105 (1) Introduction to Historical Linguistics
The methods of linguistic reconstruction and the principles of language history; the development of both form and meaning in language, with examples from various Indo-European families, including Romance. Open to all students with knowledge of one ancient or modern Indo-European language other than English.

Mr. Frame

108 (2) Interpretations of Man in Western Literature
Representative views of the nature of man reflected in a selection of major works of European literature. The readings, chosen to emphasize the classical heritage, will include works of Vergil, Augustine, Dante, Machiavelli, Montaigne, Milton, Goethe, and Eliot. Open to all students.

Not offered in 1974-75.

Mr. Layman

110 (1) (2) Introduction to Automatic Computation
Modeling of computational processes as sequential algorithms. Formal and informal techniques for the representation of these algorithms and their implementation on digital computers. Experience in programming and running of elementary problems, numeric and non-numeric, on a digital computer. Open to all students.

The course will draw on several disciplines to aid students in orienting their thinking about the nature of women and their actual and possible positions in modern society. Lectures by Wellesley faculty members and others with special expertise in biology, economics, history, philosophy, political science, psychology, and sociology will contribute insights toward a better understanding of contemporary women. In addition to weekly lectures, the course will include weekly discussion groups. Open to all students with preference given to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

216 (2)
Topics in linear algebra: matrices, vector spaces, operators, eigenvalue problems; infinite series. Introduction to probability and statistics. Two meetings weekly, with a third meeting every other week.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 201.
Mr. von Foerster

217 (1)
Applications of Mathematics to the Physical Sciences II
1
Topics in analysis: complex analysis; vector analysis. Ordinary differential equations arising in the physical sciences; introduction to partial differential equations. Two meetings weekly, with a third meeting every other week.
Prerequisite: Extradepartmental 216.
Not offered in 1974-75.

218 (1)
Introduction to some of the major scientific ideas leading to the Scientific Revolution of the 17th century, with emphasis on the contributions of Ptolemy, Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, and Newton. Understanding of the scientific problems is developed through analysis of observational and experimental data as well as the study of selected original source materials. Two periods weekly and a one and one-half hour laboratory-discussion session every other week.
Open to students who have completed one unit of laboratory science (physics or astronomy recommended) and one unit of history or philosophy. Normally not open to freshmen.
Not offered in 1974-75.

Open to juniors and seniors beyond the elementary level in ballet or modern dance technique, or by permission of the instructor.
Ms. Trexler

241 (1) Chinese Literature in Translation I

A survey of Chinese literature in translation from its beginnings to the Sung Dynasty (960-1278 A.D.). The focus of the course is on classical Chinese literature, dealing with early poetry, philosophical works of the late Chou, and the poetry and prose of the Han, Tang, and Sung Dynasties.
Open to sophomores, juniors and seniors, and to freshmen by permission of the instructor.
Mr. Lagerwey

242 (2) Chinese Literature in Translation I

A survey of Chinese literature from Tang tales (618-905 A.D.) to contemporary literature, dealing with the emergence of vernacular fiction. The focus will be on Tang and Sung short stories, Yuan drama, Ming and Ching novel and the literary works from the May 4th movement through the post-Liberation era.
Prerequisite: same as for Extradepartmental 241.
Mr. Lagerwey
330 (1) Seminar. Comparative Literature

Topic for 1974-75: The treatment of world war in Russian, German, and Italian prose. A detailed study of the impact of World Wars I and II, and of war in general, on individuals, "lifestyles," and nations in selected prose works by Bulgakov, Böll, Calvino, Grass, Pavese, Remarque, Sholokhov, Solzhenitsyn, and others. Particular attention will be given to artistic problems of language, style, and genre involved in the literary expression of the violence and devastation wreaked by the wars on the personal and cultural life of all three countries. An effort will be made to determine the special significance of the war theme to the three literatures and to 20th century European literature.

Open to students who have taken or are taking at least one unit of foreign language beyond the college requirement and who have taken at least two units of Grade III literature.

Miss Burgin

31 (2) Seminar. The Theatre Since 1945

Comparative study of the major innovative forms of contemporary drama from the works of Beckett, Brecht, and Artaud to the most recent theatrical experiments in Europe and America. Prerequisite: same as for Extradepartmental 30 or by permission of the instructor.

Mr. Stambolian

335 (1) (2) Seminar. American Studies

The image of reason in America. The focus will be on changing attitudes toward human reason and science in American history, relating especially to such problems as political reform, personal and social ethical norms, expanding technology, and the broader cultural assumptions that seem to characterize American life. The readings will include Jefferson, Franklin, Emerson, Hawthorne, Melville, Dewey, James, Skinner, Chomsky, and several others. Required of American studies majors.

Open by permission of the instructor to American studies majors, and to other qualified students if space permits.

Mr. Purcell
The College offers four established interdepartmental major programs: Classical civilization, classical and Near Eastern archaeology, East Asian studies, and molecular biology. In addition, a student may design an individual major. Some representative individual majors and courses available for them are included in this section.

Students who wish a classical civilization major can plan with the Departments of Greek and Latin an appropriate sequence of courses, which should include work in art, history, philosophy, and literature. Such a program should always contain at least four units in the original language. Basic knowledge of French or German is recommended.

The selections listed below are available in 1974-75 for majors in classical civilization.

Greek: All courses in the original. Latin: All courses in the original.

Seminar. The New Testament
Classical and Near Eastern Archaeology
Director: Marvin

The purpose of a major in classical and Near Eastern archaeology is to acquaint the student with the complex societies of the Old World in antiquity.

Students who major in archaeology may choose Greece, Rome, or the ancient Near East as a principal area of interest. Students who concentrate in classical archaeology must normally have at least an elementary knowledge of both Greek and Latin, and an advanced knowledge of the literature of that country (Greece or Rome) which is their special area of concern. Students who concentrate on the ancient Near East must have knowledge of one ancient Near Eastern language.

The program for each student will be planned individually from courses in the departments of art, Greek, history, Latin, philosophy, religion and biblical studies, and sociology and anthropology, as well as from the architecture and anthropology programs at MIT. Certain courses in statistical methods and geology are also very useful.

Students should plan for at least one summer of excavation and travel, and are expected to complete units of independent study as well as regular course offerings.

Because the requirements for this major are somewhat complex, students are urged to declare an interest early so that a comfortable program can be devised for each student.

East Asian Studies
Directors: Cohen and Lin

Students interested in graduate work and a career in Chinese studies should take extensive Chinese language work; students interested in a broader range of courses on Asia may take a minimum of Chinese language work or none.

The departments of biological sciences and chemistry offer an interdepartmental major in molecular biology which gives opportunity for advanced study of the chemistry of biological systems.

In addition to a unit of biochemistry (326 or [325]), the area of concentration consists of five units of chemistry (103 or [107]), 104 or [106], [201] or 211, [203] or 231, and 221 or [324]; five units of biology (100, [101], 205, 200 or 206, and one Grade III unit); Physics 104, 105, or 110; and Mathematics 111 or the equivalent.
students who are interested in interdisciplinary work may design an individual major, in consultation with two faculty advisors. The program for the individual major is subject to the approval of the Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. In setting up guidelines for an individual major, the committee hopes to extend the possibility for a major which crosses traditional departmental lines to those students who could most benefit from such a major and to assure suitable guidance to the student in selecting appropriate courses for the major. The program for the individual major should include four units in the department above the Grade I level.

The majors and suggested courses listed below are representative of the more established programs:

American Studies

American studies (formerly United States studies) is a growing, highly flexible, interdisciplinary program designed to illuminate varieties of the American experience. A wide selection of courses in different departments within the College may be taken for credit in the major. This flexibility enables students to develop individual programs of study. Students are encouraged to integrate diverse elements of American experience by working closely with their advisors and by taking courses which focus on what is enduring and characteristic in American culture.

Two courses for 1974-75 which have been designed with this integrative aspect of American studies in mind are: English 150b, The Democratic Myth; and Religion 218, Religion in American Society.

The one required course in the major, Extradepartmental 335, is designed to assist students in developing their own points of view towards characteristic themes in American culture.

The following is a partial list of other courses available in 1974-75 that may be included in an American studies major:

Theatre Studies

The individual major in theatre studies offers opportunity for study of the theatre through its history, literature, criticism, and related arts and through the disciplines of its practitioners: playwrights, directors, designers, actors, and producers.

The student's program in the major may be adapted to individual interests. Focus may be on the theatre and a national dramatic literature, on the theatre and related arts, or, within the general demands of the curriculum, a variety of emphases may be evolved, including work in such areas as philosophy, history, psychology, sociology, and religion.

At least four units above Grade I normally should be elected in a literature department (English, French, German, Greek and Latin, Italian, Russian, or Spanish), with emphasis on dramatic literature. At least two units above Grade I normally should be elected in art or music. Two of the six units thus specified (or their equivalents) must be Grade III.

Students electing to design a major in theatre studies normally will take at least one resident semester of concentrated work in the discipline either with the National Theatre Institute at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre Center in Waterford, Connecticut, or at another institution in the Twelve College Exchange Program, to supplement and enrich their work at Wellesley.

Since developments in the theatre arts are the results of stage experiments and because the theatre performance is an expression of theatre scholarship, it is expected that theatre studies majors will elect to complement formal study of theatre history and theory with practical experience in the extracurricular production program of the Wellesley College Theatre.

In addition to the offerings of the theatre studies department, the following courses, available in 1974-75, are specifically relevant to the individual major in theatre studies:

Black Studies 210 (1-2)

Urban Studies
The individual major in urban studies provides students with an interdisciplinary approach to the city which can be adapted to particular interests. Majors are encouraged to concentrate within a specific field, in order to provide themselves with a sound disciplinary background and to equip themselves for further academic or professional work. Such concentration usually occurs within the departments of art, black studies, economics, history, political science, psychology, or sociology; possible interdisciplinary emphases include urban problem-solving and public administration, urban design, or urban education.

It is recommended that majors elect basic methodology courses in their field of concentration (e.g., Sociology 201, 202; Political Science 249, etc.). Majors are encouraged to apply for the Wellesley Urban Politics Summer Internship Program (see p. 45). Opportunities for field work available through the MIT cross-registration program should also be noted.

The following courses are available in 1974-75 or majors in urban studies:

- Black Studies 106 (1)
  Introduction to the Black Experience

- Black Studies 206 (2)
  Afro-American History Since 1865

- Economics 225 (1)

  Seminar. Four Russian Poets

- Sociology 211 (1)
  Family and Society

- Spanish 310 (1)
  Seminar. The Role of the Woman in the Novels of Pérez Galdós
The colloquia are designed for freshmen and sophomores who are interested in concentrated study of a significant well-defined topic. They offer students the opportunity to work in small groups in close association with faculty members. Most are open without prerequisite although a few presuppose some earlier study of the field either in secondary school or in a college course. They are similar to seminars in method and approach in that they stress independent work, discussion, and student reports.

Each colloquium counts as one unit. Each may be elected to satisfy in part one of the distribution requirements. Since enrollments are limited, students ordinarily may not enroll in more than one colloquium. They may, however, apply for more than one, indicating their preference.

Incoming freshmen may obtain application forms from the class dean, sophomores from the department chairman. If a colloquium is oversubscribed the chairman or instructor, in consultation with the class dean, will decide which applicants will be accepted.

Trustee Member

Assistant to the Chairman for Key Gifts
Wellesley has deep gratitude for the gifts of alumnae, friends, and parents without whose support it could not maintain its standards of excellence. The College welcomes outright gifts of cash, gifts of securities, and gifts of other property. The College provides income for life to donors who invest in either an Annuity or a Life Income Plan.

Forms of Bequests
An unrestricted bequest to Wellesley may be worded:

"I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, the sum of . . . . dollars."

In the case of a bequest for a specific purpose, it is wise to allow considerable latitude in the use of any fund, so that changing conditions will not impair the usefulness of the gift. Thus, such a bequest may be expressed:

"I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, the sum of . . . . dollars, the income only to be used for . . . ." (Here describe the purpose in as broad and simple terms as possible, as for example, faculty salaries or scholarships.) The more limited the use, the more important it is to add a provision such as, "If, in the future, the Trustees of the College determine that the Bequest is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was bequeathed, they may use it to meet other needs of the College, but the name of the Fund will always remain in Wellesley's records."

A residuary bequest to Wellesley may read as follows:

"All the rest, residue and remainder of my real and personal estate, I give to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts."
